Barring the game of Saturday, and, despite the threatening showers in the afternoon, Sunday's game of ball between the Raglans and the Blues was the best exhibition of the national game played of the league series at C. A. A. C. Park in this city, resulting in a victory for the Raglans by a score of 10 to 2. Both teams were at their best; the field was in excellent condition, and it was the cleanest game, too, or one of the cleanest, that has been played this season. The Albany team, while it was clearly outclassed by the Salem aggregation in both games, is composed of perfect gentlemen and ball players and it gives one great satisfaction and pleasure to witness such sport which was entirely free from all unpleasant features that are incident to a game of baseball or football. There was a goodly sized crowd of spectators and it is needless to say that every one who attended the game was highly pleased with the event and it is to be regretted that the Albany team has made its final appearance upon the Salem diamond unless the season is extended, and it is to be hoped it will. Manager Barrett is no less the gentleman than all of his players and he deserves credit for his able management of the team every member of which entertains naught but the greatest respect for him.

The winning of these two games, and the failure of the Roseburg and Eugene teams to play at Eugene on Sunday, on account of rain, has again placed Salem at the head of the list and with the present splendid aggregation of baseballists, she bids fair to maintain the lead until the end of the season and the pennant is laid at her feet. Eugene and Roseburg may play the last game on next Saturday or Sunday, and if Roseburg beats Eugene it will again put Salem and Roseburg on an equal percentage and it will then be a hard battle from this time until the finish.

The people, the players, and even the weather, after the game had begun, seemed to be in perfect accord for ball playing, and the game was chock full of brilliant features from beginning to end. "Southpaw" Lucas pitched a splendid game of ball and demonstrated to the satisfaction of all concerned that he is fast getting control of the leather globe and bids fair to gain a great reputation as a twister, if ly pitched a beautiful game on Sunday, and a quick and wide curve and he succeeded in cutting twelve more notches in the handle of his tomahawk to the great discomfort of the Blues, who thought they would have an easy thing with Lucas in the box.

Manager Irwin has shown good generalship in securing such good men to strengthen the team as Haynes, Cornford, Gell and Patterson, for they know the game to the minutest detail, and never fail to put a quletus upon the bounding leather when it goes cavorting into their territory. Captain Haynes, the new first baseman, not only plays his position to perfection by getting everything in sight, but he has put the boys through a course of sprouts and they all get up on their toes the minute the ball is put into play and play the game for all-there is in it.

Tube Sanders is a regular cyclone in the center of the cabbage patch and has been playing a star game ever since he has been assigned the position. "Happy" St and Whirlwind Downie are always at home in their respective positions and the people all wear a broad and confident smile when the sphere launches out in their direction, and Teabo, well, everybody knows his game, and he certainly plays it at all times.

The principal features of the game were, two home runs by Patterson, which created a wild uproar in the grandstand and on the bleachers, his splendid work at short, a long running catch by Rupert, Albany's centre fielder, which feat seemed almost superhuman, and he was accorded a splendid ovation for his successful effort; and a fine double play from Lucas to Haynes and Haynes to Teabo. This brilliant play took place in the first innings and was really the beginning of the afternoon's festivities, for it put the crowd in an excellent humor for the other features which occurred during the game.

In the first inning the home team took to the pasture and set up pins for the Blues. Snyder took up the stick and made two efforts to swat the buckskin, but he missed it and got to the first station upon an error by Lucas. Bredemier then touched it up for a single and Snyder got to third on another by Lucas. Whitney battled a fight one into Lucas' hands, who deftly delivered it over to "Babe" Haynes, where it was not delayed for a second, but went down to Teabo two seconds ahead of schedule time and caught Snyder as he was trying to secure passage on Whitney's mileage book. Meyer came up for a try, but he went down and out in one, two, three order, an easy victim for Biff.

"Happy" St tried his luck and succeeded in hitting one baby, but he failed to knock it down and he didn't get his cigar. Teabo came up and spent his last nickel and took a back seat. Patterson was more fortunate, took the first bag on a clean hit and was advanced to second by Haynes, who didn't hit anything but air, but was given a promenade. After this the fireworks began for Gell, Sanders, Downie and Cornford, all succeeded in finding Bilyeu to the extent of a single a piece, and brought Patterson, Haynes Gell and Sanders galloping in under the wire, but Lucas took three hearty swipes at the atmosphere and Downie and Cornford breathed their last on first and second.

As the curtain went up on the second act, Coates got to first on a fumble by Patterson, but did not reckon with Teabo's whip when he attempted to burglarize Downie's domicile, Rowell delivered the leather a solar plexus blow with the broad side of the cantling and sent it upon a mad career to the long green and he landed safely on second. Bilyeu landed on it for a single and put Coates on third, but they expired in their tracks for foolish McFarland presented Happy with a young fry, Rupert died with wind colic, and the "Blues" went to the funeral.

"Happy" took the contagion and expired in a few minutes afterward, but Teabo presented Rowell with a beautiful bouquet and took his seat with a satisfied smile upon his countenance. Patterson had a determined look upon his visage when he took up the shillalah, cracked the sphere on the cranium and made his escape while the band played "Home Sweet Home," the ladies sighed and Manager Irwin stepped to the front of the stage and presented him with a "glad hand." Haynes tried to repeat the dose, but Snyder, the Raglans took to the turf. They were off in a bunch in the third heat, but "Happy" found a rooster on Snyder's person and the latter got sixty days for the misdemeanor. Bredemier took a moonlight stroll with Kitty Green, while Whitney paid his fare to Brooks and Meyer got "soaked" in the neck and followed him on the next train and they were both brought home upon a bench warrant issued by Judge Coates. Rowell attempted to deadhead Coates home, but he was successful only to a certain extent and Bilyeu butted in and let the cat out of the bag to the extreme disgust of his constituents. Gell was caught in the act of stealing chickens by McFarland and was sent up for petit larceny and Sanders and Downie were both thrown in for trying to obtain bases under false pretenses.

The scene grew tranquil again until the sixth round when Sanders handed Whitney his compliments of the season but they were weighed in the balance and found wanting. Downie would not trust Whitney with his passport and showed his good judgment by landing safely in the arms of Snyder; Cornford sent up a skyrocket, but Bredemier caught hold of the stick and it was a fizzle, while Lucas fell prey to the unerring aim of Whitney. "Happy" came up smiling and sent a Marconi to Rowell, whose receiver was out of order and failed to get the message. Foxy Quiller promaded the lower deck midst a hail of shot and shell; found McFarland asleep at his post and took possession of Whitney's sentry box. Just at that moment the redoubtable Patterson hove in sight and sent a 12-pounder over Rowell's bow and the Raglans came scampering home and four of the fair sex swooned in the grandstand as Patterson came sauntering in wearing a benignant smile and one sail flapping in the breeze. The best of it was that there were already two fatalities on the casualty list.

The made the score 10 to 2 and the rest of the game was a pitcher's battle in which both Lucas and Bilyeu did themselves proud and made a fine finish with twelve scalps in Lucas' belt, and ten gory locks suspended from the waistband of Bilyeu.

COUNT OF THE PIANO VOTES

There Are Now Seventeen Names in the Statesman's Contest

THE LIST WILL PROBABLY LENGTHEN OUT VERY FAST, BUT THE PIANO IS FOR THE YOUNG LADY WHOSE FRIENDS WILL WORK ACTIVELY.

The number of names entered in The Statesman's Christmas Piano contest by their kind friends is lengthening. There are now seventeen contestants, any one of them deserving of the fine $425 Cable piano to be given away by the Statesman on Christmas day.

There will probably be 100 contestants soon. There may before the close be 500 or more, for the Daily and Weekly Statesman cover a wide territory, and there are many deserving young ladies among the friends and subscribers. But the piano will go to some young lady whose friends will take an interest in her case, or who will take an interest in her own case, and work for paid in advance subscriptions.

There is a vote for every cent paid in advance for the Daily or Twice-a-Week Statesman or for the Home-Steer, Teachers' Monthly or Poultry Journal, published from The Statesman building.

The thing to do is to get into the contest early, and to stay as near to the head of the list as possible all through the contest, for those who are near the head will get many votes of those who like to help a winner.

There will be a count at least once a week, and probably much oftener. The following is the way it stands now:

Miss Helen McCoy	700
Miss Musa Geer	500
Miss Mabel Carter	500
Miss Mabel Jones, Brooks	500
Miss Orletta Kraut, Aurora	375
Miss Willow E. Pugh	150
Miss Ruth Gabrielson	130
Miss Nettie Beckner	130
Miss Beatrice Shelton	100
Miss Mabel Kenady, Woodburn	100
Miss Lulu Jones, Jefferson	100
Miss Morcom, Woodburn	100
Miss Katie Perrine	75
Miss Remoh Holland	65
Miss Delphin Cornoyer	65
Miss Allena Mellen	65
Miss Mabel Bean	50
