

THE CITY

Going East—

G. Steiner of Albany, spent the past few days as a witness in the circuit court, returning home Tuesday afternoon. He leaves Saturday for a three months' trip East and will visit the World's Fair before his return.

Moving Their Tent—

The Salvation Army officers are moving their tent from Yew Park to a grove on North Commercial street, two blocks from Mill creek. Meetings will commence there on Saturday at 8 p. m. There will be meetings every evening, and three on Sunday, to which all are cordially invited.

Still Has a Bad Eye—

Hon. Claud Gate is still suffering very severely from inflammation of the right eye, caused by a slight abrasion of the lid made when counting greenbacks. He was reported as not so well yesterday.

New Cement Walks—

Mrs. Ida Babcock, J. L. Stockton and George Dunsford are improving the appearance of their property on North Commercial street by laying cement walks, instead of the loose boards so numerous in that vicinity.

Goes to Turner—

Mrs. M. J. Hartley, state president of the Women's Board of Missions of California, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. R. Hathaway, of Salem, left for Turner yesterday where she will address the convention.

To the Pen—

Thos. Linville, sheriff of Clatsop county, brought Fred Lewellyn to the penitentiary yesterday to serve out three years' sentence for assault with a dangerous weapon, and Charles Jackson to serve out one year for the same crime.

S. S. Supt. Essen—

Mrs. Clara Essen of Eugene, State Superintendent of Sunday School work left for Turner yesterday where she will preside at the Sabbath school convention. Mrs. Essen is the daughter of Levi Gilliam, an old pioneer of Polk county, who is very ill at his home near Dallas.

Attended Commencement—

The following Salem people attended the commencement exercises at Chemawa yesterday: Hon. P. H. D'Arcy, Miss Theresa D'Arcy, Miss Mary D'Arcy, Mrs. J. B. Frizzell, Mrs. E. A. Pearce, Mrs. Slater, Mrs. George Irwin, Miss West, Mrs. George Dunsford, Mrs. J. A. Jeffrey, Arthur Benson, J. M. Payne, Miss Augusta Angell and Mrs. A. L. Harvey.

At Silverton—

The appeal says that Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Holman, J. W. Holman and Mrs. Albert Hargett, were Sunday guests of Master Mechanic P. E. Holman and wife at the power house. Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Holman are parents of F. E. Holman, and Mr. Holman, Jr., and Mrs. Hurst are brother and sister. The old timers of this vicinity will remember Mr. R. D. Holman as the millwright who built and started the Silverton Flouring Mills about eighteen years ago.

Runaway Near Silverton—

As Wm. Ramson was returning from this city a few days ago to his home at Silverton, his team became frightened and ran away. The carriage was overturned and the occupants thrown out. Mrs. Geo. Given, Sr., of that place, was cut badly about the head and face and was immediately removed to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Sappingfield, where her injuries were attended to. As Mrs. Given is quite aged the injuries she received may go hard with her although it is hoped she will speedily recover.

Prominent Man at Turner—

R. N. Waggoner, accompanied by Mrs. Waggoner, arrived from Kansas City, Mo., last week and after spending a few days in Salem proceeded to Turner where he will address the convention. Mr. Waggoner is the National Superintendent of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Christian church, and the world's vice president of the organization. From Turner he will proceed southward, holding meetings in all towns along the Pacific Coast, so that it will be several weeks before he returns to Kansas City.

False Alarm—

Yesterday morning Ben Taylor, of the postoffice force, accidentally left out a sack of mail from the wagon bound for the depot. Upon discovering his mistake he seized the first bicycle in sight—which happened to be Mr. Howard's—and started for the train with the sack. Mr. Howard, mistaking his wheel, concluded that it had been stolen, and after walking many weary blocks in delivering letters, sent the sheriff to look for his wheel, and only the arrival of Mr. Taylor, bland and smiling, terminated the still hunt.

Corporations Paying Up—

The corporation tax law is now causing a good deal of extra work in the office of the State Treasurer. This office is receiving taxes from the corporate companies, and about a hundred receipts per day are returned to the remitting companies.

Evangelical Synod—

The Pacific Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church filed articles yesterday in the office of the Corporation Bureau, by its president, secretary and treasurer, Jos. A. Lens, Emil Meyer and E. Erickson. The object of the organization is to provide for, maintain and perpetuate the preaching of the word of God, and the right administration of the holy sacraments according to the canons, faith, doctrines and usages of the Evangelical Lutheran church throughout Oregon, Washington, Utah, Idaho, Nevada, California, and elsewhere. Also to establish schools. The central office is at Portland.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

To the Asylum—

W. A. Wood and L. L. Dunker brought Robert W. Russell, aged 50, native of Cleveland, Ohio, to the asylum on the late train last night, from Clatsop county.

Articles Filed—

Henry Jennings, Fred O. Jennings, Chas. Jennings and Henry Jennings, Jr., of Portland, incorporated Henry Jennings & Sons yesterday, with the object of doing a general house furnishing business. Their capital stock is $40,000.

Bonds Filed and Approved—

John Scholl, who was duly appointed administrator of the estate of Christopher P. Krueger, deceased, yesterday gave bonds in the sum of $2500 with G. M. Fry and H. A. Hinkle as sureties, and the same was approved by Judge Scott. C. Stahl, H. F. Scholl and Wm. Phleming were appointed to appraise the property of the estate.

Car Derailed—

Some little alarm was felt by the passengers on the depot car as it made its 11 o'clock run yesterday. The car became derailed at the switch at 12th street, and although some little time was consumed in righting it, it was placed on the track and the passengers were greatly relieved at arriving at the depot before the departure of the train.

A Hay Rack Ride—

A jolly hay-rack ride and pleasant social meeting was enjoyed Monday evening by the Young People's Foreign Missionary Society of the First M. E. church. About twenty-five young people rode out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Kurtz where a bountiful lunch was served. Mrs. Clayton Heize provided the hay rack which amply accommodated the young people.

A Grand Celebration—

The people of the Liberty neighborhood are going to hold a grand Fourth of July celebration, and they expect to be assisted by half the people of Salem and all their neighbors for miles around. They are going to have races of all kinds, some of the best orators of Salem will speak, and there will be a general picnic on the school campus, in the beautiful grove. In the evening there will be a grand ball, in the hall across from the grocery store. The Liberty folks propose to pull more feathers from the tail of the eagle bird than any other community in all the broad Willamette valley. They will show all their friends what a really good time is, and what is a proper celebration of the Nation's birthday.

Three Marriage Permits—

Six people were yesterday made happy by securing the necessary permits from County Clerk J. W. Roland for entering into the holy bonds of matrimony as follows: Harold W. Sorensen and Dagmar Mina Larsen; J. P. Larsen and John W. Cox; and Nellie E. Ashton, Fred Van Gorder, witness; Chas. W. Brant and Ruth A. Purdy, J. A. Simpson, witness.

Effects of Sunshine—

Carrier South of R. F. D. No. 8, whose route extends north to Mission Bottom, and who embraces the berry district of Lake Labish, reports that the hot weather of the past few weeks has materially decreased the fruit prospects as well as the spring crops of wheat. Berries of all kinds have dried upon the bushes before ripening and many apples have been sun cooked upon the trees.

To the Summer Resorts—

H. E. Lounsbury, traveling freight agent of the Southern Pacific Company, is in the city for a short time on business for his company. He says that despite the warm weather and vacation season, his company is very busy, and is just now opening up considerable passenger traffic to the summer resorts. He thinks the travel to Newport will be larger than ever before, as that resort is increasing in popularity, so much so that for people outside of Portland, at least, no other place will fill the bill.

Sale of Fine Stock—

Scott Bozorth, manager of the Pacific Homestead, went to Albany last evening, and will today attend the sale of Mark Hulbert's herds of fine Jerseys cows, draught horses, Cotswold sheep, Poland China hogs and some farm implements and machinery. Mr. Hulbert's place, known as the Oak Ridge Jersey Farm, is located six miles south of Albany and four miles east of Corvallis, and is one of the finest stock farms in Linn county. This is the second annual public sale conducted on this farm.

At the Reform School—

The State Reform School boys attended the Turner camp meeting on Sunday last and furnished some music for the large congregation. As a means of reciprocation, the Cox musical family of Eugene entertained the boys at the Reform School last evening, and this evening the Green family from Eugene will give the boys an entertainment. These musical families are attending the Turner camp meeting. Rev. R. H. Wagoner will preach for the boys at the Reform School tomorrow evening.

Safeguarding the Children.

Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitably inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. There is not probably one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by all druggists.

A Dirty Irish Trick—

Next to the world renowned Jim Chung, probably the best known son of the Flowering Kingdom in Salem is Cue. May be that is not the way to spell it. Probably it is Quee. But Cue will do. Yesterday afternoon while the high diver for the carnival was getting infatuated among the business men of the city. Later in the day the firm of Stockton & Co. requested Manager Simpson to erect some tents on the south side of Court street, at the intersection of Commercial, in order that the crowd of visitors might be more equally distributed along the street. Permission was secured from Mayor Waters to extend the line of tents to Commercial street, and this will probably be done this morning.

(From Friday's Daily.)

Several Second Hand—

Open and top buggies and an almost new Eli hay press for sale at Wiggins' Implement House.

Returned from Honeymoon—

Major and Mrs. L. L. Page returned Tuesday from Yakima, La. where they spent their honeymoon, and are now at home in this city at their residence corner Cottage and Marion streets.

Supreme Court—

The case of Jas. Muckle, Jr., et al., appellants, vs. Jas. Good, respondent, appealed from Columbia county, was argued and submitted yesterday.

New Lodge of Rebekahs—

Grand Master Mills of the I. O. O. F. reports the organization recently of a new Rebekah lodge at Needy, with fifteen members.

Getting Used to It—

Judge William Galloway of McMinnville, was in Albany the other day, and occupied a seat by the side of Judge Burnett in the circuit court. Evidently Judge Galloway was trying to see how it felt.

To Install Officers—

Mr. Amos Vass, district deputy of the I. O. O. F. will go to Aumsville Saturday night to install the new term of officers. Various other Odd Fellows from Salem will accompany him.

Matters in Probate—

By an order of the Marion county probate court Carrie J. Freeman, the guardian of Olive E. George M., and Jay J. Shanks, minor children, was yesterday authorized to sell at public sale the one-twelfth interest of the minors in lots 1 and 2, of Turner's addition to pending month of last year, and $132.55 more than the total receipts of the office during May of the present year. Of the total collections during the past month, amounts were credited to the different accounts as follows: Circuit court, $191.50; probate court, $82.50; marriage licenses, $100.75; miscellaneous fees, $20.

To Rearrange Library—

In the State Library yesterday Librarian Putnam's desk, and the floor all about it, were piled high with new books, and in a few days he will begin re-arranging the library shelves so as to accommodate them.

Judge Chadwick Improving—

Hon. Stephen J. Chadwick of the circuit court at Coquille, Washington, who has been sick with bilious fever is now convalescent, and will arrive in Salem, it is expected, within a couple of weeks. From here he will go to the sea shore to rest and recuperate for the summer.

Returning from European Tour—

Mrs. Myra A. Wiggins, who has been writing the charming and entertaining series of letters from Palestine, and later from Europe, will return home on Saturday morning. Her book will probably be published within a couple of weeks. The Statesman and her other many friends will welcome her return.

Getting Blanks Ready—

In the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction yesterday, Miss Ackerman was engaged in preparing and putting up the blanks for the examinations which will take place in each county in August. This is quite a work. The questions will also be put up and sealed, each list separate from the rest, for these examinations to be given out when the applicants appear before the county superintendents.

Returned From East—

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cross arrived yesterday from an extended tour of the East, where they visited all of the principal cities and spent some weeks at the St. Louis Exposition. They were accompanied by a sister of Mr. Cross, Mrs. J. T. Wilson, who was little May Cross when she left Salem twenty years ago. Many friends were at the depot to heartily welcome the travelers. Mr. Cross returns from his three ready for his feat which he performs twice daily to the delight of the small boy and the dismay of the small and large girl. Cue played the part of Mr. Butinsky. Not that he sympathizes with the Kuropatkin crowd. It was his curiosity. He wanted to see what was in the tub of water, and leaned over so far in his curiosity that he threatened to accidentally spill the water. One of the attendants became disgusted at this, and with the aid of a bystander, took poor Cue by the nape of the neck and the back of his trousers, and threw him into the vessel of water, head foremost. This made Cue a very wet and sputtering Chinaman, and a very mad one. To say nothing of being scared. He thought he was about drowned. Cue went and got a change of clothing. Then he put his wet pants, blouse, cap, shoes and other mentionable and unmentionable into a wooden bucket and carried it around to show his sympathizing friends, as evidence of the dirty Irish trick that had been played on him. Cue in his rounds and in his wrath visited the city hall, and tried to have the men arrested who gave him the ducking; but he could not find any witnesses, though a hundred people saw it. Cue is an honest Chinaman, and his treatment was more severe than his crime of "butting in" warranted.

Both Sides Protested—

As the carnival tents were about to be erected Monday morning on Court street, between Liberty and Commercial, R. M. Wade & Co., the hardware dealers, entered a protest and threatened to have the Carnival Company restrained from erecting its tents in front of the firm's place of business. Before such action became necessary, however, Manager Simpson, of the Carnival Company, moved his tents farther east as he did not desire to create any disat-

Now in Douglas—

Trent R. Hibbard of Silverton, accompanied by Geo. Hibbard of San Francisco, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. F. A. Brisban on the Upper Olalla creek in Douglas county. They left for Eastern Oregon some time ago, and have drifted through the mountains to that point. They are looking for health.

Returned From the East—

Rev. Dr. E. J. Thompson of Independence, arrived here yesterday for a short visit with relatives and friends, says the Albany Herald. He recently returned from the East where he attended the general assembly of the Presbyterian church as a delegate from the Willamette Presbytery. Rev. Dr. Thompson was formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

Irrigation Per Se—

Charles and Ray Parvin are among the lucky ones this year. They have field of fifty acres of fine oats while their neighbors' oats show the result of the drought. Their farm is on the Jefferson road near Sunnyside, and this fifty acres is what is known as Beaver dam land. They made a dam across Battle creek, and another branch on the other side of the field, and the result was sub-irrigation without any overflow. They expect a very heavy yield.
