The prior of the Isbell home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, with ivy evergreens and apple blossoms, and the dining room in ferns and lilacs, making the whole home a thing of beauty. The bride couple stood beneath a beautiful bower of ivy and apple blossoms when the sacred words were spoken that made them husband and wife. Only the immediate relatives and friends of the happy couple were present to witness the interesting event. Following the impressive ceremony, dainty refreshments were served, after which the bride couple was conveyed to the afternoon overland, going to Portland for a few days' stay. On their return they will be at home to their friends at No. 140 Union Street.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Isbell, residing near the Fair Grounds, and is a most popular young lady, counting her friends by the hundreds; the groom is a well known resident of Salem. He is an employee of the Oregon Telephone & Telegraph Company, and stands high in the esteem of the management of the company.

DIED.

BENSON.—At the Salem Hospital, Salem, Oregon, Thursday, May 8, 1902, at 4 o'clock p. m., Charles Benson, aged 82 years, of infirmities attending old age.

Deceased was an early Oregon pioneer, having migrated to this country from Missouri, his native state, early in the '40s taking up a donation land claim in the hills near Sublimity upon which he has lived ever since. Three children survive him two of which are daughters, one married and residing in Eastern Washington, and the other daughter and the son, Henry Benson, reside at the old home near Sublimity. His wife died several years ago. "Uncle Charley" Benson, as he was familiarly called, was known by all the early settlers as a sturdy, honest old soul, a mighty hunter in his younger days, a good neighbor and a true friend, and his demise though expected, will be mourned by many hundreds who knew him in life.

Keep the Balance Up.

It has been truthfully said that any disturbance of the even balance of health causes serious trouble. Nobody can be too careful to keep this balance up. When people begin to lose appetite, or to get tired easily, the least imprudence brings on sickness, weakness, or debility. The system needs a tonic, craves it, and should not be denied it; and the best tonic of which we have any knowledge is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What this medicine has done in keeping healthy people healthy, in keeping up the even balance of health, gives it the same distinction as a preventive that it enjoys as a cure. Its early use has illustrated the wisdom of the old saying that a stitch in time saves nine. Take Hood's for appetite, strength, and endurance.

WILL OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY

Sedgwick Post No. 10, G. A. R. Makes Its Arrangements

COMMITTEES HAVE BEEN APPOINTED TO PREPARE FOR THE DAY—OTHER FRATERNAL AND PATRIOTIC ORDERS INVITED TO PARTICIPATE IN THE DAY'S EXERCISES.

Sedgwick Post No. 10, G. A. R., of this city, in accordance with a time-honored custom, and in memory of the deceased veterans who fought for the flag of their country, is making active preparations to fittingly observe Memorial Day, Friday, May 30th. With this in view, the Post has appointed a general committee on arrangements, consisting of H. L. Brown, Dr. T. C. Smith, James Batchelor, James Fisher and A. F. McAtee. This committee will have full charge of all arrangements, with power to appoint all sub-committees.

The general committee at a special meeting held, has taken the first steps toward arranging for the day's exercises, by appointing a number of sub-committees, and these will at once get to work and complete all needed arrangements. The committees are: Committee on Finance: Capt. J. Q. Barnes, J. L. Stockton, F. B. Southwick.

Committee on Hall and Speaker: Earl Race, General W. H. Byars, L. D. Henry.

Committee on Decorating Hall: H. L. Brown, E. K. Hall, and Ladies of the W. P. C.

Committee on Decorating Graves: James Batchelor, J. E. Ross, J. H. Smith.

Committee on Program: Rev. T. Henderson, E. K. Hall, A. F. McAtee, and a committee from the W. R. C.

Marshals of the Day: J. L. Stockton, T. W. Potter.

Invitations to assist in the exercises of the day will be extended to all the fraternal orders of the city, and places will be assigned to all who participate, in the procession and at the cemetery during the exercises; invitations will also be extended to the Union Veterans, the Spanish-American War Veterans, the Oregon National Guard, and the Chemawa Indian Training School, and these organizations it is hoped will appear, each in a body, and all under their proper officers, and participate in the day's exercises.

The beautiful custom of observing one day in the year as a memorial day, at which time the graves of deceased veterans are decorated with earth's choicest flowers, while beautiful and impressive services are held in memory of the Nation's defenders who have passed away, is a truly American custom. But the old veterans of 1861 to 1865, who took the brunt of the fighting, are getting less from year to year, and those still remaining are all showing the frosts of many winters in their hair; the time is not far distant when these old veterans, who are still here, will be compelled to relinquish the work of performing the offices for their own honored and loved dead to younger hands. There should then be an organization to take up this work, and the invitation extended to the veterans of the Spanish-American war would seem to solve the question as to what hands the work should be confided to. For this reason, among others, it is very much desired that the veterans of the war with Spain should turn out in a body, and escort the older veterans on Memorial Day, and participate in the exercises, for in time to come they themselves will be called upon to perform the same work for those whom they now have with them. Memorial Day is an American institution; it has come to stay, and it is well that it is so, for it teaches patriotism of the highest order, and is an educator of the young which it would be difficult to replace by any other institution. Memorial Day ought to be observed by all, not as a day of jubilation or merry-making (and to the honor of the American people be it said, it never is so regarded) but as a day which is given to the fond remembrance of the dead heroes whose patriotic sacrifices were made that the Nation might live, a free country, the admiration of the world, and as a beacon light and model for other peoples struggling for a higher aim in life, and better national existence.

A BIG PURSE.

SALT LAKE CITY, May 8.—A movement has been started among the more prominent sporting men and sports lovers of this city to organize a club and offer a purse to Jim Jeffries and Bob Fitzsimmons to meet here in a 20-round contest during the Elks' national convention in August. It is the intention to offer the heavy-weights a purse of $20,000. If successful in getting the signatures of the men for a contest here, it is planned to have the fight take place in the ring to be located out in the center, in the open. The seating capacity of the amphitheater can easily be made 20,000, and with the vast crowds that will be here from all over the country to attend the Elks' meeting, no question of the financial success of the undertaking is entertained.

St. Louis, Mo., May 8.—The beef trust is now under investigation by the St. Louis grand jury. PRESIDENT PALMA'S TOUR

THE FIRST CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF CUBA GREETED BY THE POPULACE.

NEW YORK, May 8.—President-elect Palma, who has just arrived here, says a Santa Clara, Cuba, dispatch to The World, found the people from the whole surrounding country, partly drawn by the exhibition of island products being held here, gathered to give him greeting. The narrow streets of the town was packed. The horse-drawn Senator Palma's carriage took flight at some fireworks, bolted and ran over two spectators before they were stopped. General Palma was not injured.

He reviewed in the evening a parade of the police, after which he attended a public banquet and reception in his honor and a ball at the theater.

Mrs. Palma Happy.

NEW YORK, May 8.—"I leave many friends behind, but I go to a country full of them," said Mrs. Tomas Estrada Palma, the "first lady of Cuba," who starts today on the steamship Havana for the new republic. "I was not born a Cuban. I have never been to Cuba," she added, "but I know what my husband has felt, has hoped all these years. When he left me to go there as the President, he kept saying, 'I am surely dreaming.'"

Madame Palma's home here has been in Central Valley, N. Y., where her husband for many years conducted a school. Her eldest son, Jose, remains at Columbia University. Her other five children will accompany her to Cuba.

Mrs. Palma Sails.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Mrs. Tomas Estrada Palma, the wife of the President-elect of the Cuban Republic, sailed for Havana today on the steamer Havana.

KILLED HIS OWN BROTHER

Paul J. Ford, the Novelist, Shot at His Home

IN NEW YORK YESTERDAY

Suicide of the Murderer Followed His Awful Deed

THE TWO HAD NOT BEEN ON GOOD TERMS FOR YEARS—A BAKER CITY MAN ARRESTED FOR PERJURY IN MANNY HOWARD CASE—ST. LOUIS AFTER THE BEEF TRUST.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Paul Leicester Ford, the novelist, was shot and killed today, by his brother, Malcolm Webster Ford, a writer and athlete, who immediately sent a bullet into his own breast, dying instantly. The shooting occurred at the home of Paul Leicester Ford.

Police Captain Brown said tonight that Malcolm Ford had for some time been causing uneasiness to the family, through evidences of an unbalanced mind, and in his opinion killed his brother during a period of temporary insanity.

Paul Leicester Ford was 37 years old, and a novelist of much note, "Janice Meredith," and "The Honorable Peter Starling," being his most popular novels.

Information from other sources make it appear that Malcolm Ford called to get money from his brother, and meeting with a refusal shot him. It is said that there was an enmity between the brothers of eleven years standing; that never since the death of their father have they been on intimate terms. The alleged enmity on the part of Malcolm is said to have been because their father disinherited Malcolm, and that this action was had because he did not wish Malcolm to devote himself to an athletic career.
