

The Little Kinks of Fashion

Some of the things THE BARR STORE prides itself upon is keeping in close touch with all the little kinks of jewelry fashions. Our present Christmas stock bears ample testimony to that fact. It is rich in new things, things gotten up and finished in novel patterns and designs. Take our lines of the little jewelry trinkets that women love—pretty brooches and bracelets and lockets and the like—and you will find all sorts of charming styles to choose from. Prices are pleasing, too, for many of our very hand-somest articles in small jewelry belong to the inexpensive class.

Just as a special instance—charming Chatelaine watches for Women, dainty as can be, good timekeepers too, a royally good gift for any lady, $12.50, and $15.00, $16.50.

THE BARR STORE'S Christmas showing is in many ways unusual and unique. You will find it a pleasure to see it. Fine engraving free on our goods.

MEETING OF PUSH CLUB

Advertising Pamphlet Fund More Than Half Subscribed For

CLUB DISCUSSES PROPOSITION OF BUILDING AND OPERATING A BOAT ON THE RIVER—THEISEN DELEGATE TO STOCK CONVENTION—A STAKE.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

The Greater Salem Commercial Club held a regular session last night in the police court room at the city hall.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by H. B. Thielsen, and minutes of last meeting read by the secretary. A communication from R. J. Hendricks was read, in which he offered to supply the Club with 500 copies of the large illustrated New Year Statesman at 10 cents per copy, as a good advertising medium. The matter was, upon motion, referred to the executive committee with power to act.

The secretary of the Club then read letters from parties in the East, some soliciting information concerning Oregon, while others were concerning advertising propositions.

E. Hofer spoke concerning the raising of the $1,000 for the printing and distribution of the 80,000 descriptive pamphlets to be put out by the Club. He said he had discussed the matter with his brother, A. F. Hofer, and they had concluded to take 1,000 copies. He thought special efforts should be made to get these pamphlets out and into the hands of the distributing agents.

N. J. Judah, in speaking concerning the matter of advertising Salem and the resources of the Willamette valley, thought the printing and distributing of 80,000 descriptive pamphlets was the best medium so far suggested, and advised carrying out the present methods under consideration before entering into any new scheme.

J. H. Albert, chairman of the committee on advertising, being absent, his report was read, showing that more than half the fund for printing the pamphlets mentioned had been already subscribed.

Secretary Judah read a letter from M. D. Wisdom, secretary of the Oregon Livestock Breeders' Association, which, assisted by the commercial companies of Portland, were making an effort to secure for Portland the convention of the National Livestock Association for 1934. That effort was being made to have a large delegation attend the convention of that body in Kansas City, January 13-15, 1933, and that each commercial body in the state would be entitled to one delegate.

Upon motion of Frank Davey, H. B. Thielsen, president of the Greater Salem Commercial Club, was elected to represent that body at the Kansas City convention, or, in the event of his inability to attend, he should appoint some one to attend in his stead.

One of the most important matters coming before the Club last night was brought up by C. S. Hamilton.

The subject proposed by Mr. Hamilton was to the effect that the Club should interest itself in the matter of forming a stock company to arrange for putting a small passenger boat on the river to run between Salem and Independence, for the accommodation of people wishing to pass back and forth between these two points. He thought by having such daily river service which could be depended upon at all times of the year, would result in bringing a great deal of business to Salem that now goes to Portland.

The matter was discussed by Frank Davey, E. Hofer, C. P. Bishop, N. J. Judah and H. B. Thielsen, all of whom warmly approved of the proposition.

Mr. Hamilton then made a motion that the president appoint a committee of three to investigate the subject and report as to the cost of a boat, and suggested that it would be well for the committee to go to Portland to make the investigation.

At this point G. F. Sherwood suggested that in case the proposition went through, the boat should be built in Salem.

This motion of Mr. Hamilton carried, and President Thielsen appointed him chairman of the investigation committee, with power to select his two colleagues.

As the executive committee had promised the State Fair card to raise $1,000 for the next State Fair at Salem, that matter came up and the action of the committee was ratified by the Club.

Taken altogether, the meeting was one of the most interesting and important of any so far held this year. At 9 o'clock the meeting adjourned for two weeks.

SOON SOON CONVICTED

CHINAMAN CHICKEN THIEF WILL BE A LONG TIME IN JAIL.

Joe Soon, the Chinaman arrested for stealing chickens, was given a hearing in the police court yesterday, convicted and sentenced to three months in jail. The charge was brought by David Steiner, and when the present sentence is completed, there will be four more charges preferred by other parties. They are: E. H. Steg, Robert Peardy, J. S. Malvin, and August Kirberger, all of whom had stock in the lot that Joe Soon carried away.

The owners called at the store yesterday and proved their property and took the same away. In searching the pockets of the thief, the police found $10.50 in his possession, which he admitted was the amount he had received for the chickens, and it is probable this sum will be returned to the innocent purchasers.

It is thought the Chinaman is insane, and the officers are pretty certain that he has been in prison, though he said his name could not be found upon the prison records, but admitted in broken English that his "number" might be there.

EIGHT YEARS FOR STEALING MARE.

HILLSBORO, Or., Dec. 10.—David Lee Invert, who was last Saturday tried and convicted before Judge McBride and a jury on a charge of stealing a mare, the property of William Joos, of Glencoe, was yesterday sentenced by Judge McBride to eight years in the Penitentiary. Invert is regarded as a bad man, and the citizens will be generally relieved when he is landed safely at Salem.

WILL IMPROVE THE SYSTEM

Of Water at Fair Grounds and an Estimate of Cost is Asked

COMMITTEE ON LEGISLATION TO ASK FOR AN INCREASE IN PREMIUM APPROPRIATION AND FOR MONEY TO MAKE IMPROVEMENTS—OTHER BUSINESS.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

The State Board of Agriculture continued in session at the State House yesterday until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when adjournment was taken until in February, no date having been set.

Although not much work was done by the Board as a body, the several committees were quite busy all day, making numerous investigations and gathering material on which to work in the future.

About the busiest of these committees was the committee on legislation, which consists of Geo. Chandler, J. H. Stettinier and G. A. Westgate. These gentlemen made a visit to the Fair Grounds and made a thorough investigation as to the necessary improvements as recommended by Secretary M. D. Wisdom in his report of yesterday. These gentlemen stated that they found everything exactly as represented by Mr. Wisdom, especially as to the dilapidated condition of the water system throughout the grounds. The main pipes, leading from the Asylum to the grounds, have been laid for a number of years, and have become so badly eaten up with rust that a break frequently occurs, which not only shuts off the supply at a time when the water is most needed, but that a great expense is entailed in not having the necessary repairs made. The committee was thoroughly satisfied that the system would have to be renewed and engaged a man to estimate the cost of putting in a new system.

This committee also recognizes the fact that the present annual appropriation of $8,000 for premium money is inadequate, and will ask the coming Legislature to increase the amount to $10,000. Appropriations will also be asked for the making of other much needed improvements to the grounds in the way of constructing new buildings, one of which will be an enclosed arena for the purpose of judging the stock, and the building of additions and making improvements to the old buildings.

The speed committee was authorized to hang up the $1,000 stakes for two-year-old harness events, 60 per cent of which is to be set apart for the trotting stock and 40 per cent for pacers. This stake is similar to the ones offered heretofore and are self-sustaining by the entry fees.

The Greater Salem Stake matter also came up and, as it proved such an attraction last year and was the means of bringing some of the best racing stock west of the Missouri river to the Fair last year, it was decided to repeat the matter this year. Accordingly, a committee held a joint meeting with the executive committee of the Greater Salem Commercial Club yesterday afternoon, when the proposition was brought up and was heartily endorsed by the latter, who promised to submit it to the Club at last night's meeting, where it received final endorsement.

The Board has decided to adhere to the methods of procedure which were adopted and carried out last year, and which were productive of such grand success in every respect. It is realized by the Board that a great deal of the success of the last Fair was due to the big purses and rich stakes offered, which proved very satisfactory as it was a great inducement, and the cause of bringing the best class of horses here, which resulted in a higher class of racing, and were among the best attractions at the Fair.

The Board will meet again in February, when the date of the next Fair will be announced and the premium list arranged.

GONE TO PHILIPPINES—

Zenas Chase, of Salem, writes home that he has gone to the Philippines on the training ship Solace. At least that ship has departed from San Francisco, and it is supposed to be on the way to the Philippines. Zenas has been on this training ship for some time, and he is being fast promoted for good work. He is a son of Dr. E. Y. Chase, of this city.

BROKE GAME LAW.

CORVALLIS, Or., Dec. 11.—A fine of $50 was imposed on A. R. Norwood, of the Norwood Training Company, of Bruce, for attempting to ship unlabeled game out of the state. The game was shipped by express and labeled undressed poultry, but was discovered by Game Warden Quimby to be China pheasants and ducks which were shipped to Seattle. Mr. Norwood was brought before the court of Justice Holgate Monday, and pleaded guilty to the charge. C. E. Hoy, a trainman, who had some part in the proceeding, received one-half of the fine.

The lowest fine provided for shipping improperly labeled game is $100, but in this case only an attempt was made, so half that amount was allowed.

ELOPED FROM REFORMATORY

Two Boys Made Escape From School by Means of a Rope

LOWERED THEMSELVES FROM FIFTH FLOOR TO GROUND AND BROKE INTO STORE AT BROOKS. RECAPTURED AT WOODBURN AND BROUGHT BACK.

On Tuesday evening last two inmates of the State Reformatory School effected quite a sensational escape from that institution by lowering themselves to the ground from the fifth floor of the building by the assistance of a rope and succeeded in getting away without the knowledge of the officials of the School, who did not learn of their elopement until the following morning when pursuit was given which resulted in the capture of the runaway and their recapture with very little chance for making another break.

The two boys, Frank Rigins, from Yamhill county, and Norman Daniels, from Lane county, are pretty hard characters, and were put up in the top ward, known as the "Reformatory Ward," as punishment for bad behavior, and how they secured the rope and succeeded in making a successful escape cannot be learned.

When the officers of the school discovered that they were missing they at once instituted a search and traced the boys from one place to another until they were retaken at Woodburn yesterday afternoon.

One of the boys had secured, by some unknown means, an old 22-caliber rifle, and the other an old shotgun, neither of which was worth anything except the weight of the metal of which they were made, but no damage was done by either. They proceeded to Brooks, where, on Wednesday night, they entered the Jones store and took several articles of minor value. They then proceeded on their way north, evidently bound for Portland, and were discovered in a box car by the conductor of the freight train, who took them in custody and notified Superintendent Dickers, of the Reformatory School. Mr. Dickers sent a man to Woodburn yesterday afternoon and the boys were brought back to the school on the evening local.

All of the articles taken from the Brooks store were recovered and will be returned to the owner.

BIRD STUDY CLUB

A. KING WILSON DELIVERS AN ADDRESS AT MEETING LAST NIGHT.

A. King Wilson, a prominent attorney, of Portland, and president of the State Audubon Society, delivered a lecture last night upon the subject of "Birds" before the members of the Salem Bird Study Club, at Mrs. Williams' studio in the First National Bank building.

Quite a large number of the members of the Club turned out to listen to the talented speaker and all were well pleased with the address.

The speaker did not confine his remarks to any particular bird or variety of birds, but gave a sweeping lecture covering the whole bird family found in Oregon.

Mr. Wilson says a great deal of interest has been aroused in the subject of birds during the past few years, and bird study clubs have been formed in every section of the state, and he thinks much good has resulted from the study and work along this line, inasmuch as it instills in the hearts of the young a spirit of love for the innocent, sweet songsters of our state.

The program for the next meeting of the Bird Study Club, Tuesday evening, December 23d, follows:
Paper on "Birds," Mrs. W. G. Hawley.
Reading by Lloyd Cooper.

Address by Rev. P. S. Knight, Music.

"Woodpeckers," Wm. Warner.

The Prides of Heroes.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

Message 'Round the World.

When congratulatory messages were exchanged the other day between British officials over the completion of the new British Pacific cable no one seems to have thought of sending a cable message clear around the world, which is now possible for the first time in the history of mankind. The idea did occur to Charles J. Gilden, of Boston, on November 1st; the novelty of it struck his fancy. So he wrote a message, "Around the World," directed to himself in Boston, and he ordered it sent by way of Vancouver and Australia. Not being a "rush" message, no haste was made anywhere and when it reached him in Boston 38 hours and 29 minutes, had elapsed. Anyone, it appears, can do the same thing, if he or she is willing to spend about $12 to pay the cable and telegraphic tolls. The message did not turn up in Boston, however, with entire accuracy. It came in somewhat weather-beaten, as it were, reading, "Gilden!" instead of Gilden, and with "around" transformed into "Ar-mund." The two words "the world" went through safe and sound.

Spain, Land of Hunchbacks.

Spain has the most hunchbacks of any country. In one small village at the foot of the Sierra Morena there is one in every thirteen inhabitants. France, in the neighborhood of the Loire, has a great many people suffering from deformed shoulders. It has been reckoned that there are 1,000,000 hunchbacks in the world at present.

When Is a Frog a Frog?

The question convulsing France just now is, "When is a frog not a frog?" It arose thus: One day last June two Frenchmen were caught redhanded on the national domain in the act of what was supposed to be fishing, and charged accordingly. But when they came before the magistrate they pleaded that they were not guilty inasmuch as they were frogging, not fishing, and the magistrate discharged them. The case was then brought before the Court of Appeals, which sustained the ruling of the court below, albeit the local chief of the lake and forest department appeared to support the case and maintained that a frog was to all intents and purposes a fish. Now the Court of Cassation will probably be asked to adjudicate the case.
