

BRIGHT LIFE IS CUT SHORT

John Savage, Popular Young Man, Succumbs to Typhoid Fever

ONLY SON OF GEORGE SAVAGE.
FOR TWO YEARS THE GENIAL AND COMPETENT PRESCRIPTION
CLERK IN LOCAL DRUG STORE.
THE FUNERAL.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

John Savage, the only son of George O. Savage, the well known and prosperous farmer, who resides about four miles north of this city, the intelligent and gentlemanly prescription clerk in the Capital Drug Store, after an illness of about two weeks, succumbed to an attack of typhoid fever at the Salem Hospital, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, aged 19 years.

"Johnny," as he was more familiarly known, was beloved by all who knew him, for his sunny disposition and accommodating manners. Being a registered pharmacist, he has filled the position of prescription clerk in the drug store of Z. J. Riggs, on State street, and his services were valued very highly by his employer, who regarded him as an honest, sober, upright and competent young man and possessed of all the sterling qualities that are essential to a successful business career. And it is very sad that one so young and with such a promising future should be cut off right in the bloom of youth and the beginning of prosperity.

Being the only son and brother, his untimely death is a severe blow to his father and two sisters, the Misses Faye and Stella Savage, who are almost prostrated with grief, and to his many warm friends who have been so solicitous concerning his welfare during his brief illness, his death comes as a great shock.

He was taken ill about two weeks ago, but did not think the ailment of a serious nature, and remained at his post in the drug store for a day or two, thinking the affliction of a temporary nature. He did not improve, however, and his father had him removed to the Salem Hospital, when it was discovered that typhoid fever had resulted and he was given treatment accordingly.

While it was known that he was very ill, his case was at no time considered hopeless, and it was thought he was getting along very nicely until late Thursday night.

Deceased was a member of the A. O. U. W. order and also of the Modern Woodmen of America, and was very popular in both orders.

The funeral will be held at the family residence in North Salem, Sunday morning, at 10 o'clock, and interment will be in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery.

GOVERNOR APPOINTS

DELEGATION TO ATTEND OREGON IRRIGATION CONGRESS AT PORTLAND.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

In accordance with an urgent request from those most prominent in the irrigation movement in Portland, Governor Geer yesterday appointed a list of delegates to attend the convention of the Oregon Irrigation Association, which takes place in Portland on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 18 and 19, to represent the respective counties to which they belong.

Governor Geer confined himself to the appointment of representatives of those counties in the state only in which arid lands were situated, but in several instances he appointed men of some counties who were the owners of arid land in other counties and were personally interested in what will take place in the convention and desire to have a voice in the discussion.

The names of the delegation appointed by the Governor and the respective counties in which they reside, follow:

Wm. Hall, Grant; E. E. Young, Multnomah; C. M. Idleman, Multnomah; Alfred F. Sears, Multnomah; J. A. Burleigh, Multnomah; W. T. Wright, Union; George Chandler, Baker; Henry Ankney, Jackson; W. J. Furnish, Umatilla; S. A. Lowell, Umatilla; D. C. Ireland, Sherman; A. C. Palmer, Crook; J. Robinson, Baker; W. R. King, Malheur; J. W. Virtue, Josephine; J. F. Adams, Klamath; Virgil Conn, Lake; C. CHILDREN WILL RETURN

MRS. TINGLEY'S LAWYERS WITH-DREW FORM CASE AND IN-VESTIGATIONS ENDED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The counsel representing Mrs. Tingley, the Theosophist, of Point Loma, California, in the case of the Cuban children, detained at this port, withdrew from the investigation today. One of the lawyers said Mrs. Tingley would have nothing more to do with the inquiry, but would hold Gerry and Davis, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children personally responsible for the children. The board of inquiry is unanimously in favor of excluding the children, and they will be returned to Cuba.

HOPES ARE AROUSED

DESIGNER HAS DISCOVERED SE-CRET OF THE FORMER CHAL-
LENGER'S DEFEAT.

GLASGOW, Nov. 7.—The Associated Press understands that in Shamrock III. will be embodied some radical departures in the matter of the yacht's construction which have not appeared in any of the previous challengers. The changes are said to be due to an accidental discovery, which convinced Designer Watson that there had been a fundamental error in the construction of all the recent challengers.

IN COUNTY COURT

THE DAY DEVOTED TO HEARING OF PETITIONS FOR NEW ROADS.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

The county commissioners' court continued in regular session yesterday, and spent the day in grinding away upon road matters and listening to the arguments of attorneys in some of the cases.

The Frank Stasney, et al., petition for a change in location of county road near Jefferson; Fisher, et al., for a new road leading from Scott's Mills to Crooked Finger, was dismissed.

The viewers appointed by the court to view out and investigate the facts connected with the petition of J. E. Ferris, et al., for the vacation of a public road in Waldo Hills Fruit Farm No. 3, recommended that the petition be not granted, and the petitioners filed an amended petition, together with objections to the report of the viewers, but the court would not allow the petition.

Upon petition the court appointed C. W. Younggren as justice of the peace of Silverton district, to fill the vacancy in that office caused by the resignation of Justice Wm. Ramsby.

The resignation of Rose McKay, as supervisor of road district No. 4, at Champoege, was accepted and F. E. Osborne was appointed to his place with his bond fixed at $200.

FAIL SALMON PACK

ASTORIA, Nov. 7.—The fall salmon fishing season on the Columbia river closes on November 20, and it is evident from present indications that the total pack here will not exceed 20,000 cases. The season is proving an exceptionally poor one for the packers, and much complaint comes from them. Only two canneries have operated on the Lower Columbia this fall.

It is absolutely necessary that the canners should pack all the silverside fish they can get, as they have orders for more than will be put up, while chums are plentiful—more plentiful, in fact, than for many years past. The chums are not in demand, and will be dead stock on the hands of the packers for some months to come. The price for raw material is down to bedrock, and it is a remarkable fact that Columbia river chums are costing less per case than the same class of fish packed on the outside streams.

Reports from Tillamook, Alsea Bay and other outside points are that the run of fish is light, and the entire fall pack will be short. This will probably mean better prices for chinooks after the spring months.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

ELMA, Wash., Nov. 7.—L. W. Maxwell, an employee of the bridge gang working on the Elma and Summit branch railroad, had a narrow escape from death on bridge No. 3, Wednesday. A long stringer overbalanced and falling, caught his clothes and hurled him to the ground, a distance of about 30 feet. It was a very close call, for the stringer lay within a few inches of him when he was picked up. The extent of his injuries are not fully known.

J. B. Murray, of Elma, is the biggest spar man on the Pacific Coast. He has gotten out over 2,500 spars in the last three years. These were, some of them, 124 feet long and 33 inches in diameter in the center. The shipments have been mostly to New York City and Bath, Me. A few have been sent to San Francisco. He is just starting up again, after a five weeks' shut-down on account of the fire. He has two orders, one of them quite large, to be filled at once.

NOVELISTS' SMALL ESTATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Jeanette Norris, the widow of Frank Norris, the novelist, who succumbed to appendicitis in this city a few weeks ago, has filed a petition for letters of administration on his estate in the Superior Court. Mrs. Norris states that, to the best of her knowledge and belief, the author died intestate. She alleges that the entire estate consists of $1,000 cash in the bank and royalties in the several books of which Mr. Norris was the author.

AUTOMOBILIST ACQUITTED

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—In June last an automobile belonging to Trafford Hutcheon, of Omaha, Neb., ran down a shepherd between Lienesaint and Molun, cables the Paris correspondent of the Herald. Mr. Hutcheon was condemned by the police court of Molun to eight days' imprisonment and a fine of $50. The case was appealed and the Ninth Correctional Chamber has acquitted Hutcheon and exonerated him from all blame.

MYSTERIOUS SHOCK

HOUGHTON, Mich., Nov. 7.—The residents of Houghton and Houghton were greatly alarmed tonight by a terrific shock which occurred at 8:30 o'clock. Houses were wrecked and windows shattered as if an earthquake had occurred. An investigation failed to discover the cause. This is the second occurrence of shocks within three months.

HANCOCK A TRAINING SHIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Captain Tilly, commandant at Mare Island, will tomorrow morning formally accept the transport Hancock from the War Department for use as a training ship for the Navy. It is reported that the transport Warren, which has lately been transformed into a freighter on Puget Sound, will go to the Bremerton Naval Station, to be used as a training ship.

PEACE IS NOT SURE

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—As an evidence that President Castro, of Venezuela, does not consider that peace has been re-established, he has ordered 2,000,000 cartridges from Hamburg for immediate delivery, according to a Herald dispatch from Port of Spain, Trinidad.

LOANS APPROVED

The State Land Board yesterday approved thirty-four applications for loans, aggregating $49,615.00. Seven applications for loans were rejected.

THE COUNTY DELEGATES

The county court has appointed H. B. Thielsen and E. C. Weisner as delegates to the Oregon Irrigation Congress, which will meet in Portland on the 15th and 19th of the present month.

PRUNES ARE ABOUT GONE

Much Activity in Market and More Orders Than Prunes

NO CHANGE IN QUOTATIONS, BUT
BEST VARIETIES ARE IN GREAT DEMAND, WHILE THE SMALLER
FRUIT GOES BEGGING—A REMU-NERATIVE INDUSTRY.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

The prune market is just as firm as ever with no perceptible weakness in the demand.

One thing is evident, though, and it is that the bulk of the crop in this section has been disposed of. With few exceptions, the crop has left its hands.

This has been one of the best years in the history of the industry for harvesting prunes. Though the season was late, the crop was correspondingly so, the dry weather giving growers ample time to pick the fruit in good order.

The price has been steady and firm, with little variation since the opening of the market.

The Willamette Valley Prune Association has still a large quantity of dried fruit in store in the warehouse, but has orders for all on hand, and more.

W. C. Tillson & Co. have about disposed of their holdings here, having not more than a carload or two left to ship from this point. They are shipping from several other points in the valley, though, and have between ten and fifteen carloads yet on hand up the valley, but these are being shipped as fast as cars can be procured to carry them out of the country, and it is safe to say that by the first of the coming month the prune crop of 1902 will have been pretty well cleaned up.

In speaking of the prune situation, Mr. Tillson said that the past two years had been exceptionally good ones and the growers had been doing better than with any other crop with the possible exception of hops. People are making a study of prune growing and curing, and there will be given new life and impetus to the business next year. The facilities for handling a large crop have been heretofore inadequate, for to put up a choice article requires a good deal of care and work, and there have until this year been very few well equipped packing houses in the valley.

Mr. Tillson says he will have a packing establishment properly equipped for putting up all the fancy grades here next year. In speaking of the profits this year for the grower, compared to other crops, he showed the reporter a receipt for a check for $2,670 which he had just paid a prune grower near Liberty for his crop from a thirty-acre orchard.

If there is any other crop with the possible exception of hops, that will bring the grower this sum, for the amount invested, it has not been heard of, and it is only reasonable to suppose that every man who has land adapted to the growing of prunes, will turn his attention in that direction, as the prices for the past two years have been such as to greatly stimulate the industry and encourage the grower.

Charles Tillson has just returned from a trip to Oakland and other points in Douglas county, and says that this month will just about finish up the business in Southern Oregon. He reports the growers in that section as being more enthusiastic than ever before, and also that they are constantly increasing the acreage of their orchards, and putting up dryers for the future.

From Benton County.

But few prunes have been sold in Benton county this fall. The majority of the prune growers seem to be standing together and holding their fruit for a better price than is offered at present. Prunes are now worth from 1/4 to 1/2 cents per pound. Manager Robert Johnson, of the Benton County Prune Co., says his company controls about seventy-five tons of prunes and are holding for a better price, with indications favorable for the same. Mr. Johnson states that all of the prunes produced in the big orchards this year were 30 40s, and are a first-class article. Mr. Johnson has discovered a method of curing prunes that is simply perfection in every way.—Corvallis Gazette.

In Santa Clara Valley.

The prune packing season is at its height now and everybody is kept hustling. The yard crews, which formerly have had a chance to "spot," are kept on the jump all the time and with this the outgoing trains are sometimes delayed.

Saturday evening two trainloads of dried fruits left the San Jose yards. They went out as extras and were bound for Oakland and Sacramento, and from these points will be made up into through specials for the East and Europe.

A great deal of our product is going to France and Germany this year, more so than ever before. Cars are billed direct to New York, and from there are loaded on steamers for the European countries.

All the fruit packers in the city are rushing their orders for fruit along as fast as possible and some of them expect to finish within a few days. The orders on which Porter Brothers are working are to be shipped by the 10th, and they expect to finish on time. From that time on the shipments will not be as heavy as they have been for the past few weeks. When the present orders are filled a portion of the large force now employed will be dispensed with, and it will not be necessary to work overtime and on Sundays, as has been the case for some weeks.

Nearly all the orders coming in from the European market are for the larger sizes of fruit. This is said to be owing to the fact that in Bosnia and Serbia this year the prune crop has been large, but the sizes are small. Large fruit is not obtainable in that market and the brokers are forced to buy in the American market. The French market also had a tendency in the same direction, and the result is that there is a strong demand for large sizes, while the smaller sizes are not wanted and the tendency on the latter is toward lower prices.

The dried fruit crop in this county is not all yet cured, though a few days more of fair weather will see nearly every pound of prunes in the county preserved for market. Quantities of small prunes which have been left on the ground will be gathered up as soon as the rush of work is past and used in the distilleries.

Throughout the entire valley the packers are experiencing the busiest period of an unusually active business. The fruit is well distributed among the various establishments, and all have contracts for sufficient fruit to keep the help busy until the last carload is ready for shipment.—San Jose Mercury.

PAPER MILL OF ITS OWN

WHITE PAPER FOR THE STAR TO BE MADE IN ITS HOME CITY.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

The Kansas City Star bought today the block of ground, 300 by 255 feet in size, on Guinotte avenue, between Shelley and Woodland avenues, in the East bottoms, and will build upon it a mill which will manufacture all of the white paper used in the publication of this newspaper. When this mill is completed the Star will be the first daily newspaper in America making its own paper. So far as can be learned here no daily newspaper in the world manufactures the paper it uses.

The Star's mill will have a capacity of 1,000 tons of white paper a month. At first it will make 800 tons a month, that being the amount of paper now used by the Star. The additional capacity of the mill will be a reserve for increased circulation. The mill will make only the paper used in the Star office. It will give employment to about 100 people and will cost upwards of a quarter of a million of dollars. The plans for the mill are being prepared by a firm of paper mill architects and work upon the building will begin as soon as they are completed.

The paper making machinery is of very intricate design and is built to order. It requires six months for the making of these machines after they are ordered. Therefore it will be about seven months before the Star will be printed upon paper made in its own mill in Kansas City. The paper will be made from pulp manufactured in the North. This pulp is made from spruce logs by grinding and by a process of cooking the wood with acid which reduces it to a fiber. The pulp is dried and will be received at the mill at Kansas City in thick rough sheets. These will be soaked, macerated, mixed, and run through the various processes, finally coming out in continuous sheets that will run without break or pause day and night for six days in the week and be wound in rolls ready for the Star's five big presses, through which pass more than thirty tons of paper each day in the year.

The making of paper for news publications has always been in the hands of men not connected in any way with the publishing business. The different newspapers of the country have simply bought as best they could in the open market. The Star's paper has always been and is now made in Wisconsin. The Star uses the entire output of a large mill, the wheels of which never stop except on Sundays. The Star decided this industry ought to be carried on in Kansas City if it was possible. After a thorough investigation of the subject it was found that it was feasible and practicable for the Star to make its paper in its own mill in Kansas City and this will be done as soon as the mill can be built and the machinery installed.—Kansas City Star.

FORKS.

GRAND FORKS, B. C., Nov. 10.—The construction crew of the Great Northern Railway last night put in a crossing over the line of the Kettle River Railway, about three miles from town. CHINA'S MENACE

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Five hundred members of the Methodist Social Union, of Chicago, banqueted last night at the Auditorium, with Bishop David H. Moore, of Asia, and Bishop Joseph C. Harzell, of Africa, as guests of honor.

"The only solution of the Eastern question," said Bishop Moore, when he began his address on "The Outlook in China," is the Christianizing of China. Do not think that China's people are dead as to what the world is doing. Do not think that because China's officials are corrupt the empire is corrupt. China only wants to be relieved of its superstition and darkness, when it will truly be a great nation."

Bishop Moore said that Japan, Korea, and China were in a sense one.

"If Russia ever once overruns China," said he, "all the powers in the world cannot dislodge her, and the doom of China is sealed."

Bishop Harzell spoke on "Africa."
