TO-BROIL BACON.

Broiled bacon is a dish which in few households deserves the adjective, because it is seldom broiled; the fat is fried out of it and again soaked into it by long sputtering in a spider full of grease.

The only way to cook bacon—both for the matter of appearance and for digestive qualities—is to broil it, not over a bed of coals (it is too fat for that), but in a very hot oven. Cut the bacon in the most delicately thin slices possible, rejecting the rind. Lay the pieces close together in a fine wire broiler. Place it over a dripping pan and set in a hot oven. It requires to be turned just once. The fat which falls into the pan makes excellent drippings for frying potatoes.

Drain the bacon on brown paper. If you wish to serve calf's liver with this sprinkle the liver with pepper and salt, roll it in flour and fry brown in the bacon drippings. Serve with a curled morsel of bacon on top of each piece of liver. Bacon as served by the average cook, well soaked in grease, is the most indigestible of food; when broiled crisp in the oven, it is a dish that may be served even for a child of two years with impunity. Among all the fats delicately crisped bacon ranks next to cream in ease of digestion.—Butte Times.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 2.—The leading bosses and fire bosses refuse to take the places of the striking engineers, firemen and pumpmen in the Shenandoah district today, and the machinery taking the water to the surface is at a standstill as a consequence. "MAY DAY" FADING OUT.

It was barely ten years ago that May Day was proclaimed as "Labor's Festival," processions were organized, demonstrations were held, and speeches were made, and the social democratic revolution was prophesied. This year, with the exception of a small gathering at the Alexandra Palace, there was scarcely an attempt to foregather on May Day for any purpose whatsoever, except at the crowning of the May Queen at Knutsford, some children's processions, and horse and donkey parades in a few places. The fervid enthusiasm of ten years ago has burnt itself out.

Even the orators of that remote period no longer walk the stage, but are content, some of them at least, to write a word in order to keep alive the memory of days long past. At the Alexandra Palace the now obsolete aspirations for the State to usurp everything—"take over," they called it—the means of production, distribution, and exchange were expressed, but mildly as compared with years ago as though the organizers of the gathering desired to keep up continuity in the demand, and avert the accusation of abandonment. Manchester made no sign, except in the usual parades, in which labor had no status. Liverpool was silent; so were Leeds, Birmingham, and all the other great centers of industry, where afloat in the early '90s, martial music was heard, banners and flags were haunting in the breeze, and the apostles of the New Age proclaimed death to capitalism, universal brotherhood, and a collective state of society in all that pertained to wealth and labor. It is well to recall those short-lived outbursts, as the recollection may temper the tone and language of future labor leaders when they essay a crusade against all that is for a something that, in their opinion, ought to be.

Singularly enough, May Day celebrations and festivities, as labor demonstrations, were almost wholly abandoned on the Continent.—London Engineering.

DEVICE FOR COW MILKING.

Machinery having been applied to almost everything else is now being adapted to milking cows. An ingenious farmer and a mechanic from Iowa have patented a cow-milking device on the vacuum principle. The apparatus consists of a can provided with an air pump, by which the air in the can may be exhausted to a certain degree of rarefaction indicated by a vacuum gauge at the top. A flexible tube is connected at one end with the can and at the other with the cow's udder, by means of four teat-cups. As soon as a sufficient amount of air has been exhausted from the can the teats are placed in the cups and the stopcocks opened. This causes the air to be drawn inward, making an airtight joint. The suction then draws the milk through the hose into the can.

A pneumatic ring in each cup prevents injury to the cow and an outer adjustable cylinder prevents the teat being drawn in too far. The lower part of each cup is glass, so that the operator is able to watch the proper working of the milking process. The device is said to have tried on Iowa cows with the result that after a while they don't object to it. Its advantage is supposed to be that it lessens the chances of contagion from germs.—N. Y. Sun.

Holds Up a Congressman.

"At the end of the campaign," writes Champ Clark, Missouri's brilliant Congressman, "from overwork, nervous tension, loss of sleep and constant speaking I had about utterly collapsed. It seemed that all the organs in my body were out of order, but three bottles of Electric Bitters made me all right. It's the best all-around medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter." Overworked, run-down men and weak, sickly women gain splendid health and vitality from Electric Bitters. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by Dr. Stone's Drug Stores.

REPUBLICANS CARRY THE STATE ELECTION

With the Possible Exception of Furnish, the Nominee for Governor, Who Ran Behind His Ticket Everywhere.

The Marion County Ticket Elected by Large Majorities With the Exception of Sheriff—Ben. B. Colbath is Probably Elected Sheriff by a Majority of From Fifty to One Hundred and Fifty—Williams Elected Mayor of Portland.

THE LOCAL ELECTION

The state election yesterday passed off quietly in this city and county, though a big vote was secured, in spite of the showers which fell throughout the day making it very disagreeable. Throughout the day workers of both the political parties were hard at work, and many voters, who had not registered, were brought to the polls and voted.

The result of the election thus far is about as follows: The Republican state and county ticket was successful in Marion county with the exception of Governor and possibly sheriff. It is conceded that George E. Chamberlain has carried Marion county by a small plurality for Governor, and B. B. Colbath may be elected sheriff by about 50 to 100 votes.

The reports from the state indicate the election of the entire Republican ticket by large majorities with the possible exception of Furnish for Governor, who is probably defeated by a small majority. Furnish has probably lost in Marion county. In Portland Gen. G. H. Williams is elected mayor by a large majority over R. D. Inman. Both Republican nominees for Congress are elected by large majorities, and the National administration is endorsed, as these with the exception of the Legislature, which will also be safely Republican, were the only political offices involved.

Below are the returns from a number of the precincts from this county—a few of them complete, the remainder incomplete, as follows:

Election in the State.

Portland, Or., June 2.—The election in Oregon was held today for State officers, two Congressmen and Members of the Legislature, which will elect a United States Senator to succeed Joseph Simon. At midnight scattering returns indicate the election of Geo. E. Chamberlain, Democrat, for Governor. The entire Republican state ticket, with the exception of Governor, is elected by 8000 to 12,000, and Thomas H. Tongue and J. N. Williamson elected to Congress by large majorities. W. J. Furnish, Republican, for Governor is running far behind his ticket in nearly every county. The Legislature will be Republican by a safe majority, but it is impossible to make an accurate estimate at present. Geo. H. Williams has been elected Mayor of Portland.

Portland, Or., June 2.—Incomplete returns from 19 precincts in Portland are as follows:
Chamberlain 409, Furnish 360, Williams 421, Inman 240. At 11:30 p. m. the indications are that Chamberlain is elected by a small majority, though the result may be changed by later returns. The entire Republican state ticket, except Governor, is elected by a large majority. Both Republican Congressmen have overwhelming majorities. Williams is undoubtedly elected Mayor of Portland.

Multnomah Democratic.
Portland, June 3.—(Tuesday 1:45 p. m.)—Incomplete returns from all but two precincts in Portland give Chamberlain 1268; Furnish, 1126. If this ratio holds out, Chamberlain's majority in Multnomah county will be about 1000. For mayor of Portland, at this hour, Williams 1130; Inman 917.

In Linn County.
Albany, Or., June 2.—Furnish carries Albany by a majority of from 250 to 300, but Chamberlain will carry the county by a small majority. Returns very incomplete but balance of Republican ticket safe.

In Polk County.
Monmouth, June 2.—Polk county will go for Furnish by a fair majority; returns incomplete, but balance of Republican ticket will be elected by a large majority.

In Clatsop County.
Sheriff F. W. Durbin last night received a telegram from Oswald West, of Astoria, stating that Chamberlain had carried Clatsop county and that the Legislative and county tickets were mixed.

Miss Maud Hepburn returned to her home in Portland yesterday afternoon from a visit to friends in this city. Miss Alice Campbell accompanying her.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Bozorth departed yesterday afternoon, Mr. Bozorth to attend the State Grange at Vancouver, Wash., and Mrs. Bozorth to visit in Portland.
