COMMITTEE ON CHARTER

Appointed by the Salem Push Club Has Gone to Work

THE CITY LIMITS TO BE EX-TENDED SO AS TO EMBRACE ALL THE SUBURBS-A SANI-TARY COMMISSION TO BE SUGE

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The special charter committee of the pessenger were drowned. Salem Push Club-John H. McNary, W. T. Skater, John Bayne, M. L. Chamberlin and Dr. E. A. Pierce-have held a preliminary meeting at which was discussed the matter of amendments to the city charter, and the committee is prepared to begin its work as soon as the committee from the city council, By Appointment As a Direc- bridge fund, which aggregated the sum After a Protracted Illness of authorized last night, is appointed by

At the first meeting, needed measures were discussed, and the members were unanimous in favor of the extension of the city limits so as to take in all the suburbs. According to their plan, the city lines shall be drawn straight taking in North salem, Highland, Englewood, East Salem. Yew Park, South Salem, and possibly Morningside. This would take in a large scope of country, and "Greater Salem" would not, in the future, be misrepresented in the census reports, regarding population.

Another matter discussed and favorably considered, was a board of health and a sanitary commission. It was suggested that the charter should provide for such a body, with an officer to enforce the rules and orders promulgated, and to inspect the plumbing and to generally act in the interest of the healthfulness of the city. In this connection it was thought best to provide a system of detailed reports from all the physicians practicing in Salem, in all contagious diseases, births, deaths, etc., and also to provide the authorities with power to enforce any regulations in the interest of the general health.

Another matter discussed was the subject of finances, and it was decided that a recommendation should be made for amendment, providing for the refunding of the city's debt by floating a popular loan, similar to the system now in use in the Salem school district.

There was the greatest of harmony in the committee, all members being of one mind on the subjects discussed, and at the next meeting, soon to be called, some of the amendments will be

COUNTY CLERK FILES REPORT

The board of directors includes only With the County Court For the Six Months Just Ended

> THE STATEMENT SHOWS A VERY SATISFACTORY | ACCOUNT OF THE FUNDS EXPENDED-EX-TENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS MADE TO COUNTY ROADS.

(From Thursday's Daily.) County Clerk John W. Roland yesterday compiled and filed his semi-annual report of warrants drawn upon the county treasury for the six months ending September 30, 1902. The report shows that the greatest amount of money expended from any particular fund was from that of the road and of $17,587.48, the largest amount ever expended on this account. This expenditure for road and bridge work, for the six months, which seems exhorbitant when compared with that of THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS NOW the corresponding six months of last COMPLETE TO MANAGE THE year, which was $5,590, does not appear

In the first place, by reason of the fact that, before the present tax law went into effect, the greater portion of the poll taxes was worked out upon the roads, but, under the new law, all taxes must be paid in cash and the money in turn paid out for road work, which makes no real difference in the expenditure, but does make a difference in the total cash paid out of about $6,500. There has been a considerable amount of road improvement this year over last however, which is a very creditable showing, and there was about $5,000 vely much strengthened thereby, and actually expended for road work this year, over last year, instead of over

There is also a difference in the election account, this year over last, of $2,332.65, which is due to the fact that no elections were held last year. There which came before the meeting of the is no increase of expenditure in any other account in the report except that cause of death. "The nominating committee or , the of the commissioners' court account, Lewis and Clark Centennial Fair which includes the sum of $435 of money tion of the county clerk, in divorce case as authorized by the constitution of port also shows that there are warrants outstanding amounting to $2,099.58, with "Nineteen thousand twenty-two and accrued interest thereon amounting to one-half shares of stock, constituting $5.70, but there is plenty of money in

After a protracted illness, Miss Polly McCubbin, aged 22 years, passed away at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCubbin, No. 228 Church street, yesterday, at 12 o'clock.

The former home of the family was at Lostine, Wallowa county, but they came to Salem about a year ago, where the young lady, who was then ill, might have the benefit of the best medical skill. Her condition did not improve, and for nearly a year she had been unable to leave her bed. During the past week she had grown steadily worse, until the end came, consumption of the spine being the immediate

She was a cousin of Mrs. S. W. Minturn, of this city, and there is a large circle of friends who are saddened at the news of her untimely death. She leaves a father and mother and four sisters.

The funeral will take place at 2 p. m. today, and the remains will be interred in Lee Mission Cemetery, with short services at the grave.

EDITORIALS OF PEOPLE

MR. MATTESON GIVES OPINION OF "SCRIBBLER" AND THE VIEWS OF R. F. D.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Editor Statesman: A neighbor has called my attention to the Statesman of the second correspondence, in which "Scribbler" says: "Some of the Turner business men and property owners seem to be dissatisfied with the R. F. D. postal system, saying it is killing the town," etc. This is the first time I have heard of such dissatisfaction with R. F. D., and I am pleased to say that I do not accept that view. If I did, I would migrate. I believe that I can see the reason why some parties have failed to succeed here, outside and entirely distinct from any effects of the R. F. D, and it is small wonder that a small town should become "too dead to skin," if its "business men and property holders" are so short-sighted.

I regard R. F. D. as a decided advantage to Turner, and I don't want to charge my failings on that postal system. I am not in favor of fighting improvement whereby the community in which I live is benefited, just because it may not bring immediate fish to my net. I prefer to stand in for the general benefit and take my chances. I can hardly expect my neighbors to patronize me while I am fighting their interests. And I am of the opinion that it is more this lack of co-operation for public good, than it is R. F. D., that is "killing the town" of Turner "too dead to skin."

These opponents of R. F. D. ought to come out into the open and give us their argument. F. S. MATTESON. Turner, Or., Oct. 6, 1802,

An Indignant Taxpayer.

Editor Statesman: By the last council proceedings I notice one man was allowed the modest sum of $729.29 for gravelling two streets. He was paid some $300 a short time ago in addition, and is still gravelling. It took about two weeks to do gated the facts of the case and the this work. It looks as if the streets might have been macadamized at this price. Surely gravel is better than a bank, or the city has money to burn. Perhaps Prof. Long. of mining fame, made tests with it that made it so expensive. It looks as if it could have been done cheaper. At this rate, the cial, Court and Oak had to pay for their improvements by assessments on the property, but times are good and money plenty. But taxes high. TAXPAYER.

(From Thursday's Daily.) A rich strike has been made on the Little North Fork of the Santiamsriver have been traced for a distance of 7,500 feet, cutting all formations across mountains and canyons and still continuing, varying in width as far as prospected, from eight to fifteen feet, with the rock running by assay from 50 cents on the surface to $35.50 as depth is obtained.

The country through which the vein uns is rugged and rough, the veins being heavily capped and covered over, and for that reason being a hard ore to prospect.

There is a well known trail, which has been used for thirty years or more, leading to Gold creek, which passes directly over these veins, and a bar, opposite the north of Big Cedar creek, has been often located for placer, most of the gold on it being so fine that values could not be saved, and which is believed, from where it is found on the bar, to have come, the greater part of it, from these veins.

Mine claims have been located on his new discovery by T. C. Culbertson, of Portland, Dr. F. E. Slater and Geo. H. Irwin, of Salem.

The property is located in Cedar Creek mining district, eleven miles from the Corvallis & Eastern Railroad, at Gates, and is reached at present by a trail three miles from the end of the wagon road at Elkhorn. S. Warner, who received a five-year sentence. Governor Geer exercised executive elemency in this case upon the petition for a pardon which was presented on Tuesey, and the recommendations of the trial judge and prosecuting attorney in the case. The trial judge supplemented his signature to the petition by the statement that, since he had investicircumstances, connected with the crime, he had found the young man to be possessed of a good reputation, and, had the case come to trial, he would have, no doubt, passed a lighter sentence.

> TWO LADIES BECOME INVOLVED AND IT WAS FEARED THAT ONE WAS FATALLY INJURED, BUT LUCKILY PROVED OTHERWISE. OTHER NOT NJURED.

> > (From Thursday's Daily.)

A very serious runaway, which came very near being a fatal one, occurred on State street, near the Capitol building, at 3:30 e'clock yesterday afternoon, in which two ladies, Mrs. F. N. Smith, and her sister, Miss Sarah Ricks, became involved, and, although it appeared for a time that the injuries of the latter were of a fatal nature. it has fortunately developed that she escaped without serious injury.

Warren Davis holds the contract for carrying the mail between Salem and Whiteaker, and has engaged a young man named Homer New to drive the route for him. Yesterday a fractious colt was hitched to the rig, with a more gentle and docile animal, and, as the team was passing the State House, the colt switched its tail and caught one of the lines, jerking it out of the driver's hands, which act frightened the colt, and it started to run. The buckboard to which the team was hitched was cramped and young New was thrown out. The team, being thus released, started on its mad career down State street, toward town. Several teams were traveling down State street, but the runaway team swerved out and passed them all until the single horse conveyance, which of Oregon. ladies were driving. The fear-crazed colt which had caus-ed the trouble reared and pitched until it landed on top of both ladies, pinning them to the ground in such a manner that they could not extricate themselves until the driver of one of Savage & Mohney's trucks and another gentleman rushed to their rescue and released them. Miss Ricks was in a sort of semiconscious state when released from her predicament, but Mrs. Smith did not appear to be much hurt. They were both taken to the Florence Sanitarium, where medical attendance was soon procured, and a hasty examination of Miss Ricks' injuries revealed the fact that she had received a severe scalp wound and her right shoulder was badly bruised. Dr. F. E. Smith dressed the wound in her scalp and she was resting quite easily last night. Mrs. Smith escaped with only a few slight bruises and went home with her husband last evening. Mr. and Mrs. Smith live about one mile east of the Penitentiary and only recently came to this country from the East. Neither the boy nor his team were hurt, but both vehicles were hadly broken,

A WIFE BEATER

PLACED UNDER BONDS TO KEEP THE PEACE AND SENT TO JAIL.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

J. F. Wilcox, who was arrested Tuesday night, charged with wife-beating, had his hearing in Justice Horgan's court yesterday at 10 a. m. Chas. L. McNary appeared for the State, while the defendant's case was presented by J. A. Jeffrey. It was brought out at the hearing that Wilcox had been guilty of kicking and beating his wife, and had also threatened to murder her. The Court placed him under bond of $150 to keep the peace, in default of which he was remanded to jail. Wilcox is a big, strong fellow, about 5 years old. When Constable Lewis went out after him on Tuesday night. Wilcox swore he would not go down town, that he would die first. He was promptly informed that his refusal to go meant serious trouble for him, and that no resistance would be tolerated. He came along peaceably after that, When Justice Horgan remanded him to jail, he threatened to assault the court, and the constable, and declared he would not go to jail; that if he was locked up he would commit suicide. His remarks were cut short by Constable conference in resisting the attempts of Lewis, who ordered him to hold his peace and come along to jail. When remanded to jail yesterday, he attempted to secure bati.
