

THE CITY

(From Saturday's Daily.)

In Time to Vote—Frank Hilger, a native of Austria Hungary, called at the Marion county clerk's office yesterday and declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States.

Licensed to Wed—Mr. Ruben Patted and Miss Ivah Sherwood were granted a marriage license by County Clerk Roland yesterday. The permit was witnessed by L. C. Sherwood.

Moved to Jefferson—L. C. Sherwood, formerly deputy warden at the penitentiary, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Sherwood has just sold his dairy farm near Seio and moved with his family to Jefferson. The country around Seio is filling up fast with Hungarian immigrants, and his farm and dairying outfit were sold to one of these.

No Arrangements Made—The Republican central committee has as yet had no word from the Democratic managers regarding the matter of a joint canvass. It is understood that Chairman Vaughan has opened headquarters for the Democrats in the Bush-Brey block, but the Republican managers yet await any word from them.

Their Trip Shortened—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haas returned home last night from a two months tour of the Eastern cities, combining pleasure and business. They expected to be gone another month, and to visit the World's Fair at St. Louis, but changed their minds last Saturday while visiting in Iowa, and started immediately for home, where business matters demanded his presence.

Booked for Burglary—Under sentence by Judge Henry L. Benson of the First district, three men from Jackson county arrived in the city yesterday to try the prison fare at the hands of Superintendent James for a period that will test whether or not it is as good for inmates as for newspaper reporters. The culprits are A. Gager, and Walter Schultz, each booked for five years, and Emil Seifert for three years, all convicted of burglary committed on April 15. They were accompanied en route by Sheriff J. M. Rader and deputies Jim Garvin and J. Murphy.

Card of Thanks—Mrs. A. H. Wright and family wish to thank all the kind friends who so loyally assisted during the last sickness and at the funeral of the late A. H. Wright. Thanks are due especially to the Woodmen of the World and the Knights of Pythias. At a time like this every little kindness and every expression of brotherly helpfulness is treasured up in the book of memory to be gratefully turned to in after years. The acts of kindness cannot make up for the loss of husband and father, but they can comfort the bereaved wife and little ones and make their burden an easier one to bear in thinking of the kindly solicitude of friends who assisted in the hour of need.

To Annapolis—James D. Moore of Ashland, was in the city from Seattle yesterday, on his way home from the Puget Sound metropolis to his Southern Oregon home, where he will visit before proceeding to the United States Naval Academy on his second year in his term appointed to a cadetship by Congressman Hermann. He stopped over to visit with W. T. Perkins, the State Treasurer's office, whose son, Fred M., also represents this Congressional district at the Nation's naval school, held at Annapolis, Md. Mr. Moore has been of four years. Mr. Moore is 19 years of age, being two years the senior of young Perkins. The new appointee is a fine appearing young man, apparently fit in all respects to represent his government in his navy. His father, now deceased, was formerly a signal service observer, located at different points on this coast, Ashland among the rest.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Wallowa Pays Half—State Treasurer Moore yesterday received $4,471.25 from Wallowa county to apply on its 1903 state taxes.

Insane Patient From Douglas—Alvin Ormiston, a native of Ohio, aged 23 years, was yesterday received at the insane asylum from Olalla, Douglas county.

Off For a Spin—John Maurer, C. M. Lockwood and Ben Taylor will this morning start on a day's pleasure trip to Lebanon, Soda-ville and Waterloo. They will travel on their motor cycles, and expect to visit all of the places mentioned, drink soda water from the springs, and their present intentions are to return to Salem tonight.

A Long Trip—Clyde Mason, a pressman of this city, whose parents reside here, has just written home from New London, South Africa. He will go from there to Australia and arrive in San Francisco the latter part of October of the first of November. He will have been out from the home port five months. He is serving as cabin boy on a ship and says he is enjoying himself while seeing a good deal of the world.

Bought a Hop Farm—Elmer Kightlinger, a former Salemite and well known here, who is now employed as chief clerk at the Indian School at Riverside, California, has purchased the Lawrence hop yard of seven acres, situated a mile and a half northeast of Woodburn, paying therefor the sum of $1550. He immediately leased the land for a term of ten years to Mr. Lewis Boehert, who will put up the hop house, plant a lot more hops and make many other improvements. Mr. Kightlinger returned by last evening's train to his post in California.

Was a Running Game—The sixth B class of Miss Harwood's room of the East school gave a picnic at Savage's grove yesterday, to which the seventh B class was invited. In the afternoon the seventh class was victorious over the sixth in a game of baseball, by the score of 25 to 11. Although there were not full teams, the game was a good exhibition. Both batteries did good work. The seventh grade won out by hard batting, and by the pitching of Wenderoth and the errors of their opponents.

Another Installment Paid—The tenth turn-over of 1903 tax money was made to County Treasurer Richardson by Sheriff Colbath yesterday. The amount transferred being $14,936.11. The total amount of last year's taxes paid into the treasury now amounts to $231,740.05, leaving a balance due the county of $31,530.43. Of the amount transferred, yesterday $7950.83 was credited to the state and county fund; $3975.42 to the state school fund; $409.94 to the Salem city and city road fund, and $538.93 to school district No. 24.

Democrats Will Accept—With reference to accepting the invitation of the Republican County Central committee for a joint canvass, Chairman Vaughan, of the Democratic County Central committee, says: "We are going to accept Chairman Murphy's invitation to make a joint canvass, but I regret that I was not consulted in regard to the itinerary, because I feel that St. Paul, Sublimity, and perhaps other parts of the county are slighted in the program as given out by Chairman Murphy. The Democrats will certainly hold meetings at these places and as soon as definite arrangements can be made, we will invite the Republicans to join us at these places."

Damage was Trivial—Sam Barendrick, who drives a general delivery team, stopped on State street at about 11 o'clock yesterday morning to make a delivery and his team becoming frightened started on a mad race for nowhere in particular. They struck a telephone pole which was incased with sign of Waters' Cigar Store, and nothing was left but a few splinters of what was once a neat sign. A sack of flour was there deposited to whiten the street for a short distance. They were finally caught in the Eastern part of the city and it was found that the horses were none the worse for their race, and the wagon was not materially damaged, beyond the axle being sprung. The only real loss was of the groceries from the wagon.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Cucumber Contracts—A few more contracts for cucumbers can be secured by calling on the Glendon Stolz Company, Mill and Summer Sts., Salem.

Local Option Meeting—Tonight in the lecture room of the First M. E. church D. Errett and other speakers will address the people on the subject of the local option law to be voted on at the coming election. All are cordially invited, especially those who believe in free discussion.

A Generous and Just Man—Hon. John A. Hunt was in the city yesterday from his Waldo Hills home, and made a donation of ten dollars towards the debt on the Y. M. C. A. building. It would be a glorious thing if the world were made up of such men as Hon. John A. Hunt.

Ditch Covering is Completed—The covering of the ditch on North Front, Commercial and Liberty streets was completed last night by the contractors, C. P. Royal & Son, who have been employed thereon with a force of men for the past five weeks. The Front street portion was done by contract, but the remainder was built under the direction of the Salem Flouring Mill's Company. The carpenters were at work yesterday afternoon putting on the finishing touches, setting in the trap doors to enable the firemen to draw water from the ditch in case of necessity, etc. The people residing in that portion of town, as well as the general public, are thankful over the repairs and rejoicing that the work has been so thoroughly done.

Broke the Wagon Tongue—Yesterday morning as one of the delivery wagons of the Salem Brewery Association was backing up in front of a Commercial street house to make a delivery of their special brew, one of the horses, a young animal, became tangled in the harness, and giving a lunge, fell squarely on the wagon tongue, snapping it apparently as easily as though it had been a toothpick. The horse was badly tangled up and it was necessary to unhitch him before he could get out his feet.

Oranges as They Grow—Will Hetzler, who has just returned from Southern California, brought to the Statesman office yesterday a limb of an orange tree, from which were suspended four fine, ripe oranges, just as they grow in that sunny clime. The limb was cut off in an orange grove at Monrovia, twenty-three miles from Los Angeles. The limb with the oranges attached, and with all the leaves in fair condition, will be sent to one of the public school rooms in Salem so that the little folks may see how the luscious fruit looks in the groves of California.

A Sure Thing—It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. McMatre of Shepherdstown, W. Va., says: "I had a severe case of bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It is infallible for croup, whooping cough, grip, pneumonia and consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by Dan J. Fry, druggist. Trial bottles free. Reg. Sizes 50c, $1.00.

INTERESTING SOCIAL NOTE FROM THE RURAL DISTRICTS GATHERED BY UNCLE SAM'S MAIL CARRIERS.

New Parsonage Being Built By Friends Church at Rosedale—Carriers Having Trouble Persuading Patrons to Buy Boxes, But Most of Them Are Coming to Time.

Rosedale Notes—Route 4. Mrs. Ida Bates entertained the Leisure Hour Club last Saturday afternoon in honor of her mother, Mrs. Allen Pemberton, of Iowa. Those present were: Mesdames John Knight, Fred Crozier, and Misses Ina Barnett, Bea Bates and Ethel Borris. Light refreshments were served and all present enjoyed the occasion.

Getting New Boxes. The rural mail carrier must have been successful in their efforts to sell approved mail boxes, as there is a box famine in Salem at the present time. All of the hardware stores handle these boxes, and several of them are reported to be entirely out of the approved style. The carriers have had considerable trouble over the question, as some of the patrons persist in their refusal to buy boxes, and others have been receiving from Postmaster Edward Hirsch to deliver no mail except in approved boxes. Most of the patrons have gratefully accepted the situation, and done as ordered, but a few "kickers" are still holding out and are now compelled to call at the Salem office for their mail. However, it will be only a short time until every patron is supplied with the proper box, and then they will be better satisfied than ever.

Young Ladies Quartet. The progressive young ladies of Fruitland have organized a ladies quartet under the leadership of Miss Jennie Burt. They are practicing daily and also nightly, and will soon be ready to entertain the public in royal style. Mrs. L. A. Jones met with a mishap on Thursday morning, while driving to town in a buggy. The buggy broke, causing her horse to become frightened and run away and the rig was overturned and Mrs. Jones considerably bruised, but no serious injury resulted and she will soon be out again.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Friends church gave a social at the home of Fred Crozier Thursday evening. Mrs. De Velbriss has returned home from a short visit with friends in Salem. The Rosedale public school closed Friday with appropriate exercises. Mr. Cammack is a very successful teacher and has given very good satisfaction. There was a home dance at S. Z. Culver's, between Croston and Rose-

PARDON ISSUED

HARLOW C. MESSENGER, PRISONER FROM JACKSON COUNTY LEAVES PENITENTIARY.

Governor Chamberlain Takes Judicial Cognizance of the Evidence and Thinks the Court Erred in Ruling Against the Accused on Certain Points.

Governor Chamberlain yesterday issued a pardon to Harlow C. Messenger, who was convicted of manslaughter in Jackson county in March, 1902, for the killing of Jesse P. Cotton, and sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary. The banners submitted in the case were very voluminous, including a large part of the testimony taken at the trial and also the ante-mortem statement of the man whose death resulted from the shooting by Messenger.

From the review of the evidence Governor Chamberlain derived the opinion, which he expresses in the body of the pardon, that there was a mistake in the ruling of the court as to the justification of taking life in defense of property, and as to the legal effect of being armed. For this reason and because neither the trial judge nor the district attorney entered any protest against executive clemency, the Governor thought the man had been sufficiently punished. The statement of the case made by was warranted in taking his friends into his confidence, and in calling their attention to the fact that there were two candidates for circuit judge on the ticket, and hoped they would all remember that at the election. After paying a deserving tribute to Hon. B. Eddy and Mr. McNary, he referred interestingly to the duties of the bench to the citizen and the citizen toward the bench. Judge Burnett was followed by Hon. J. W. Bailey, dairy commissioner, Hon. T. T. Geer, ex-governor, and Col. E. Hofer. Judge J. H. Scott, the present and next county judge of Marion county, then referred to his promises of four years ago, and to the fact that they have been fulfilled, and that the county had gotten out of debt and had a good balance in the treasury. The meeting closed by singing America, accompanied by the Salem Military band, the audience joining in the song, following three cheers for President Roosevelt.

The train left for Salem at eleven twenty, arriving here at twelve o'clock. Every one voted the rally a grand success, and indicative of a spirit that bodes no success for the Democratic party or its candidates in June.

RALLY NOTES. Mr. H. W. Scott, editor of the Oregonian, in writing his regrets to Mr. Toole at not being able to be present at the meeting, said: "I trust the meeting will be a rousing one. Oregon owes much to President Roosevelt and the June majority should be large enough to electrify the country."

Hon. Chas. A. Boynton, who helped organize the Republican party in Oregon in 1856 at Corvallis, a man now 80 years of age, and who has been a Republican ever since, occupied a prominent chair on the platform at the opera house meeting.

The happiest and most contented man in Oregon yesterday was Hon. Walter L. Toole of Woodburn, chairman of the Republican Congressional committee for the First Congressional district. He had reason to be, for the grand rally at Woodburn was really a "grand rally" in every sense of the word.

The residence of Father Levesque, parish priest at Woodburn, was beautifully decorated yesterday in honor of the Republican rally, and Woodburn's visitors.

There were at least six hundred people in the opera house building and nearly as many more in the overflow meeting.

At the overflow meeting in Association hall the Chemawa band and the Oregon City quartet supplied good music. D. Shorey called the meeting to order, and it was addressed by Hon. Jno. H. McNary, Judge Geo. H. Burnett, Hon. B. L. Eddy, Hon. L. T. Harris of Eugene, and Hon. Dan J. Malarkey of Portland, and was a very enthusiastic and entertaining meeting.

The "Bees" Were Defeated. The Maecabee baseball team of Pratum played the noted nine of Fruitland Sunday p. m., on the Pratum diamond, and proved to be easy victims for the Pratum nine, the score being, not 16 to 1, but 19 to a goose-egg. The game was called at 2 o'clock and for the first three innings neither side scored, but in the fourth the Pratum boys got down to business, and the Fruitland nine from then on could barely keep it interesting. A very interesting feature of the game was the easy manner in which Pratum's pitcher, Jay King, fanned fourteen of Fruitland's players. Next Sunday an interesting game is promised on the Pratum diamond between Pratum and Lewisburg.

Jesse P. Cotton, at the time when he believed himself past all hope of escaping death, gives a history of the crime and the circumstances leading up to it. He states that he and Messenger had entered into an agreement whereby Messenger was to buy Cotton's timber and use Cotton's saw mill to work it into lumber, with the understanding that Cotton was to take the property back if Messenger failed in the terms of the agreement. Several days before the shooting Cotton notified Messenger that he could do no further business until a settlement was had, and he had posted notices at the mill forbidding anybody to remove any lumber from the yard or otherwise to molest the mill. On the fatal day, Messenger came to the mill with a team for the purpose of hauling lumber, when Cotton ordered him and his men not to attempt to load up, as he would throw the boards off the wagon as they should be put on. The men began loading and Cotton began pulling off the lumber, whereupon Messenger grappled with him. Cotton struck Messenger with his fist and the latter staggered back a few feet, whereupon he slowly drew his revolver and shot Cotton. The latter further stated that he was entirely unarmed and had no intention of harming Messenger or fighting with him; also that he believed Messenger went there armed with the intent and purpose of killing him.

Growing Crops Look Well. "Jake" Mitchell, the expert warehouseman, of Salem, and foreman for the Salem Flouring Mills Company, was out in the country on a little tour Sunday afternoon for his health, and to see how crops were coming on. He drove over into Polk county and called on a number of the patrons of the company. Jake says grain of all kinds is looking fine—unusually fine for this season of the year—and he looks for a heavy crop this harvest. On one nice farm which has this year an unusually large acreage of growing grain, the fall wheat was up above his shoe-tops, and the spring grain is also looking well. Hops have been growing like weeds during the warm weather and Mr. Mitchell says the vines are up to the top of the poles in the George Bayne yard, where workers have begun to train on the cross strings. By the way, Jake has been preparing for harvest. Some time ago he had most of his teeth extracted, which pleasing bit of news was chronicled in these columns, and he has since been worrying because people thought he had no teeth and now wishes the reporter to announce that he has a full set of fine new teeth, the kind that don't ache, and henceforth no farmer can pass soft grain off on him, representing it to be No. 1, hard, as he has a full set of grinders ready to test every load.

Birthday Party. A pleasant birthday party was given on last Friday evening in honor of Miss Nannie Heise at her home at the West end of the steel bridge, the occasion being her twenty-first birthday. She was the recipient of many handsome presents, including a choice potted plant, a book "Jillys of the King," a beautiful picture, a set of china dishes, a fine bouquet of red roses and a volume of Longfellow's poems.
