Perdaps it will interest you to know that we have undergone a thorough renovation while you were all, busy with your wheat, prunes and hops. Yes, we have decided to make our store an exclusive Suit and Millinery concern and in order to get necessary room we are compelled to sell our dry goods and other stuff that is in the way at a figure that makes our profit look like a star in the milky-way. But you should see our new goods We have filled the store from one end to the other with the latest and most stylish Suits, Furs and Cloaks, including the new Peau de Soie Corset Coats, mannish effects, etc., that the Eastern markets afford. The main point with you lies in the fact that we are perfectly satisfied with a small profit on our goods as we trust to volume of trade to make it count and if fair and courteous treatment, and business-like methods, count for anything, we will make what some wit has called a "howling success." There is no use in quoting prices here, as we would not know either where to begin or stop. Let it suffice to say that we have the right goods, the right salespeople and last, but by no means the leas, the Right Prices.
