

GERMANY NOT YET SATISFIED

Ignores Agreement Made by Bowen and Von Quadt

INSISTS ON CASH PAYMENT

Of $340,000 or a Lien Upon Customs Receipts of Venezuelan Ports

BOWEN REFUSES TO YIELD RECEIPTS OF ANY PORT UNTIL AFTER HAGUE DECISION—ENGLAND AND ITALY WILL STAND BY THEIR AGREEMENT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Germany has ignored her previous agreement made with Bowen by Count Von Quadt, her Charge d'Affaires, and insisted on the cash payment of $340,000 on a lien on the customs receipts of one of the Venezuelan ports until this amount is paid. Bowen has informed the German Minister that he refused to yield the receipts of any port before The Hague decision, and saying that would be preferential treatment.

As to each payment demanded, Mr. Bowen left that matter to the German Minister to determine, saying to him that if Germany can afford to make the public confession that it does not stand by the agreements signed by its duly accredited diplomats, he (Mr. Bowen), is willing that they shall receive, on the day the protocol is signed, the total amount asked in the original ultimatum. This response has been relayed to the German Foreign Office.

Great Britain and Italy have renounced any responsibility for the negotiations of Germany and have expressed their regret. Through their representatives here they have informed Bowen that they will stand by all the agreements they have made and will not be influenced by the action of Germany.

Both the British and Italian protocols provide for a cash payment of $500,000 and for the submission of the question of preferential treatment to The Hague. They contain recommendations for the renewal of all previous treaties of amity and commerce and the Italian convention has an article providing for the payment of the Italian claims which already have been adjudicated, without further arbitrations, after the commission has arbitrated the other claims.

It is known that an answer will arrive tomorrow from Germany to the final representations made and upon the receipt of that answer the signing of the protocols probably will occur. As soon as they are signed, orders will be despatched to the blockading ships for their immediate withdrawal from the Venezuelan waters.

LIFE INSURANCE FRAUDS

EXPOSED BY CONFESSION OF ONE OF THE CONSPIRATORS CONCERNED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—An exposure of the methods of the conspirators in the recently discovered Italian life insurance frauds was made today by the confession of one of the men concerned. It appears that the frauds have been in operation for ten years, during which time the insurance companies have been defrauded by hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The usual plan of operations was to make application for insurance in the name of some person in practically good condition, the healthy substitute being presented for medical examination. In cases where the original risk lingered too long to satisfy the conspirators, a substitute body was used on which to collect the amount of the policy.

EVADED THE TRUTH

MAYOR TOM JOHNSON ASKS PROMINENT LABOR LEADER POINTED QUESTIONS.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 11.—Before 500 members of organized labor in this city tonight, Mayor Tom Johnson, who was present on invitation to explain the recent statement he made relative to the origin of a committee report on three cent fares, asked some startling questions.

OF UNTOLD VALUE

THE INFORMATION CONTAINED IN THIS GENTLEMAN'S STATEMENT IS PRICELESS.

The hale, the hearty, the strong can afford to toss this paper to one side impatiently when they read the following, but any sufferer who has spent a mint of money and hours of excruciating torture caused by kidney complaint, will stand in his own light if he does not follow the valuable advice offered by—

Wm. Gower, barber, of 131 West Bennett ave., Colorado Springs, says: "I was interviewed by a gentleman in the month of June, 1889, about Doan's Kidney Pills. I was then living in Pueblo, Col., and I told him that after suffering for four or five years with backache and other consequences of either excited or weakened kidneys, I went to my druggist's in Pueblo, for Doan's Kidney Pills, and took a course of the treatment. They cured me, and cured me quickly. I have recommended them to a number of friends or acquaintances and told them if they did not cure them they could return the box to me and I would pay them for them. No one ever came back with a box, so I knew they were cured."

questions of Michael Goldsmith, a prominent local labor leader. He turned to Goldsmith and asked if he was not used to handling larger sums of money than usually falls to the lot of the workman, and also if he had not been a frequent visitor to the office of the president of the Cleveland City Railroad Company. Goldsmith's reply to the mayor's question was that it was none of his business.

BIG WAVE OF IMPROVEMENT

Promises to Sweep Over Salem When Building Season Opens

SOUTHERN PACIFIC FREIGHT DEPOT UNDERGOING REPAIRS—WILL REMODEL NEXT FALL—WALTER MORLEY WILL CONSTRUCT BUILDING THIS SPRING.

Work was commenced the first of this week by a force of carpenters repairing the Southern Pacific freight depot.

A new foundation has been put under the building and the workmen are now tearing out the floor and replacing it with new flooring. This will lessen considerably the labor of handling the freight, as the floor is now very rough.

The old platform outside is also to be torn away and a new one built, and a new roof is to be put on the building.

The intention has been to remodel and enlarge the office building, but this will not be done at present, and in the near future, probably next fall, the company contemplates building some additions and enlarging the depot building and the office will be remodeled at that time.

New Fence Works. Walter Morley has purchased the Patton property on the corner of Court and Front streets. This property comprises four houses and has a frontage on Court street of half the block, reaching from Front street to the alley adjoining J. J. Dalrymple's store.

Mr. Morley intends moving the house from the lot adjoining the alley, and will construct a building suitable for the use of his business, the Salem Fence Works. Mr. Morley is compelled to move his business because of the property which he now occupies being sold to Bernard & Dunsford, who will occupy it about March 15th with their plumbing business.

Tendency of the Times. The tendency of medical science is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza (grip), and it has been any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used during the great prevalence of colds and grip in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Pneumonia often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended until it is suddenly discovered that there is fever and difficulty in breathing and pains in the chest, then it is announced that the patient has pneumonia. Be on the safe side and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted. It always cures. For sale by Dr. Stone's Drug Stores.

SUIT ON A NOTE

MAMIE P. BROWN ASKS FOR JUDGMENT AND FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGE.

(From Thursday's Daily.) Mamie P. Brown yesterday filed a suit in department No. 2 against James M. Wadsworth, the suit being brought to enforce the payment of a promissory note and to foreclose a mortgage on land owned by the defendants.

The complainant alleges that on or about February 5, 1922, the defendants made, executed and delivered to H. A. Thomas, agent, a promissory note for the sum of $150, due one year from date, to draw interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, the note being secured by a mortgage on a tract of land in section 24, township 39, south range 2 east of the Willamette meridian. It is further alleged that the plaintiff herein purchased the note and mortgage from the said H. A. Thomas, and that the same nor any part of it has not yet been paid, hence the plaintiff prays for judgment against the defendants in the sum of $152 with interest thereon from February 5, 1922, at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, for the sum of $49 as attorney's fees and for a decree foreclosing the mortgage. Brown & Wrightman are attorneys for the plaintiff.

THE WAIL OF THE LUGGARD

Calamity Howler from Kansas Relates Stereotyped Tale of Woe

ACCOMSTOMED TO WIND SWEET, CYCLONE INFESTED KANSAS, AND DOES NOT APPRECIATE CIVILIZED COUNTRY OF MILD CLIMATE.

A Salem business man has received a letter from a gentleman from Almena, Kansas, in which was inclosed a clipping from the Norton County Plaindealer, at Almena. The clipping is as follows:

AN OREGON LETTER.

Mr. A. Demoss, who recently returned from Oregon, and purchased property there, hands us a letter for publication from a former neighbor and friend in that far away country. We print it more especially for those who are contemplating pulling up stakes here and going to Oregon. Read it carefully; it will furnish you some good information. Following is the letter in part:

"I was surprised when I saw our letter was from Kansas. I wish I could have done as well as you have done. I am fast now until the first of September. I have rented Arnold's place and we have some stock in partnership to dispose of next summer, so I am expected to drag along until fall. After I get away from here I will write you what I don't care to now. Oh, my, if you were here now you might talk about laying down planks for the cattle to walk on. The water is very near two feet deep all the way to Salem. It has just rained all the time, last night and today it rained like our Oklahoma rains. Our cellar is full of water and we can't get out without wading in mud and water. I am sick of Oregon. I am glad that I did not buy land here. You speak of the good roads there; we have no roads here—they are mud holes and creeks now. We haven't had any snow here yet, only a few days the ground was frozen a little. It rained all the time so it couldn't freeze. Wheat is from 65 to 75 cents per bushel here; oats, 35 cents; corn about 35 per bushel (or the cow town) it is called. You can't take a load of anything there and sell it unless you go and have it engaged ahead. Think of the Capital City of Oregon—most any day you could count from 25 to 30 cows running at large on the streets hunting for something to eat. I did think that I wanted to raise stock here but this is no stock country right around here, and I haven't seen anything that I like for stock. Everything burns up in summer, and drowns in winter. I am like you in regard to Oregon. I have had about $500 worth of experience and 17 cents worth of fun. You got away about even, didn't you? I can't get away anywhere near here, and if I don't get away soon I will have to foot it out. We were over to Jones' a couple of weeks ago. He has built him a barn and fixed up the orchard and the place looks right nice, but I think the land is poor in this country. I told Jones I was going to Canada. He said, 'Well, I don't expect to be here always.' He is like a good many others; he is fast and can't get loose. Everything is for sale and nearly everything is under mortgage. Dave Gaven was stuck on the country over east of the Waldo Hills. If he was here now he would be stuck in the mud. When you write me tell me how the winter has been there so far. I may go back to Kansas next fall. I have to go some place, I wouldn't stay here if they would give me the best farm in Marion county. Well, when you write tell me what you think of Prairie Dog Valley, what country is it in and the population of your town."

"M. B. VALENTINE. Salem, Or., Jan. 24."

A few years ago an Esquimeau man was brought from the Far North to New York City. He was taken from his icy home where the nights and days are six months long, and where for the most part he was obliged to hole up in a dark snow hut and subsist upon whale blubber and animal fat in order to live at all—he was brought from such surroundings and placed in the environment of civilization and luxury, for the purpose of scientific study. But he was not satisfied with his new surroundings; he longed for his home of snow and ice and long darkness. He could not get used to the short nights and days of the latitude of New York City. The climate was too mild for him.

So it must be with this man from Kansas who is in the mild climate of Oregon, where we have the richest soil in all the world, and yet longs for the windy state of Kansas and the inhospitable precincts of Prairie Dog Valley. More than likely, if he gets back to the Prairie Dog Valley he will soon be cursing his luck again and blaming the country for his failure to get along. There are plenty of that kind of people. They are never satisfied where they are. The best country is always somewhere else.

For the man of industry and thrift, there is no better country on earth than the Willamette Valley. It rains here a good deal. But the aggregate of our rainfall is not as great as it is in Iowa. We have a dry season, too, but the properly cultivated crops never fail. We have no grasshoppers, cyclones, blizzards or droughts; no hot nights in summer and no severe freezing weather.

er in winter. It is wet in the low places in the rainy season; but there is ample opportunity for drainage, and there is little low land here, in proportion to the vast amount of land that is well drained. There are bad roads here, too, in the rainy season—but they are no worse than the roads in most of the Eastern states. And they are growing better, by improvement. This is a new country, comparatively. Eventually all the main highways will be good for there is opportunity for drainage, and the materials for road building are ample and near at hand.

It would be an excellent thing for the country if all the Valentines would move away from it, and give place to industrious, thrifty, enterprising and contented people, who in time will make this the very garden spot of all the earth.

Valentine will not see it probably, but there are excellent opportunities here for raising stock of all kinds, for dairying, and their number is growing faster than ever before.

Despite the wails of the Valentines, the country is settling up more rapidly than heretofore with people who are pushing this country to the front in every way.

Valentine's statement as to the cows on the streets of Salem and as to the markets here are mere moonshine. In other words, he is vociferating through his chapeau. Let him get up industry sufficient to raise anything that is worth buying—and he can raise anything under the sun here that can be raised in the temperate zone—and bring it to Salem, without making any arrangements in advance, and he will find cash buyers here, at good prices. There is ample capital here, and good business men. For its population, in fact, Salem is one of the richest little cities in the United States.

Q. F. Talcott has sold his farm of 192 acres to Mr. Emil Guerin, of Scio, Linn county, who at present resides with his family in East Salem, and who will occupy the property shortly after March 4. The purchase price was $2600.

H. H. Hall, of the Pacific Press Publishing Co., Oakland, California, visited friends here between trains Thursday. He is on an extended tour through Washington, Montana and Utah, in the interest of religious work represented by the publishing company. He held a meeting Saturday at the Adventist church in Salem, corner of Oak and Mill streets. The meeting was in the nature of an institute, several matters pertaining to religious work being considered. Representative workers from California and Portland took part in the discussions. Visiting members of the denomination from Albany, Turner, Monitor and other points were present.

JOURNAL WON SUIT

JURY BROUGHT IN VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF FOR ONE DOLLAR.

The case of Mary F. Gibson, plaintiff, vs. E. Hofer and A. F. Hofer, defendants, was called for hearing in department No. 1, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and the following jury members empaneled: W. H. Darby, W. A. Jones, W. T. Hadley, S. S. Martin, J. E. Ziegler, Eugene Manning, B. E. Robertson, Matt Small, J. R. Linn, W. J. Carleton, Geo. Emert, Chris. Kreiger.

This is a damage suit brought by the plaintiff to collect from the defendants the sum of $5000 as damages sustained by herself for the alleged publication of an article in the Daily Journal which, it is alleged, was of a defamatory nature. The article published in the Journal to which exceptions were taken and which led to the suit, was a part of the answer of Thomas Gibson, who was defendant in a divorce suit brought by his wife, Mary F. Gibson, from the papers on file in the office of the county clerk.

Mrs. Gibson was granted a divorce by Judge Boise a few weeks since, soon after which she commenced action against the publishers of the Daily Journal for alleged damages.

The case went to the jury at 4 o'clock and at 5:45 a verdict was brought in, granting the plaintiff damages in the sum of $1.
