NEWS FROM WEST SIDE

Dallas Schools Find It Necessary to Purchase Adjacent Property

POLK COUNTY TEACHERS TO HOLD AN INSTITUTE NEXT SATURDAY—PREPARATIONS FOR CARNIVAL ALMOST COMPLETE—NIGHT TELEPHONE SERVICE.

DALLAS, Ore., March 16.—Negotiations are in progress to enlarge the holdings of the public school real estate. For many years past it has been known that the grounds belonging to the district were too small, which has become more and more apparent each year, as the school has increased, but was not seriously felt owing to the school being allowed to use, as a playground, the unimproved lots adjoining the school property, which belonged to private parties. However, the rise in real estate in Dallas and an intimation that possibly these lots might be sold and improvements be made inconveniently close to the school house, have brought about negotiations for their purchase by the district, which will probably be closed at the next regular meeting of the school board. Dallas school has an eight-room school building, built two years ago, and it is modern in all of its appointments, especially as to ventilation, heating and lighting. There is an average attendance of 300, out of an enumeration of 500. The school is in fine condition, under the efficient management of Prof. W. L. Reynolds and his corps of teachers. One thing noticeable out of the ordinary in district schools, is the fire drill of the scholars, which is complete and effective.

Polk Teachers' Institute.

Dallas, Ore., March 16.—The Polk county teachers' monthly meeting will be held at Independence March 28. Superintendent C. L. Star will be in charge, with the following teachers and professors as instructors: Miss Loreta Smith, Miss Ednelle Collins, Miss M. L. Hampton, Prof. A. F. Chapman and E. M. Smith. The afternoon will be in the main be devoted to an address by Dr. Thompson, of the First Presbyterian Church of Independence. At the noon hour the teachers of Independence public school will serve lunch to all the teachers present.

Dallas Fair Program.
Dallas, Ore., March 16.—The carnival voting contest for queen will be opened soon. Nominations will be made from all the circles in the county, and in addition, the general public will be allowed to make nominations and submit them to the committee of arrangements for approval. Any lady of good character will be allowed to enter the race. The first day of the carnival will be Circle day, and the members of the Circle will hold high carnival. The second day will be Lodge day of the Woodmen of the World; the third day is not mapped out yet, and the fourth is dedicated to the pioneers.

Dallas Notes.
Chesley Embree has been appointed night operator in the telephone office here. One hundred and five telephones are now in operation in Dallas corporation, and it is said that when she gets hitched up with the rural telephones, that perhaps it will be about 200.
Dr. McClish will deliver tonight the third lecture before the ladies' professorship of Dallas College. This is the third in a course of five for the support of a lady professorship in Dallas College.
The Presbyterian people of Dallas are now making preparations for a fair of large proportions, to be held the first week in June next, the proceeds to be devoted to the purchase of a new bell.

Muir & McDonald are now taking their entire stock that was in the vats at the time of the fire, out and washing the coals and cinders from each side separately. This is tedious and expensive; the vats have all to be cleaned and washed after which the stock will be returned to them, with fresh tanning ooze. One thousand hides have to be handled in this way.
SEVERELY SCALDED.
An awful accident happened at Wasco about 11 o'clock Friday forenoon. A little boy 5 years old, and a girl of 3 years old, children of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hecker, who run a hotel at Wasco, fell into a tub of hot water and were severely scalded. They were brought here in the afternoon for treatment.—The Dallas Times-Mountaineer.

MATTERS IN ALL COURTS

Judge Burnett Held Brief Session and Adjourned One Week

RECEIVER'S SALE IN THE LEWIS-HERTZ ACCOUNTING CASE APPROVED BY JUDGE BOISE—CIVIL ACTION IN JUSTICE COURT IS THROWN OUT.

An adjourned session of Department No. 1, of the state circuit court for Marion county, was held by Judge Geo. H. Burnett yesterday. Several motions and demurrers in different cases were heard, and after making the following docket entries, the court adjourned to Monday, March 30:

Clinton Palmer, plaintiff, vs. David Brand, defendant; action for money; depurper to amended complaint overruled; defendant granted until April 16, 1936, to further plead.
F. J. Eldridge, plaintiff, vs. John Hofer and Casper Zorn, defendants; action for damages; defendants' motion to strike out part of amended reply sustained; demurrer to amended reply was overruled as to first further and separate amended reply and otherwise sustained.

Thomas Gibson, plaintiff, vs. Mary F. Gibson, et al., defendants; action for money; defendants' motion to strike out part of complaint sustained.
G. W. Woods, plaintiff, vs. W. F. Dixon, defendant; action for money; settled.

In Second Department.
Judge R. P. Boise also held a brief session of Department No. 2, during which the following entries were made on the docket:

Frank Hugg, plaintiff, vs. Henry Wenderoth, executor, et al., defendants; foreclosure; decree foreclosing mortgage.
A. N. Lewis, plaintiff, vs. John C. Hertz, defendant; suit for accounting; sale by receiver of outstanding accounts approved; receiver directed to make a conveyance of said accounts to purchaser, and that he pay expenses of the sale out of money received therefrom, the remainder to be paid to the creditors of co-partnership pro rata.
W. G. Westcott, et al., plaintiffs, vs. The Washington National Building, Loan and Investment Association, a corporation, defendant; to enforce settlement; decree for plaintiffs.
Judge Boise's court will be in session again this forenoon.

No Cause for Suit.

An action was tried in Justice of the Peace E. D. Horgan's court yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, entitled Joseph Lemmons, by E. F. Bonham, guardian ad litem, plaintiff, vs. Stephen Huber, defendant. Plaintiff alleged that he had in his possession, in July, 1902, 3 1/2 tons of cheat hay stored on the Frank Hall ranch, five miles west of Salem. He claimed that the hay was worth $9 per ton and that the defendant took possession of and used the hay hence the plaintiff asked for judgment for $31.50 and costs and disbursements of the action.

The case was tried before a jury composed of F. A. Wiggins, John Ryan, Frank J. Moore, Frank Meredith, and Herman Barr.
Lemmons Jr. testified that his father sowed the crop and owned it and he brought the action in his own name, alleging that he himself was owner.
After all testimony had been introduced on behalf of plaintiff, W. E. Richardson, attorney for the defendant, moved the court for a non-suit for the reason that he had failed to show that he was the owner of the hay, but that his father was shown to be the owner by the testimony. The nonsuit was granted and the jury discharged. Bonham & Martin appeared as attorneys for the plaintiff.

The plaintiff claims that he will appeal the case to the circuit court.

Upon default of the defendant, in the case of J. B. Fahey, plaintiff, vs. Basil Wagner, defendant, Justice of the Peace Horgan entered judgment against the defendant for $14, the amount prayed for, and the costs.

SNOW IN WHEELER.

An unexpected snowstorm arrived on Monday night, which has been severe on livestock in parts of the country where feed is scarce or all used up. It is reported that Mr. Kiger, of Muddy, who owns three bands of sheep, has lost 1200 head, and other lesser but still heavy losses are reported in Crook and Wasco counties. In Wheeler county the loss so far has been light, but an unusually large quantity of hay has been consumed; in fact, there is but little hay left. There was about four inches of snow here, and about a foot on the high hills to the south, but it is about all gone now. The coldest night was Tuesday, when the thermometer dropped to 14 above zero.—Fossil Journal.

NEW COURT HOUSE.
Morrow county's new court house is finished and the county officers have moved in. It is the finest building in Morrow county and is a credit to the county. From the basement to the roof everything is modern and first-class.

MARRIED.
DIKE-KNUTSON.—At the home of U. S. Rider, on the Garden Road, Salem, Oregon, Sunday, March 15, 1936, at 7 o'clock p. m., Miss Tillie Knutson to Leslie D. Dike, Rev. P. S. Knight officiating.
The groom is foreman of a logging camp in the Santiam country, where they will make their home.

DIED.
PENICIE.—At the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McDowell, five miles west of Salem, in Polk county, Sunday, March 15, 1936, Ida D. wife of J. W. Penicie, aged 38 years, of consumption.
The funeral services were held at the McDowell home yesterday afternoon, and interment was had in the City View cemetery, south of Salem.

The main building is built from hard blue basaltic rock, and the light sand stone trimmings add to its beauty. The solid stone and cement will stand for generations, and the building is large enough to amply accommodate all future demands. The new furniture for the building has not yet arrived and the officers will use the old furniture until the new arrives. The fire proof vaults furnish ample protection for the county records, which will be absolutely safe in the new building.—Heppner Gazette.

THE TRAFFIC IS INCREASING

Southern Pacific Company Will Have to Put on Another Train

BETWEEN SAN FRANCISCO AND PORTLAND IN ORDER TO ACCOMMODATE GROWING BUSINESS—NEW DEPOT TO BE ERRECTED AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

There has been a wonderful increase in the passenger traffic over the lines of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and the tendency is still upward. The increase is not only due to the arrival of the many emigrants from the Eastern states, but to a heavy local traffic as well. The Southern Pacific Company has found its present service to be almost inadequate to properly handle the increased traffic over its Oregon-California line, and information comes from a reliable source that an additional through train is to be put on between Portland and San Francisco.

It may be noted that the passenger traffic in and out of Salem has grown to such proportions that the company finds it necessary to add another man to its present force at the local passenger depot, and it is understood this will be done in the very near future.
Another project under way by the Southern Pacific Company is the building of a passenger depot at the State Fair Grounds. This building will be erected for the accommodation of the company's patrons who travel to and from that point, the number of which is increasing at a rapid rate. As soon as the traffic justifies it is the intention of the company to station an agent in the new depot, which will be a great convenience to the people of that section. This is certainly an indication that Salem and the surrounding country is enjoying a good healthy growth and other improvements may be looked for in the near future.

JAIL LIFE OF LYONS.

The jail life of Lyons is one of quiet. The prisoner takes his meals regularly, sleeps well and talks but very little. He seems to show no desire to obtain his freedom or forestall the hand of the law in its regular course. Nevertheless he is being closely guarded day and night. John Jones is acting as night watch and Shelton Jenkins as day watch.—Eugene Register.

TRIED TO ELOPE.

A man named Fuller has been creating a sensation in the vicinity of Wheatland by paying attentions to a lady school teacher. The couple tried to elope, but their plans were frustrated and it is now reported that the man, having secured all the teacher's ready money, had skipped out, but a suit for divorce filed by Fuller would indicate that he is not going far away.—McMinnville Telephone Register.

PROGRESS OF THE VALLEY

Improvements As Noted by a Statesman Man in Neighboring Towns

FROM THE ASHES OF THE OLD TOWN OF GERVAIS A MODERN CITY OF BEAUTIFUL BRICK BLOCKS IS SPRINGING—OTHER NOTES.

A Statesman reporter Saturday started out for a tour of some of the neighboring Marion county cities to "see what he could see" in the way of progress being made by the neighboring towns down the valley.
On the route he noticed that at Chemawa work had been commenced on the new dormitory for the accommodation of the Indian girls attending the Salem Indian Training School. A gang of laborers were at work on the foundation, and several cars loaded with brick stood on the side track. Gray Bros., of this city, who have the building contract, expect to be about eight months in completing the structure. Promptly at 8:30 o'clock the conductor passed through the car crying "Gervais, Gervais," and in another minute the reporter was left standing on the depot platform with a panorama before him of a peculiar combination—a burnt and blackened district mingled with the confusion of a force of brick masons, carpenters and painters, rushing to completion a block of handsome brick store buildings. The buildings on an entire block facing the railroad are nearing completion and the merchants who are to occupy them are planning and hoping to be able to move in with their stocks of merchandise by April 1. The terrible fire which swept over the unfortunate city on October 5th last, dealt such a sudden and terrible blow to the business men of Gervais that for a time they felt stunned and hardly knew what they would do, but luck and business ability won the day and in a short time the merchants had opened up temporary places of business, and commenced immediately rebuilding more modern and substantial buildings and the result of the terrible fire will be a grand transformation from a town of tumble down shacks and make-shift business buildings to what will be when completed, a beautiful, up-to-date little city that will be second in attractiveness to none in the valley, and will far outrival many.

A handsome double-front store room on the corner is being built by Judge A. J. Beale, and will be occupied, as soon as possible, by the drug store of P. H. Fitzgerald, together with the telephone central station. The drug store is now running in a little shack, built for the purpose, about twelve by fifteen feet, and the room is also occupied by Dr. C. E. White.
Since the fire F. A. Mangold has been running his hardware store amid difficulties in an old warehouse back of the depot, without any windows, but is building a brick store near his old stand in the burnt district, which will soon be ready for occupancy. It is built on a lot which he purchased since the fire of Jim Clark, a former druggist of Gervais, but now residing in Forest Grove.

"Did the fire injure us much," said Mr. Mangold, "well I should say it did. Besides crippling our business by stopping our sales for the time, none of us were fully insured. I am over $2000 poorer than before the fire, and besides I was not able to rent a new building, so was compelled to buy a lot and then build my own store house, and now I have a large sum of money tied up in the property that I could have used in my business."
A couple of handsome saloon buildings have been started up, and one of them is now running full blast, and ready for all comers. The other one will soon be opened by the Capital Brewery Company, of this city.
A. Tandler & Co. rebuilt their store on the site of the old building, immediately after the fire, and since about the first of December their general merchandise business has been doing business as though nothing had happened. John Wise has completed a neat frame building on the northeast corner of the same business block, and recently opened it for the inspection of the general public with a well chosen stock of furniture.

B. A. Nethman, the hardware man, is still doing business in the temporary building constructed just after the demon fire had wrought such havoc, but has commenced excavating and will soon begin building a one-story brick building on the block just south of the one already mentioned. This structure will have a fifty foot front and half of it will be rented.
The Albany Brewing Company has let the contract and building operations will soon begin on the block of a brick saloon, which the company will conduct.
Immediately after being burned out, Dr. J. W. Kerten, who occupied an office in the J. W. Clark building, constructed a cosy little office near his dwelling, two blocks east of the main business street. He now has a very neat suite of rooms nicely furnished, including an operating room, and a full supply of drugs used in his practice. Dr. Kerten has been in Gervais a little over three years and has built up a lucrative practice.
Building is active in the residence portion of this thriving little city, and quite a number of plans are being formulated for building dwelling houses, among them being a neat little cottage by A. R. Siegmund, a brother of John Siegmund, Marion county's genial recorder of conveyances.
John C. Barnes, the liverman, is to build a neat frame dwelling house in the near future, which will cost in the neighborhood of $1000.
P. F. Plattner has just completed a comfortable and substantial cottage just south of the business portion of the city.
The enterprising citizens of Gervais are building and planning to build a large amount of new sidewalk, both in the burnt district and in other portions of the town.
The manager of McKinley Mitchell's large grain, potato, and commission business, Mr. Best, stated that plans were in progress for the erection of a large potato warehouse, to replace the one destroyed by the October fire. He has worked off most of the potatoes in his warehouse, but has grave fears as to the prospect of finding a market for all of the potatoes in the farmers' hands in the vicinity of Gervais. Most of them have speculated on the tubers, hoping to secure a higher price in the spring, and the market has gone another way, with absolutely no outlet. Gervais is a great potato center, and usually this crop is very lucrative, but this is an off year, such as often occurs.
Mr. Best commented at great length on the large amount of hops being set out in that neighborhood by the farmers, and also that a great many are going to raise hay to the detriment of the market in these commodities. He thinks that farmers make a great mistake by changing from one crop to another in an endeavor to follow the high market prices. He thinks a system of diversified farming, without becoming panic stricken, as the result of a low price in an off year, would be vastly more profitable for the farmer.

LAST OF THE HERD.
Not a little excitement was created in the city Wednesday afternoon when Frank McCartney came riding in about 1 o'clock on horseback from the mining districts east of the city and announced that he had seen the last of the elk which used to roam in this vicinity on a side hill near the Perry mine. Just this side of the Virtue. He was an old buck, all alone, and was lean in flesh and faded. Evidently the king of the forest was a long ways off his range and was tired and sore. He carried a magnificent pair of antlers and when last seen was headed in the direction of Powder river. It has been very many years since an elk, and leader of the herd, has been seen so near Baker City. As soon as the news was spread, Joe Buckley got a number of men together, furnished them horses, and sent them out on the trail in an effort to capture the elk alive. It is reasonable to suppose that Mr. Elk now being within the limits of civilization, thin and tired from a long journey and surrounded by barbed wire fences, will not be difficult to capture. If he is secured Mr. Buckley will place him in the new city park.—Baker City Democrat.
