

PROSECUTOR WAS WORSTED

Defendant Pleaded Guilty To Assault and Paid His Fine

SHAW'S EXPENSES IN THE MATTER AMOUNTED TO THIRTY DOLLARS AND GOT NO SATISFACTION—WANTED HIM UNDER BONDS TO KEEP THE PEACE.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
Constable John H. Lewis, after a hard drive yesterday, returned from Gates about 7 o'clock last night, having in custody one Ross Hibbard, arrested upon a warrant charging assault and battery upon the person of A. A. Shaw.

The young man was taken before Justice of the Peace E. D. Horgan last night upon his arrival in Salem, and pleaded guilty to the charge upon arraignment. He was fined $10, and departed on the 10:30 train for his home, going via Albany.

The assault for which Hibbard was arrested was made on the 22d of April, last. Shaw is engaged in the mercantile business at Gates, and Hibbard runs a saloon at the same place. On or about the 20th of April, last, it is stated, Hibbard came into Shaw's store, and without the least provocation, struck him (Shaw) in the face, and beat and bruised him severely. Shaw at once got out a warrant for the arrest of his assailant, and Constable John Lewis of this city went to Gates to serve the warrant and get the man. Hibbard learned that the officer was in town looking for him, and made himself scarce. He left the country, and, according to Shaw's story, did not show up at Gates until about a month ago, Monday, Shaw wired Constable Lewis that Hibbard was in town and the officer started again for Gates, this time getting his man, and arrived in the city last night with him, as above stated.

Shaw, the prosecuting witness, came down also, bringing his witness, Walter Wolf, as far as Albany, intending to notify him as soon as the date for hearing was set.

About an hour after the arrival of the parties in Salem, the constable came to Shaw and told him that Hibbard had already been given a hearing, had pleaded guilty and paid his fine, and the case was ended.

This was a complete surprise to Shaw, as he had not been called upon, though prosecuting the case, and when seen last night he said he could not understand how the case was disposed of so quickly. He stated that Hibbard was a bad man, and had made threats against him, and it was his desire to have him placed under bonds to keep the peace, but he said the court did not seem to think he had any interest in the matter, as he was not given an opportunity to testify.

He started on his return trip home last night, feeling pretty much disappointed at the outcome of events and about $30 out of pocket, and it was noticed that he kept his weather-eye upon Hibbard, who took the same train out.

NOTES FROM BROOKS

SOME ITEMS GLEANED FROM THE WAYSIDE DURING THE PAST WEEK.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
Axel Johnson was ill last week.
Mrs. W. G. Evans is on the sick list.
Mail comes into Brooks five times a day.

Potato digging is not completed in this vicinity.

Wm. Massey brought two loads of pigs to Gervais today.

Farmers are still sowing their grain. Wm. Gulden is setting out twelve acres of hops this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Norwood, of Howell Prairie, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. H. Goulet.

Mr. and Mrs. Fickens, of Gervais, visited the Becker family Sunday.

Superintendent Moore visited the Brooks school Friday.

Refreshments will be served after the Thanksgiving concert in Brooks. Zella Savage has returned to the North Salem School.

The longer the hops stay in the hop houses the more they will weigh. Some of the nicest hops in the state are on exhibition at Secretary Winstanley's office.

P. P. Goulet said that Eugene Manning could get 27 cents a pound for his hops.

There will be a debate every Saturday night at the Eldridge school house. Subject for November 29th: "Resolved, That the Bar has a Greater Field for Eloquence Than the Pulpit." W. H. Egan will plead for the bar, and John Hamilton is a defender of the pulpit.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell, who are visiting friends at Brooks, dined at Evan's Monday.

Mrs. Dickinson, of Gervais, has moved to St. Louis, to be with her daughter, Anna, while she teaches that school.

For the past six weeks Mr. Harris has been with his daughter Ida, at Council, Idaho, feasting on venison and fish.

The wedding bells will ring in Brooks Thursday, when Mr. Walter Lehman, of Salem, and Miss Sweeney, of Brooks, are united in wedlock.

The Aspinwall family, who purchased the Harrison Jones place are well pleased with Oregon, and will not return to North Dakota.

A party of eight Brooks people on their way to Mr. Naylor's, on Howell Prairie, on a recent dark night, tipped over and the horses ran away.

See the hop growers' happy faces and hear their plans for needed improvement, bridged over any way to get along during hard times.

John Ziellinski purchased recently one of Jas. Finney's O. K. Grubbers. This is the second machine Mr. Ziellinski has purchased.

Some large potatoes raised on the Evan's place by Ralph Sheppard are on exhibition at Brooks. The largest weighs four pounds. Can Washington beat that?

Misses Katharine and Anna Becker spent a few hours Sunday with Della Simmons, who was paralyzed two months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bolter went to Cottage Grove to attend their son George's wedding. Another son, Frank, was recently married at Roseburg.

A pleasant surprise party at Frank Arels', and a birthday party for Louis Arels, are two of the social events of the week at St. Louis.

Near the stone house on the Egan ranch there is a bridge, while a workman was crossing with a load of wood it gave way, and over went the load. The driver narrowly escaped injury.

At the Eldridge literary Saturday night a duet and response to an encore by Addie Cooley and Katharine Becker, also a declamation, and the newspaper, "Whirlwind," by Miss Helen Brown, was appreciated. A grand discourse on nature was given by M. J. Egan, Art seemed insignificant as he compared it with the beauty, majesty and power of nature. From the lowliest flower to the earthquake that causes the foundation to shudder, he dwelt, with intermediate thoughts that portrayed all the attractions the subject could produce. The debate was won by this eloquent speaker.

TWO CASES ARGUED

APPEALS FROM UNION COUNTY SUBMITTED TO SUPREME COURT.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
Two cases were argued and submitted in the Supreme Court yesterday and minor orders were made in other cases as follows:

M. S. Crossen, respondent, vs. Wm. D. Grandy, appellant; appeal from Union county; argued and submitted by W. T. Slater, for the respondent, and Turner Oliver for the appellant.

E. W. Oliver, appellant, vs. The Oregon Sugar Co., respondent; appeal from Union county; argued and submitted by Turner Oliver for the appellant, and J. L. Rand and Leroy Lomax for the respondent.

H. L. Cranor, appellant, vs. City of Albany, respondent; ordered on stipulation that appellant have until January 1, 1930, to serve and file the abstract.

State, ex rel., F. D. Chamberlain, et al, plaintiffs, vs. Henry St. Raynor, defendant; ordered that defendant have thirty days additional time to petition for a rehearing and new trial.

DID NOT NEED MUCH COAXING

TO CALL OFF INTERVIEW

Independent Operators Intimated They Did Not Press Matter

MINERS' REPRESENTATIVES FEEL DOWNHEARTED OVER NEW TURN OF AFFAIRS—WESTERN FEDERATION OF MINERS PREPARING FOR WAR.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 26.—Quite in contrast with the happy faces of the independent operators' committee, when it returned from New York last night were the countenances of the miners' representatives when they returned today from their disappointing trip to Washington.

How the latter view the sudden and surprising turn of affairs is well set forth in a statement issued this afternoon by Messrs. Darrow and Lloyd, the miners' attorneys, who accompanied Mitchell to Washington. They clearly indicate that they think the coal road presidents acquiesced in MacVeagh's plan of settlement out of court and then repudiated him.

The allegation that George F. Baer signed the telegram to Chairman Gray of the strike commission, declaring that the big companies were agreeable to the idea of an amicable adjustment and the same man signed the telegram to MacVeagh in Washington, calling off the negotiations, is made.

While admitting they did much toward breaking off the negotiations for a settlement out of court, the independent operators do not hesitate to say that they were not required to advance much argument to bring the coal road presidents to their way of thinking.

To Fight New Union.

Denver, Col., Nov. 26.—The executive board of the Western Federation of Miners today instructed the Butte, Montana, Union of Engineers, affiliated with the Federation, to insist that every man in that locality, eligible to membership, shall join the union. This action is regarded as a declaration of war against the American Federation of Labor which recently organized a miners' union at Butte.

Blame the Car Men.

Havana, Nov. 26.—The motormen and car conductors are blamed for the loss of the strike by their refusal to go out. Shot were fired from the house tops to night in Belascoain street, and a motorman and two passengers were shot. The motormen were summoned to duty in Havana.

The Strike is Ended.

St. Etienne, France, Nov. 26.—The Coal Miners' Federation of Loire, today resolved to resume work Friday. By today's decision the general strike, which was declared October 9th, and which at one time involved over 100,000 men, came to an end.

Boycott Declared Off.

Schenectady, N. Y., Nov. 26.—In one of the most excited meetings in the history of the Trades Assembly, it tonight declared off the boycott against the Schenectady Railway Company.

ADVERTISING THE SUBJECT

Remarks of Prominent Salem Ad Writer Last Evening

D. A. DINSMORE RESPONDED TO A CALL FOR REMARKS AT THE SALEM PRESS CLUB BANQUET AND TALKED ENTERTAININGLY ON THE SUBJECT.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

D. A. Dinsmore, advertising writer for Jos. Meyers & Sons, of this city, was present at the banquet of the Salem Press Club, at the Willamette Hotel last evening, and was called upon for remarks. He responded and spoke as follows:

"Mercantile advertising is a subject which has puzzled the brains of the best merchants in the country for many years past. Fabulous sums of money have been spent in advertising experiments of all kinds, which, when put to the test, proved to be more of an injury than a benefit to the advertiser. The importance of this feature of a merchant's business lies in the fact that the advertisement is not only an index to the store but it also represents the character of the firm for which it is written.

"My idea of good, sound, judicious, legitimate and dignified advertising is a well-worded and illustrated newspaper ad. The newspaper has long been considered the most profitable medium of advertising by such firms as Wanamaker, Seigel & Cooper, Litt Bros., etc. A short time ago Wanamaker was paying from $80,000 to $85,000 a year for a page in one of the leading Philadelphia papers. But when the time came to renew his contract he was outbid by Litt Bros., who paid $100,000 a year, or $3,000 per month, for the space.

"Newspaper ads. should not be crowded with matter. Display lines should be used with sacred veneration. Too many display lines defeat the purpose for which they are used. Each additional line kills the prominence of the others. To illustrate my meaning, take, for example, a clean sheet of white paper and put a small drop of black ink upon it. The spot will appear in great prominence, but if you scatter small drops of ink all over the sheet, you will notice that the first drop has lost its identity entirely and there is no particular distinction among them. Let your display lines tell as much as possible the story that is looking for someone to read it and that it is the catchy headline or cut that catches the eye of the reader as he scans the paper for news.

Select a mannerism of set-up of all uniform type and carry it out all through your ad. Advertise prices as much as possible, and let the type of your price correspond with your headline in being prominent, for the price is the point that clinches the buyer. If the headlines and the prices are the prominent features of your ad, you will most certainly catch the involuntary eye of the reader. If he is interested, he will then read your description, which should be to the point, omitting all unnecessary words. You are not expected to write a descriptive catalogue of your business for each issue of the paper in which you advertise. Advertise specialties invariably. If you wish to interest prospective buyers, and occasionally touch upon your principles of doing business and your desire to deal fairly with the public. Illustrate your ads. with cuts when possible, for it is always practical. A picture will tell at a glance what the best descriptive writer could not tell in a volume.

"Why is the newspaper the most profitable organ of advertising?

"First—Because it finds its readers in their homes when the members of the family are all together, before or after the toll of the day, when they are either making plans for their home, seeking recreation, or enjoying rest. The paper comes to the reader at a time when his mind is his own, when his mind is off his business and he can consider what he reads, or comes at a time when the members of the household can discuss the needs of the family and the advisability of purchasing the goods you advertise or taking advantage of the bargains you offer.

"Again—The newspaper reaches the hands of the transient people who are looking for a place to supply their wants. It covers a vast scope of territory in a short space of time and at small expense. Each copy of your ad is read and re-read by thousands of people who never subscribe for or buy a paper.

"Newspapers are always honestly and judiciously circulated and through them your ad is sure to find readers. The newspaper lies upon the office desk, around the home, or on the table in the hotel corridor; it is to be found in every cigar store, reading room, and club room, and is sought for by the traveler as well as the man at home.

"The newspaper is something that everyone likes to receive and which everyone reads, while the booklets and circulars are given but a hasty glance or more often thrown away without even being looked at.

"Returning now to a consideration of the work of preparing advertisements, let me say that you should change your ad. often enough so that it will not become an eye-sore. Change your manner of display and setting up. Use short catch phrases, plain, ordinary language, and never indulge in a flow of flowery language. Never compare your colors with 'the glowing orb receding before the coming day,' or your patterns with 'the soft, sweet smile of the sweet briar.' Don't say that 'the shepherd's flock gamboling on yon fertile hill are bearing the material of your blanket department.' Such language belongs to the poet and not to the merchant. Never over-estimate your values or misrepresent your goods, for it only disappoints your customers and drives them away from your store. 'The proper time to write your ad. is in the morning when your mind is fresh and you are entering upon the day's work with ambitious zeal. Never write an ad. at night when you are weary in both mind and body and when the troubles of the day are weighing upon you. In the morning you have time to write your ad. and do it well, but if it is put off until night you do not know what may come up to cause you to do your work in a hasty or careless manner. What is worth doing at all is worth doing well, and to no part of a merchant's work does this apply more than to the writing of ads."

GOULD HAS SUCCEEDED

IN OBTAINING AN OUTLET FOR A LINE TO THE PACIFIC COAST.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 26.—At a meeting today of the executive committee of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient Railroad Company, Warren S. Purdy, formerly president of the Rock Island, and Geo. J. Gould were elected directors.

A traffic alliance has been made between the Missouri Pacific and the Orient Road. This will give the Missouri Pacific and other Gould lines an outlet to the Pacific Coast.

To Receive an Advance.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 26.—General Manager E. E. Calver of the Oregon Short Line Railroad today announced that on December 1st the wages of all switchmen and yard foremen in the employ of the road will be advanced approximately 10 per cent.

ERNE LOST CHAMPIONSHIP

IN CONTEST WITH JIMMY BRITT, IN SEVENTH ROUND, IN 'FRISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 26.—Frank Erne, of Buffalo, lost his hold on the lightweight championship in the contest with young Jimmy Britt, of this city, who knocked him out in the seventh round in the Merchants' Pavilion tonight.

The contest was the fastest ever witnessed in this city. Britt, while not so clever as the Buffalo man, was more aggressive and landed the most telling blows.

The men went at it from the sound of the bell in the first round, and for nearly seven rounds it was "hip and tuck" between them.

Britt proved himself cleverer in the clinches and never missed a chance to use his right or left to advantage. The Eastern lad showed his superior generalship in many tight places, and kept Britt off with straight lefts during the early part of the battle.

SILVER TAKES ANOTHER FALL

Reached Lowest Point in History of the World

CAUSES MUCH UNEASINESS

Among Exporters and Merchants With Big Eastern Trade

LAUNDRYMEN AND SMALL MERCHANTS REAP RICH HARVEST. SIAMSE GOVERNMENT CEASES FREE COINAGE AND HEAVY DEPRESSION IN BOMBAY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Today's further declines in the prices of silver fixed a new low record in the history of the world. It was much commented upon in banking circles, causing much uneasiness among the exporters and merchants of this country doing business with China and other points of the Far East.

To the bankers, however, the most significant news of the day were cable advices to the effect that the Siamese Government had instructed the mint to cease immediately the free coinage of silver.

Coincident also with this development was a decline today of silver at Bombay to the level of several points below London. The interesting feature of the drop in silver was the advantage reaped by the laundrymen and small merchants of Mott street district through being able to purchase silver bills at so low a rate. They flocked down town today, cash in hand, sending heavy remittances to friends at home. Most of them were surprised at the large sum allowed for the amount turned in.

ELLEN GORE FUNERAL

LARGELY ATTENDED BY AMERICANS, FRENCH AND OTHER STUDENTS.

PARIS, Nov. 26.—The Ellen Gore drama reached a fitting climax today in a mournfully picturesque funeral at the American church. The occasion was marked by a notable demonstration of sympathy not only on the part of the Americans but by the French middle classes, artists and other habitués of the Latin quarter.

The street in front of the church was packed with students in unique costumes, and as the cortege approached they uncovered their heads. The service included a reference to the proverb: "Evil communications corrupt good managers."

A Startling Surprise.

Very few could believe in looking at A. T. Hoadley, a healthy, robust blacksmith of Tilden, Ind., that for ten years he suffered such tortures from Rheumatism that few could endure and live. But a wonderful change followed his taking Electric Bitters. "Two bottles wholly cured me," he writes, "and I have not felt a twinge in over a year." They regulate the kidneys, purify the blood and cure Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervousness, improve digestion and give perfect health. Try them. Only 50 cents at Dr. Stone's Drug Stores.
