Of Eastern Oregon Ranches Against Infection With Mange

HAS BEEN THE EFFORT OF THE STATE OFFICERS FOR YEARS, AND THEY ARE ABOUT TO RECEIVE AID FROM THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.

The matter of manger among the horses on Eastern Oregon Indian reservations has been agitated for the past three years, and the Oregon Domestic Animal Commission has frequently corresponded with the Interior Department at Washington, regarding this matter, since the Indian agents refuse the right to kill the mangy horses, which have become a menace to the horses of settlers and ranchers. Recently Dr. Wm. McLean, the State veterinarian, placed the matter before U. S. Senator John H. Mitchell, asking his co-operation in securing some action on the part of the Indian Department to help eradicate the evil.

The State Board, under the Oregon statute, orders horses similarly afflicted killed, but the Indian agent at the Umatilla reservation refused to allow this to be done with diseased horses on the reservation. Then since Senator Mitchell has taken up the matter and pushed it with the Department, there is some prospect of early action being taken. The Board yesterday received a letter writen by A. C. Tonner, Acting Commissioner of Indian Affairs, to Senator Mitchell regarding this matter, enclosing also a copy of a letter sent to the Indian agent on the Umatilla reservation. In the letter to Senator Mitchell the Commissioner says in "Relative to the existence of mange among the Indian horses on the Umatilla reservation, you are informed that the matter of the existence of mange among the Indian horses at the Umatilla agency is at present under investigation by the Agricultural Department, with a view of taking measures for its eradication. In this connection you are advised, that every effort possible on the part of this office will be taken to eradicate this disease among the horses of the Indians of the Umatilla reservation, and the agent will be expected to confer with and act in conjunction with, the Inspectors of the Agricultural Department, to the end that the disease may be blotted out."

The letter to the Indian Agent, Charles Wilkins, of the Umatilla Reservation, a copy of which is enclosed, says in part:

"The matter has been taken in hand by the Department of Agriculture, which department, it seems, has received several reports as to the existence of this skin disease among the horses on your reservation. It appears from the statement of the Secretary of Agriculture, that a preliminary investigation as to the nature of this disease has resulted in the discovery that said fliscase is of considerable gravity, and of a contagious character.

an inspector to make an investigation as to the extent of the existence of this disease among the horses on the Umatilla Reservation, and the possible danger of its spreading to the horses owned by the whites throughout the State of Oregon. It is the wish of this office that you lend all possible aid to whoever the inspector may, in carrying out the wishes of the Agricultural Department, in order that this disease may be blotted out, and wherever you find it necessary, you should at once take the necessary steps to kill the infected horses wherever you may find them, and make a proper disposition of them. Of course, you will be expected to use due discretion in this matter, so as to avoid any unnecessary conflict with the

the Department of Agriculture, in a discussion a few days ago, called forth by the present prevailing high price of beef, earnestly advocated the more general use of cereals as food. Prof. Wiley said that without going into the queston of 'price, Indian corn, wheat, oats, rye, and rice contained, so far as actual nourishment was concerned, everything necessary to supply the waste of the body and give the necessary heat and energy to the system, and said it was very well known that men nourished very extensively on cereals were capable of the hardest and most enduring manual labor. Meaus were quckly digested and furnished an abundance of energy soon after consumption, but were not retained in the digestive organism long enough to sustain permanent muscular exertion. On the other hand, cereal foods were more slowly digested, furnished the energy necesary to digestion and the vital functions in a more uniform manner, and were thus better suited to sustain hard manual labor for a ong period of time. The workingmen of the country,

Prof. Wiley said, should consider this point and accustom themselves more and more to the use of cereals in their foods. When properly prepared and served, they were, he said, palatable as well as nutritious, and their judiclous use would tend to diminish the craving for meats, which, however, it was not advisible to exclude entirely from the diet.

Prof. Wiley said it seemed probable that the price of meat, now abnormally high, would never again descend o as low a point as was reached a few years ago, and that the condition which now confronted the American people was, therefore, one of consider- beaches grow on fence posts. sble permanency and should be met

PROGRESSIVE PUDDUKKOTTAL Advance Puddukkottai! A novel experlment is being made in the native State of Puddukkottal. The Raja, anxious that the needs of the people should be learned not only from the persons charged with the administration of the State, but from others who have opportunities of mixing with the people and discovering their needs, has formed a Representative Assembly to make suggestions and to receive accurate information regarding the action taken by the government. A recent meeting of the assemby was addressed by the Dewan, who laid before it details of the past year's administration, and discussed the suggestions that had been made to the Durbar. Among the projects which the Durbar hopes to cary out at an early date are the reconstitution of the Sanitary Department, the formation of local committees to supervise sanitation in important villages, the introduction of rules to insure efficiency in the public service, the construction of storage reservoirs for irrigation purposes electric lighting and the water-supply for Puddukkottal town, the state, construction of a metre-gauge rallway through the state, construction of bridges, roads, etc. It is intended to organize a special party to carry out restoration of the tanks of the state .-Lahore Tribune.

EMINENT PHYSICIAN CURED A YOUNG LADY BY MEANS OF ELETRICITY-OTHER REMARKABLE CURES MADE BY THIS WONDERFUL MAN.

Mr. Editor: Hearing of Dr. Darrin being in Salem, I wish to tell what he did for my adopted daughter, Miss Lena Stanfield, fifteen years ago. For years she had been afflicted with discharging ears. On one of the doctor's visits to Salem he treated her and cured her in 17 days. I write this for the benefit of others similarly afflicted, as well as for the doctor. I reside at 323 Mill street, Salem, and have lived in Salem 23 years; can be referred to. C. SNOWDEN.

Southern Pacific Engineer Throws Away His Crutches.

Portland, Ore .- (To the Editor.)-Dear Sir: I hold it to be a duty, as well as a pleasure, to make known, through the press, that which of all other things is most essential, viz: the way to cure pain and sickness. I was confined to my home with sciatica rheumatism, khiney trouble, inflammation of neck of bladder and general indisposition. Could not sleep more than an hour at a time. All means I tried proved unavailing. I was prompted to visit Dr. Darrin through the advice of my friends, who had been cured by him, though, I must say, I had little faith that electricity would cure me. I came to the doctor on crutches. Two weeks' treatment has cured me, so I have thrown away my crutches, and my other complaints have all disappeared, so I can take command of my engine. I will answer all questions by letter or in person at 490 Commercial street, East Portland. W. HAYES.

A Most Remarkable Cure of Heart Dis-

Perhaps one of the most wonderful results on record is the cure of Mrs. S. E. Clark by electricity and medicines, administered by Dr. Darrin one year ago. Mrs. Clark was carried to Dr. Darrin's office in an almost dving condition, afflicted with a complication of disases. Here are her own words: Ukiah, Ore. To the Editor: My health began to fall over a year ago. I gradually fell away until I became very weak. I was suffering from heart, lung and stomach troubles. 26th day of December, 1897, I went to Pendleton, and put myself under Dr. Darrin's treatment by electricity and medicines, and began to improve from the first treatment, and continued to improve. At the present time I have good health. My neighbors say they never expected to see me return home from Pendleton, and were greatly sur prised at my recovery. MRS. S. E. CLARK.

Two Years Later.

Uklah, Oregon, March 19, 1899.-Dr. Darrin: I am enjoying good health, having gained over 20 pounds in the past year. I feel entirely cured, and very greatful indeed to have good health again after years of suffering with heart, stomach and lung trouble; also diseases peculiar to women. I cannot praise you too highly. Refer to MRS. S. E. CLARK.

Most cases can receive home treatment after one visit to the doctor's office. Batteries and belts furnished, with full directions for the use. The poor treated free, excepting medicine, from 10 to 11 daily.

INTERESTING CHANGES IN A NORTH DAKOTA LAKE.

One of the interesting problems which has come under the notice of States Geological Survey is the gradual drying up of Devil's Lake in North Dakota Devil's Lake, or Lake Minnewauka as it is called by the Indians, is the largest body of water in the state. It belongs to the numerous class of lakes formed by the great glacial ice sheet on its final retreat toward the north. Then and for some time after, when it was fed by the heavy rains following the glacial period, it had an outlet to the south into the Sheyenne river; and a well marked abdempty channel still remains between the lake and the river. Long before settlers first came to the region Endeavor counts for more than es- in 1880, the lake had sunk below the level of this channel and has since been without an outlet. Regular observaton for the last nineteen years show a steady and almost uninterrupted sinking of the water. Groves of trees, which once stood at the beach, are now separated from it by broad strips of sand, and the shallow parts of the lake, notably the long arms and bays have been left quite dry. Another important and interesting feature is the change in the water from fresh to salt; this has taken place within the memory of man, and is in some particulars producing unfavorable results. Fish were found in the lake in great abundance up to about 1888; since then they have grown rapidly less until now, practically none are caught.

The United States Geo Sical Survey of Prof. C. M. Hall, of the State Agricultural College, will make careful records of the fluctuations of the waters and a general study of their decline. The investigation promises most interesting results, which may throw some light upon the climatic conditions of the past.
