

MANY BILLS ARE RECEIVED

By the County Court for Services in Pursuing Convicts

THE CLAIMS AGGREGATE TWO TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLARS—THE COURT WILL NOT ACT ON THEM FOR SEVERAL DAYS—ROAD WORK.

(From Thursday's Daily.) The county court was in session all day yesterday the greater portion of the day being devoted to the consideration of a large number of bills.

The petition of Margaret B. Blundell, for the vacation of Hill street, Smith street, Summit avenue and Bluff avenue (from the north line of Franc street to the line of lot No. 12 of block 2, which if extended would intersect with Bluff avenue) in Morningside, was allowed and the streets were declared vacated and that the property be reverted to Mrs. Blundell.

Francis Michael, upon petition, was reinstated upon the county pauper list with an allowance of $6 per month.

The court received a list of the several claims which have been presented to Superintendent J. D. Lee, of the Oregon Penitentiary, and which were contracted during the search for the escaped convicts, Tracy and Merrill. The claims, which are presented for team hire, guard services and divers other expenses which were incurred by the sheriff and posse, and other searchers, aggregate a total of over $250. The court still has the claims under consideration and has taken no action upon them. The list as presented by Superintendent Lee, follows:

Table listing various bills and expenses, including items like 'Mrs. M. Nibler, Gervais, lodging and provisions', 'J. A. Simpson, team', 'Gilliam & Kimble, teams', etc.

GIANT GEYSER.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Near Salina Cruz, on the Pacific side of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, a giant geyser has broken out as the result of heavy earthquakes occurring in that section since April 18 last. The big column of hot water, rising to a height of about 50 feet roars and hisses from among the rocks, and is an object of great interest to the people and to passing vessels, being plainly visible from the sea. It was seen and admired by the passengers and crew of the steamer Newport, which has reached this port. The news is brought by the steamer that affairs in Guatemala are becoming normal, after the scare occasioned by the tremendous earthquakes. The havoc wrought by the disturbances will not interfere with harvesting of the coming coffee crop, as at first anticipated.

SMALL TRACT IN DISPUTE

Property Rights on Trial in the State Circuit Court

EFFORT MADE TO STOP DEFENDANTS FROM CUTTING TIMBER ON THE LAND IN QUESTION BROUGHT INTO COURT—OTHER CASES DISPOSED OF.

(From Thursday's Daily.) The suit of Joanna Pugh against John Hamilton, et al., was tried in the second department of the State Circuit Court yesterday, was continued all day and was argued and submitted last night and taken under advisement by the court until 10 o'clock this morning. The property involved in this dispute consists of a 31-acre tract of land of the old Hamilton estate, situated about five miles north of this city, and in which the widow of the deceased Hamilton, Mrs. Elizabeth Spicknall, owns a life interest and the plaintiff, Mrs. Joanna Pugh, an inherent interest the property reverting to her upon the death of her mother, Mrs. Spicknall. The defendant, John Hamilton, a son of Mrs. Spicknall, and a brother to the plaintiff, according to the complaint, has cut a great quantity of the timber on the property and worked it into cordwood and was continuing this work when enjoined by the court through application of the plaintiff. The defendant contends that in cutting down the timber he was only following out the wishes of his mother, Mrs. Spicknall, whose object it was to clear the premises in order to convert it into a pasture for her sheep and also that the property is worthless as it is covered with stumps, a scant growth of timber and thick underbrush. The plaintiff, however, contends that she is the owner of the property and, beside demanding that Hamilton be enjoined from cutting down any more timber or making any more cordwood on the property, she demands that the court render her a decree for $500, in which amount she alleges the property has been damaged and the value of the timber already cut and removed, and that the widow, Mrs. Spicknall, be made to forfeit her interest in the estate. The case is somewhat complicated and has aroused considerable interest in court circles. Carson & Adams are the attorneys for the plaintiff and John Bayne the counsel for the defendant.

Judge Boise, during yesterday's term of court, also granted Mrs. Leona Lantis a decree of divorce against her husband, Ward Lantis, upon default of the latter. Desertion was the charge upon which the action was brought. Geo. G. Bingham and L. J. Adams were the attorneys for Mrs. Lantis.

Upon motion of the plaintiff and intervenors, R. Davis, N. J. Damon, W. I. Staley, H. M. Branson, H. E. Ragan, Della Gosser and H. M. Branson, creditors of Gilbert Bros., in the receivership suit of Tilmon Ford, plaintiff, vs. A. T. Gilbert, et al., defendants, the receiver, Claude Gatch was instructed to examine into all claims filed in this case and ascertain, from the books and accounts, the correctness, justice, reasonableness and validity of each and all and make due report to the court on the same.

MUTINY ON HIGH SEAS.

PENSACOLA, Fla., July 9.—A sensational story of mutiny and murder on the high seas is told by Captain McDonald, of the American schooner Mary Sanford, which has arrived here from Bluefields, Nicaragua. During the voyage, A. G. Nicholson, the first mate, killed Fred Reed, a negro West Indian seaman, because he did not perform some duty to suit the mate. Immediately after the murder, four West Indian seamen, countrymen of the dead man, resented the murder of Reed, and threatened to hang Nicholson from a yardarm. The captain, two mates and steward were the only white men on the vessel, but they managed to preserve order.

THE CROPS AND WEATHER

Weekly Bulletin of Weather Bureau for Last Week

SHOWS SOME DAMAGE DONE BY THE RAINS, THOUGH CROPS WERE GREATLY BENEFITED—THE HOP YARDS ARE REPORTED THRIFTY.

(From Wednesday's Daily.) The weekly crop bulletin, issued by the Weather Bureau, Oregon Section, of the United States Department of Agriculture, for the week ending Monday, evening, July 7th, is given herewith. The general summary shows a very satisfactory condition of crops, and fruit reports are fairly encouraging. The bulletin is as follows:

The past week has been phenomenally cold, and wet. Heavy rains have fallen in all sections of the state, and the day temperatures averaged from 10 to 15 degrees below the normal in Western sections and from 15 to 22 degrees below the normal in the Eastern sections. Strong winds prevailed for several days in the Columbia river valley, and light frosts were reported, Monday morning, in the extreme Eastern portion of the state.

The maximum or day temperatures during the week in Western Oregon ranged between 54 and 65 degrees, and the minimum, or night temperatures between 44 and 55 degrees. In Eastern Oregon the maximum temperatures ranged between 59 and 75 degrees and the minimum temperatures between 38 and 52 degrees. The damage by the rains consisted in lodging a great deal of fall wheat principally in the Willamette valley and in portions of the Umatilla wheat regions; some standing flay was also lodged and a large amount of cut hay has been injured. With favorable weather this week much of the lodged grain and grass will come up again, and considerable cut hay will be saved in fair condition. The rains have injured ripe cherries by causing them to burst and mold, and a second crop of weeds has started on summer-fallowed land, which will necessitate a second cultivation. The grain harvest also will be delayed about a week, on account of the cool weather.

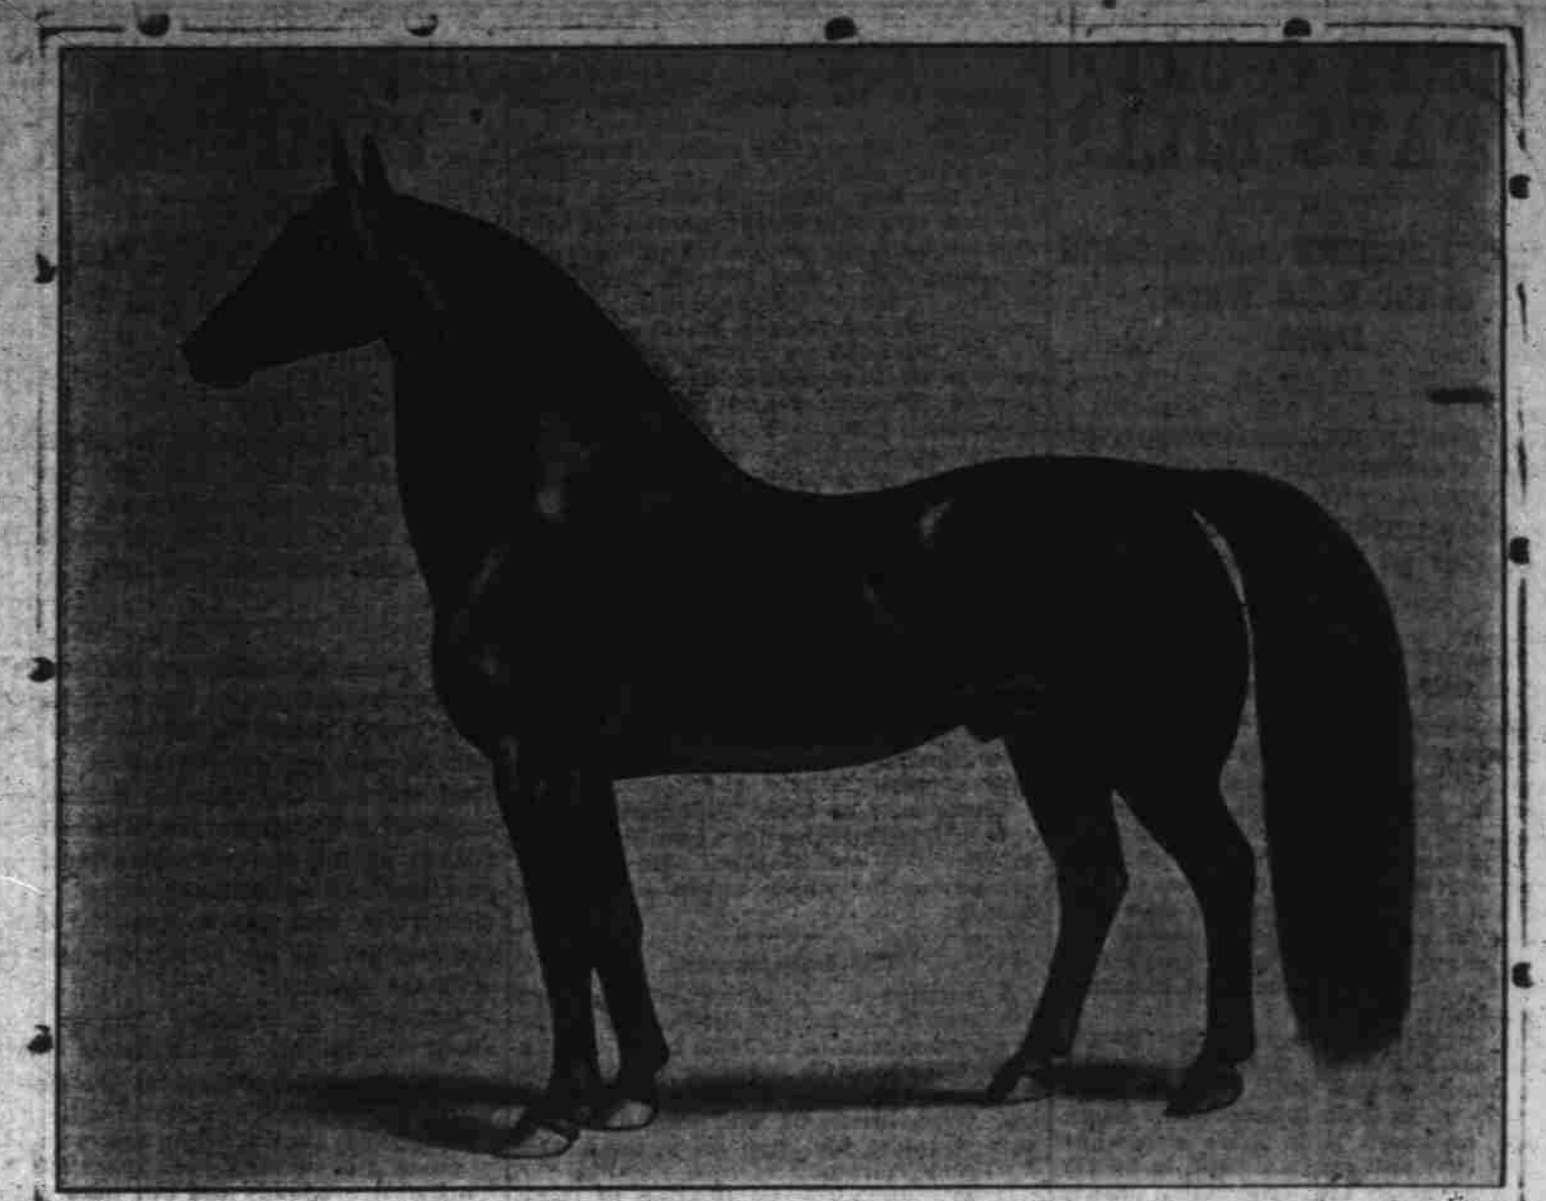

The rains have been of vast benefit to spring grain, reseeded fields of wheat, potatoes, corn, gardens, pastures, and all late crops. In the Grande Ronde valley and in Southern Oregon they have been especially beneficial as the preceding droughty conditions were beginning to cause alarm, and spring wheat that was thought would have to be cut for hay will now make a heavy crop. Wheat is filling nicely, but in Umatilla county much smut is reported. Hops, corn, and gardens are thrifty, but backward and need bright, sunny weather. The outlook is favorable for a good crop of apples. The condition of prunes remains unchanged, and from a half to a third of a crop is all that is expected. Peaches are doing well and an average crop or better will probably be harvested in Southern Oregon.

Willamette Valley. Sandy, Clackamas county, P. R. Meinig.—Crops are in extra good condition, as the heavy rains for the last week have given all of the late-sown grain a remarkable start. There was some hay spoiled, but not enough to be a great loss. Aurora, Clackamas county, G. Muecke.—The heavy rains on the 2d laid down fine standing hay, like cheat and orchard grass, apparently beyond redemption. It was of little benefit to the advanced vines, but will be of benefit to spring-sown grain; winter grain has lodged; cherries bursted. Albany, Linn county, H. C. Jordan.—This week has been rainy, beginning on the first inst., several inches of water have fallen. The spring grain, potatoes, and gardens have been greatly benefited. Considerable damage has been done to hay and heavy fall wheat. Some fields of winter barley are in the shock. Cherries have been damaged by the rains. Cottage Grove, Richard Topp.—The week has been cool and rainy; the rain was needed for gardens and grain, but we have had enough. Gardens fair; barley and all fall grain heading; corn not doing well. Strawberry season over; blackberries beginning to ripen. The hay crop will be only about two-thirds of an average crop. Considerable hay has been cut and is now water-soaked by the rain; if it turns clear and dry it can be saved, but if rain continues it will be spoiled. Unless the winter is very open there will be a hay famine.

ESCAPE OF A PATIENT

A TRUSTY AT THE ASYLUM FARM SECURES A RIG AND "ELOPES."

(From Thursday's Daily.) M. L. Kane, a patient at the Insane Asylum College farm, made his escape from that institution on Tuesday night between 10 o'clock and midnight, and up to a late hour last night no trace of him had been found, although the country was scoured for miles around in search of him.

Kane has been at the farm for a little more than a year and, although he was very much "off" by spells, his insanity was of such a character that he was regarded as harmless, and, not evincing any desire to abscond he was employed in the dairy department of the institution. During the night, he was locked in a dormitory with a number of other patients, on the third floor of one of the cottages, but sometime after 10 o'clock Tuesday night, he managed to work the door bolt from its much worn socket, slip out of the building and down to the stables, where he harnessed and hitched Farmer J. H. Henderson's driving horse to his new buggy and took his departure unseen and unmolesied.

His escape was not discovered until at an early hour yesterday morning when the trail of the buggy was very easily followed for a distance of about two and one-half miles until it was lost by obliteration. The escape was driving in a northerly direction and it is believed that he intends to get to Portland to which place he has often expressed his desire to go as he said he had clothes and money there. The authorities in Portland have been notified and are on the lookout as are all the officers in other parts of the country and his apprehension is expected soon. The animal which the escape drove, was a dark bay, with white star in forehead, weight about 1000 pounds and stands about 15 1/2 hands high and has a scar down one of the hind hoofs. The horse is well bred, high-spirited and a traveler and valued very highly by Mr. Henderson, who is afraid that it will receive ill treatment at the hands of the patient.

HOW THE ENGLISH APPRECIATE AND ENCOURAGE MERIT. Science Sittings which makes a special feature of showing its readers what to buy and what to avoid, has in its issue of Feb. 2d a lengthy article on "Becham's Pills," of which the following is an extract:

"We have examined this special medication, and find it contains carefully selected carminative, bitter, and purgative principles of vegetable origin. We have also perused some of the advertising literature associated with it, and even in view of the advertisement-writer's usual illustrative method we find nothing which cannot be substantiated. Everything in remedies of the class before us depends on the nicety with which they are compounded, and the proper proportioning and blending of the constituents and in these respects 'Becham's Pills' are admirable. Without hesitation then we award the Science Sittings Certificate of Merit to Mr. Thomas Becham, of St. Helens, Lancashire."
