

FITTING END TO CARNIVAL

Over Thirteen Thousand People Visited the Grounds Yesterday

SEVERAL ATTRACTIVE EVENTS DID NOT COME OFF—DIAS PRESENTED TO QUEEN AGNES I—ONE MAN INJURED BY FIREWORKS

(From Sunday's Daily.)
By yesterday morning the greater portion of the people of the city were already tired of the long week of Carnival, but most of the people from the country had not visited it before, and so were drawn to Salem for the celebration, and many extra attractions were offered. The committee had provided many pleasant diversions and attractions besides the Carnival proper, but for one reason or another, several of them failed to materialize, and the day fell short of the expectations of most of the visitors.

The parade was pulled off about on schedule time, and all of the features promised were present, except the floats, and in this matter the business men of Salem showed very little enterprise or public spirit. An originally designed float is a splendid advertisement for the house it represents, and will attract the attention of more people on such an occasion than is possible in any other way. The usual custom is to raise money for a celebration by subscription, but this time no one was called upon for a penny.

The Bancroft Optical Company furnished a very beautiful float which attracted wide attention. The Salem Military Band led the procession, followed by Queen Agnes I, and Queen Ann II, and their courts, bedecked in the splendor of their Carnival robes. Queen Agnes braved the drizzling rain without an umbrella and was kept busy acknowledging the ovations of her loyal subjects. In the first carriage were Queen Agnes I and Henry W. Meyers, Lord High Chamberlain. Misses Maud Mackay and Mabel Jones, maids of honor, rode in the next carriage, and then came Queen Ann II, of Dallas, and Frank Kerlake, Lord High Chamberlain, Misses Inetta Hooper and Miss Hallie Morrison, maids of honor.

Misses August Hucklestein, J. G. Graham, Milton Meyers and W. E. Shorman, of the Carnival committee, rode the two camels, "Holy Moses" and "Alfonse."

Austin, Jr., the great clown, rode his pet donkey, and Arnold's nine cage menagerie followed, with the lion cage open.

The country store took a very important part in the parade. Mrs. R. L. Davenport rode in a buggy, and everybody recognized her as the principal drawing card of attraction for the Country Store during the week. She was followed by the Country Store Itube Band.

The grand balloon ascension, which was to have taken place at 11 o'clock, did not come off at all. Prof. Miller, the aeronaut, was ready at the appointed hour, but the committee changed the time to 1 o'clock, and by that time a strong wind had arisen, and Prof. Miller would not take the risk. During the afternoon the wind became stronger instead of weaker, and the celebrated aeronaut was finally compelled to give up the attempt, although he expressed great regret at being compelled to disappoint the expectant crowd, and losing the money which he was to receive for the ascension. "But," said he, "most aeronauts lose their lives early in their career, and I would have been dead long ago, had I not refused to take any dangerous risks."

Were Many Fizzles.

The much talked of Mardi Gras parade did not take place last night as was intended, but a few of the visitors to the Carnival at night wore masks.

It was by far the largest attendance of any night during the week. About 8,000 people paid at the main entrance, and the big tent was more than crowded. Queen Agnes I, and her court, and Queen Ann II, of Dallas, and her court, occupied the thrones on the stage last night, both monarchs being adorned in their royal robes. During the evening, Manager Judah appeared upon the stage and in a few well chosen words announced that E. J. Arnold had presented Queen Agnes with the beautiful throne which she was then occupying. It is a handsome affair, and will be a pleasant reminder of the brief and successful reign of Queen Agnes I. over Greater Salem.

The Grand Fireworks.

The grand pyrotechnic display which was set off on the open space between the Carnival grounds and the Federal building. They were not set off until 11:30 o'clock, and lasted just thirty minutes, including the dispute as to which direction they should be thrown. A few of the first rockets were thrown toward the Carnival grounds, and it did not take many minutes for E. J. Arnold to get to the spot and demand that no more rockets be thrown in that direction. The majority of the great crowd had already gone home on account of the lateness of the hour, but there was still probably a thousand people left to witness the little display. A good many gathered around the spot where the fireworks were set off, but the greater portion were on the postoffice grounds.

The fireworks consisted of 223 assorted rockets, and a few bombs, besides the final piece "Salem." The rockets, many of them failed to go off properly, and were very dangerous, flying in any direction but the proper one. The greater portion, however, went as they were intended, and made a very pretty display. The last piece, "Salem," presented by the manufacturer, Paul Siebert, of Aurora, was a beautiful piece, and reflected great credit on the donor. The word "Salem" stood out in bold relief surrounded by a pretty design, including several revolving pieces, and colored fire.

Struck by a Rocket.

The danger of such fireworks, when set off in the midst of a crowd, was plainly seen last night, and the evening's festivities resulted in the serious injury of Mr. J. F. Wilcox, who was standing about thirty feet away. One of the large rockets, instead of going up as was intended, shot out to the left with terrific force, and struck Mr. Wilcox squarely on the breast, knocking him backward about ten feet and prostrating him. The man was carried to a safe distance, and a hasty examination showed that no injury was visible beyond a severe cut on the chin, but he was suffering agony, and Dr. F. E. Smith was summoned. A carriage was also ordered and the injured man was removed to his home near the North Salem School. Dr. Smith was not sure, but from the hasty examination thought that one of Wilcox's right ribs was fractured. Later, however, it was determined that no bones were broken, and, although he was slightly injured internally, and badly shaken up, it is hoped that no serious effects will result.

By the time the fireworks were over the Grand Mid Summer Carnival was already partly torn down. The big shows will be taken to Portland this morning to form an important part of the Woodmen Carnival in that city.

DESTROYED BY ANGRY FLAMES

Handsome Residence of James N. Shantz Is a Total Loss

FIRE DEPARTMENT COULD NOT RESPOND TO CALL, AS HOUSE WAS OUTSIDE OF CITY LIMITS—PART OF FURNITURE WAS SAVED.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

The handsome residence of James N. Shantz, on the northwest corner of Market and Fifth street, in North Salem, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. Mr. Shantz and family left home about 2:30 o'clock, and came up town to attend the Carnival, and upon returning home late in the afternoon found their elegant home in ruins. The flames were seen issuing from the building by the neighbors at 4 o'clock, and an alarm was at once turned in, but the house being outside of the city limits the fire department could not respond.

A part of the furniture in the building was saved by the neighbors, but the house was consumed by the angry flames and is a total loss. A large water tower, probably the finest in the city, which stood close to the dwelling, was also destroyed.

The building was a modern two-story frame, contained ten rooms, besides a number of closets, and with the furniture destroyed was valued at $5,000.

Mr. Shantz carried between $1,600 and $1,700 insurance on the building, contents and barn, the policy being written in the Oregon Fire Relief Association, of McMinnville.

The barn was not destroyed. The house was practically new, having been built but three years ago this summer.

When the fire was first discovered, the flames were issuing from the kitchen part, and it is supposed that the cause of the conflagration was a defective flue, the walls probably having ignited from a fire built in the kitchen stove at noon, and smoldering, were fanned into a flame by the strong wind which was blowing, after the family left the house.

The destruction of the property is a severe blow to Mr. Shantz and his family, who deserve the sympathy of their neighbors and friends in their sudden misfortune.

Small Chimney Fire.

A second fire alarm was turned in last night from the residence of Mrs. M. N. Chapman, No. 303 Union street, but after the fire department had made a quick run to the house it was found to be only a chimney fire, but the boys turned a stream on the roof, and remained there until the fire had died down and all danger was past.

A NARROW ESCAPE

DRUNKEN MAN DELIBERATELY WALKED OVER RIVER BANK ON COURT STREET.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Yesterday afternoon one of the visitors attracted to the city by the carnival, Mike McDonald, began to feel the effects of "fire water," of which he had been imbibing too freely, and wandered toward the river to cool off, but he came near getting more of a cooling than he was looking for. He went down to the water edge on Court street, and deliberately walked over the bank. He was seen by Fire Chief Johnson and Special Officer Longcore, who went over to see what had become of him. They found the drunken man lying close to the water's edge and unable to get up. Another roll would have put him in the water, and it is very deep at that point. The officers assisted the man up the bank, and to the city jail, where he could at least rest in less danger. The officers say it was one chance in a thousand that he escaped death, either by striking the rocks after the long fall, or by drowning.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Golobick, of Colusa, Cal., writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for liver and kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by D. J. Fry, druggist.

BIG SHOW OF FINE HORSES

Largest Crowd of the Carnival Season in Attendance at Albany

LEADING FEATURE WAS EXHIBITION OF BEST BLOODED ANIMALS IN WILLAMETTE VALLEY—BIG PARADE THROUGH PRINCIPAL STREETS.

ALBANY, Or., July 4.—An exhibit of a large number of the best blooded horses in the Willamette Valley was the leading feature of the carnival yesterday. The horse show was very successful and proved to be one of the best events of carnival week. The show was opened with a long parade through the principal streets of the city. The best collection of horses ever gathered together in Albany was then exhibited on the square in front of the court house, and attracted large crowds of spectators.

There were a great many exhibitors and contestants for the prizes offered for the best horses in the different classes. The judges of the horses were ex-County Judge George D. Barton and John M. Ralston, of Albany, and Dr. Pierce, of Salem.

Prizes were awarded as follows: Trotting horses, stallion—Special Telegram, owned by G. A. Westgate, of Albany, first place; Alta Rego, owned by Bruce McKnight, of Albany, second place; John A. Crawford, owned by A. Hackleman, of Albany, third place.

Trotting horses, yearlings—Zomona, owned by Dr. A. J. Hedges, of Albany, first place; Lovelace, owned by D. O. Woodworth, of Albany, second place; La Mira, owned by G. A. Westgate, of Albany, third place.

Trotting horses, 2 year olds—George C., owned by Al Thomas, of Albany, first place; Sherwood, owned by J. J. Beard, of Tangent, second place.

Trotting horses, sucking colts—Cablegram, owned by D. O. Woodworth, of Albany, first place; colt, owned by Hiram Parker, of Spicer, second place; colt, owned by Thomas Farlow, third place.

Thoroughbred horses—Max O'Rell, owned by A. G. Porter, of Jefferson, first place.

Clydesdale horses, stallions—Julius, owned by Peter Riley, of Albany, first place; Young Hero, owned by Mark Hurlbut, of Albany, second place; Jim Crack, owned by C. Sharp, of Albany, third place.

Clydesdale yearlings—M. L. Forester, of Tangent, first on stud and first on rally.

Clydesdale sucking colts—Hike Ohlong, of Albany, first place; Peter Riley, of Albany, second place; J. Roth of Lebanon, third place.

Percheron horses, stallion—Don Carlon, owned by Fred Lines, of Albany, first place.

Percherons, sucking colts—Frank Lines, of Albany, first; Claus Minert, Tangent, second; Frank Trites, of Knox Butte, third place.

Shires horses, stallion—Young Corbett, owned by Ed Holloway, of Brownsville, first place.

Belgium horses, stallion—Doc Pedro, owned by Peter Riley, of Albany, first place.

Belgians, sucking colts—John Canavan, of Tangent, first place; J. J. Graham, of Albany, second place; Fred Haefel, of Jefferson, third place.

Jackass—Jericho, owned by Ed Holloway, of Brownsville, first.

Saddle horses—Laddie, owned by R. E. Mason, of Albany, first; Del Norte, owned by L. G. Davis, of Albany, second; Dollie, owned by J. W. Cusick, of Albany, third.

Roadsters, single horse—Lady Pearlwood, owned by D. O. Woodworth, of Albany, first place; Bessie J., owned by Edwin Stone, of Albany, second place; Nellie, owned by L. T. Conser, of Scio, third place.

Roadsters, double team—The teams of William H. Horgan, Peter Anderson and Worth Houston tied.

Except the horse show there were no special attractions. The largest crowd that has yet attended the carnival was present yesterday. Large crowds of people came to the city during the day from the other towns of the county and the surrounding country in order to celebrate the Fourth here today. In anticipation of the anniversary of American Independence fireworks filled the air yesterday evening and everything was lively on the midway.

Use Trib for liquor habit.

Sir Wilfrid Lawson, who recently won a fiercely contested Parliamentary election on his old platform of temperance, is known as England's "grand old man of temperance." He is 73 years old and devoted forty years of his life to the championship of temperance. Sir Wilfrid has been prominent in every Parliamentary crisis for a quarter of a century, and it is said that there is little doubt that he has not identified himself with the cause of temperance he would have been many times a Minister. As it is he has never been a member of the cabinet. He has fought with and against David Dismail, Palmerston, Bright and Gladstone.

Working Night and Day.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. These pills change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fog into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by D. J. Fry.

A servant girls' union recently formed at Holyoke, Mass., has passed these resolutions: "No Sunday night supper will be prepared. No work will be done in the kitchen between 7:30 p. m. and 5:30 a. m.; no babies will be minded between acts of ordinary housework; no children will be allowed in the kitchen; each girl shall have three nights out per week." The documents go on to assert that $5 per week shall be the only rate of wages permitted and that the front door must be available for the "company" of the "help," as well as an apartment more suitable than the kitchen to be used as a reception room.

DEATH OF TEDDY PEIPER.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Without having regained consciousness from the dawn of last Tuesday, when he was found lying unconscious on the street bleeding from ugly wounds in his head, "Teddy" Peiper, who has held nearly every position in the theatrical profession from chorus parts to manager, is dead. So far the authorities have been unable to make anything of the case. It is believed by his relatives that he was held up and robbed. When found Peiper was only half a block from home.

After the war with Spain Peiper became manager of a theater in Havana. The venture was not a success and he recently returned to vaudeville.

SAYS HELL HELP.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The Secretary of War today received a letter from Representative Littauer, of New York, offering to aid the Department in every way in his power in prosecuting the investigation of irregularities in the glove contract.

SALEM YOUTH IN TROUBLE

He Has Confessed to Having Robbed Jos. Meyers & Sons' Store

STOLEN ARTICLES FOUND IN HIS TRUNK AND SUIT CASE—WORK CARRIED ON DURING THE PAST YEAR WHILE EMPLOYED BY THE FIRM.

Harry Fisher, better known by the name of Harry Gillen, is occupying a cell in the City Jail, accused with the crime of larceny in a store. Fisher, who is about 19 years of age, was for several years a clerk in the store of Jos. Meyers & Sons, but about one month ago was discharged from their employ. During the past year many articles of clothing, dry goods, etc., have been missed from the store at various times, but the proprietors were unable to detect the party who was guilty of the thefts.

During the past few days, however, evidence was obtained which fastened the suspicions of the firm on Fisher. He intended to depart for Portland yesterday morning, but missed the boat, and the firm now having become convinced that Fisher was the guilty party, a search warrant was sworn out and placed in the hands of Chief of Police Gibson. The officer at once took possession of a trunk and suit case belonging to Fisher, and upon investigation both were found to be filled with articles stolen from Meyers' store. The young man was at once taken into custody and locked up in the city jail, where later in the day he confessed to having carried on a systematic robbery in the store during the past year.

A charge of petit larceny will probably be preferred against the youthful offender today, and he will be given a hearing before Judge Judah. Mr. Meyers feels inclined to be lenient with his former employe and will endeavor to secure for him, if convicted, the lightest sentence possible. Fisher, as far as is known, has always borne a good reputation and his sudden downfall came as a shock to his associates and acquaintances.

TO TAKE HIM BACK

AGENT FROM OKLAHOMA CAME TO OREGON AFTER GEORGE HAMIL.

Upon the requisition of Governor T. B. Ferguson, of Oklahoma Territory, Governor Chamberlain granted yesterday the extradition of one George Hamill, who was arrested by Sheriff Ford, of Polk county, in Dallas last week, upon information from the sheriff of Garfield county, Oklahoma, where Hamill has been indicted for horse stealing.

According to the requisition papers, the crime of which Hamill was charged was committed on October 14, 1901. He was arraigned and released on bail and his trial set for April 20, 1903; but that he failed to put in an appearance. Hamill was jointly indicted with one Mort D. Perkins for the theft of a gelding from one John Pike.

A. S. Morrison was the agent of Oklahoma, who served the requisition and will conduct Hamill back to Oklahoma.

FIRST CLAM BAKE

PRESIDENT AND FAMILY HAVE A ROYAL LUNCHEON AT OYSTER BAY.

OYSTER BAY, July 3.—President Roosevelt today enjoyed his first clam bake of the year. This morning the President and Mrs. Roosevelt entered a light skiff at Sagamore Hill and started for a point on Huntington Bay. There they were joined by their children and their guests who followed them on the Syph. Old-fashioned clam ovens were dug in the sand of the beach and a rare picnic was soon in readiness for the party, the clam bake being supplemented by hamper luncheon brought from the President's home.

EVIL DEVICES SHUNNED.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—An order has been issued at the Postoffice Department discontinuing the contract with the Postal Device & Improvement Company for the purchase of devices for indicating the hours of collection of mail from letter boxes. The order took effect July 1. This is the company in whose behalf it is alleged Representative Loud, of California, visited the Postoffice Department. It is a California concern, and has furnished thousands of devices to the postal service.
