STATE FISH COMMISSIONER DESIRES MORE DEFINITE UNDERSTANDING.

Does Not Feel Inclined to Lease Ontario Hatchery to Government Until Members Are Satisfied That It Will Not Cost the State More Money Than It Does at the Present Time.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

At the regular monthly meeting of the State Fish Commission yesterday afternoon, at which Master Fish Warden H. G. Van Dusen was in attendance and made his report, the matter of the proposition of the United States Department of Fisheries, to take over and operate the Ontario fish hatchery from the state, came up for consideration, and the board decided, after a lengthy discussion, to allow the matter to rest for the time being until a more definite understanding can be had as to just what requirements would be exacted from the state in case the transfer was made.

The Ontario hatchery, which was just completed last year at a cost of $15,000, is the largest and best hatchery, and the most advantageously located for effective and satisfactory results of any hatchery on the Pacific Coast with the possible exception of the McClellan river hatchery, near Redlands, California, which has a capacity of 30,000,000 fish per year. The Ontario hatchery, while its full capacity is given as 20,000,000 fish per year, is really capable of taking care of a much larger number for the last count of last year's output showed that 27,000,000 fish had been hatched and turned out into the stream.

The proposition of the government fishery bureau to take over the Ontario hatchery emanated originally from a suggestion made by F. A. Seufert, of the Warren Packing Company, of Portland. Mr. Seufert conceived the idea that the hatchery could be conducted more advantageously and fully by the government than by the state and that the transfer of the hatchery, or rather, a lease of it to the government, would be a great relief to the state from a financial point of view. Mr. Seufert first communicated his proposition to Commissioner Gen. M. Bowers, of the Department of Fisheries, personally, and then to the department through the agency of United States Senator Fulton. Mr. Fulton also took the matter up with the department and received a reply from Mr. Bowers to the effect that the government would be only too glad to take over the hatchery and operate it, if it was found advisable from the view point of the state and the government. Mr. Bowers says, quoting from his letter to Senator Fulton:

"I beg to advise you that the bureau is anxious to do all in its power to maintain and increase the supply of salmon in the Columbia basin, and it aims to take advantage of every opportunity to extend its work of artificial propagation. State and private hatcheries have in a number of instances been operated by the government, and this bureau is ready to cooperate in this way to the full extent of its resources whenever such cooperation is agreeable to the states concerned. The station at Ontario seems to possess exceptional facilities for taking eggs of the chinook salmon, and it is unfortunate that a shortage of funds should prevent the saving of all the available eggs. If the government undertook to run this station, no effort would be spared to operate it to its fullest capacity."

Further in his letter he gives the conditions under which the government station at Ontario seems to possess exceptional facilities for taking eggs of the chinook salmon, and it is unfortunate that a shortage of funds should prevent the saving of all the available eggs.

"The state to provide water for hatching purposes, to keep in repair the buildings and the grounds, to put in and maintain the rack, and to provide the necessary hatching equipment; the government to furnish all necessary labor, to pay all operating expenses, and to return to the river a certain percentage of the fry, say 80 or 90 per cent (probably all the fry would be returned, but a little margin is desirable in order that possible demands for fry from other waters might be met.) The arrangement would, of course, be conditional on congressional appropriations that would admit of new work."

In referring to Mr. Seufert's suggestion that rearing ponds be provided, Mr. Bowers says this meets with hearty approval, and if the state has funds that may be devoted to this purpose, it would greatly increase the efficiency of the hatchery. "Should rearing be made practicable," he says, "the government would meet the running expenses, and would probably have to keep the station open during the entire year."

The only objectionable feature which seems to be taken by the proposition is the condition under which the state is required to fully equip the plant, which it has already done, and put in and maintain all racks and furnish the water supply for hatching purposes. This portion of the work is by far the most expensive of operating the hatchery and so far as the board is concerned, before the proposition is viewed in a favorable light, they would not cost the state more to lease the station to the government under those conditions than it would to operate the hatchery itself besides having the benefit of all of the fry hatched instead of operating the hatchery and then turning over 20 per cent of the product to the government for distribution to other streams.

This 20 per cent of the result of a year's hatch would be a big thing when it is taken into consideration that the minimum output is 15,000,000 fry. It is understood that if the government will agree to take over the plant without requiring any additional expense to

JURY IN LA VIE vs. TOOZE HOP CASE BROUGHT IN SEALED VERDICT.

Charles Thomas Pleaded Guilty to Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses and Was Sentenced to Serve One Year in Penitentiary—Judge Frazier Will Occupy Bench Today.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The second day's session of the regular January term of Judge Burnett's department of the circuit court was taken up by the trial of the hop case of George A. La Vie against Walter L. Tooze, which was begun on Monday. During the day the defense introduced its testimony, after which the respective attorneys presented their argument, the case being given to the jury at 4 p. m. The jury was out until 9 p. m., when it brought in a sealed verdict.

Charles Thomas appeared before the court and withdrew his plea of not guilty, entered the previous day to the information filed against him by District Attorney Hart, and by which he was charged with the crime of obtaining money under false pretenses. He pleaded guilty, waived time, and was sentenced to imprisonment in the Oregon State Penitentiary for a term of one year. The prisoner was transferred to that institution by Sheriff Colbath yesterday afternoon.

Harry E. Allen, who is charged by the information of the district attorney with the crime of forgery, was brought into court and entered a plea of not guilty. His case will come up for trial at 9 a. m. Friday.

The district attorney filed a criminal information against L. D. Massey and Lee J. Jeffries, charging them with the crime of selling spirituous liquor without a license. The defendants, who are confined in the county jail, appeared before the court and were duly arraigned.

After the jury in the La Vie-Tooze hop case had retired for deliberation, the damage suit of Frazier & Long vs. The Western Union Telegraph Company was called. In this case the plaintiffs seek to recover damages for the alleged negligence of the defendant company in delivering an important message to the plaintiffs.

In selecting a jury to try the case the regular panel was exhausted, and a special venire was summoned, as follows: Bent Jones, A. L. Headrick, Hugh Freeland, G. G. Gans, Sam Heimroth and E. T. Malvin.

The following jury was finally selected, after which court adjourned until 9 a. m. this morning: C. F. Hicks, Jacob Miller, Sol Anderson, J. C. Cutsforth, C. Marsh, Charles Hartman, George Kraus, F. W. Steussloff, C. D. Bowen, Bent Jones, E. T. Malvin and Sam Heimroth.

Owing to the death of Judge Burnett's sister, Judge Arthur L. Frazier, of Portland, will occupy the bench today.

AUMSVILLE NOTES.

(From Wednesday's Daily.) Mrs. Frank Shepherd, of Noble, came up on the train Saturday to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Roberts. Grandmother Pound is in Portland visiting with her daughter, Mrs. O. H. Gilbert. Quite a number of young people enjoyed a pleasant party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McKinzie just east of town on last Thursday evening.

Richard Tucker has leased his farm west of town and will move to Coos county, where he expects to remain for two years. At the regular election held by the Aumsville Sunday school, the last Sunday in December, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Superintendent, H. C. Porter; assistant superintendent, Mrs. Chapel; secretary, Miss Ethel Hein; treasurer, Thomas Johnson; librarian, Miss Jessie Reed; organist, Miss Mary Fuson; superintendent home department, Mrs. F. L. Pound. Aumsville, Jan. 5, 1904.

GREATER SALEM REPUBLICAN COUNCIL TAKES CHARGE OF CITY'S ADMINISTRATION.

Mayor Waters Delivers Lengthy Message, Making Important Recommendations—D. W. Pugh Elected Chief of the Fire Department and H. C. Tarpley Street Commissioner.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The first meeting of the Greater Salem council was held at the council chamber in the city hall last evening, with Mayor Frank W. Waters in the chair. The full membership of the new council was present, and for the first time in the history of Salem fourteen aldermen took part in the deliberations of a council meeting.

When the mayor delivered his message to the council, making important recommendations relative to the conducting of the city's affairs in the future, and dwelling at length upon the duty of the body which has just taken charge of the city administration. The message, upon its conclusion, received a hearty demonstration of approval by the members of the council, as well as by the large body of private citizens who occupied seats in the council chamber. The message is printed in full in another column of this issue.

When the mayor had concluded his remarks the council proceeded to elect city officers in the various departments and to dispose of some business which demanded its attention, after which adjournment was taken until Friday evening of this week.

Promptly at 7 o'clock the old council, with Mayor C. P. Bishop in the chair and all the members present, met in adjourned session for the purpose of winding up its affairs before turning the city's administration over to the newly elected body.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The committee on ways and means, to which the annual reports of Recorder Judah and City Treasurer Moir had been referred for examination, reported that the recorder's annual report had been examined and found correct, but asked for further time in which to examine the report of the treasurer. The committee's report was adopted, and the request granted.

There being no further business before the meeting, the council adjourned sine die. The new mayor, who during the brief session of the old council had been honored with a seat by the side of the retiring mayor, at once arose, and bringing the gavel into play, said: "The council will please come to order." The newly elected aldermen came to the front and took their seats, and roll call showed all members present.

On motion of Alderman Gesner, the council proceeded with the election of officers for the ensuing year, which resulted as follows:

Chief of the fire department, D. W. Pugh; engineer, Walter De Long; driver of engine team, W. H. Phillips; driver of hose wagon, Lee Colliard; night policeman, J. W. Lewis; and L. R. Marple; street commissioner, H. C. Tarpley; park commissioner, Mrs. D. J. Fry. Upon motion of Alderman Gesner the election of hosemen was deferred until the next meeting.

The result of the election makes but two changes in the various departments. W. W. Johnson, chief of the fire department, and George Griswold, the street commissioner, being retired. Mr. Johnson was placed in nomination for re-election and received 10 out of a total of fifteen votes. The remaining officers were elected by a unanimous vote of the council, there being no other nominations.

Alderman Gesner, Young and Crossan were appointed a committee to revise the rules governing the proceedings of the council meetings. Alderman Hubbard, Crossan and ChCurrell were appointed to arrange for making a popular loan to redeem the bridge bonds.

Alderman Bayne, Hughes and Downing were named as a committee to arrange for the registration of voters, and the application in general of the Australian ballot law to city elections. A motion was made and adopted providing for the levying of a special 1/2 per cent tax upon the lots adjoining State street, from High to the east limits of the city; upon the lots adjoining Oak street, from Winter to Twelfth, and upon the lots in block 68, for the purpose of meeting the interest on the street improvement and sewer bonds, for which a lien is held against the respective property.

J. C. Thompson appeared before the new council and asked permission to repair the shingle roof over his brick building on Commercial street. The matter was referred to Alderman Hubbard and the chief of the fire department with power to act.

FOR NEW POWER

ELECTRIC LIGHTS OF SALEM WILL BE FURNISHED WITH ELECTRICITY FROM SILVERTON.

New Dam Is Almost Completed to Take the Place of the One Washed Away in October—Crew of Twenty Men at Work Erecting Poles and Wiring for New Line.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

According to the present plans, the Citizens Light & Traction Company of this city will be furnishing the city of Salem with electric lights and power from Silverton on and after the first of February, or about three weeks from now, and it is at least fondly expected, that the service will then be greatly improved.

According to the original contract, the Union Light & Power Company, which owns the Silverton power, was to have been furnishing power to the city limits, and to arrange for a literary program for the next meeting, which will be held on Saturday, January 16, when permanent organization will be effected. At this meeting the matter of subscriptions toward the permanent improvement of the public highways in that section will be discussed, and it is expected that liberal donations will be made by the property owners along the river road for the improvement of that thoroughfare.

The First Votes—The first votes in the Statesman's 1904 subscription contest were cast yesterday, the first day. There were fifty votes deposited by a new subscriber, for Miss Beatrice Shelton, of Salem. There were 100 votes cast in the contest, and it will soon be under way and lively. The terms are so made, it is thought, as to give the workers a chance, and so there cannot be any complaints as the contest proceeds. The votes will, of course, all be preserved, from month to month, and every one will show distinctly by whom and for whom voted, and the books of the paper will show a cash subscription for that date and name. It will surely be a fair contest, and the ones receiving the highest number of votes will get the Christmas presents offered—ten of them; and there will probably be a longer list before it is over.

Tour of Inspection—The State Board of Barber Examiners held a meeting in Portland yesterday, and last night passed through Salem en route to Eugene, on a tour of inspection and examination. They will return tomorrow. Secretary of the Board, H. G. Meyer and wife went to Portland yesterday morning and returned last night, Mrs. Meyer stopping at Salem and Mr. Meyer accompanying the board on to Eugene.

Received Sad News—Mr. Wash Hunsaker, of Turner, yesterday received telegraphic intelligence that his brother, W. L. Hunsaker, of Eugene, who is visiting in that city, is suffering an attack of illness, the nature of which is not known here, and his condition is regarded as somewhat critical. This news is somewhat a surprise to Mr. Hunsaker, as his brother was not feeling very well when he departed for California several weeks ago.

He Could Not Go—Governor Chamberlain had accepted an invitation to attend a banquet given by the Portland Board of Trade, last evening, to respond to the toast "Oregon," and he would have gone had it not been that he received a message to the effect that some parties would arrive on the evening train with congressional papers, and this fact, of course, prevented him from going. The parties with the requisition, did not appear, however, and the Governor was very much disappointed in being deprived of the privilege of fulfilling his promise.

Wood for Asylum—The board of trustees of the Insane Asylum yesterday entered into a contract with L. P. Larson, of this city, for 300 cords of big fir wood, at $3.50 per cord, the wood to be delivered at the main institution between May 1 and October 1, of this year. The board has signed up for 1,000 cords of wood during the past week, and at this rate, the required amount will have been secured in the near future, 4,900 cords at the main building.

Burglary at Marion—It was reported in this city yesterday that the general merchandise store of W. J. Hadley, at Marion, was burglarized during Monday night. The extent of Mr. Hadley's loss could not be ascertained, but it is said that a large amount of merchandise and some money was carried away.

Another Chimney Fire—The fire department was summoned to the residence of Attorney John A. Carson, corner of High and Kearney streets, at 8:15 o'clock Monday morning, to extinguish a chimney blaze. The department made a quick run over the South Commercial street hill, and by means of a Babcock soon reduced the threatening flames. No damage was done.

In attending a Mexican theatre the admission is charged one act at a time, thus the rates are according to the number of acts in the play.

TWO SALES CONFIRMED.

Administrator of the Cooper Estate Is Authorized to Distribute Shares of Stock.

(From Wednesday's Daily.) Roscoe C. Thomas, the administrator of the estate of William Cooper, deceased, petitioned the Marion county probate court yesterday for an order authorizing and directing him to distribute 120 shares of stock in the First National Bank of Moscow, Idaho, belonging to the estate, among the heirs as follows: Forty shares to Emma Johnston; forty shares to Roscoe C. Clyde J. and Laura G. Thomas; forty shares to Ira Perrine. The petitioner also set forth that Emma Johnston desired to retain her shares, but asked for an order to sell the remaining eighty shares to Ladd & Bush, at the rate of $120 per share. The respective orders were made as prayed for.

Upon the petition of W. C. Hubbard, administrator of the estate of Edward Collier, deceased, the court made an order authorizing the petitioner to sell, at public sale, 147 acres of land in township 4 south, range 3 west, belonging to the estate, and also directed him to pay $500 out of the funds on hand, upon a mortgage held against the estate by Hoefer & Zorn, and to pay the claims of the appraisers.

In the matter of the estate of Katie A. Evans, deceased, the sale of 2182 pounds of dried prunes made by A. L. West, the administrator, to H. S. Gill and Co., was approved. The consideration of the sale was $49.45. The administrator was also authorized to pay $50 out of the funds of the estate, for the redemption of lot 9 in Sunnyside Fruit Farm No. 12, which had been sold to P. H. Marlay, by the sheriff of Marion county, for delinquent taxes.

The sale of certain real property belonging to the estate of Sarah Ann Reed, deceased, made by Sanderson Reed, the administrator, to Hoefer & Zorn, for a consideration of $7,229.36, was confirmed by the court. The administrator filed an additional bond in the sum of $14,500 which was approved.

THE CITY New Today

More Votes Are Cast—There is a second candidate in the Statesman's 1904 subscription contest. It is Miss Eva McAllister, an. she has 100 votes to her credit. The list is sure to lengthen out indefinitely, for there will be at least ten Christmas presents, and it is likely that about five more will be added. Thus the ten or fifteen having the highest number of votes will all have Christmas presents. Those who want to try for the chief presents, however, would better get in early, for there will be many voluntary votes, by other than the especial friends of the candidates, and the leaders will always get most of these.

(From Thursday's Daily.) Too Much Sprits—Thomas Drew, a native of Illinois, aged 34 years, was yesterday brought to the insane asylum from Coos county by Sheriff E. M. Gallier and one guard. He is a laborer by occupation and his mental derangement was brought on through alcoholic excesses.

No Mental Arithmetic—Superintendent Ackerman yesterday issued a brief circular letter to the county school superintendents, in which he simply stated that, in the eighth grade examinations there will be no questions submitted on mental arithmetic. There will be two sets of questions, each headed arithmetic.

Road Club Being Organized—Another good roads club is being organized in the Liberty road district. At a meeting recently held at the Pettyjohn school house, on the river road, the first steps looking toward such an organization were taken. A. D. Pettyjohn being elected president, N. N. Carpenter secretary and George Higgins treasurer. Committees were appointed to prepare a constitution and by-laws, and to arrange for a literary program for the next meeting, which will be held on Saturday, January 16, when permanent organization will be effected. At this meeting the matter of subscriptions toward the permanent improvement of the public highways in that section will be discussed, and it is expected that liberal donations will be made by the property owners along the river road for the improvement of that thoroughfare.
