

MADE ANOTHER TAX TRANSFER

County Treasurer Received More Money From Sheriff Colbath Yesterday

AMOUNTS REPRESENTING HALF PAYMENTS MUST BE PAID BEFORE FIRST MONDAY IN OCTOBER TO SAVE PENALTY AND INTEREST.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Sheriff B. B. Colbath yesterday made another turn-over of taxes collected on the 1902 tax roll to County Treasurer W. Y. Richardson. This was the seventh turn-over made by the sheriff since the 1902 tax roll was opened, the amount turned over yesterday being $7,591.50. This brings the grand total of 1902 taxes collected and transferred to the county treasury to $196,581.23, and leaves a balance due the county from this roll of $24,023.46. As a large portion of the unpaid taxes represents half payments, there remains but a small amount uncollected to which penalty and interest will be added. However, the remaining portion of the half payments will have to be paid to the sheriff before the first Monday in October, and if not paid before that time penalty and interest will be added which will date back to the first Monday in April. Sheriff Colbath will close the roll promptly on the first Monday in October, as he desires to get rid of the 1902 roll before receiving the new roll for 1903.

Of the amount turned over yesterday $1,788.83 is credited to the state and county fund; $721.30 to the state school fund; $299.76 to the Salem city and county road fund, and $311.43 to school district No. 24, or Salem.

HAS FAITH IN PRAYER

UBBE PETERS, AT ALBANY, IS ILL, BUT WILL TAKE NO MEDICINE.

ALBANY, Or., Aug. 25.—Ubbe Peters, a well known farmer of Linn county, is lying seriously ill at his home near Albany and is not expected to recover. About three weeks ago he was taken ill with a severe attack of typhoid fever and has been steadily growing worse. He refuses to take medicine or allow a physician to attend him. He is a religious fanatic, having frequently attended street meetings in Albany recently and having preached throughout the county occasionally, and believes in "faith cure." His friends and relatives have pleaded with him in vain to receive medical attention, but he refuses and contents himself with prayer. Mr. Peters is naturally of a very strong and vigorous constitution, and has stood the severe fever very well, considering that he was without medical attention, but it is now thought that he cannot live. His friends say that, because of his natural strength and vitality, he could have recovered from the fever easily had he permitted a physician to attend him.

LAYING FOUNDATION FOR NEW LEAGUE

Board of Directors of Pacific National League Will Try an Experiment in Re-Organization of Baseball League—Will Start With Eight Clubs

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 25.—The meeting of the board of directors of the Pacific National League, scheduled for last Thursday, at Spokane, will be held in Butte that day. At this meeting it is expected the status of the league will be definitely determined. What is said to be the plan of the magnates is to establish an eight-club circuit laying the foundation for the league next season. Salt Lake will doubtless be retained, and a good team placed in Portland and Everett. The Helena and Tacoma franchises will be placed in Vancouver and Whatcom. Should an eight-club league be found impracticable now it is said the magnates will take in Whatcom and Vancouver and finish the season with six clubs.

MUCH DAMAGE TO HOP CROP

But the Grain Did Not Suffer Harm on Account of Rains

PASTURES, CLOVER, CORN, LATE POTATOES AND GARDENS WERE GREATLY BENEFITTED—GRAIN HARVEST ABOUT OVER—WHEAT AND BARLEY ABOVE AVERAGE.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The following report of the weather and crop conditions of Oregon covers the period of the week ending Monday, August 24, and is issued by Section Director Edward A. Beals, for the Oregon section of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Weather Bureau:

The first half of the week was warm and dry in all sections, while the latter part was cool everywhere, with good rains west of the Cascade Mountains, but with none of consequence in the eastern part of the State. The rains did no damage to grain in shock, and they were of great benefit to pastures, clover, corn, late potatoes and gardens. The cloudiness was unfavorable for hops, as it caused an increase of vermin and mould, but as yet the yards have not been damaged to any great extent and the prospect is favorable for a good crop of hops. Pickling will become general in a couple of weeks and the growers are now engaging hands for this work.

The grain harvest is drawing to a close and threshing is now well advanced. Wheat and barley yields are above the average in the Willamette valley, and oats are a splendid crop. East of the Cascade Mountains wheat, barley and oats are yielding well, but falling below last year's returns. The quality of all small grain is better than last year.

Sugar beets, where well cultivated, are doing finely, but this crop needs more rain. Corn has made excellent advancement during the week. Considerable complaint is made of blight affecting the late potatoes in Tillamook and Clatsop counties, but elsewhere they are doing nicely. Prunes have not altogether ceased dropping, but many trees have all they can carry, and the crop, as a whole, will be a big one. Apples are doing well, and Bartlett pears give promise of large returns.

Willamette Valley.

Goble, Columbia County, Frank Webster.—Heavy thunderstorm Saturday, with general rain; week favorable for potatoes, corn and cabbage; early apples and plums are ripe, crop fair. Sherwood, Washington County, Benj. F. Webster.—Grain about all cut and some threshing done; wheat and oats yielding well; late potatoes and gardens in need of rain; hops looking fairly well, but lousy, and with this period of warm, cloudy weather lice are on the increase; owners of several yards in this neighborhood are in doubt as to whether their yards will be worth picking, owing to the lice. Sheridan, Yamhill County, Jno. R. Sanders.—Weather cooler, no rain; threshing in progress; wheat and oats both averaging well; hops in fine condition, very few lice; picking will begin about the 12th.

Liberal, Clackamas County, Silas Wright.—Threshing progressing rapidly; wheat and oats all cut; quality of all kinds of grain is No. 1, and quantity good; apples are still falling; prunes ripening fast. Aurora, Marion County, C. D. F. Wilson.—Threshing well along, with good yields of wheat and oats; fruit and potatoes continue to do well; hops are coming along slowly; some will begin picking the last of the coming week, and by the last of the first week in September the most of the yards will be picking; weather has been favorable for increase of lice.

Brownsville, Linn County, Peter Hume.—Weather generally warm, nights cool; excellent for harvesting; no high winds, rain or frost, except warm rain Saturday; fruit maturing well; good crop of prunes, pears and apples. Waterloo, Linn County, J. H. Turpin.—Fall grain nearly all threshed; yield best for five years; pastures very dry, but stock looks well; corn, though late, is maturing fast; light showers on the 21st and 22d.

Greenleaf, Lane County, Marion P. Wheeler.—Light showers first and last of week; grain all harvested; early apples, prunes and plums ripe a week or more; green corn nearly ready for use; second crop red clover, cut last of July, now blossoming.

Southern Oregon.

Looking Glass, Douglas County, Geo. Marsh.—Some morning cloudy till noon; a light fall of rain at close of week; threshing nearly done; grain good quality; prunes ripening nicely, crop will be fair; no pasture; late gardens need rain. Buncom, Jackson County, J. Parks.—Weather continues warm and dry; all crops doing well where irrigated; range dry; stock doing well; bean and potato crop doing finely; haying completed, yield satisfactory.

Wilderville, Josephine County, J. M. Hoxie.—Good rain on night of 21st; the second crop of alfalfa and clover all safe in barns; early pears and some prunes are ripe; there is a good crop of apples; farmers well up with their work; hops will be a good crop; melons plentiful and of good size.

Columbia River Valley.

Ridgeway, Wasco County, M. U'ren.—Weather very warm, with light showers the latter part of week; the deed was a bold one, and it is to be regretted that there was not some man in the house to give the miscreant the reception he deserved.

About two weeks ago the mosquito bar tacked over a rear window was torn from its fastenings, and impressions left on the lower sash of the window indicated that an attempt was made at that time to gain entrance to the building. Friends of Mrs. Everett are now occupying rooms in her home, and the next intruder will meet with a warm reception.

ASTORIA, Or., Aug. 25.—The Skamokawa annual regatta will be held on next Saturday, and will be on a small scale a repetition of the events held at the Astoria regatta. The voting contest for the selection of a Queen for this regatta closed on last Saturday and resulted in the selection of Miss Selma Brown by a large majority. She is a resident of Cathlamet, an adjoining town, and is extremely popular in that section.

STAMP OUT THE FALSE REPORTS

About the Prevalence of Typhoid Fever Cases in Salem

AN OFFER TO BET THAT THERE ARE NOT TWENTY-FIVE CASES IN ALL THE CITY AT THE PRESENT TIME AT OTHER POINTS OF THE STATE.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Some people, especially some people at the various summer resorts, have been giving Salem a bad reputation with exaggerated reports of the number of cases of typhoid fever here. It has been reported, for instance, that there are two hundred cases of typhoid fever in Salem.

A well known Salem physician yesterday offered to bet that there are not twenty-five cases in the city, including all that have been brought here from outside points, to the hospitals and elsewhere.

There have been some cases of typhoid fever here. There are a few cases now. There are very few new cases. What has caused the typhoid fever no one knows. Take the flies, for instance. There may be a case of typhoid fever ten miles from Salem. The person nursing the case may carelessly empty the faeces in a place where a million flies can get at it, without destroying the germs.

The flies may get the germs onto their legs, wings all over them. A person may be driving past, and a hundred of the flies may follow the rig into town. One of these flies may settle onto the beefsteak of the person who drove past, and if his system is in condition to take the fever, he will take it. There are many other ways in which the germs may be spread.

BOLD ATTEMPT AT ROBBERY

A Sneakthief Made an Early Call at Mrs. Everett's Home

GAINED ENTRANCE TO THE HOUSE THROUGH BATH ROOM WINDOW, BUT WAS FRIGHTEENED AWAY BY THE OCCUPANTS—NOTHING WAS TAKEN.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

A bold attempt was made to burglarize the residence of Mrs. F. C. Everett, 385 Oak street, at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The burglar succeeded in gaining entrance to the house, but was frightened away by the occupants before he could begin the work of purloining valuables. Mrs. Everett and her two granddaughters, the Misses Frances and Irene Howard, aged 15 and 13 years, respectively, were the only occupants in the house. At 2 o'clock a. m. Mrs. Everett was awakened by a noise, but thinking the noise came from the neighbors house, paid no attention to it, in a few moments, however, she heard more noise and being convinced by this time that it was in her own home, she awakened one of her granddaughters and told her to quickly lock the bed room doors, as she was sure there was some one in the back part of the house.

Mrs. Everett, who is quite lame from the effects of rheumatism, and her two granddaughters were occupying the same bed room on the first floor, their home being a one-story cottage with a basement. As the little girl slipped to the door of the bed room she saw there was light in the rear room of the house, and this confirmed Mrs. Everett's belief, but believing that the intruder was some drunken individual, who had made a mistake in the "number," she did not become frightened, but called out in a loud voice and asked who was there. The sneak thief was then heard to make a rush for the back door, but being unable to work the lock he disappeared into the bath room.

The brave little girl went out and aroused the neighbors, who hurried to Mrs. Everett's home, and upon investigation found that the miscreant had gained entrance to the building through a small window in the bath room, and had evidently made his exit by the same way. His muddy shoes left tracks on the floor of the bath room and on the steps, and judging from the noise made by his footsteps Mrs. Everett thinks he must have worn very heavy shoes. Mr. Emmett, who lives just across the street from Mrs. Everett's home heard some one running east along the walk on Oak street just before the little girl gave the alarm, and this is supposed to have been the burglar making his escape.

The deed was a bold one, and it is to be regretted that there was not some man in the house to give the miscreant the reception he deserved.
