THE WEATHER

Oregon Section of the Agricultural Department Issues a Bulletin

FOR THE WEEK ENDING LAST for his home, but soon returned again PORTED TO BE EXCELLENT-PRUNE DRYING HAS BEEN STARTED.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The weekly crop and weather bulletin of the Weather Bureau, Oregon Section of the Agricultural Department for the week ending last Monday evening, has been issued, and according to it, conditions are very satisfactory. The general summary of the conditions in the state is as follows:

The past week was much cooler than the previous one, and not nearly as smoky. The night temperatures were especially cool, and frosts occurred on several mornings, which did some slight damage to gardens and corn on low

One good rain fell, which wet the ground to the depth of about an inch. More rain is still needed for pastures and crops, but that which fell was helpful in clearing the atmosphere of smoke, and in starting a new growth of grass. It came too late to do much good to potatoes, but some improvement in this crop has been noted, and with more rain soon better yields than now expected will be sure to occur.

Threshing is still going on in a few localities, but the bulk of the wheat crop is threshed, and the farmers are rapidly delivering it to the warehouses and mills. Hop picking is nearly finished; the rains did no injury to the crop, but the smoky conditions prevailing during its harvest prevented the color of the cured burr from being as bright as usual; the quality is excellent.

Prune drying is well started, and the crop is light. Potato digging and the harvesting of corn have also commenced. The corn crop is good, but the potatoes are smaller than usual. Pasturage continues short, notwithstanding the rains. Cattle in many sections are losing flesh, and the flow of milk in the dairy districts is less than usual at this season of the year.

Peaches are still being marketed in Southern Oregon, and the crop around Ashland has turned out to be one of the best ever raised. Apples continue to promise well, especially in the Hood river district.

Coast District.

Knappa, Clatsop County, W. H. Radcliffe.-First part of week cloudy and smoky; light frost Tuesday morning, no damage; heavy rain Thursday, which will benefit pastures; potatoes are turning out fair; turnips and carrots need more rain; sweet corn is about gone, yield light.

Walport, Lincoln County, David Ruble.-Friday morning we had the first rain since the 14th of July; nearly half an inch fell, but the ground was so dry it will do but little good. Pofato crop light, but of good quality. Fruit crop lightest in years.

Myrtle Point, Coos County, L. Strong. -Heavy showers on the 19th; first rain that has fallen since early in July. Harvesting about completed; some threshing done, yield light; corn late and not very good. But little fruit being marketed. Milk supply short.

Willamette Valley. Fishhawk, Columbia County, E. E. Hogberg .- Weather dry and smoky: crops all secured; fruit ripening fast; slight frost Wednesday and Thursday mornings; hop picking in progress, quality fine.

Jefferson, Marion County, E. S. Longacre.-The nights have been cooler this week, and the rain Thursday night laid the dust, and all Nature seems to put on new life, -Hops are a light yield, but the quality is very fine.

Albany, Linn County, J. W. Propst .-Week smoky and foggy: rain Thursday night. Prune drying has commenced. No fall seeding done yet. Grapes are late in getting ripe. Alpha, Lane County, C. A. Potterf .-

Grasshoppers are taking what little green pasture is left. Dryest here and worst smoke from forest firest in 20 years. Smoke so dense last week it was hard to breathe. Prunes will be ripe in a week. Potatoes will fall below average, Corn looks well. Cabbage worms are numerous.

Dayton, Yamhill County, J. M. Crawford.-Threshing completed. Hop picking well along: the yield is fair and quality good. Prune drying has commenced in the Dundee orchards. Pastures are badly in need of rain.

THE WOODBURN SHOOTING

G. U. M'GUIRE HELD FOR AS-SAULT WITH INTENT TO TO KILL

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

G. U. McGuire, who, during a row with his brother-in-law at Woodburn, on Sunday evening last, drew a revolver and shot his nephew Lewis Prevost, through the left shoulder and was held to answer to the charge of assault with intent to kill, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace H. Overton, of Woodburn, yesterday afternoon, and was bound over to the Circuit Court in the sum of $500 which bonds were secured and he was Deputy District Attorney Charles L. AND CROPS MeNary, who conducted the prosecution on the part of the state, returned on the local last evening and stated that the young man who was shot testifled in substance that there had been trouble between the two families for some time past and that McGuire called at their (Prevost's) house on Sunday afternoon and renewed the quarrel, that McGuire became abusive to Mrs. Prevost and that he, Lewis, interceded in her behalf. McGuire then departed MONDAY-THE HOP CROP IS RE. and the trouble began anew. McGuire he stated, made a motion as if to draw a weapon and he (Lewis) as a selfprotective move, made a lunge forward to grapple with McGuire when the latquickly drew his revolver and fired, the bullet, entering a little to the back of the left shoulder and ranging downward, lodged in the muscles of the back where it is still embedded.

McGuire contends that, when the affray took place, he was carrying his infant child in his arms and that Prevost attempted to strike him when he fired the shot in defense of himself and of his child. Grant Corby, of Woodburn, has been retained as the defendant's counsel.

The young man, Prevost, it is understood, is in a precarious condition and the physicians fear that blood poison may yet set in and cause the young man's death.

SECRETARY HAY'S NOTE

HAS CREATED SOME COMMENT IN EUROPEAN DIPLOMATIC CIRCLES-A JOINT NOTE.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

LONDON, Sept. 23 .- "Nothing that will be of any permanent good can result from Secretary Hay's note to the powers on Roumania's treatment of Jews unless somebody is willing to crush Roumania, and no power seems anxious to take that task.

"The foregoing quotation is from the utterances of an experienced British official on the subject of the negotiations between America and Europe and represents it with a terse, straightforwardness which is not likely to figure in the diplomatic replies which Mr. Hay's note will eventually produce.

The Associated Press is able to say that England's backing up of the United States in Roumanian matters has only produced evidence that the signatories of the Berlin treaty absolutely refuse to take other than merely sentimental action towards alleviating the persecution of the Jews. A joint note may be sent to Rouma nia, asking that country to give more humane treatment to the Jews. But if this is done, it will be more in a spirit of acquiescence with the humane sentiments expressed in Mr. Hay's appeal than to any belief that good will be accomplished. A foreign official said:

"Roumania will have no difficulty in ascertaining that such a joint note is not supported by the only thing she is afraid of, namely, superior armies. Her reply might be either evasive or semidefiant, according to the degree of support she receives from the other European powers. Academically, or as an international precedent, such a joint note might be of some use, but beyond focusing public attention upon Roumania's treatment of Jews and thereby creating certain temporary alleviation, I fear that its practical effect may be

nil. However, we can only try. "In the event of the other European powers refusing to take joint action Great Britain is quite likely to take any independent course. The British note commits her to nothing except for friendly interest in Mr. Hay's suggestion and a desire to elicit the opinion of the other signatories."

At the United States Embassy hopeful feeling prevails that something more than mere exchanges of condolences over inhumanity may result from the United States' ples for the Roumanian Jews.

THE GOVERNOR

J. H. Settlemier, of Woodburn and G. A. Westgate, of Albany

J. H. Settlemier, of Woodburn, for a term of four years from March 14, 1902, to succeed himself. Mr. Settlemier has been a member of the Board since the reorganization in 1899, and has made an excellent record, and his reappointment is a just recognition of his excellent service on the Board.

G. A. Westgate, of Albany, to succeed George L. Rees, who resigned about fifteen months ago. Mr. Westgate's term will expire on March 14, 1905.

Governor Geer also appointed Prof. Albert R. Sweetser, a member of the Faculty of the State University, to the position of State Biologist. Prof. Sweetser holds the chair of Biology in the State University, at Eugene. The position of State Biologist carries salary with it, and it is what might be termed an honorary office.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT

CLAIM OF BROWN & WRIGHTMAN UP FOR HEARINF BEFORE JUDGE BOISE.

(From Wednesday's Daily.) In the second department of the State Circuit Court yesterday the claim of Brown & Wrightman, in the Ford vs. Gilbert case, for the sum of $6,500 attorney's fees, came on for hearing, but upon motion of the claimants the hearing of the claim was postponed until Friday, September 26th, in order that the depositions of Attorneys L. R. Webster and C. H. Carey, of Portland, may be secured as expert witnesses as to the reasonableness of the claim.

The defendant's demurrer in the case of Mary F. Gibson vs. Thomas Gibson a suit for an accounting and for an injunction, to the plaintiff's amended complaint was argued and overruled. Nettie Alfreda Parker yesterday began suit in the second department of the State Circuit Court to obtain a decree of divorce from her husband, Ed F. Parker, on the grounds of desertion, and for the privilege of resuming her ber 20, 1898, and that the defendant deserted her on February 19, 1900. Carson & Adams are the plaintiff's attorneys in the suit.

HARVESTING PRUNE CROP

SOME NEW FRUIT IS BEING DE-LIVERED AT THE LOCAL WAREHOUSES.

'(From Wednesday's Daily.) The prune harvest is well under way all over the Willamette valley this week and the growers are right in the midst of their busiest season and in their element. While in most localities the French prune is being harvested exclusively yet there are other districts where the Italians have also arrived at their maturity and are being gathered and cured with the French variety.

Some new fruit is being delivered at the different warehouses in the city aiready, but it is all in an ungraded condition and not in sufficient quantities to form any idea as to the ultimate yield and beside, the first fruit harvested is usually much lighter in weight matter of the vacation of a county than that which is cured later in the

The Willamette Valley Prune Association has adopted a new brand of prunes for this season the quality of the fruit under which brand will be equal to that of the now famous 'Pheasant Brand" and has been adopted expressly for the benefit of certain customers. The new brand will be known as the "Hunter Brand" and a very beautiful and appropriate label has been designed for it.

The principal feature of the design is a reproduction in oil of a photograph of Mr. Gile's thoroughbred Irish-Setter dog, bearing a splendid specimen of the Chinese Pheasant cock in his mouth the brilliant and vari-colored plumage of which has been produced by the artist exactly true to nature. BURKHART AGAIN JAILED

WAS ARRESTED FOR STEALING ANOTHER BICYCLE-SENT UP FOR THREE MONTHS.

(From Wednesday's Daily.) L. Burkhart, the fellow who recently Legal Blanks, Statesman Job Office. served a term of 30 days in jail for oath as executor, stealing a bicycle in this city, and who has not long been out of the jail, was again up before City Recorder N. J. Judah yesterday, and the charge was similar to the one on which he was sent to prison before; in short, it was the stealing of a bicycle from C. W. Knox. Burkhart, who this time gave the name of L. Maitland, stole Mr. Knox's wheel on Sunday afternoon from in front of the store of Knox & Murphy. The owner hunted for his wheel Sunday and Monday, and being unable to find it, gave up the search and on Monday afternoon went into the store of R. M. Wade & Co. to purchase a new one. While he was talking with one of the salesmen, that gentleman made the remark, pointing to the wheel in the hands of a drunken man on the sidewalk in front of the store, "That looks like your wheel." It was Mr. Knox's wheel, in the hands of Burkhart, who was too drunk to get away, and the man and bicycle were promptly secured, within fifty feet of where the wheel was stolen. Burkhart, or as he two members of the State Board of calls himself now, Maitland, was at once turned over to the authorities, and he yesterday apeared before Judge N. J. Judah, plead guilty, and was sentenced to three months in the county jail. By the time his term expires, the wheels will be put away for the winter, and the lover of other people's bicycles will have to steal something besides wheels.

George Judy, of Hood River, also appeared before the court, plead guilty to a plain drunk, and paid $5 for the privilege.

ADVERSE REPORT FILED

VIEWERS OF A ROAD IN WALDO HILLS OPPOSED TO VACATING THE HIGHWAY.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Alex Thompson, W. W. Culver and J. E. This road has been the bone of contention among some of the residents of that neighborhood for two or three years, and the difference has been carried through all of the courts once and is fairly on the way again. It seems that when the Waldo Hills Fruit Farms were laid out this road was established and it also appears that this road is the only means of ingress and egress to a Mr. Spencer's farm, which is situated at the east end of the road.

The road also runs through the premises of one V. C. Peterson, and on that account it appears that this gentleman desires to have it abandoned.

At any rate Spencer brought suit against Peterson In the Circuit Court, charging him with the obstruction of upon it, and asked the court for damages. The case was tried before a jury and Spencer obtained a verdict for the verdict of the lower court was affirmed.

Now, the matter comes up again in the form of a petition to the county court, for the vacation of the road with a long list of signatures headed by that of J. B. Waldo, and a remon strance to this petition was argued by the attorneys on both sides of the cas at the last term of court at which time, while the court overruled the remon strance, no action was taken except to appoint the above viewers with tustructions to investigate and report The matter will probably be decided. so far as the county court is concerned. dwing the October term of court, which convenes on Wednesday the first.
