

The Subtle Enchantment of Diamonds

There is a magnetism and fascination about diamonds of true fineness such as attaches to no other precious stones. Many a person longs for a diamond, but says with a sigh, "they cost too much." This is not so. There is infinite prettiness in even a very tiny diamond, provided it is tastily set and is a good, clear brilliant stone. We have quite a lot of diamonds prettily set in rings at from $5.50 to $25. Won't you come and see them? The stones are small of course, but they are set so deftly that they "show off" as if they cost three times their modest prices. And then, of course, we have others up to $225 each.

A NOTABLE IMPROVEMENT

New Cement Walk Will Be Laid On Court Street

BERT DONALDSON SUFFERS A VERY PAINFUL ACCIDENT IN HAVING A NAIL DRIVEN INTO HIS FOOT—COMPLICATIONS ARE FEARED.

One of the most noteworthy pieces of improvement which is being carried on in this city at present, and which will occasion no little feeling of thankfulness among the people of Salem, is the tearing up of the old wooden sidewalk along the Willis property, on the south side of Court street, between Liberty street and the alley. This old walk, which has been in a very rotten and dilapidated condition for many months, and a continual menace to the safety of pedestrians, will soon be supplanted with a 14-foot-wide walk along the whole half of the block. The work was begun yesterday under the direction of Contractor A. W. Dennis. Bert Donaldson, a young man who was employed by Mr. Dennis to assist in the construction of this walk, suffered a very painful accident yesterday afternoon, and one which, if not properly cared for, is liable to result seriously, if not fatally. He was in the act of tearing one of the heavy boards loose from its fastenings, when the plank sprung from his hands and struck him upon the right foot with such force as to drive a 20-penny steel nail clear through the ball of his foot. It required quite an effort on the part of his fellow-workers to extract the nail, and Donaldson at once sought the services of a physician and had the wound cleansed and dressed. As the nail was an old rusty one, there is danger of complications setting in.

GOVERNOR KUMMINGS

DESCRIBED THE IOWA PLATFORM AND THE TARIFF—MUST BE MODIFIED.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The Thirty-first anniversary of Chicago's big fire was observed tonight by banquets, given under the auspices of the Marquette and Lakeside Clubs. Speakers of national prominence were present at both banquets. At the Auditorium 500 members of the Marquette Club and their guests gathered in the banquet hall. "The Iowa Platform and the Tariff" was described by Governor Albert B. Cummins, of Iowa. Governor Cummins said: "In all its width, all its breadth, we meant just what we said. We believe that to the doctrine of protection more than to any other principle of government is due the commanding position so brilliantly won and so firmly held by the United States in the affairs of the world. The platform was adopted under circumstances that made it clear that the Republicans of Iowa have become convinced that the time has come when modifications of the tariff are imperatively demanded. "We do not impeach the schedules as they were inspired by patriotism and formulated with intelligence; but if the hand of God, instead of the hand of Dingley, had peened them, the mighty transformations of five years would have unfitted them, or some of them, for conditions that now exist. Now capital, protected producers of the country, can have but one thing to fear. It is the supremacy of the Democratic party with its follies of free silver and free trade."

HEART TO HEART TALK

ANOTHER SALEM LADY FINDS THE ROAD TO HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

To the Editor: This is written so that other sufferers may know where to apply for relief. I have been afflicted for a long time with many diseases peculiar to my sex, which I will explain to any desiring to know. I have been successfully treated by Dr. Darrin, at the Willamette Hotel. My cousin, Mrs. Georgia Miles, of Pratum, was also cured by Dr. Darrin of a cancerous tumor in her breast. I most earnestly recommend Dr. Darrin and his electrical and medical treatment to all and I will gladly talk with any one at my home, 205 Thirteenth street, Salem. MRS. H. J. POWELL.

Medford Oregonian: No cargoes of Willamette valley wheat are now being shipped abroad. All the large wheat shipments from Portland come from east of the mountains. But this is not a sign of the decadence or retrogression of the Willamette valley; on the contrary, of its advancement. Its farms can be put, and in a yearly increasing number of cases are being put, to more profitable uses than raising wheat for export. Development in this direction will continue, and will involve many more and better dairies, more and better orchards, more and better livestock, and a greater diversity of products.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED—

The case of John Ruddy, the individual who was picked up drunk on the streets Wednesday night, came up in Judge Judah's court yesterday. The judge suspended sentence pending good behavior.

THE LATEST INVASION—

Salem has had many different kinds of street preachers and singers of late. One outfit follows another in frequent succession, and often these are two or three different ones the same evening. It seems to have been a good season for these people. One of the latest, if not the latest, was a party of three, giving forth very good music and being quite successful in collections. These three formerly belonged to the Volunteers of America, but they now call themselves a part of the Union Gospel Army. One of the officers of the Salvation Army says they were put out of the ranks of the Volunteers for some reason, but they still wear uniforms much like, if not exactly like those affected by the forces of the Volunteers. However that may be, the three preachers and musicians are more than usually successful in attracting a crowd on the streets, and attracting the nickels and dimes and coins of larger denominations from their pockets. But this is a free country, and there is no law against singing and preaching on the streets, and no statute against taking up collections therefor. Those who are satisfied with that sort of preaching and singing, and want to put up their money for it, have a perfect right to do so.

EDITORIALS OF PEOPLE

TRUTHFUL JAMES DISCUSSES THE EXTENSION OF LIMITS QUESTION.

(The Statesman is pleased to print communications upon topics of general interest, at any time. There is scarcely any limit to the topics of general interest. It is asked only that correspondents refrain from personalities and use care that nothing be written of a libelous or untruthful or untruthful nature.)

Editor Statesman:

A few years ago the extension of Salem city limits was agitated, and a city official gave the subject some attention. His conclusion was that the only portion of the town containing sufficient taxable property to meet the expense it would cause was bounded by "Mill creek on the north, the Oregon & California railroad on the east, Mill creek on the south, and the river on the west." That all outside of those boundaries would entail more expense to the city in sewers, electric lights, street crossings, hydrants, etc., than the taxes derived would pay for. That is the case now. The excluded portions would want, and would be entitled to sewers and sewer connections, fire plugs, street lights, police, and all the other ends of incorporation. The expense would far outrun the added revenue.

But it is said the census returns do not show the population of the real town. Would anything be gained there? Now, we can say a numerous population is outside the city limits, and we are free to draw upon imagination as to the number, and very apt to do it. This may be an advantage over a fixed census report, which will not admit of swelling. Here is an argument in opposition to extension. It is doubtful if any of us would relish the actual total—would not prefer to claim twelve or fifteen thousand rather than be compelled to say the census showed seven or eight thousand.

SEEK RIGHT TO VOTE.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Oct. 9.—An organized fight on the part of the women suffragists of Illinois is to be a feature of the legislative elections next month. Plans for the fight are to be perfected at the twenty-ninth annual meeting of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association, which began here today. All the members purpose to pledge themselves to work for the presentation of a bill to the next Legislature which shall give to all tax-paying women the right to vote for the tax officials. Many delegates have arrived for the convention, which promises to be full of interest. There will be a reception for the visitors this evening at the Academy for Young Women, with an address of welcome by Major John R. Davis.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Final preparations have been completed for the annual Chicago day banquet of the Marquette Club at the Auditorium tonight. The list of speakers embraces many prominent Republicans. Secretary Moody, of the Navy, will speak of the achievements of the American Navy, and the other speakers and their toasts will be as follows: "William McKinley," Col. D. D. Woodmanse, of Ohio; "The Achievements of the Republican Party," Governor Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin; "Republicanism in the West," Senator Burton, of Kansas; "The Iowa Platform and the Tariff," Governor A. B. Cummins, of Iowa.

GONE HOME AGAIN—

Mr. W. W. Farrar, who came to this city about six months ago, and who engaged in business here, departed for his old home at Lewistown, Me., yesterday. Mr. Farrar expresses himself as well pleased with Oregon and the Willamette valley, but says business matters call him to the East and he will not return to this section.

A NEW PATIENT—

E. V. Lewis, of Lakeview, age 49 years, was received at the Insane Asylum from Lake county yesterday, having been delivered to that institution by Deputies Xaver Arner and E. S. Arthur. Lewis' dementia is due to excessive indulgence in liquor for the past sixteen years, and is subject to violent hallucinations and illusions.

THE MARKLEY TRIAL—

J. F. Markley, charged with the murder of John D. Fain, at Champoer, on Wednesday morning, June 26, 1902, will be tried in the first department of the State Circuit Court, at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Judge Burnett yesterday made an order authorizing the state to subpoena five more witnesses in the case.

MRS. GESNER ILL—

Mrs. R. A. Gesner, mother of Hon. A. L. Gesner, of this city, is very low at the Florence Sanatorium, where she was taken yesterday for medical treatment. She met with an accident about eight weeks ago, resulting in a fracture of the hip, from which she has never entirely recovered. Everything possible is being done for her comfort and welfare, but owing to her extreme age and general feeble condition, her chances for recovery are doubtful.

SIX GREAT LINES FOR FALL

HERE'S SIX LINES, SOME ONE OR MORE OF WHICH APPEAL TO EVERY PROGRESSIVE FARMER IN THE WILLAMETTE VALLEY. LOOK THEM OVER

The Benicia Hancock Disc Plow

It is safe to say that no implement in recent years has created the interest that this now famous plow has stirred up in the west. The first one of the which we sold was on October 18th, last year. All fall and winter they kept selling until the plow season closed last spring. Again this fall the farmers began coming in for them for the early fall plowing, for nothing else would do the work, and at the present rate of sales we will have, in less than a year, over a car load of these plows in the fields adjacent to Salem. They are no longer an experiment, nor have we the plows to spare this fall for experimental work. We are glad to refer intending purchasers to nearly three dozen prosperous well known farmers who have had the good judgment to buy them. The result is today they are plowing and seeding while their neighbors are waiting for rain. Get in your order if you want a plow.

Syracuse Chilled Plows Syracuse Chilled Gangs

Most farmers in the Valley are by this time familiar with the Syracuse line, either by experience or reputation, and in a good many hard fought battles they have proved their superiority to any and all other chilled plows. They handle easier. Run steadier. Clear better. Have a better jointer. Than any other chilled plow on the market. And in addition to this are more solidly constructed, having 2 bolts in the share, a longer, higher mold-board, and a better braced bottom than the others. We are glad to have you make comparisons. No harm done if you don't buy. THE CHILLED GANG is the first successful chilled gang that's come into the Valley. Uses the same bottoms as the walking plow, has landing and shifting levers, making it very desirable for hill work, and will stay in the ground and scour when others fail. A man who continues to hire help to follow walking plows when he can buy a gang and do two men's work, will never make money on wheat in the Valley.

And That Monitor Double Disc Drill

For several seasons the farmers hereabout have cast sideways glances at the double disc drill and wondered if it would "work" in the "red hills," in the "prairie," in the "muck," in the "white land," in the "stubble," in the "fern land," and in this and that and the other kind of ground, but finally two of the progressive men hereabout concluded that the Monitor drill people meant what they said, and so took out a disc drill each. Their testimony in regard to the matter is that there has never been anything in use hereabout that would begin to compare with it. The discs scour and clean perfectly, they cut through all manner of trash without clogging, they do not require an extra man along to keep it clean. They cover the grain perfectly, and no matter what the condition of the field you can put in the grain and be certain that it is in when you're through. In fact one enthusiastic farmer says he can drill into the soil if necessary. The fall trade is taking the disc right along. What do you want?

Fairbanks, Morse Gasoline Engines

When you buy a Fairbanks-Morse you're not paying for an experiment. They paid for that long since. They have been building gasoline engines for years and know how to do it, and do it right. If you saw our display at the fair—and most people had to see it—you noticed that solid little "Jack of all Trades" 1 1/2 horse power running the pump by means of the walking beam attachment, a steady stream 1 1/2 inches in diameter. And that four-horse horizontal, with the patent self starter, an exclusive feature of all their horizontals, so that a small boy can start the largest of them. That four horse weighs 2660 pounds, almost as much as most seven or eight horse. The 1 1/2 horse weighs 850 pounds. Weight is a very essential feature and we have it. Suction feed—the only safe feed—phosphor bronze bearings, crank shafts and connecting rods made of steel forgings, all running in bath of oil all tend to make it the most durable engine built. Ask such men as C. A. Park, manager of the Wallace estate; Walter Stolz at the Spa; W. H. Dodge, Garden Road; G. F. Mason, carpenter, South Salem; G. M. Hoyer, Halls Ferry; Schafer & Palmer, the printers; E. K. Churchill, printer, at Albany; all recent purchasers of these 1 1/2 H. P., what they think of them.

Empire Cream Separators

Another new line, says some one. Yes, another new line. The progressive merchant in any business is not content to stand still. If you have noticed our growth during the two years we have been in the implement business you've seen us add several strictly new lines of goods that are selling splendidly, such as Benicia Hancock disc plows, gasoline engines, Birdsall clover hullers, etc. Cream separators belong here. We propose to push them. The Empire, while new in name to many readers, is a splendid machine, very simple in construction, extremely light in action, in fact admitted to be the lightest running of all shown at the fair, and guaranteed to skim as close as any machine on the market. There's not space to say all we would want to about these separators, but we would be glad to have you send in your name, if you're interested, and we will forward circulars and catalogs.

Hero Fanning Mills

There are fanning mills on the market by the score, good, bad and indifferent. Ours are "different" from all. Different in construction, different principle of action, different way of applying the blast, different results in cleaning and separating. They will clean dog fennel from grain, separate vetch from oats, separate and clean oats, wheat, barley, clover, timothy, leaving you the choice parts for seed and the second part for feed, with chaff and trash to the winds. They run extremely light and have bagger attached. Call and see them on our floor, bring in the grain and try it. Send for circular, or drop us a line and we will have our canvasser call.

The above only describes six of our lines. That isn't nearly all. Our Buffalo Pitts spike, spring tooth, and disc Harrows, Drills and Seeders of all sorts, Potato Diggers, Cultivators and all such, besides Studebaker Wagons and Buggies, White Sewing Machines, Tribune Bicycles, Sewing Machine Supplies and Bicycle Sundries, and everything that goes to make up a complete implement and machine stock. Write us for anything in our line.
