

CORONATION IN AUGUST

King Edward Will be Formally Crowned Then

ORIGINAL ROYAL PROGRAM

Has Been Abandoned and the Affair Will Be Quiet

THE FIXING OF THIS EARLY DATE IS LOOKED UPON AS A GUARANTEE OF THE MONARCH'S STEADY AND CONTINUED IMPROVEMENT.

LONDON, July 11.—It is now considered practically certain that King Edward will be crowned Saturday, August 9th. The fixing of an early date for coronation is regarded as an additional guarantee of the confidence the King's physicians have in his rapid recuperation.

It is officially announced that there will be no Royal program, as originally planned, the day after the coronation, and there will be no procession apart from that in which their Majesties will proceed from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey and return.

Will Leave London.

London, July 11.—The King has made such excellent progress that his medical advisors believe His Majesty is now strong enough to be moved from London. It is hoped that His Majesty will be able to leave Buckingham Palace Tuesday, for the Royal Yacht, which is at Portsmouth.

DEATH CLAIMED HER

MRS. A. F. WILL OF AURORA, PASSED TO HER REST LAST SUNDAY.

Mrs. A. F. Will of Aurora, died very suddenly last Sunday night at her home in that city. The Aurora Borealis, of that place, in spending of the demise of the lady, says:

It was a shock to the entire community when it was announced that Mrs. A. F. Will had died Sunday night at 12 o'clock. She had been seriously ill for only 24 hours and she attended the Fourth of July celebration at Hubbard and after returning she called on friends in the evening, apparently in the best of health. Everything that medical skill could do was done to save her, but all in vain. The immediate cause of death was blood poison.

Decensed was the daughter of Mr. G. Konechak, of Needy, and was born in Germany on March 28, 1872, being thus thirty years, two months and 3 days at the time of her death. She was married to Mr. A. F. Will on May 21, 1899, and they have resided in this city ever since. The funeral was held Tuesday and was one of the largest ever seen in this city. The funeral started from the home of the deceased at 1 o'clock a. m., led by the band playing a funeral march. Fully twenty teams followed to the cemetery where many had already gathered to witness the last rites. J. P. Cole made a few very appropriate remarks at the grave and the remains were consigned to Mother Earth. She leaves a husband and one child, a little girl, Myra, whose second birthday was on Wednesday this week. Mr. A. F. Will has the heartfelt sympathy of all in his sad affliction.

Tracy, the Convict, Is Hard Pressed by the Poses

END OF THE CHASE NEAR

So Says Sheriff Cuddehe Who Manages the Pursuit

A REPORT COMES FROM THE PALMER CUT-OFF THAT THE FUGITIVE IS AIMING FOR THE MOUNTAINS—BELIEVED TO BE WOUNDED AND SICK.

RAVENSDALE, Wash., July 12.—

Harry Tracy, the hunted outlaw, is undoubtedly in the country lying between Covington, Franklin and Ravensdale. At present the guards are out as far as Franklin on the east and along the Northern Pacific tracks. A strong posse is leaving from Auburn. He is thought to be wounded.

Sheriff Cuddehe says there is no question but that Tracy is about used up. The sheriff believes the chase is nearing its end. He says it will be impossible for the outlaw to get out of King county on any railroad train, consequently he must walk, and the roads are watched and every farm house so well covered that a visit would be reported within a very few hours.

Tracy was last seen on the Green River, about two miles southwest of Black Diamond, last night, by Frank Pautot, a rancher. The convict passed in front of Pautot's house, and a short distance beyond he took to the brush. Twenty or thirty guards with bloodhounds have started for Pautot's house.

Is Moving Eastward.

Tacoma, Wash., July 12.—A special to the Ledger, from Kamnaskat, Wash., on the Palmer Cut-off says:

Tracy is near here. He has traveled nine miles today and is trying to reach the other side of the mountains. A posse under ex-Sheriff Woolery, with the bloodhounds, arrived here this evening, and it is not thought the outlaw has yet passed this point.

His Whereabouts Known.

Seattle, Wash., July 12.—Late advice from Auburn state that Tracy is known to be about nine miles east of Auburn. He is badly wounded, and the sheriff who is at Auburn says there is no doubt that the convict's race is about ended, and that while he may not be taken for a day or two, he cannot get away, and is sure to be killed or captured.

Secured a Meal.

Auburn, Wash., July 12.—Tracy held up an old rancher, Frank Pautot, nine miles east of here at 6 o'clock last night. He secured supper and then started for the woods. Tracy's legs are swollen and he complained of rheumatism.

Lame and Sick.

Seattle, July 12.—Tracy encountered a rancher about a half mile from the scene of his last night's holdup, at 5 o'clock this morning. The rancher had a revolver. Tracy fired one shot at him, and then took the revolver away from him. The rancher reports Tracy very lame and apparently sick.

REPAIRING THE BRIDGE

WORK EXPECTED TO BEGIN TOMORROW—A FOOTPATH TO BE KEPT OPEN.

C. F. Royal and Son, who have the contract to reconstruct the west approach to the big bridge across the Willamette river at this city, began the work of filling the west end of the approach, for a distance of 120 feet, early last week, which work is progressing quite satisfactorily. Tomorrow morning, Monday, it is expected that they will begin tearing up the floor of the bridge, so as to allow the pile-driver to work, and the bridge will be closed to travel from that time until the job is completed, which is estimated by the Messrs. Royal at about forty days.

During this closed period a ferry will be operated from the foot of Court street to a point opposite above the bridge for the accommodation of teams, and a flight of steps is being built from the end of the steel bridge to the ground for the benefit of pedestrians. This ferry will be operated by Hughes & Pettyjohn, but as yet no rate of compensation has been fixed upon. S. A. Riggs is superintending the work of construction.

CATASTROPHE AT JOHNSTOWN

One Hundred and Twelve Bodies Recovered

FEW REMAINING IN MINE

Nearly All the Men Employed There Are Accounted For

AN OFFICER AND SEVERAL CADETS AT WEST POINT MILITARY ACADEMY RECEIVE INJURIES WHILE DRILLING WITH ARTILLERY.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 12.—The extent of the catastrophe at the Rolling Mill mine of the Cambria Steel Company is now capable of being grasped. A careful and complete compilation shows that 112 is the exact number of bodies taken from the mine.

To this list the future explorations of the mine corridors may add a few, but it cannot be many. Almost all the employees, who could have been in the mine at the time of the explosion of Thursday are accounted for.

Cadets Hurt.

West Point, N. Y., July 12.—Captain Edwin S. Greble, instructor in artillery tactics, and three cadets, were injured today in an accident in the artillery drill. Captain Greble, accompanied by six cadets, was taking a gun along the high embankment west of Highland Falls, when the horse Captain Greble was riding became unmanageable and leaped over the embankment, drawing the gun carriage with it. The carriage fell upon Greble breaking both legs. The cadets were not seriously hurt.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY

RESULT IN THE ARREST OF ONE ONE OF THE MISCREANTS—HIS PAL ESCAPES.

(From Sunday's Daily.) An attempt was made to enter and rob the home of S. D. Ramp, who resides about one-half mile north of Brook, yesterday morning which was prevented only by the suspicious and prompt action of Mr. Ramp, with the result that the would-be burglars were captured but the principal one succeeded in making his escape before he could be placed in the hands of the authorities.

About 8 o'clock yesterday morning Mr. Ramp and his family started to Salem in their hack, but they had only proceeded a short distance when Mr. Ramp perceived two suspicious looking characters sitting alongside the road, and he concluded that they meant mischief. Mr. Ramp drove back to the house and remained there while the other members of the family proceeded to this city in the hack.

Mr. Ramp, who concealed himself in the front room having provided himself with a shot gun, had not long to wait for the two parties, a boy about 16 years of age and a man about 45, soon appeared at the front gate and the boy entered the yard, approached the house and knocked at the front door, receiving no answer he went around the house to the back door and the man then approached the house. Going to the front door, trying it and finding it locked, the man produced some keys and tried to open it. As the keys would not fit the lock he went around to the back doors, and tried them all with his keys.

Mr. Ramp, now being satisfied of their intentions, tipped to the kitchen door, which he unlocked very cautiously, and, throwing it open quickly he caught the would-be burglars unawares as the man was in the act of leaving the pantry door, and had them covered with the gun before they realized what happened. After making them throw up their hands he commanded the elder one to deliver over his possession having shot at a bird along the road a few hours previous. At first the man protested that he had no such weapon but when Mr. Ramp pressed his command with a threat he delivered up the revolver which proved to be a single-acting 38 calibre gun of an old rim-fire pattern. Then Mr. Ramp, intending to bring his prisoners to Salem, lined them up at the rear of the house while he hitched a horse to a buggy. The older one, the opportunity arising, made a break to escape and succeeded in getting away by vaulting a fence and running along the other side of it until he was out of range when he bolted across the field and into the timber.

Mr. Ramp hitched up his horse and came on to Salem with the boy, who on the way hitched jumped from the buggy and made a futile attempt to escape, and turned him over to the authorities.

Deputy District Attorney J. H. McNary, after making diligent investigation of the case decided that there was not evidence sufficient to convict the boy of burglary or even of the attempt and, not wishing to prosecute one so young for a trespass, after giving the young man a good scare and securing a tearful promise to return to his home and lead a different life in the future, turned him loose.

The boy, who claimed he was only 16 years of age, said his name was Frank F. Hoskins and that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hoskins, and three sisters and one brother, resided in Oregon City, where he recently quit a job in the per mills and left his home because his per mills were angry with him for giving them a tearful promise to return to his home and lead a different life in the future, turned him loose. The boy described his partner, which tallied in the main to that given by Mr. Ramp, as being about 45 years of age, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches tall, weight about 160 pounds, sandy complexion with a light brown mustache, and pretty well dressed. The youthful tramp was pretty thoroughly frightened at the mention of a

A VALUABLE INVENTION

"BREEZE" GIBSON'S FERTILE BRAIN HAS PROVIDED AN IMPORTANT ARTICLE.

Besides being a good road supervisor of the Polk county district in the hills just west of Salem, Albert B. Gibson ("Breeze") Gibson is an inventor. His friends have not suspected it, but it is a fact.

And he has invented something that is bound to be useful, and may make him a fortune. It is a simple thing, but all things are simple after you know all about them. And what more "Breeze" has had his invention patented, and it is protected for seventeen years by the laws of the United States.

The invention is a washer or bushing adapted to be applied on shafting of machinery between the bores and the shoulder, for taking up the wear between the parts of machinery, without the necessity of removing the parts.

The washer or bushing is in two parts, the one slipping into the other. The removable section or key is as large as the shafting onto which the bushing is to go. You put the larger piece of the washer over the shafting, slip in the key, give it a couple of knocks with a hammer—and there you are, as fast and solid as if it were only one piece instead of two. Simple? Of course. And it is a wonder some one did not think of it before. A wonder thousands of machinists and mechanics did not think of it. But this is so with nearly every invention. This is destined to have an important place wherever machinery is used, and if it is handled right it may be worth a great many thousands of dollars to our Polk county road supervisor, and the boys who have joked with "Breeze" in the past may have to look up to him in the future.

THE STRIKE IN CHICAGO

Railroad Managers and Their Men Cannot Agree

A FAMINE IS THREATENED

Because Food Stuffs Can Not Be Moved and Sold

TONS OF PERISHABLE MATTER LIE ROTTING BECAUSE OF THE STRIKE—GREAT NORTHERN BOILERMAKERS' RETURN TO WORK—ALL ARE REINSTATED.

CHICAGO, July 12.—The conference between the striking freight handlers and the managers of the railroads did not produce any definite result today. Numerous meetings of the teamsters will be held tomorrow, for the purpose of calling a strike in sympathy with the freight handlers, but the officials of the organization declare that no strike will be called as long as they can prevent it.

The freight handlers announce tonight that they will make an effort to call out the railroad switchmen by appealing to them not to handle cars of freight loaded by non-union men.

A food famine threatens Chicago because of the freight handlers' strike and those who are idle in sympathy with their movement.

South Water street will be unable to supply demands for food products on Monday unless the strike shall be brought to a close. Tons of perishable matter lie rotting on the railroad tracks and in the freight houses. The freight handlers will not touch it, the teamsters will not haul it, and the ice delivery drivers will not bring ice to save it from destruction.

One Strike Ends.

St. Paul, Minn., July 12.—Four hundred boiler-makers and helpers on the Great Northern Railway system, who went on a strike six weeks ago, will return to work Monday. Under the new schedule the men will receive an advance of 25 cents per day. The Company agrees to reinstate all the strikers in their old positions.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

The Salem Y. M. C. A. is doing excellent work, even in the vacation season. Last Saturday about fifty boys were in going to have a very successful year. It is worthy of Salem's pride.

The people over in Washington say Oregon can have Tracy to begin, because it will be easier to convict him over here. Evidently they have not heard the reports of the old derby rabbit pie, which started, "Just catch 'em rabbits."

Offers of 25 cents have been made for traps here in Salem, and an offer of 25 cents is reported from North Yalaha. This for the coming crop. The growers who contracted at 30 and 15 cents some months ago—and their names are almost legion—are kicking themselves most vigorously.

The President of a big insurance company once remarked concerning a defaulting agent of whom it was said he had no bad habits: "He had the worst possible habit; his expenditures exceeded his income." There was a lot of wisdom in the remark.

SLIGHT PROTECTION

Miss Newport—There is only one fault I have to find with this season's bathing dresses.
