DEAD BODY FOUND

NEAR THE SANTIAM RIVER.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Last Sunday morning at 10 o'clock Mr. Swick, who lives near the north forn of the Santiam river, discovered the body of a man in a bad state of putrefaction lodged in a small inlet to

The body was identified as that of McRae, the man who was drowned in the north fork of the Santiam, on Deember 4 last, while attempting to ros the risver in a small boat. The boat was capsized while McRae was trying to carry a rope to the other side. McRae disappeared, and no trace was since found of him until last Sunday. He lived in Fox Valley.

Coroner A. M. Clough was notified of the discovery, but he did not consider that the case needed investigation, so ordered the body buried.

A GRIM JOKE.

The value of a joke often depends upon the viewpoint of the people who hear it. There was an interesting incident recently before the American Orthopedic Association at the Arlington, when one of the members was describing an operation which resulted in the death of the patient. He told all about the first symptoms of the case of hip disease and of the operations that were elements of the case that were not known at the time of the op-

Mr. Blakely and Mr. Gettings have been in this city for the past two years, and are well known here. Suburb St. Johns

This suburb lies on the Willamette River below the bridges (40 minutes by electric line to the center of the city) and is the only Port. land suburb having a deep ship channel and wide ha bor, and ficilities for commerce by both river and railroad. In April, 1902, the O. R & N. Co. completed its line to St. Johns, and thereby opened this subarb for commerce. Since that time its grow h has been phenomenal. Its population has doubled and trebled. At that time there was not an inindustry in the place. Now several mills are in operation, one is nearing completion and others are breaking ground; but the greatest event in the history of the place was the location of the dry dock at St. Johns, which took place a few weeks ago. This in itself is a testimonial to the superior commercial advantages of the place, and is a prophecy of its future, for shipping must congregate about the dry-dock. In less than two years time we have obtained industries occupying over four thousand feet of water frontage. The work of building these plants alone cannot be completed until Fall, and in the meantime homes must be built to house the laborers in these new mills. There is not an empty house in St. Johns. The growth of this place has only just begun. It has a great stretch of unoccupied water frontage superior to any other in the city. This water frontage will build up a great town.

German Coach Stallion

Pylos, No. 1753

Description:—Pylos is a very dark bay with black points, no white. He is 4 years old this spring; is 16% hands high and weighs 1450 pounds. He has fine style, good action, with the very best of legs and feet, and is certainly an ideal horse in every respect.

The German Coach Stallion is no longer an experiment; it has been fully demonstrated that no other breed of coach horse will sire from all kinds of mares, the class of horses now being produced by them. They get the size, color, tyle and the best of all, the extree knee action, and st all the markets demand the highest price They are the finest coach horses in the world, the result of breeding in one line for a great length of time. They run in height from 16 to 16% hands high, weighing from 1850 to 1450 pounds. They mature very young and are fit for work at two years old, and for breeding purpose they are horses that produce all about one size, all dark, deep color, and are the only genuine coach and general purpose horse. Being so purely and strongly bred, they reproduce themselves with wonderful certainty, and in the colt you see almost the image of his sire. This is not surprising when we know these horses have been so carefully bred in one line by the German government for several hundred years, and are probably the purest bred horse that has long been wanted, and suits the eye of everyone, as he has the color, size, style, action and finish.
