TWO ILLICIT DEALERS IN WHIS-KEY, IN CURRY COUNTY, CON-VICTED AND A PORTION OF THE PENALTY SET ASIDE - THE JUDGE'S RECOMMENDATION.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

Gov. T. T. Geer yesterday granted a remission of fines in the cases of two out a license in Curry county. The men were Charles Wooley and Andrew. Olsen, and both pleaded guilty in the Circuit Court, before J. W. Hamilton, and were convicted to pay $200 fine each. The Governor remitted one-half the fine of each man upon the petition of a number of citizens of Curry county, and the urgent recommendation of Judge J. W. Hamilton, who sentenced the two men. Judge Hamilton, in his letter, says:

"At the last term of Court, August term, held by me in Curry county, two persons pleaded guilty to selling spirituous liquors without license therefor, namely, Charles Wooley and Andrew Olsen. I imposed a fine of $200 each. this being the lowest fine under the law, I have been informed that each has applied to Your Excellency to have a part of their fine remitted. I have examined into each case, as best I could and have talked with the District Attorney relative to the propriety of remitting a portion of the fines.

"I am of the opnion that the ends of justice will be subserved by remitting $100 of each of said fines, and would recommend that if your excellency deem proper such action be taken.

"I think, in the case of Wooley, he who were using him to make sale of tion: their liquors. He did not sell for a great length of time. He is poor and unable to pay the $200, and must be be said in mitigation. But it would not appear that there is any very strong reason for imposing the full penalty in his case. I take it that they business. I believe that it will not be a mistake to remit this much of their respective fines."

A NEW ADDING MACHINE

INSTALLED IN THE OFFICE OF THE COUNTY CLERK FOR USE THERE.

(From Saturday's Daily.) In County Clerk J. W. Roland's department a new machine has been installed which is known as the Arithmometer and is a most wonderful piece of mechanism. It is the latest Improved machine for the rapid addition of long columns of figures and it is absolutely accurate in the work which it has been constructed to perform. With add the most difficult column of figures and, as it is constructed with a combination typewriter, the whole column of figures is transcribed upon paper and the total placed at the bottom. The machine is capable of computing any sum up to 999,999,999, and when the total is struck, by merely pressing a lever, the total may be carried forward to the next page. One of these machines has been in use in the office of the Secretary of State for several months past and has been found to give the best of satisfaction and absolutely infallible in its work. It is only placed in the clerk's department on trial by the manufacturers but, as there is much need of a machine of this character in this department, in footing the totals on the assessment rolls it is quite likely that it will be purchased by the county court.

"NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS."

The Oregon Fire Relief Association has been a success ever since it began business in January, 1895, and is now growing faster than ever before. Its annual report of December 31, 1901, shows a net gain in amount of insurance in force of $2,628,787, which is 50 per cent more than the net gain of any previous year. It paid 135 losses during the year amounting to $23,600. It is strictly a mutual institution which furnishes the best of

THE FIRM OF KREBS BROS. HAS OPENED A SUITE OF OFFICES IN THIS CITY AND WILL DEAL IN HOPS HERE.

(From Saturday's Daily.) Conrad Krebs, of the firm of Krebs Bros., arrived in this city yesterday morning from an extended tour of the district during which he was engaged in taking in a number of early hop conbaling in all parts of the district, stating that nearly all of the growers were in the midst of this work and that baling, generally speaking, would be finished in about one month.

Mr. Krebs is very reticent and modest in regard to his business affairs, but when pressed by a reporter during a interview last evening, he finally admitted having recently purchased the twenty-seven bale lot of Fuggles, from Gilbert & Patterson, at 23 cents per pound which is the highest price yet paid for the new crop.

The three Krebs brothers, Conrad, Leonard and M. W., have just completed the harvesting of their big crop of hops on their farm near Brooks, from which they realized 900 bales, and have moved into this city where they have combined and opened up an elegant suite of office rooms in the Eckerlen building, on Commercial street, under the firm name of Krebs Bros., and have entered the field and will engage in buying and dealing in hops generally on a large scale.

These three brothers are all well known in this city and throughout the surrounding country, having been raised near Salem, and have all been enten years; have all been associated with some of the most prominent firms of dealers in this city in divers capaif any, of the local dealers who are possessed of a better understanding of the lowing statement: hop busisess, even to the minutest de-They are all wide awake, industrious and enterprising young men of exceptional business abilities and a in store for them.

Supplies of new hops have each had enough of the unlawful are coming forward slowly and stocks of 1900 and 1901 hops are small and in few hands, but brewers are apparently not needing many goods at the moment and are disposed to hold out and await developments. Dealers are interested to some extent, but with many there is a feeling that prices are starting high. Influences of a bullish character are affecting the situation, however, and there is much uncertainty as to just what course the market will take in the near future. Harvest in New York state is completed and the crop is estimated to be about 25,000 bales. Growers are in no hurry to market these, and while a few small lots have been picked up at 28@29c, no important purchases could be made below 30 cents, and some of the best lots are held higher. Picking is nearly completed on the Pacific coast and it seems probable that the yield will run over 180,000 bales, which would make the crop of the United States about 205,-600 baies. Early in the week some purchases were made on the coast at 20 cents, but later the price jumped to 22@221/2 cents. It now looks as if England will not pick over 325,000 to 350,000 cwts-perhaps the outside figure is too high. The German crop promises to be a very heavy one, but late cables report some advance owing to considerable sales to London and New York. These goods are being sold here at 35 cents to brewers, and dealers have taken on a number of lots at a cost of about 32@33 cents, in New @ 27 6025

> DR. ELLIS, THE PHYSICIAN AT-TENDING THE CASE, MAKES AN EXPLANATION-HE DID ALL IN HIS POWER TO SAVE THE PA-TIENT'S LIFE.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

The sad death of Miss Brewster, the Salem Hospital nurse, at Albany on Wednesday evening, and the resulting discussion of the matter of the treatment received by the young lady, is attracting considerable attention, especially in medical circles. Dr. Ellis, of Albany, who treated the ease, and who has been criticised by Salem physicians, and charged neglect, feels keenly the criticism, especially since as he alleges, he did all in his power to alleviate the sufferings of the young lady, and to save her life. In a conversation with the Statesman office, last night, by long distanct telephone, gaged in the hop business for the past | Dr. Ellis stated that he had done all in his power to give the patient relief and to save her life; that he had neglected his practice to care for Miss Brewster, cities for a number of years; are well as it was impossible to at once secure acquainted with all of the growers in a nurse, and he devoted all of his time the state with whom they will trans- to the young lady. N would have attempted the intubation of the larynx, but there was no intubation set here. I 'phoned the Salem Hospital to send a physician with an intubation set, but was informed by Miss McNary that there was probably none in Salem, either. Dr. Morse, however, would have arrived on Wednesday night's overland, but the patient's death occurred in time to intercept him. During the treatment of the case I gave up everything, and devoted myself as physician and nurse to the care of the case, until the arrival of the trained nurse from Salem. The Salem Hospital was repeatedly advised of the progress of the case. A local physician of experience was called in consultation. I have had extensive experience in the treatment of the disease, and know she was given the best obstruction to breathing, and to profound septic shock." Dr. Ellis regrets the death of the patient as much as do the Salem physistrangers, for she was raised near for the final settlement of said estate. Lebanon, in Linn county, and Dr. Eilis was for years the physician of Miss Brewster's family, knew her well, and took an interest in her welfare.

The Albany Herald informed the Statesman that Dr. Ellis' threat to send the patient to Salem was made for the sole purpose of securing the attendance, from Salem, of a competent nurse to care for Miss Brewster, That Dr. Ellis had made the threat to send Miss Brewster was acknowledged, but It was urged his motives were the best. He himself was worn out in caring for the patient, he desired the help of a nurse to care for her, and as he could not secure help in Albany, he naturally turned to the Salem Hospital for assistance, and suggested that if a nurse could not be sent him he would be compelled to send the patient to the hospital here where she could be cared for.

The physician, it was stated, did all in his power for the patient, and would have saved her life had he been in possession of the apparatus for intubation. Dr. Ellis stands high in professional circles in Albany, and his friends there believe that he has done all in his power for the unfortunate young lady. STEEL TRUST'S VICTORY.
