

ANOTHER WEEK IS GONE WITH NO END IN SIGHT

Despite the Senatorial Burden the Legislative Body Goes Right Along With Its Work and Is Accomplishing Very Good Results

Both Leading Candidates Are Still Confident of Ultimate Success and There Seems to Be No Solution to the Question Nor As to When the Oft Prophesied Break Will Occur—Change Expected Sometime Next Week.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

Another week has passed, the Legislature has adjourned over until Monday and the solution of the Senatorial question which has assumed new complications each day since the opening of the session, seems as remote now as it was at the beginning.

Senator Fulton has had a very difficult task in holding his support in control, but so far he has succeeded admirably, but how long he can continue to do so is a question that is very difficult to prognosticate. Under the existing circumstances, taking into consideration the strained situation of affairs, it does not seem possible that the contest will last much longer and it is by profession, remarked, "will be strictly enforced and prosecuted to the fullest extent."

It also provides for the registration of apprentices and the salaries of the members of the State Board of Barber Commissioners from $3 to $4 per day, without mileage or expenses, and requires the secretary of the board to make a semi-annual report to the Governor. It is, without a doubt, a worthy measure and the supporters of it are deserving of commendation for its success.

ALEC LA FOLLETTE
Explaining his vote on Senator.

predicted that it will surely be settled next week.

Owing to the non-committal attitude which all of the members have assumed it is impossible to gain any reliable information upon the subject and all that one can do is to take observations, put two and two together and draw his own conclusions. It is quite certain, however, that the Multnomah delegation and the Geer faction hold the key and the secret to the situation, and until an agreement or compromise can be arrived at between the two there is little likelihood of a change. It is possible and indeed, quite probable, that a change will take place next week, but in which direction it is impossible to state.

The barbers generally are feeling highly elated over the triumphant passage of House Bill No. 114, introduced by Hutchinson, which passed through the House in the early part of the week and went through the Senate yesterday afternoon. This bill is an amendment to the law already in force regulating the barber profession, and it provides for the issuance of professional renewal cards; for better sanitary regulations and provides penalties for the violation of any parts of the act, which, the author of the bill, who is a barber pointed on a special committee to which all flat salary bills will be referred.

It was moved that when then Senate adjourn, it adjourn until 11:45 Monday; carried.

S. B. 196, substitute for 180, relating to road masters; read first, second and third times and passed.

Third reading of Senate Bills.
S. B. 182, Kuykendall, to provide for transfer of certain records from Douglas to Lane county; passed.

S. B. 9, Wehrung, to establish the boundary of Washington county; passed.

H. B. 171, Rand, to amend charter of Huntington; recalled and S. B. 197 substituted which was advanced to third reading and passed.

S. B. 198, Hunt, to amend Code in regard to form of ballots; read first time.

S. B. 118, Sweek, by request, for institute for feeble minded; made special order for Monday.

S. B. 158, Sweek, for licensing plumbers; made special order for Monday.

S. B. 24, Croisan, for primary election law; failed to pass; 15 yes, 14 no. Fulton was absent.

H. B. 51, Hale, to fix salaries of officers of Josephine county; read third time and passed.
