

WAS GRANTED FULL PARDON

A. M. Humphrey Convicted of Larceny by Bailee Is Set Free

GOVERNOR CHAMBERLAIN EXERCISED EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY IN HIS CASE UPON ONE OF THE STRONGEST PETITIONS EVER PLACED BEFORE A GOVERNOR.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

Governor Chamberlain, upon petition of nearly 500 citizens of the State of Oregon, yesterday granted a full and complete pardon to A. M. Humphreys, who was convicted of the crime of larceny by bailee, in the Marion County Circuit Court during the February, 1902, term, and sentenced to a term of two years in the penitentiary.

This has been a most extraordinary case, and has been an exceedingly interesting one ever since it was first introduced into the court. Every phase of the case has been given the closest attention from the beginning to the end, inasmuch as it was the first conviction ever secured under the statutes for this crime, which has stood the test of the Supreme Court and been affirmed; not so much so from a desire to see Mr. Humphrey suffer the penalty of his wrongs or mistakes as it was to have a precedent established under which the farmer could consider himself protected from the ravages of scheming and unscrupulous warehousemen.

At the October term of the State District Court for Marion county, 1901, District Attorney J. N. Hart filed an information against A. M. Humphrey, charging him with the crime of larceny by bailee. The charge was made by E. T. Hall, a farmer residing a few miles north of Salem, and was to the effect that he (Hall) had stored 204 bushels of wheat with Humphrey, in the month of August, 1900, and received two load checks therefor, agreeing to pay 2 1/2¢ per bushel storage.

After the storing of the wheat Mr. Hall called upon Mr. Humphrey at several different times and offered to sell his wheat, but Mr. Humphrey at each time put him off by saying that he was not able to buy the wheat. Finally, Mr. Hall demanded his wheat of Mr. Humphrey, and was told by him that he had neither the wheat nor the money with which to buy it. Some time in March, 1901, Mr. Humphrey called a meeting of the storekeepers at his warehouse, at which meeting he admitted that he was short between $900 and 12,000 bushels. At that time several of the storekeepers inspected the warehouse and found there was no wheat in it excepting a few sacks of screenings. All these facts were admitted by the defendant at the trial, except the matter of Mr. Hall demanding his wheat of Mr. Humphrey, the latter claiming that he had contracted with Mr. Hall to purchase his wheat, and denied having made the statement as sworn to by Mr. Hall.

The testimony of G. G. Swarts, the agent and weigher for Mr. Humphrey at his warehouse in this city, was to the effect that Mr. Humphrey had shipped the wheat stored by Mr. Hall away, together with all other wheat in his warehouse, to several firms in San Francisco, and that the bins were pretty well cleaned up before any new wheat was taken in for the 1900 crop. While the case was pending trial counsel for Mr. Humphrey petitioned the court for a change of venue, supported by the affidavits of 27 other persons to the effect that the defendant's failure had been generally discussed and a very bitter feeling prevailed against him, and all joining in the opinion that it would be impossible for him to secure an impartial trial in either of the counties of Benton, Clackamas, Lane, Lincoln, Polk, Tillamook, Washington, Yamhill or Marion. Counter affidavits were filed by the State, with the result that the motion for a change of venue was denied and the case came to trial, during the February term, 1902, before a jury, composed of J. L. Calvert, Frank Smith, M. Michael, M. A. Barker, L. D. Kelly, J. B. Seeley, F. A. Mangold, J. L. Steiner, A. Dawson, D. H. Looney, O. E. Thompson and S. W. Jones, which, after a short deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty, and the court imposed a sentence of two years from which judgment and sentence the defendant's counsel took an appeal to the Supreme Court, and this tribunal, on December 15, 1902, rendered an opinion confirming the judgment of the trial court.

Twenty days were then given the defendant by law in which to file a motion for a new trial, but as the time expired and no motion was filed, an execution was issued and the defendant was taken in custody by the Sheriff and started for the penitentiary. When the carriage which was conveying them was in the act of passing the State House, however, Governor Chamberlain had granted a reprieve of 30 days, which was served upon the Sheriff and the prisoner was released, pending the presentation of a petition for pardon, which was then in circulation.

There were five petitions in all, bearing in the aggregate in the neighborhood of 500 names, and set forth in substance that Humphrey came of a family against whom no charge of crime, either of a legal or social character, has ever been preferred, and that he himself had always sustained the reputation which he had inherited. Since the judgment of the court Mr. Humphreys has been employed by the firm of Albers & Schneider, of Portland, at a good salary.

The petition states that there was no evidence adduced of his ever having expended or used any money on his own account beyond the ordinary expenses of his family, that he came out of the venture in destitute circumstances, and, as a final plea, that Mr. Humphrey does not belong to the criminal class of the community; that he has always sustained a reputation above reproach, and that, if there was a shortage in his accounts, it is not due to any failure of his which involved criminality or even moral turpitude.

and that if he were compelled to go to prison, his family, consisting of a wife and five children, would be thrown upon the mercy of the world, with no means of support and in destitute circumstances. The petitions are voluminous documents. It was said by many that it was the most complete and strongest instrument of the kind ever presented to the Chief Executive, and besides bearing the names of nearly all the prominent men in Marion county and a number of the members of the last Legislature, it bore the names of nine of the twelve jurors who sat upon the case, as follows: D. H. Looney, A. Dawson, F. A. Mangold, M. A. Wade, L. D. Kelly, N. Mickel, J. B. Seeley, S. W. Jones, and J. L. Calvert, and was supplemented by personal letters from such prominent and influential business men as Dr. E. L. Irvine, of Portland; John B. Waldo, of Macleay; P. H. Raymond, assistant postmaster, Salem; B. Lee Paget, secretary of Portland Trust Company of Oregon; J. V. Gottra, of Portland; President Samuel Connell, of the Pacific Coast Milling Co., of Portland; Wm. Hager, of Portland, and the Albers & Schneider Company, of Portland.

GOVERNOR CHAMBERLAIN DELIVERED ADDRESS OF WELCOME AND HON. JACOB VOORHEES PRESIDED—REVIEW OF PROGRESS OF ASSOCIATIONS.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

A fair sized audience of representative men and women assembled at the City Hall last evening to hear Hon. Aaron Jones, of Indiana, Master of the National Grange of the order of Patrons of Husbandry. The meeting was opened by a selection rendered by members of the Willamette University glee club. Ex-Senator Jacob Voorhees, of Woodburn, was the presiding officer, and Governor George E. Chamberlain delivered the formal address of welcome.

He reviewed briefly the progress of the associations in the interest and study of agriculture from the early days of this republic, and spoke encouragingly of the work and progress of the Grange. He gave a warm welcome to Mr. Jones in his visit to the great Willamette Valley.

An address of welcome on the part of the Grangers was delivered by Judge R. P. Boise, who took occasion to demonstrate the importance of agricultural interests in its relation to general prosperity. Mr. Boise spoke of his first meeting with Mr. Jones, in the National Grange 22 years ago, and of the several meetings since, and spoke highly of the gentleman's qualities. He then introduced the speaker of the evening, and in his opening remarks Mr. Jones expressed much pleasure with his visit, and declared that he was delighted with the great State of Oregon, and that he found it a much better state than he had estimated it to be.

Referring to the Grange, he said in part: "The object and purpose of our order is to educate and elevate the agricultural masses; we act in co-operation with the church and educational institutions of our country; our order recognizes that the church is necessary for the highest type of citizenship, and it recognizes the public school as being necessary to educate our children for the active duties of life; it aims to teach the best methods of culture and growth, so that the best possible results can be obtained in the production and development of plant and animal life. This can only be attained by education and study, and the more intelligent, the more educated the farming masses become, the greater will be the perfection of product and the success of husbandry."

Mr. Jones said the people of Oregon are blessed with a grand paradise, but it is sadly in need of development. He said he had seen millions of dollars' worth of developed wealth running to waste since he has come to the state, and he wanted to see the mountain streams harnessed and doing the work of manufacturing and working up nature's products into wealth-producing commodities. He wanted to see those developments bring thousands of new people into these valleys; people who will, while engaged in manufacturing industries, in building electric roads, constructing fine homes and building big cities, create a demand for the products of the farm, the orchard, the garden and the dairy, spreading prosperity in all directions. He said the Grange numbers about half a million strong, and is growing at the rate of about 2000 each week. He is not going to advise the farmers to work long, or hours morning and night in physical toil, but would counsel less drudgery and more brain work, for the time had come when brains and intelligence were as necessary and profitable in the agricultural field as in any other field of human effort.

He was pleased to say that the business and manufacturing interests of the country had come to recognize the good work being accomplished by the Grange and that they are now ready to encourage and to substantially assist the order, while in former years those interests were greatly prejudiced against the Grange, by reason of some mistakes which had been made in the early days of the organization.

Mr. Jones took pride in the fact that the Grange had forced the establishment of a Department of Agriculture in the national government with a cabinet officer at its head. He also claimed credit for the interstate commerce law and its consequent great saving of freight rates; also that the Grange was responsible for the introduction of rural mail delivery.

The audience was well pleased with the address, and found Mr. Jones an interesting speaker. The address was delivered in plain, ordinary language, the speaker presenting his facts in an agreeable way, without attempt at oratory.

GRANGE CONVENTION DELEGATES ELECTED TO ATTEND THE STATE GRANGE AT OREGON CITY.

Marion County Grange convention convened in Salem Grange hall yesterday. Four Granges were represented. The following were elected representatives and alternates to the State Grange which meets in Oregon City, May 26, 1903.

Representatives—J. M. W. Bonney, and Mrs. Janet Bonney, Woodburn; H. C. Fletcher and Mrs. Zella Fletcher, Salem. Alternates—C. F. Leatherman, Mrs. C. F. Leatherman, T. J. Clark and Mrs. T. J. Clark, Salem.

A resolution was adopted asking the State Grange to grant representation to the Pomona Granges of the state.

INDICATIONS OF SPRING—There are indications of the approach of spring on every hand. There is beginning to be a balmy feeling in the atmosphere; the sunshine takes the chill off. The vegetable kingdom begins to show signs of life and vigor, and the early flowers are heralding the biting of the frosty nights, for the average date of the last "killing" frost in spring is only two days off. The frogs begin to sing one to sleep or keep one awake, owing to the condition of one's nerves or conscience. And then the Lenten season is drawing to a close, the most remarkable evidence of which is the announcement of projected millinery openings. Miss Minnie Evans, proprietor of the White Corner Millinery Department, is out with her announcement, in this morning's Statesman, for Tuesday of this week, and no doubt all the others will follow quickly, for every woman must have something new on Easter Sunday, which is on the 12th of April, and that date is not far distant. The feet of spring is in the air, and all Salemites have to prepare for busy times, for there will be no occasion for idleness from this time on, unless one is too lazy to work or to get out and enjoy himself, and when a fellow gets that lazy here in Oregon, it is time to bury him.

KILLED SIX PASSENGERS MEXICAN BANDITS HELD UP AND ROBBED A CALIFORNIA STAGE.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 13.—A dispatch from Tucson, Ariz., to the Herald says: Mexican bandits held up the stage which runs between Potomac and Torin, on the Yaqui River, in Sonora, on last Tuesday night, killing all of the six passengers. Among them was Filberto Alverado, a wealthy Mexican, who owns a number of ranches along the Yaqui River. The authorities at Guaymas were at once notified.

Alverado and his wife had taken the stage from Potomac to Torin, and the bandits no doubt thought that he carried a large sum of money with him. The stage carried very little mail and rarely any money or valuables, so that Alverado must have been the mark for the bandits. The hold-up took place about half way between two towns, but just how the stage was attacked will never be known, as all of the passengers and driver were killed. They were picked up the same afternoon of the tragedy, and the circumstances give evidence that they put up a fight, else they would not have all been killed. Their bodies were rife of everything of value on them. The traces had been cut and the horses had been allowed to run wild. The cover of the stage and the body were both shot full of holes.

It is thought by the Guaymas authorities that the perpetrator of the deed were some of the bandits who have taken refuge in the mountains back of the Yaqui River and were laying for Alverado. Friends of the murdered ranch owner say that he had little money with him at the time. Alverado had been married only two months. With him were Senorita Julia Berdo and Senorita C. H. de Gonzalez, both of prominent families in that country and both of whom were murdered.

TRIED TO EVADE LAW TREASURER OF RIZAL PROVINCE, IN PHILIPPINES, TOOK DOSE OF POISON.

MANILA, P. I., March 13.—Bartlett Sinclair, treasurer of Rizal Province, attempted to commit suicide today by taking poison in the office of the Attorney General, when informed that the government intended to prosecute him for neglecting his office and permitting the peculation of funds.

Has Good Reputation. Boise, Idaho, March 13.—Bartlett Sinclair, in 1898, was elected State Auditor. After the riot in the Coeur D'Alenes, in April, 1890, Governor Steunenberg appointed him as his personal representative in the administration of affairs in Shoshone county under the rule of martial law. After going out of office, in 1901, Sinclair secured an appointment in the Philippines through Governor Taft. He is highly esteemed here.

THE BENEFIT OF CHANGE. We are like house plants. We need a change of soil now and then—to be replanted. New scenes, new experiences, new surroundings—a change of climate, dry air instead of moisture, sunshine in place of cloud. This is sometimes essential to health. There are conditions near at hand that are better than Europe can offer. Take a month or two in California. Plant yourself for a time where there are no irritations, where the hotel is beyond criticism, the landscape pleasing, and where warm sunny weather invites to walks and drives. Pure and dry air, and the increased electric influences of sunshine are vastly helpful.

You can make this trip at very little expense, and enjoy a ride over the scenic Siskiyou and Shasta mountains which, at this time of the year, with their snow-covered peaks, are unsurpassed for their grandeur.
