HOMELESS FRIENDLESS

Young Boy Seeks Shelter in the Fire Department of Salem

FATHER AND MOTHER BOTH DEAD AND HE, ONLY SIXTEEN YEARS OF AGE, THROWN UPON THE WORLD ALONE—LOOKING FOR WORK AND A HOME.

(From Thursday's Daily.) Fatherless, motherless and homeless, wandering the country round, Bird Busham, only sixteen years of age,

This young hero, for he left the home of his grandfather, the only relative he had in Idaho, and in whose care he was entrusted, and who, the boy claims treated him badly, just three weeks after his mother died, taking with him all of his money, about $140 in cash,

"My father was working in California and mamma and I were living in Boise City, Idaho. Mamma worked and I worked and papa worked and would send mamma money every once in a while.

"When I got to Wasco my money was pretty near gone, so I put my mule in pasture with a man near that place, and came on with the horse. I rode the horse until I got to Aurora, then I only had 25 cents left and I put my horse in the stable and came on to Salem.

"Mamma took sick right away and she died about a month ago, and I was left all alone. My grandpa was the only relation I had in Boise and I went to live with him, but he did not treat me very good, so I thought I would come to my sister, who lives at Gates, so I did not say anything to my grandpa, but took my horse and mule and my money and started out alone.

"When I got to Wasco my money was pretty near gone, so I put my mule in pasture with a man near that place, and came on with the horse. I rode the horse until I got to Aurora, then I only had 25 cents left and I put my horse in the stable and came on to Salem.

"She was glad to see me and wanted me to stay, but I had my horse at Aurora and I did not want to lose it and I came back to get it. Now I want to find some work and make my own living."

This story was told by the boy at the fire department last week, where he was being kindly sheltered and cared for by the big hearted fire fighters, who also fitted him out with more comfortable and reasonable wearing apparel and will endeavor to find a good place for the boy to work and make his home.

THE COUNCIL IN SESSION

Poll Tax to Be Collected by the Street Commissioner

NUISANCES IN CHINATOWN TO BE ABATED—A PROPOSITION MADE TO APPOINT A SPECIAL POLICEMAN TO ACT AS HEALTH OFFICER—TO IMPROVE STREETS.

(From Wednesday's Daily.) The city council met in the police court room at the city hall last night, with the mayor and all the aldermen, except Messrs. Griswold and Walker, in attendance.

Street Commissioner J. P. Frizzell reported to the council that he had commenced the collection of the city road poll tax of $3, and that he had employed Charles Elgin to do the work.

The license committee reported favorably on the application of F. P. Talkington, LaBreech & Roth and A. Schreiber, and the licenses were ordered to issue.

City Recorder N. J. Judah read the report, made by himself and Mayor C. P. Bishop, forming the canvassing board, showing the election of the officers as shown in the Statesman yesterday morning, and Alderman Thomas Sims introduced a resolution to the effect that certificates of election be issued to the men shown to have been elected, and it was passed by unanimous vote.

Street Commissioner J. P. Frizzell reported that he had served a notice on John Moir, agent for the Northern Counties Investment Co., Limited, to construct a sidewalk in front of lots No. 1, 2 and 3, block No. 88, on the west side of Capitol street, on November 11th, and the usual order was entered to enforce the construction of the walk.

The half block on Liberty and State streets, occupied by the Chinese quarter, was reported to have several nuisances, and the city marshal and the committee on health and police were ordered to inspect the premises and report their findings to the council, together with suggestions looking to the abatement of the same.

Alderman Stolz addressed the council at this point, and suggested the appointment of a special policeman to act as a health officer; his duties to include the inspection of all sewers and sewer connections, and to enforce the sanitary measures of the city, his work to be done under the direction of the chief of police. He took occasion to comment on the orderliness of the City of Salem, with but three police officers on duty, saying that no other city in the United States, with the same population, could show as good a record.

Mr. Stolz also suggested an amendment to the charter to provide for the election of a chief of police by the council instead of by the people, and stated that the chief had neglected to obey an order of the council.

City Recorder N. J. Judah answered the councilman from the Third ward, in defense of Chief Gibson, stating that the order referred to, regarding the examination of sewers and plumbing, did not come within the duties of the city marshal, and that the officer's compliance with the order of the council would have endangered the marshal's life. The air became quite tropical at this time, but the matter was dropped in time to prevent further hostilities.

Petitions were read asking for the improvement of Church and High streets, between State and Trade streets, and of Ferry street, between Liberty and Cottage streets, signed by the abutting property owners. The petitions were referred to the committee on streets and public property.

The application of Bach & Nordstane for a saloon license was referred to the license committee with power to act.

The bills of W. H. Westcott for $25 and Fred Stock for $9, for work on the streets, were ordered paid.
