The preliminary hearing of the case against Roy and Clyde Ormsby and Barrett F. Purdy, jointly charged with the larceny of $3,890 from the home of Mrs. Isabelle Ewing, of Hubbard, began in Justice of the Peace E. D. Horgan's court at 10 a. m. yesterday. The case was vigorously contested by Deputy District Attorney J. H. McNary, who appeared for the state; L. J. Adams and John A. Carson, attorneys for the Ramsbys, and L. H. McMahan, attorney for Purdy, and the large and interested crowd in the court room, composed largely of the witnesses in the case, and the friends of the defendants, watched every movement with eagerness.

It was soon made manifest that some of the witnesses for the state did not know as much about the case as was reported by the detective working it up, or else they were generally struck with an attack of forgetfulness. The state introduced its testimony, and when it rested at 12:30 o'clock, an adjournment was taken to 7 p. m.

At that hour the taking of testimony was resumed, and the defense introduced some witnesses to show the good character and reputation of the three defendants.

At the conclusion of the testimony the case was argued and submitted and Justice of the Peace Horgan held the defendants to the State Circuit Court in $1,000 bail, each.

Frank Lamb, of Silverton, was the first witness for the state. He said Roy Ramsby told him last spring that he (Ramsby) and Purdy had taken the $3,800 reported stolen, and that Ramsby showed him the tin pall in which the gold was carried away. Later Ramsby said he expected to get into trouble over the money. On cross-examination witness acknowledged that he and Ramsby were under the influence of liquor when the conversation took Witness seemed to have poor recollection of the details of the con-

Arthur Chandler, of Silverton, told that Roy Ramsby asserted last September that he had been told by me buried money, and was asked to help in securing it. Ramsby asserted, however, that he did not Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lee of is the fact that there were more stuknow whether he would take part. Mrs. Ewing, whose money it is alleged, was taken, testified about her late husband's death. She told of the loss of her $3,800 in gold, which had been buried in the woodshed. She identified the tin pail recovered as her property, and the one in which the money was buried. She missed the money on November 6th, A portion of If had been buried there for a year. She did not know that Purdy had any knowledge of the buried money, though he frequently visited the house, and she did not know the two Ramsby boys.

O. A. Loe, who is farming the Dr. Davis farm near Silverton, told of the finding of the ball on the farm, and stated that the pail was not noticed much until the detective came and told the story of the theft and associated the tin pail with the stolen treasure.

Miss Maggie Coleman, formerly the sweetheart of Clyde Ramsby, detailed some of the statements made in her affidavit, published in the Statesman recently, but could not remember all the details.

At the evening session, the defense Introduced J. M. Brown, John Wolford, W. Foshay, & Haynes and Julius Fisher, all of Silverton, and G. W. Killen, of Handy, all of whom testified to the good character and reputation of the defendants.

At the conclusion of the testimony the matter was argued on a motion of the defense to dismiss the case. The court, after taking the matter under advisement for a short time, held the defendants to the Circuit Court in the sum of $1,000 each.

The court in giving the decision said "The court is not sitting as a trial in part:

court, but to ascertain whether or not a crime has been committed. I am satisfied that a crime has been committed, and that these young men know something about it, that it ought to be sifted down, and this can best be done by binding the defendants over." Young Purdy at once gave ball with G. W. Killen, James Rennie and the boy's father as sureties.

The two Ramsbys went to jail last trouble, deafness, general nervous denight, but will probably give ball today. Gibson is Held.

> Tillamook county will produce 1,500,-000 pounds of cheese this year, an increase over last year of 306,000 pounds, says the Portland Evening Telegram. "And the price this year," said Dairy and Food Commissioner Bailey, who has returned from there, "ranges from 11 cents to 11% cents, a better price and 11% cents and sell the product as rapidly as it can be produced. One reason for this is a better steamer ser-vice, as they now have steamers four or five times a week. The butter industry is increasing just as rapidly. The City Creamery at Tillamook City is adding new improvements to its but-uer factory, which will considerably increase its output, and the same is true of the Tillamook Dalry Association. "To illustrate to you the profit there is in the business, I may state that one man during the month of May received $117.25 from the product of 10 cows and another farmer during one mo received a check for $137.21 for the pro-duct of 14 cows. That is a record which shows there is money in the business All the feeding of the dairy herds is from pasturage. The county is one of the finest watered counties in the Union and not only water for the rich land is furnished, but natural water power for the butter and cheese manufactories. I found everything in firstclass shape. The pride of the Tilla mook dairymen is sufficient to keep them striving to make the very best product and make the most of their natural advantages." Mr. Bailey thought a railroad would greatly increase the product of Tillamook county.
