

STATE FAIR BOARD MEETS

Splendid Exposition to Be Held at Lone Oak Track

THE STOCK SHOW WILL BE THE BEST EVER SEEN IN OREGON, AND THE RACING WILL EXCEED ALL FORMER YEARS—EASTERN JUDGES OF STOCK.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The State Fair Board was busily engaged all of yesterday making arrangements for the big Fair of 1922, which promises to be the most successful exposition ever held in Oregon since the organization of the first State Fair Society forty-three years ago.

The Board yesterday made arrangements for extensive repairs at the grounds. The paddock for race horses will be enlarged, and many more stalls added to accommodate more horses that may be entered in the different events.

The Board yesterday made arrangements for extensive repairs at the grounds. The paddock for race horses will be enlarged, and many more stalls added to accommodate more horses that may be entered in the different events.

The Fair will this year have the best live stock exhibition ever seen in Oregon. All the prominent exhibitors showing the best grades of stock last year will be here again for the 1922 Fair, and with larger and better herds, while many new show herds will be here to add variety to this department of the Fair.

N. H. Gentry, of Sedalia, Missouri, a prominent breeder of fine cattle, and President of the Missouri State Board of Agriculture, will be here to judge the beef breeds. He is a gentleman thoroughly informed on the best grades of stock, a breeder of many years' successful experience, and his judgment will be satisfactory to all.

Prof. W. A. Carlisle, at the head of the Department of Agricultural Education at the Agricultural College, Madison, Wisconsin, has been secured to judge the dairy breeds, and his judgment on this class will stand without question. Two exhibits of fine draft horses from the East, some of the animals recently imported, will be here. They are the studs of Guibraith Brothers, of Janesville, Illinois, and Burgess Bros. & Gray, of Columbus, Ohio, both of which firms have written for stall-room for their horses.

Among the attractions at the Fair will be the Fourth Regiment Band, of Eugene. The Board is also negotiating with some very good attractions to come from the East. Among them is the famous Missouri giantess, who stands 8 feet 4 inches in her stocking feet, and it is said, has not quite attained her full growth. It is expected that all the boys will make "goo-goo" eyes at her.

Hon. J. W. Bailey has charge of the creamery department, and he is in Tillamook this week to secure a fine exhibit for this very interesting section of the Fair. Seven counties have agreed to put up fine county exhibits. Among them is Jackson county, and Mr. O'Brien, who will have charge of the county's exhibit, has $500 at his disposal, raised by the citizens of that county, to make a creditable showing. The present operations of the Harriman lines in advertising Oregon has stimulated the matter of exhibits for the Fair, and many will be brought here to be seen by prospective settlers.

The Southern Pacific Company again gives free transportation to exhibits of Oregon products to the Fair, in order to stimulate interest in that institution. The racing at the Fair Grounds, track this year, will be the best ever seen in Oregon. If the weather is favorable, high class horses are coming here, better than ever in the past, and the racing will be equal to the Grand Circuit events. A special effort will be made for the Salem Day program, when one purse for $2000 will be given in a harness event, and $1000 for a running race, the largest purses ever hung up for races in the Pacific Northwest.

The people all over the state are enthusiastic in the support of the Fair and promise a good attendance from nearly every county, as all have confidence in the permanence of the institution, and appreciate the value of the Fair as an advertising medium for the state.

AN ENJOYABLE OUTING

THE CONGREGATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL HAS A PICNIC IN ASYLUM GROVE.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The teachers of the different classes of the First Congregational Sunday school gave a picnic to the children yesterday afternoon and evening, in Savage's grove, about one-fourth of a mile west of the Asylum. The picnic party, composed of about fifty children and ten or fifteen grown people, went out to the grounds on two street cars about 2 o'clock yesterday.

action part, to the great delight of the children who demonstrated their appreciation of the outing upon every occasion. Substantial and delicious refreshments were served to the children during the afternoon to which ample justice was done, and the first car left the grounds for the city at 8:30 o'clock.

OIL WELLS OF OREGON LARGE SUMS HAVE BEEN EXPENDED AND PROSPECTING STILL GOES ON.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

About $40,000 has been expended in sinking for oil in Oregon thus far, says the Portland Telegram, and although no flowing wells have yet been struck the promoters are in good spirits over the prospects.

The Hirschberg well, near Mouthout, in Polk county, has given its owner considerable encouragement by its exhibit of a good quality of crude petroleum at a depth of 700 feet. At that depth it was decided to "ream out" the well to a diameter of 7 1/2 inches and put casing in to stop the flow of water from mixing with the oil, but the working party met with a common accident in the sinking of deep wells— the drill was dropped to the bottom and so delay is encountered in the endeavor to grapple and extract them.

In Malheur county progress has been slow in sinking, although indications are considered good. A depth of 800 feet had been attained near Vale, when sickness among the men and other incidental causes put a temporary stop to the work. Portland people are large stockholders in this enterprise and capital is not lacking to push the wells to a depth of 2500 feet or further if necessary.

H. V. Gates, of Hillsboro, is president of this organization. The Ashland well is down 1300 feet and operations have ceased from lack of capital. The indications of oil in the vicinity are considered good by experts who have examined the strata and surroundings.

At Newberg, Oliver Churchill, a well known fruit grower, has a well down 1000 feet, with oil shale and drippings of petroleum. This bore is nine inches in diameter, and has been cased for a depth of 490 feet to keep the water out. It is expected that this well has only been working three months and the showing is considered excellent.

Mr. Churchill is prepared to go 2500 feet if necessary in search of a good flow. The Troutdale well is down 420 feet, but operations have been suspended for some time owing to slow sale of stock. Experts agree that good indications prevail in that portion of Multnomah county. The appliances used in sinking this well are now at work at Newberg, and will not be brought back until the well in Yamhill county has been finished.

If crude oil is found in the Willamette valley in good quantity a revolution is expected in the fuel supply of Portland, and both wood, coal, and sawdust will have to take a back seat in the furnaces of the various manufacturing, locomotive and large buildings, according to D. M. Watson, an oil expert who was spoken to today on the subject. Mr. Watson has no doubt of the existence of large bodies of oil underlying Western Oregon, and he looks forward with confidence to all discoveries of considerable magnitude in the near future.

THE WEATHER AND CROPS

High Winds Did Damage to the Fruits and Grain

YIELDS OF THE CROPS WILL BE LESSEMED SOMEWHAT AS A RESULT OF LAST WEEK'S STORM—WILLAMETTE VALLEY FRUIT SUFFERS.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The crop and weather bulletin, issued by the Oregon section of the Weather Bureau, for the week ending Monday evening, July 21. Some damage is reported to grain and fruits, caused by the high wind last week. The general statement of the condition of crops, as given in the bulletin, is as follows: No rain has fallen, except a few showers early in the week in the Willamette valley and the coast counties. The week has averaged the warmest of the season, its first part was unseasonably cool, after which the temperature rose quite rapidly. The maximum, or day temperature in western Oregon ranged between 80 and 86 degrees, and the minimum, or night temperatures between 46 and 65 degrees. In eastern Oregon the maximum temperatures ranged between 70 and 100 degrees, and the minimum temperatures between 44 and 64 degrees.

One of the severest windstorms ever known at this season of the year swept across the entire state on the afternoon and night of the 14th. Ripe grain, fruit, hops and cut hay were badly damaged by the wind in many sections. Barley being farthest along, suffered the most, and the yields will be considerably lessened from this cause. The damage to wheat was not so great, owing to the fact that much of it was too green to be badly shattered, although the green wheat was knocked down, the heads whipped off and the straw broken in numerous exposed places in different parts of the state.

Fruit also suffered quite extensively; many apples were blown off the trees and even the trees themselves were in some cases blown down. The damage to fruit was greatest in the Willamette valley and the coast counties. The laterals to the hop vines were torn away and in the more-exposed yards the poles were blown down. In the case of cut hay, the stacks were blown down and the loose hay was scattered over the fields. Most of it was later recovered in fairly good condition and the damage to the hay crop by the windstorm did not amount to much.

The hot weather during the last few days of the week dried up pastures and feed on the foothills is fast becoming poor. Stock, however, continues in good condition and the flow of milk in the dairy districts has not shrunk more than usual at this season of the year. Haying is nearly finished, and some have begun cutting their second crop of alfalfa. The hay crop is an average one and it has generally been secured in good condition.

The fall grain harvest has begun, and the cutting of grain will become general all over the state by the first of next week. Corn, potatoes, hops and gardens are growing nicely and the warm weather was just what these crops needed for rapid advancement.

COAST DISTRICT. Eckley, Curry County, Jos. Haines.

The weather during the past week has been fine for haying; all hay is cut and the bulk is under cover; the crop was a heavy one; the first cutting was damaged some by rain. Corn and all late crops are making fine growth.

WILLAMETTE VALLEY. Springfield, Lane County, J. C. Brattain.—Friday and Saturday were quite warm, but I do not think any damage resulted; hay is mostly housed, except late grain, which is not cut yet; hops are growing finely at present; corn is making a good growth; fall wheat generally will soon be ready for the binder. Liberal, Clackamas County, Silas Wright.—Some fall wheat is in the field; haying is in active progress; oats fair; fall oats good; some fields have been cut; grass is drying up fast; apples continue to fall badly; the orchards that were sprayed seem to be in the worst condition.

IN CIRCUIT COURT THE HARDING CASE SUBMITTED AND TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT YESTERDAY.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The suit between Erma Harding, an infant, by her guardian, ad litem, Agnes Harding, plaintiff, and Charles and Hester Harding, defendants, a suit to enforce a contract, which was continued over from Monday, was resumed yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. The testimony completed, argued and submitted and taken under advisement by the court until 2 o'clock p. m., Thursday, July 24. This is a very interesting suit, having been before the courts for several years and has been tried for the third time and has been hotly contested upon each occasion.

The plaintiff, by the guardian ad litem, Elisha J. Harding and Lars Harding, the father of the plaintiff, during the month of August, 1913, entered into an agreement, whereby the latter, for a consideration of $15,000, which amount was to be paid from time to time, as the latter was able, without interest or any specific time being fixed for the payment, was to come into possession of certain lands in sections 5, 6, 7, 8, 17 and 18, township 5 south, range 2 west and that soon after the agreement was entered into Lars Harding entered into full and exclusive possession of said lands. The complaint also states that Lars Harding made extensive and valuable improvements upon the property as follows: Planted 45 acres to hops and built hop houses to the value of $5,000; built a barn on that portion known as the Cornoyer claim, valued at $500; and built fences upon the claim costing about $1,000. Plaintiff alleges that Lars Harding had paid to Elisha Harding $14,000 of the price agreed upon, leaving a balance due of $1,000.

Lars Harding died intestate, on June 23, 1918, leaving three children, including the plaintiff, aged 7 years; that on December 2, 1922, the plaintiff tendered to Elisha J. Harding the full sum of $1,000, balance due upon the property, but the latter refused to accept or receive the payment and to convey the property according to the agreement; that on June 25, 1924, Elisha Harding conveyed to the heirs of Lars Harding that portion of the land in sections 5, 6, 7 and 8, but refused to convey that portion known as the Cornoyer d. l. c. in sections 7, 8, 17 and 18 and took possession of the latter lands himself. That Elisha Harding died on March 19, 1927, and by will devised the Cornoyer claim lands to his wife and two daughters, who have since conveyed the same to Charles Harding the defendant, who has had possession of the land for the past four years, enjoying the profits arising therefrom, and beside asking for a one-third interest in the disputed lands, she also asks for an accounting with Charles Harding as to the rents, issues and profits by him received from the plaintiff's share in the premises; that the same be credited to the balance due upon the purchase price of the lands and that the surplus remaining due from said rents and profits be paid to the plaintiff.

The defendants, answering contended that, to their knowledge no such agreement had ever been made, as alleged by the plaintiff, and prayed for a dismissal and for their costs and disbursements. Gantenbein & Veazie appeared for the plaintiff in the action and R. and E. B. Williams for the defendants.

During the afternoon session the suit for a divorce between W. L. Hunsaker, plaintiff, and Mary Hunsaker, defendant, came up for hearing and was concluded. The defendant has contested the suit throughout and the trial created no little interest of a sensational nature in the court-room. The case was submitted and taken under advisement by the court until 2 o'clock p. m., today. L. H. McMahan appeared for the plaintiff and Holmes & Holmes for the defendant. Judge Boise granted a decree of divorce to Sarah Pheniger from Jacob Pheniger, upon default of the latter, and the charge of desertion. Upon the default of the defendant, Carolina Morton, a decree for the partition of a 40-acre tract of land was granted to Charles E. Steele, plaintiff, and the court appointed W. J. Culver, Charles Calvert and Fred Hurst as referees.

In the equity suit of W. J. Irwin, plaintiff, vs. Washington National Building & Loan & Investment Ass'n, defendant, the defendant's demurrer to the complaint was overruled and the defendant was given six days to serve and file his answer. The foreclosure suit of T. T. Geer, et al., plaintiffs, vs. Edwin Grim, et al., defendants, was settled and dismissed.

Another Place Robbed. Rifles and Ammunition Taken From a State Street Store.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The second hand store of J. J. Longcore, at No. 123 State street, was entered sometime Monday night or early yesterday morning and robbed of several articles valued, approximately, at about $25. Mr. Longcore, the proprietor, being a member of Company F, Fourth Regiment, U. S. G., was at Albany during the encampment, and his son, Jasper Longcore, who attended the store during his father's absence, opened the store about 7 o'clock yesterday morning, but did not notice anything out of the ordinary until his attention was attracted to an apartment in which the ammunition was kept, when he discovered that about 500 rounds of 22 short cartridges were missing. His suspicions were then aroused and he began to make a hurried inventory of the store's stock. He found that two single-shot rifles (22 calibre); one revolver (22 calibre); two pocket knives and one new razor were also missing.

It is not definitely known how an entrance was gained to the store as there was no evidence of force, but a window on the east side which is always left raised about eight inches, and can be opened no farther may have admitted a very small body. The officers were notified of the facts and have been working upon the case, but as yet no satisfactory results have been obtained.

TWO CASES ARGUED SUPREME COURT HEARS APPEALS FROM MARION AND YAMHILL COUNTIES.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

In the Supreme Court, yesterday, the case of Jos. W. LaPollette, respondent, vs. McKinley Mitchell, appellant, an appeal from Marion county, was argued and submitted by John Bayne and J. A. Jeffrey for respondent, and Ed. Mendenhall and L. K. Adams for appellant.

The case of Edgar Poppleton, respondent, vs. George W. Jones, et al., appellants, an appeal from Yamhill county was also argued and submitted by J. A. Cleland for respondent, and H. H. Hewitt and W. T. Vinton for the appellant.

GUARDSMEN ARE HOME COMPANY F RETURNED FROM ALBANY—THE BOYS ARE WEARY AND SORE.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Company F, Fourth Regiment, O. N. G., under command of Captain H. A. Kurtz, came home yesterday afternoon from the Albany encampment, on a special train which arrived in this city at 4 o'clock. The boys disembarked from the train at the passenger depot and marched to the city hall and a more weary, sunburned and dejected looking company one would have to travel far to see. Notwithstanding the suffering which they were compelled to endure in their poorly selected camp site with no protection from the scorching rays of the sun, the boys were uncompensating and appeared much benefited by the experience and outing.
