A BREATHING SPELL.

If the consumptive could only keep from getting worse it would be some encouragement. Scott's Emulsion at least gives tired nature a breathing spell. The nourishment and strength obtained from Scott's Emulsion are a great relief to the exhausted system. This treatment alone often enables the consumptive to gather force enough to throw off the disease altogether. Scott's Emulsion brings strength to the lungs and flesh to the body.

would have to vote against it. Several other Senators made remarks, and when the bill was placed on its final passage it was lost, 17 to 5, with 8 absent. McGinn, Miller, Pierce, Wade and Brownell voted yes. Daly, Fulton, Howe, Hunt, Marsters, Smith of Multnomah, Sweek and Wehrung were absent.

The ways and means committee held a session last night at the State Hotel for the consideration of reports upon state schools and colleges. A number of college men were present pulling for the institutions they represent, and while the committee listened good naturedly to all who had anything to say, they smiled as if they were not taking matters seriously.

Senator John Daly, of Benton county, was before the committee, pulling his best for the Corvallis Agricultural College. He went into details and gave a graphic description of the work of the college, saying sixty graduates were sent out from there last year and that about 500 students were on the rolls at present. He presented a claim for an appropriation of $15,000-$12,000 to meet a deficiency and $3,000 for furnishing and equipping the new halls.

In the House yesterday afternoon House Bill No. 215 by Johnson, providing for an appropriation of $165,000 for the construction of a portage railway on the Columbia river was passed by a good majority, and will be up to the Senate for action today. There has been a strong fight made against this bill from the very start, and its passage by the House will have a strong influence in the Senate.

The House also passed Senate Bill No. 27, by Smith of Multnomah, for the creation of a State Board of Health, and this bill, which is considered a very meritorious measure, passed the Senate on January 27th and is now up to the Governor for his signature.

The House also passed the La Follet bill, repealing the scalp bounty law by a vote of 35 to 25, and the success of the measure is largely due to Representative Davey, of Marion, who made an eloquent and effective appeal in its favor. Mr. La Follet also dealt out some telling remarks, which had a decidedly convincing effect, and he feels highly elated over his victory.

THE SEVENTEENTH BALLOT

Table with 2 columns: Name and Count. Includes FULTON, GEER, WOOD, GEORGE, SCATTERING, ABSENT AND PAIRED, TOTAL.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Beyond the switching of the Multnomah delegation from A. L. Mills to M. L. George yesterday, the ballot on United States Senator was featureless and absolutely without change, and without prospect. Notwithstanding the fact that rumors are continuous in circulation that a break is near at hand there is certainly no more evidence of such an occurrence at the present time than there was, nor not nearly so much, two weeks ago when the situation was in an extremely turbulent and unsettled state.

Indications are very deceptive, however, and if there is to be a storm, the present situation may be called the proverbial forewarning calm. Those who are in close touch with the situation and are in a position to know, say that Senator Fulton is preparing for his final effort and will undoubtedly show his hand before the close of the week. The rumor was almost last night, although it could not be verified, that Representative Jones, of Lincoln and Polk, who has been casting his vote for Binger Hermann all along, will break the ice and go over to the Senator from Clatsop today. This will be no surprise, however, as Mr. Jones has been slated for Fulton ever since the first day's ballot. It was also rumored that Representative Hayden, of Polk, may also cast his lot with Senator Fulton, but this rumor has been strongly denied by those who claim to know Mr. Hayden's position. Those who were conceding at least thirty-eight votes to Fulton two weeks ago will not grant him that many now, and assert that, at the close of this week, if nothing occurs to create a stampede in his favor, his race will have been run and that he will throw up the sponge, probably in favor of the Hon. Binger Hermann.

The Geer men claim that their hopes are growing stronger each day and that he will be elected eventually. Time works wonders, however, and it remains to be seen what the result will be for it cannot be intelligently forecasted.

House Bill No. 91, by Burgess, to create the county of Stockman failed to pass in the Senate yesterday. Senator Smith, of Multnomah took the lead in favor of the bill. He exhibited a map showing from what territory the new county would be formed, the greater part being taken from Wasco and Crook counties. He said by the present arrangement some residents of the proposed new county had to go more than a hundred miles to get to the county seat, requiring four days to make the trip. He said that the new county would contain 437 voters and that 285 of them had signed a petition asking that the new county be created. Since the people in the section wanted the county he could see no reason why their wish should not be granted.

Senator Kuykendall was against the bill. He was a member of the committee which had reported unfavorably on the measure and had heard the argument that people from that section had made for and against it, and was thoroughly convinced that a new county was not wanted.

Senator Williamson made his first speech of the session on this occasion and was against the passage of the bill. He said the time had not come for a new county, and more than that the people out there had not gone about the matter in the right way to get favorable action of the Legislature. He said four fifths of the property interests of the section did not want the new county.

The bill failed to pass, the vote being as follows: Yeas—Holman, Johnston, McGinn, Mulkey, Smith of Multnomah, Steiwer and Brownell—7; nays—Booth, Dimmick, Farrar, Fulton, Hobson, Howe, Kuykendall, Marsters, Mays, Miller, Myers, Smith of Yamhill, Wade, Wehrung, Williamson—15; absent—Carter, Croisan, Daly, Hunt, Pierce, Rand, Smith of Umatilla, Sweek—5.

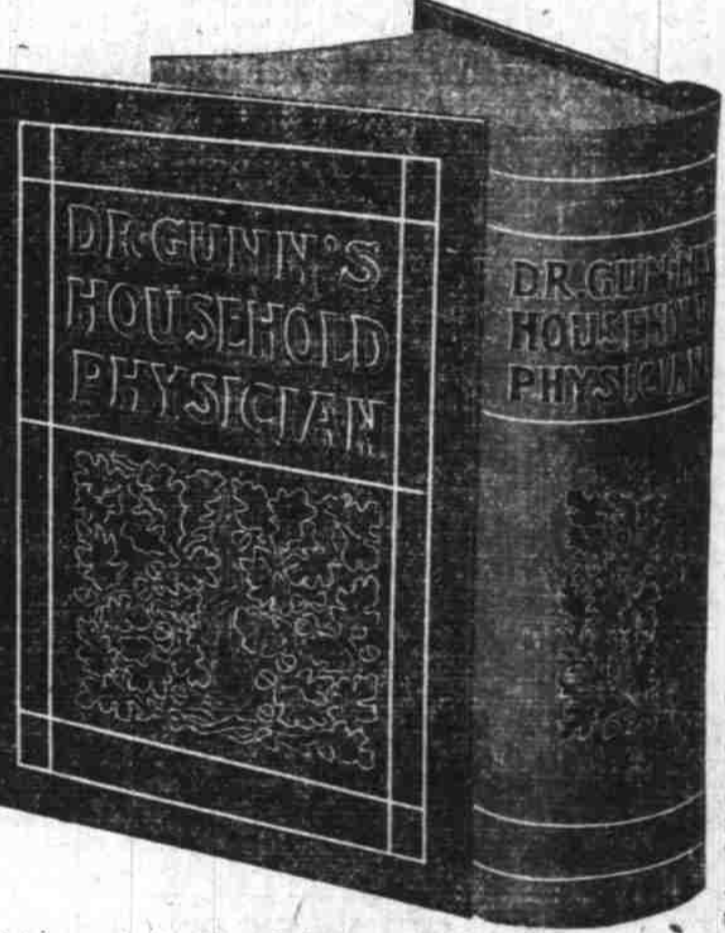

When Hale's House Bill No. 106 came up in the Senate yesterday it caused quite a heated discussion. The bill sought to amend the Code, taking away the limit of $5,000 which may be recovered in case of death caused by the wrongful act, negligence or omission of another.

Senator McGinn thought the law ought to pass and made a spirited argument in its favor. He said that twenty-six states had no stated limit. Senator Croisan was opposed to the passage of the bill. It would work a great hardship on the small saw mill men, the owners of threshing machines and small manufacturers, and for that reason he would vote against it.

Senator Booth did not think it was a good measure, and agreed with what had been said by Senator Croisan. Senator Mulkey sent up an amendment, but unanimous consent for its adoption could not be obtained. He said he would like to support the bill if it could be amended, otherwise he
