The E.Clemens Herst Co., growers of and dealers in Pacific Coast hops, have issued a circular letter of advice as to the hop situation, and they take a rosy ment land he had fenced up, it is said view of the immediate future. A statement, showing the production of hops and the manufacture of beer every year them down. A. R. Greene, a special for ten years is given as follows: Year. American Pro- Beer Brew-

10 years. 2,408,000 273,000,000 Commenting on these statistics the letter says in part:

"The heavy crops for the years 1893, 1894 and 1895 were the result of greatly increased acreage in hops caused by the high prices that ruled in 1890. In the three years mentioned a vast surplus of hops was carried over and prices ruled much below the cost of produc- Board of Trustees of Willamtion, the result was that in the spring 1896 the hop acreage was plowed up to so large an extent as to make the annual production of hops, from and including 1896, less than the annual requirements. This short production was not felt within the past few months as the surplusses accumulated by the crops of '93, '94 and '95 have, with the crops grown since then, covered the requirements.

"At the present time, however, practically all of the surplus stock of new hops, old hops and hop extracts have been used up and when the 1902 hop crop is harvested there will be a clean up of old stock in America such as has not been known for twenty years. For the coming season, even should the crop sufficient for the ordinary requirements.

in the United States being about one hundred per cent higher than were the prices last fall. During the past ten years the Pa-hold on the English and even the German markets. Last season, notwitstanding the enormous crop in England, and the fact that American hops cost over fifty per cent more than English hops the exports from this country (over and above the imports to America,) were 65,000 bales, and of the 1992, Pacific Coast crop, heavy contracts for English brewers' account have already been made, and are being made as fast as the growers will sell at reasonable ing year, and all such communication figures.

"The English crop this year will run 1902 American hops will be much great- city, who will be glad to help all those much shorter than the 1901 crop, and er than for the 1901 crop. In making up the estimate for exports of 1902 crop we have taken the same amount as exported in 1901. Thus far contracts of 1902 erop for English account greatly exceed those for 1901 crop at same date last year, and the present demand is larger, but as the American shortage will curtail shipments abroad, the exports for 1902 cannot be safely estimat ed at this time. "If prices during the coming season run as high as the present prospects indicate, there is certain to be a wild rush to plant more hops, and in an-other few years when such new plant ing comes into bearing, brewers may expect a recurrence of overproduction and low prices, but until such time the hop growers expect to get fair pricefor their product.

"Of the 1902 Pacific Coast crop some-thing over two- thirds is already in the hands of dealers and brewers, and fu-ture prices will depend very much on the activity of buyers in taking over the remaining one-third, Nearly all growers have sold a part of their crop and they will naturally be more or less stubborn in holding on to the balance of their crops on an active and advancing market."

STOCKMEN IN EASTERN OREGON COMPELLED TO GIVE UP PUB-LIC LANDS.

JOHN DAY CITY, Or., July 11 .- Since the famous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States by which Jesse Carr, of Southern Oregon fame, was compelled to throw down fences around thousands of acres of Governall Eastern Oregon stockmen who have thus illegally put up wires around public range are to be compelled to throw Government agent, is now in Harney county inspecting the big stock ranches with the intention of rigidly enforcing the Supreme Court decision in the Carr case. The results of what Mr. Greene has found so far are not known. When Harney county is inspected, it is said, Grant is to follow, and that pos-sibly all the Eastern Oregon sections where big cattle ranches prevail are to be gone over. This feature exists in Harney and Malheur more than any other Eastern Oregon counties excepting Lake. Harney, with its immense area of 10,504 square miles has only 675,000 acres of deeded land.

The Defense.

The defendant's attorneys, John Carson and John B. Gearin, yesterday filed an additional affidavit in support of their motion for a suspension of the trial until the October term of court. The affidavit was that of Frank C. Ireland, a Pinkerton detective of Portland, and the substance in effect was ley's attorneys, to investigate all of the circumstances surrounding the killing A. Jette, at Champoeg, one of the state's witnesses, but that Jette refused to make a statement. Later he called upon John Shick, who was inclined to tell all that he knew of the matter, but the noon hour arrived before the comtime Jette saw Shick and persuaded him not to make any further staement, with which request Shick complied and refused to complete his statement.
