

BUILDING A GOOD ROAD

The People of Liberty are Constructing a New Highway

FROM THAT PLACE TO THIS CITY—CRUSHED BASALT USED IN COVERING IT TO A DEPTH OF TEN INCHES—COMMENDABLE ENTERPRISE OF THE FARMERS.

(From Saturday's Daily.)
The first step toward permanent roads and highways in Marion county has been taken by the people of Liberty, five miles south of this city, and assisted by the county authorities, they are building the first permanent roadway, on scientific principles, constructed in the county. The new road will, when completed, run from Liberty to Salem, following the present dirt road. This highway has been nicely graded, and drained, and is now being covered with crushed rock.

The citizens of the Liberty section have donated $500 in labor toward building this road, and the county court is giving the use of its new rock crusher, and a force of ten men to prepare the rock for the road, the farmers donating the work of hauling the rock from the crusher to the road and spreading it. County Roadmaster W. J. Culver has supervision of the work, while W. M. Bushey is in charge of the rock crusher, and between these two gentlemen, and the farmers who are employed on the work and have a personal interest in it, excellent results are being obtained.

A representative of the Statesman went out to the scene of operations yesterday, and found a busy crowd around the rock-crusher.

The big rock-crusher is located on the Ewald place, two miles south of this city, and about a quarter of a mile off the Liberty road. At this point a ledge of basalt crops out of the hillside, and it is this ledge that supplies the material for the new highway. The basalt is a depth of about 15 feet—level with the creek bed—is seamed and broken, as though torn by some seismic disturbance, and this material, coming out in the shape of pieces of various shapes, from the size of a fist to that of a man's head, is blasted and broken with dynamite, taken to the rock crusher in wheelbarrows, and there broken and crushed the largest pieces coming through the crusher, averaging 1 1/2 inches in diameter. From the crusher the broken basalt is carried by an elevator to the wagons standing alongside, and the loaded wagons, carrying 1-1/2 yards of crushed rock, are hauled out into the road where the material is unloaded and spread by a force of men.

While at the pit yesterday, the forces of men employed in getting out the rock and crushing it, put in a blast, and loosened several carloads of material, ready for the crusher.

The road as now in course of construction will make a splendid and permanent highway. The crushed basalt is spread on the road 12 feet wide, and 10 inches deep, and will when the whole distance of the road is covered, be crushed down by the use of a five-ton roller. The broken basalt is not round but in most cases nearly square, and these sharp-cornered cubes pack solidly, and make one of the firmest roadways known to road-builders. The road will be covered from Liberty to the Catholic cemetery with this material, and from that point to the city limits with gravel, thus making a permanent highway, five miles long, leading into Salem. This is the beginning of road-building in this county, and the example set by the enterprising farmers of the Red Hills will doubtless be followed by the people of many other neighbors, and as it is encouraged by the county court, the result can only be of lasting benefit to the community at large, and give the county in time a splendid system of highways, good in winter and summer. The farmers of Liberty are entitled to great credit for their efforts in behalf of good roads, and they will have the lasting gratitude of the entire community.

SALEM'S NEW POSTOFFICE

FURNITURE OF THE MOST MODERN DESIGN TO BE PLACED IN THE BUILDING.

(From Saturday's Daily.)
Wells M. Sawyer, of Washington, D. C., an inspector of the Treasury Department, arrived in Salem last evening, and will spend a day in this city. His duties include the inspection of new Government buildings with a view to furnishing them properly, to draft designs and specifications for furniture and furnishings, and to inspect the furniture supplied, and while here he will see to the needs of the new postoffice, beyond what has already been contracted for in the way of furniture. He is interested in the way of furniture. He the Salem postoffice would be of quarter-sawn oak, with a golden oak finish, similar in design and appearance to the new fixtures recently placed in the Portland custom house. The post-office equipment, he said, would be of the most modern and the best obtainable, in design and equipment rivalling any in the country. The carpets are made under Treasury Department specification, every yard has the words "United States Treasury Department" woven in the back, and the sewing is done in a Treasury building, under supervision of the Department. The carpets consist of large rugs, with heavy borders. The gas fixtures also are made under Treasury Department specifications, and are closely inspected before sent out to be installed.
Mr. Sawyer says, the Salem postoffice will be well supplied with up-to-date furnishings and equipment, and when all is installed, will be the pride of the city. He says the furniture and equipment will be here in plenty of time to be installed as soon as the building is ready.

TRAFFIC ON THE RIVER

STEAMERS UNABLE TO HANDLE ALL THE FREIGHT OFFERED BY SHIPPERS.

(From Saturday's Daily.)
Freight traffic on the Willamette river has not been so good in years as it is at the present time. Never before in the recollection of the local agents, has there been so much business that is impossible for the steamers to move all the freight, but at the present time it is in such a congested state that the boats are unable to carry but a small portion of the freight from upper river points.

The steamer Pomona came down from Independence yesterday morning loaded to her fullest capacity and was obliged to leave a cargo of forty tons of flour at Albany and about thirty tons at Corvallis besides a great amount of miscellaneous freight at all points down the river including Salem. The low stage of the river, however, is responsible to a certain degree for the situation as the boats cannot load so heavily as during the winter months.

The O. C. T. Co.'s new light draught boat which has been building since early last fall is being rapidly pushed toward completion and the company has hopes of being able to put her into commission sometime between the 1st and 15th of July. She has been constructed especially to ply to upper river points during low water season and the company it is understood, after so long a parley over the selection of a name, has decided to give her the name of Avona.

On account of the elaborate arrangements for the celebration of the Fourth of July in this city, the O. C. T. Co. will run the steamer Pomona between Independence and Salem all that day for the accommodation of those between here and that city who desire to witness the celebration. The boat will make four round trips during the day.

THE CIRCUIT COURT MEETS

State Fair Board's Damage Case to Be Argued Later

AN ACTION FILED FOR THE COLLECTION OF TWO NOTES, AND SUNNYSIDE FRUIT FARM PROPERTY ATTACHED BY PLAINTIFF.

(From Saturday's Daily.)
The first department of the State Circuit Court continued in session at 9 o'clock yesterday morning when the case of the State Board of Agriculture against R. T. Denham, F. P. Talkington and J. G. Goodale, which was continued from Thursday, was resumed. The cross examination of President W. H. Wehrung, of the State Board of Agriculture, was concluded and the testimony of all of the other witnesses in the case, six in number, was taken in full and the court adjourned until Monday, July 7th, at 9 o'clock a. m. when the plaintiff's motion for judgment on the pleadings will be argued.

T. Coggeshall yesterday filed a suit, in department No. 1 of the State Circuit Court, against L. J. Miles demanding judgment for the sum of $30, with interest at 5 per cent from December 3d, 1901; the sum of $100, with interest at 3 per cent from December 3, 1901, and for $25 attorney's fees and for costs and disbursements of this action. The plaintiff alleges that the amounts sued for are due on two promissory notes executed by the plaintiff and in favor of the defendant, and the plaintiff has caused lots 13 and 14 of Sunnyside Fruit Farm, containing 20 acres, of defendant's property, to be attached as security for payment of said notes. John Boyne is the plaintiff's attorney.

TRESCOTT AND HIS PARTNER

In the Courts to Settle Their Business Troubles

A FORMER SALEM MAN WANTS AN ACCOUNTING, AND A RECEIVER HAS BEEN APPOINTED TO TAKE CHARGE OF THE FIRM'S AFFAIRS.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

ASTORIA, June 21.—One of the most interesting suits filed in the Circuit Court of Clatsop county for many years, has just been commenced by C. B. Trescott, the well-known cold-storage man, who asks the appointment of a receiver in the Trescott Packing Company. The case involves the integrity of F. M. Warren, of Portland, the life of the business and the financial prosperity of the plaintiff.

According to the complaint filed in the Circuit Court, Messrs. Warren and Trescott first engaged in business together in 1893. At that time the business was not an extensive one, the firm devoting its attention to the handling of sturgeon. In 1894 the Trescott Packing Company was formed, and the scope of the enterprise was increased the following year, when the concern engaged in the cold-storage business.

The complaint recites that Mr. Warren was the financial genius of the company, advancing the necessary funds and having absolute management of the accounts. Trescott, having had long previous experience in the cold-storage business, was vested with the business management. At that time the stock of the concern was $20,000, and was held by Mr. Warren. The business was successfully conducted until last season, according to the complaint.

Mr. Trescott alleges that Mr. Warren, during the eight years of the co-partnership, failed to make any settlement with him, and that he has been defrauded out of his just share of the profits of the business, and asks the appointment of John Adams, of Oregon City, as receiver. Mr. Adams has been appointed.

Mr. Trescott's complaint states that the undivided profits exceed $100,000. Under the co-partnership arrangement the complaint further alleges, Mr. Trescott was at some later date, to receive a fair and equitable portion of the profits in return for his services, but when he asked Mr. Warren for an accounting this was denied, nor would Warren permit Trescott to examine the accounts of the concern.

Apart from the petition for the appointment of a receiver, Mr. Trescott asks the dissolution of the partnership and an order compelling Mr. Warren to settle with him on a fair and equitable basis.

Just why Mr. Trescott allowed the alleged condition of affairs to go on for eight years does not appear from the complaint.

Mr. Trescott is well known in Salem. He came here about 1887, as the representative of some Eastern concern, engaged in the manufacture of evaporator machinery, and he was one of the organizers of the company that built the original evaporator in connection with the Salem cannery. He superintended the first season's work of the evaporator, after which the other stockholders acquired his interest—the late R. S. Wallace being the principal stockholder.

After this Mr. Trescott was one of the original men to ship sturgeon on ice from the Columbia river to New York, going into that business on an extended scale.

Mrs. Trescott left her husband some years ago and went onto the stage. During the past season she was leading lady with Ward. AD PERS AND GEN

CHILD'S FATAL FALL

Mrs. M. J. Magers returned last evening from a visit to the home of her son in Portland and having attended the Pioneers' Reunion.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. MURDERED IN COLD BLOOD

Notorious Character in Butte Shoots an Enemy

AFTER A BRIEF QUARREL

The Murderer Was Promptly Placed In Jail

A SENSATION IN DAWSON CITY, CAUSED BY THE RESIGNATION OF COLLECTOR OF CUSTOMS DAVIS, WHEN HIS BOOKS SHOWED GROSS IRREGULARITIES.

BUTTE, Mont., June 23.—A cold-blooded murder occurred at 10 o'clock tonight, when Jas. Cusick, a notorious character, shot and killed Thomas Baggs, a gambler, as the latter was sitting in a bootblack's chair. Baggs died within twenty minutes. The men had quarreled over the death of Frank Hines, which had occurred a few minutes before and who is believed to have committed suicide, and came to blows. Cusick was worsted in the encounter and securing a gun returned and shot Baggs. The murderer is lodged in jail.

A Sensation.

Vancouver, B. C., June 23.—A special from Dawson says:
"One of the biggest sensations of the year culminated in the resignation today of D. W. Davis, Collector of Customs of Dawson. Alexander A. Cook, formerly of Vancouver, has also resigned. The upheaval in the Government office was the result of the examination of the books papers and entries, made by the Chief Inspector of Canadian Customs. The charge is made that Davis received a large sum of money from the Alaska Exploration Company, and as a result the Government was defrauded of a large amount of revenue. The claim against the company, with penalties is said to be $50,000."

THE OLEO MEN

WILL TRY TO EVADE LAW BY MIXING YELLOW BUTTER WITH THEIR PRODUCT.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Manufacturers of oleo are very well satisfied with the recent ruling of the Treasury Department in regard to the use of artificial coloring matter in making their product. They asked for an interpretation of the new law on this point. According to Commissioner Yerkes' exposition, they believe they will be able to mix bright yellow June butter with oleo in sufficient quantities to give the mixture a fairly yellow tinge, and then sell the same without paying the 10 cents a pound tax. Any coloring which does not come within the meaning of the term "artificial" can be used in coloring butter or the mixture of butter and oleo, and the result will be subject to a tax of only a quarter of a cent a pound.
