An increase of 15 to 20 per cent. is asked, together with a uniform rate of wages on all 'the' divisions 'of the 'Atlantic and Pacific systems. The demands will take the same general course that the others have. They will be passed upon by the respective departments and then referred to General Manager Alger and Julius Krutschnitt, assistant of President Harriman. These two gentlemen in turn will pass upon the demands and send them to the committee appointed by President Harriman to confer with them. According to the by-laws of the unions, the company is given thirty days to make an answer to the men.

The danger of a general strike upon the Southern Pacific lines is not be-lieved to be great. Both the men and the company officials are of the same opinion. The heads of the depart-ments are unanimous in saying that the possibility of a great railroad strike is so small that it cannot be consider-ed even as a possibility.
