

ROOSEVELT IN VERMONT

He Traveled Through That State in a Tallyho

MADE MANY SPEECHES

At One Place He Was Greeted By Very Large Crowds

CAME TO ATTEND A COUNTY FAIR—HE WILL SPEND SUNDAY WITH SECRETARY SHAW AT THE LATTER'S SUMMER RESIDENCE—GREAT ENTHUSIASM.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Aug. 30.—Everywhere in Vermont today the President was received with enthusiasm. He crossed from New Hampshire into Vermont about noon, in a tallyho drawn by four horses.

Four stops and as many speeches were scheduled for today, but he yielded to the pressure and made eight stops and eight speeches.

Tonight, after paying a brief visit to the home of ex-Governor Woodbury, President Roosevelt, accompanied by Secretary Shaw, boarded a yacht for the Secretary's summer residence, where the President will remain until Monday morning.

THE SUMMER GIRL. Evil Lark in the Ambition to Be Attractive.

American women possess the secret of making themselves attractive, and at no season of the year does she make herself more attractive than in the summer.

Young women of the purest minds and the most lofty aspirations are attractive for a purpose.

There are those who will flounce, and toss their pretty heads, and indignantly protest, when it is stated that the purpose that actuates all young women to be attractive is to attract men to them.

It is right that it should be so. Every young girl would feel that she wants to be attractive, and feeling so, should be so.

Now there are many ways by which a young girl seeks to be attractive. If she be well formed and pretty she seeks "fetching" hats, gay colors, neat gowns.

And as to men—why, there is always some man to be attracted by every attractive girl or girl aiming to be attractive. It amounts to the same thing.

There is no season like the summer for this sort of thing.

Young men and young women at the mountain or seaside resort are removed from the influences of their surroundings as they are not at any other time of the year.

Danger lurks for young girls in the removal of restraint. And restraint is largely removed in the summer.

"Evil to him who evil thinks" reads the motto, and one who reads the fashions of these days as conducive to bad morals may have to sigh for the times when there is a girl—changes have taken place, which are noticeable and call for criticism.

TO THE OLD HOME If you are going home—to your childhood's home—this year, remember that the NORTHERN PACIFIC leads to everybody's home.

You can go by way of St. Paul to Chicago, or St. Louis, and thence reach the entire East and South. Or, you can go to Duluth, and from there use either the rail lines, or one of the superb Lake Steamers down the lakes to Detroit, Cleveland, Erie, and Buffalo—the Pan-American City.

Start right and you will probably arrive at your destination all right, and, to start right, use the Northern Pacific, and preferably the "NORTH COAST LIMITED" train, in service after MAY 5th.

Any local agent will name rates.

A. D. CHARLTON Assistant General Passenger Agent, PORTLAND, OREGON.

Young girls should bear in mind that when she attracts this man or that the possibility of a husband lies in the man so attracted. A man who is attracted by lightness of attire or lightness of manners is not one who possesses in himself the qualifications of a good husband.

It is a lamentable fact that at all the resorts there is one common observation. The drink habit.

Some years have brought forward the summer girl as a "mannish" type, or "horsey" type, or "athletic" type; but this year it is the "drinking" girl. OOF all types this is the very worst.

Young girls may well seek to be bright, and pretty, and vivacious, and they may earnestly endeavor to be "attractive," but they should shun the man as an enemy who asks them to "drink after the bath."

TWO DIVORCE SUITS FILED

Mrs. C. P. Nicholson Asks to Have Marriage Ties Dissolved

SHE CHARGES HER HUSBAND WITH HAVING TWO WIVES—MRS. LELA N. JOHNSON ALSO SUES HER HUSBAND FOR A DIVORCE.

Christina P. Nicholson yesterday began suit in the second department of the State Circuit Court to dissolve the marriage contract existing between her self and C. H. Nicholson.

The plaintiff alleges that she and the defendant were married in Portland, on February 16, 1898, and that they continued to live together until about March 8, 1902, when the plaintiff, on account of the misconduct of the defendant, was compelled to leave him for the reason that she could not continue to live with him and maintain her self respect and social standing in the community in which she lived.

She alleges and charges that the defendant, at the time of their marriage, falsely and with the intent to deceive the plaintiff, represented to her that he was a single man, but the plaintiff has since learned that the defendant had, prior to February 16, 1898, been married and that he is not now divorced from his former wife who, it is alleged, is at present an inhabitant of a house of ill-fame, in San Francisco.

The plaintiff alleges that this fact was first revealed to her by the defendant's mother, in Kent, Washington, about November 1, 1901, and, although the defendant denied the truth of the information at the time and until March 29, 1902, when he admitted to the plaintiff that he had a former wife living in San Francisco.

She alleges further that the defendant had publicly asserted that the plaintiff was not his legal wife, to the humiliation, mortification and disgrace of the plaintiff. She charges further that the defendant has been guilty of other personal indignities toward the plaintiff, in that he has openly and publicly, both before and after their separation, associated with women of ill-repute for chastity; that he was guilty of immoral and lascivious conduct with lewd women in Salem until through shame and disgrace, and out of self-respect the plaintiff went away from Salem and remained away until the defendant removed to Tacoma, Washington, where he now resides.

The defendant is now supposed to be in Tacoma, Washington, and will be remembered as the man who purchased the old Mills barber shop in this city and operated the same for a time last spring.

In the same court a second suit for a divorce was on yesterday, commenced by Mrs. Lela N. Johnson against Claud A. Johnson, the ground for divorce being simple desertion.

The parties involved in this suit are both well known in Salem, where it has been quite generally known that they have not lived together for more than a year last past, and the commencement of proceedings to make the separation permanent will not be a surprise to the friends of either of the families involved.

The complaint alleges that the parties were married July 25, 1899, and that they lived together until July 2, 1901.

Bonham & Martin, attorneys for plaintiffs in both cases, and are assisted in the second case by D. W. Tarpley, who is a brother of the plaintiff, Lela N. Johnson.
