JAPANESE AND RUSSIANS STRUGGLE FOR CONTROL

TOKIO, Oct. 13.—Field Marshal Oyama telegraphing from the field yesterday says operations are progressing favorably.

The left army reports: "The advance affected by us today was comparatively favorable. We are continuing the attack against the line extending from Patahiapo to Luitunkow. The right column took possession of Yang Chuan and is advancing toward Linsuachiatu. The left column is menacing the right flank of the enemy holding Chanovitzu and Yuchiatu. Should the commander be unable to accomplish his purpose before sundown he will continue the attack during the night and following day."

Kuropatkin's advance has met with a counter advance of the forces under Oyama. According to advices received at Tokio, a general engagement is in progress between the Liao Yang and Mukden reports. The Japanese sources describe the fighting there as merely in the nature of advance guard actions. Kuropatkin is reported as aiming to strike simultaneously at two widely separated points on the Japanese left. There has been hard fighting a short distance north of Benschu, in which the Russian loss of 150 killed or wounded is admitted. The Japanese say they have cut off the Russian column south of the Taitse river. No official reports from the front were received by the Russian war office last night and this fact is regarded in some quarters as indicating non-success thus far of Kuropatkin's forward movement. Military authorities, however, point out that owing to the magnitude of the movement planned, it is too early to expect news of decisive results.

Fear for Kuropatkin.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 12.—No official news of the result of today's battle south of Mukden is available at this hour. Kuropatkin's doubts concerning the regular report to the Emperor, but the dispatch was not sent to the general staff tonight. The absence of official news is pessimistically interpreted in many quarters. While it is now asserted Kuropatkin enjoys a considerably superior force in numbers, fear is expressed the superiority is insufficient to enable him to carry out the big operations undertaken.

DO NOT POINT TO SUCCESS.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The battle raging south of Mukden has revived public interest in the war. Possessed reports from both sides are discussed and analyzed in the fullest details. In the belief that this will prove the greatest engagement of the present campaign and the news so far received, in climes military experts to the opinion that Kuropatkin is running a tremendous risk by the bold initiative. "No confirmation of the report that Mischenko's force is cut off and the fact that Oyama's report does not mention him is regarded as pointing to his escape. At the same time dispatches do not yet point to success on the Russian side and the motive underlying Kuropatkin's decision to assume offensive difficult to understand as before."

General Activity in War Theatre.

Tokio, Oct. 13.—General activity has been resumed in the theatre of war. It is believed a general engagement is progressing between Liao Yang and Mukden. Oyama met Kuropatkin's advance with a general advance of the main strength of his force along the broad front. It is believed that a great battle south of the river Hun is inevitable. Besides a direct movement, the Russians are attempting to strike the Japanese right at two points widely separated. A force of the Russians sent across the Taitse river have apparently been isolated by the Japanese, cutting their rear.
