Splendid Success of the Exposition Is Assured --The Races Yesterday Were the Best Ever Seen on Lone Oak Track--Banquet Last Night.

Public Wedding in the Pavilion Performed Last Evening--Today Is Salem Day, and Business Houses Will Close to Attend the Big Fair--An Excellent Racing Program for This Afternoon Promises to Draw an Immense Crowd to Lone Oak Track.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The second day of the State Fair, Press Day, was a complete success, and the Board is well pleased with the results attained. Yesterday's trains brought many Oregon newspaper men to Salem, and they enjoyed the day at the fair, admired the splendid exhibits in the various departments, and witnessed the races during the afternoon.

Last evening the Salem Press Club, after showing the visiting pencil pushers over the grounds during the day, entertained them at a banquet, thus rounding out the day's pleasures in a most enjoyable manner.

During the morning hours yesterday, the judges began their work in the various departments, and by last evening had completed a good portion of their duties. Today the work will be completed, and the blue ribbons awarded, and tomorrow forenoon the parade of the show stock will be a prominent feature of the forenoon's program.

The afternoon yesterday was, by the major portion of the crowd, enjoyed at the race track, where the best program in the history of the State Fair was enjoyed. It was a splendid racing card, good horses and a good track, resulting in contests the equal of which is seldom found, and several records were broken during the afternoon.

In the pavilion last night, a large crowd had assembled, and thoroughly enjoyed the musical program and the general entertainment. Prof. W. E. McElroy, and the Fourth Regiment Band, of Eugene, did themselves proud, and they received renewed praise for the excellence of their efforts. It is the best musical aggregation ever engaged at the Fair Grounds, and their splendid instrumentation has made the members of the band favorites from the start.

During the evening a public wedding was celebrated in the auditorium, and the building was jammed with an interested audience. The happy couple, Mr. Art M. Dunlap and Miss Mary B. Stanton were united for life, the impressive ceremony being performed by Rev. P. S. Knight, on the stage of the big assembly hall.

Following the program in the Pavilion, the Salem Press Club, visiting newspaper men, and a few invited guests and their ladies, repaired to the banquet hall in the Catholic Restaurant, where an elegant banquet had been prepared. The spread was enjoyed to the full by the company and when the viands had been discussed, Hon. E. Hofer, with a few brief remarks, called upon Hon. Frank Davey to act as toastmaster. Mr. Davey filled the position to the satisfaction of all. He complimented the State Fair Board upon the success attained in this Fair, and called attention to the elaborateness of the exposition and the good results to the state. He then called upon Congressman Thos. H. Tongue, and that gentleman responded in a graceful address, calling attention to the power of the press for good, and winding up with the statement that President Roosevelt, in his efforts for the good of the country, had the united support of the American press.

Others responding to toasts were: President W. H. Wehrung, Hon. A. M. LaFollett, Hon. H. M. Williamson, Hon. E. Hofer, Hon. N. H. Looney and Hon. A. Noltinger.

It was at a late hour when the banquet arose from the table, and returned to the city, and all expressed themselves as highly gratified with the evening's pleasures. Among the guests were several Portland newspaper men, members of the Portland Press Club.

Old Society.
The old Oregon State Agricultural Society elected officers last night as follows: John G. Wright, president; John G. Wilson, vice president; Jefferson Myers, secretary; A. Bush, treasurer. At this meeting the members expressed their warmest feelings for the great success of the new board and the present State Fair. The meeting adjourned to tonight.

E. A. Hinkle, Roseburg, Or., 11 head Red Polls.

C. D. Nairn, Ballston, Or., has a fine display of Scotch Collies. At 10 a. m. today he will give an exhibition in handling sheep with a Collie.

(From Thursday's Daily.)
The State Fair yesterday was the best and most successful day ever had on the grounds since the old State Agricultural Society was organized away back in 1850, and there were probably more people on the ground than ever before in one day. The grounds were crowded; so was the Pavilion; and so was the grand stand at the race track, as well as every other department of the Blue Ribbon State Fair.

The judging of all cattle, horses, sheep and other live stock was practically completed, and the result was generally very satisfactory.

During the afternoon the race track was the attraction, and the events pulled off there were the best ever seen on the Lone Oak track, and were witnessed by the largest crowd ever assembled there. The crowd at the track was estimated at 12,000 people. It was the finest looking and most enthusiastic grand stand ever seen in Salem, and the Board was delighted with the day's attendance at the track.

Last evening the usual excellent musical program was rendered. The Fourth Regiment Band did itself proud and was an honor and a credit to Prof. W. E. McElroy, the director, their instrumentation delighting a large crowd. Mrs. Hallie Parrish Hinges was heard in two of her best numbers, and as always the case she was compelled to respond to encore after encore, and as a result of her singing is a great delight to the evening audiences, and the auditorium is always filled when she appears.

The ticket office at the railroad gate yesterday received $2144, for admission tickets, as against $1166 last year. It was the largest sum taken in at the railroad gate in one day in twelve years.

Portland Day Today.
Today is Portland Day, and it promises to be a rival for Salem Day. The attractions at the Fair are as good as those of yesterday, and the attendance will be equally as good. The Portland commercial bodies have issued a striking appeal to their people to attend the State Fair today, and they expect to bring a large crowd. The following circular has been issued by the Portland commercial bodies and the result will be seen at the Fair Grounds today and tonight:

Thursday, September 13, 1902, will be Portland Day at the State Fair, Salem, Oregon. The Fair management has arranged a special program of unusual interest and has asked the Chamber of Commerce, the Manufacturers' Association and the Board of Trade to co-operate to make Portland Day the greatest day of the Fair. The Southern Pacific Company is doing its part as shown in the following letter, dated September 5, 1902, which we have received from Mr. W. E. Coman, General Freight and Passenger Agent:

"I beg to call attention to the unusually low rate we will make this year from Portland to the State Fair, on Portland Day, Thursday, the 13th inst., $1.50 for the round trip, including admission to the grounds. We have taken this action, not so much with view of securing increased revenue, as it will very likely result in increasing the business to this one day--but instead to induce the Portland people to visit the Fair and see what our great State can produce; also to bring our city in closer touch, if possible, with the interior sections.

I think the Portland business men should take advantage of this to spend a day at the Fair, which I am sure could be done with pleasure and much profit. I simply write you this with the thought that you may consider it the advisable to bring the matter to the attention of the business men and your members in some special manner. Should you decide to do so, such action will be appreciated. Our special train will leave Portland about 8 a. m., and returning leave Salem about 6 p. m. Yours very truly, W. E. COMAN.

"We respectfully urge upon the business men of Portland that they take a day off on Thursday, September 13th, to visit the State Fair, and as Mr. Coman says, see what our great state can produce, and bring our city in closer touch, if possible, with the interior sections. Just now when there is a disposition throughout Oregon to work to position throughout Oregon to work together, the merchants of Portland should be in close touch with the people of every section of the state. If you can attend the State Fair on Portland Day sign the inclosed postal card and mail it to the address given. Be at the Union Depot promptly on time September 13th, at 8 a. m., and get a badge advertising the Lewis and Clark Centennial and wear it all day. There will be 1500 badges to give out. This letter was signed by the following:

The Lewis and Clark Centennial and American Pacific Exposition and Oriental Fair, H. W. Corbett, President; Henry E. Reed, Secretary. The Portland Chamber of Commerce, S. M. Mears, President; Lewis Russell, Secretary. The Manufacturers' Association, W. H. Morrow, President; C. H. McInnis, Secretary. The Portland Board of Trade, F. E. Beach, President; J. M. Moore, Secretary.

The Portland train will arrive about 10:20, and will not start back to Portland until 6 p. m., thus giving the visitors the entire day at the Fair. A telegram from General Freight Agent Coman, received by Mr. Wisdom last night, stated that by 4 o'clock yesterday enough tickets had been sold to fill the train for Salem, and sales were stopped. It is expected that 1500 to 1600 people will come up.

Portland Day at the State Fair, yesterday, broke all records for attendance at that institution, and a new mark was set for attendance at Oregon's Blue Ribbon State Fair. From every section of the state people were at the Fair Grounds, yesterday, and none there were but enjoyed the day, the exhibits, the sports, and especially the racing program, during the afternoon. They came from the cities, the towns, the farms and the woods, and there was represented every business, profession, trade and avocation known to the people of Oregon.

Salem people attended the Fair in as large crowds as on the preceding day--Salem Day--and they were reinforced by crowds from the surrounding towns and country. The attendance was estimated at from 17,000 and 20,000, and fully 14,000 of these witnessed the splendid racing program at Lone Oak track.

During the forenoon yesterday, two special trains of 13 coaches each came up from Portland, carrying a delegation of nearly 2000 people to the Fair, and these, with a delegation of about 4000 arriving on the regular train from the north at 11 a. m., helped to swell the attendance on Portland Day. The Portland contingent consisted principally of business men, and they took in everything on the Fair Grounds, enjoying the sights to the full. The Portland excursionists left for home at the conclusion of the racing program at 6 p. m.

During the forenoon the fine stock was paraded, and the sight of 300 head of blooded cattle, together with the fine exhibition of horses, was one never to be forgotten. At 1:30 p. m. the racing program drew one of the largest crowds to the Fair to the Lone Oak track ever seen there. Before the first race was called the grand stand was jammed to the last seat, and thousands of people stood along the fences in front of the grand stand. The racing program was fully up to the preceding day's sport on the track, and may well be classed as one of the best ever seen in Oregon.

During the afternoon the announcement was made that the races would commence at Irvington Park, Oregon, next Tuesday afternoon, and continue for the rest of the week.

During the evening the Fourth Regiment Band, of Eugene, again delighted a large crowd with its splendid music, and this was added to by the splendid vocalization of Mrs. Hallie Parrish Hinges, who again delighted the audience with her music, and, as usual before an Oregon audience, the Oregon Nightingale was compelled to respond to encore. Little Master Tommy Dobson, the sweet soprano singer, of Portland, also rendered a selection, and his appearance was greeted with manifestations of approval that were delightful.

A refreshing rain, the first in many weeks, fell last night, clearing the air of the smoke and other impurities, and settling the dust. This will be appreciated at the State Fair, where the dust on the race track will be settled and the track improved.

SCIENTIFIC OPINION

Every once in a while some newspaper reporter interviews a few "specialists," as to what the future has in store for us, with especial reference to what his far distant future will produce in the way of an improved man and his habits. Some of these interviews are very interesting and informing, especially when a real man of science is induced to talk, which is not very often. Recently Prof. W. J. McGee, of the United States bureau of ethnology, was induced to talk, and this is what he said man was progressing towards:

"In the first place every man will be white. His average height and weight will be decidedly greater. His head will be larger, absolutely and relatively. His hands, and brain will be better co-ordinated, and, therefore, he will be a better mechanic. His vision will be stronger; his sense of smell more acute, and his hearing and sense of taste more delicate. On the whole, the man of the future will be stronger in relation to stature and weight. He will live under a universal republican government, but it is doubtful whether any one administrative head will be required. Disputes between individuals, corporations or states will be settled by courts of various magnitudes. There will be a universal language--a composite of all present tongues, but like the English a language of vocabularies and syntax written and spoken language will be more similar. Phonetic spelling will effect great economies in both printing and writing. The typewriter will be universal use, because quicker and better for the eyes than the old methods.

"Fish will be relatively more important as food. Oceans and lakes will be the main source of food supply. Land will be almost entirely occupied for dwelling and for horticulture and intensive agriculture. Need of clothing will diminish. Control of the atmosphere will be met by other than our present retail methods. There will be no serious exposure to cold. In winter men will travel in well heated vehicles carrying them from one warm building to another. Ozone will be sold at drug stores and will be applied to kill bacilli as soon as they appear. The earth will be an endless succession of suburbs. Cities will meanwhile grow less and less dense. The street block or row will be no more. The home will be more individual, each family occupying a separate house to suit its peculiar taste.

"Transportation will be chiefly electric and will be much more rapid as a result of straightening and multiplication of tracks. Aerial navigation will not be a factor in warfare, because there will be no warfare. Submarine navigation will be valuable only as a means of escape from storms. Vessels will be equipped with means of diving and remaining below the surface until storms blow over. Perfection of telegraphy will decrease mail business. Money will remain a medium of exchange, but financial transactions will be made mostly by negotiable paper, for which individuals will be more responsible than governments."

A Parson's Noble Act.

"I want all the world to know," writes Rev. C. J. Budlong, of Ashaway, R. I., "what a thoroughly good and reliable medicine I found in Electric Bitters. They cured me of jaundice and liver troubles that had caused me great suffering for many years. For a genuine, all-around cure they excel any other medicine I ever saw." Electric Bitters are sold by Dr. Stone's Drug Stores.

GOMPERS IS HOPEFUL

HE FEELS SURE THE GREAT STRIKE WILL TERMINATE IN AN AGREEMENT.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 17.--President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement issued today, takes a hopeful view of the strike situation. The statement, follows:

"At this time it is impossible to say exactly when the strike will terminate, but after careful inquiry into the situation at the mines I am convinced that the struggle will end by agreement. The wage-earners and the general public are generously contributing to the aid of the miners. It is essential that this aid be extended and continued. If the manhood of the miners is to be maintained they must at least have bread for their wives and little ones, as well as for themselves.

"The declared attitude of the presidents of the anthracite railroads has not apparently changed. Despite this fact, I am fully convinced that the strike will end through agreement, with improved interest for the miners and the union maintained.

"SAMUEL GOMPERS, President of the American Federation of Labor."

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 17.--The exodus of anthracite miners continues from the Schuylkill region, because the miners have given up hope of an early settlement. It is estimated that 2000 miners have gone to the Irwin, Madison, Latrobe and Greensburg bituminous fields, and upwards of 7000 are said to have secured employment in the Pittsburgh district.

AUSTRALIA'S TROUBLES.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 17.--Following the dissolution of the Victorian Parliament yesterday, in consequence of an adverse vote recently on the Government's schemes for retrenchment, the Premier, W. H. Irvine, has issued a manifesto to the electors, appealing to them to prevent their own servants from paralyzing the administration. He said that in order to avoid a serious deficit, the Government decided on a graduated reduction of the salaries of public servants, and that thereupon the mass of the state employees became rebellious, as a strike on the state railroads was openly organized, and in consequence of the pressure brought to bear on them by the malcontents the assemblymen voted against the Government.

TRYING INSANITY DODGE

MURDERER GIBSON, IN JAIL AT GRANT'S PASS, THROWS FITS TO DISCOMFORT OF HIS NEIGHBORS.

GRANT'S PASS, Sept. 17.--Jefferson Davis Gilbert, the man who was sentenced by Judge Hanna to hang on September 19, but whose case has been appealed to the Supreme Court, is going insane, or at least his actions would indicate such. He has frequent and violent "fits" of late, raving and wailing and shouting in a way that makes it most unpleasant for the residents in the vicinity of the jail. He eats but little and has grown as thin, and pale as a ghost. Many express an opinion that a good share of his "fits" are not genuine, and that he is attempting to work the "insanity dodge," in which many men in similar conditions indulge.
