Loss of School Fund—
Thirty-two applications for the loan of the state school fund were approved by the State Land Board yesterday afternoon, aggregating a total of $23,975.

Card of Thanks—
We take this means of thanking the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and burial of our dear mother and wife, C. F. Anderson and Family.

A New Office—
Frank Davey and Mark H. Savage have opened an office at 492 State street, near High, for a real estate business, notary work and examining titles. They are both well known realtors and will be glad to list all the property that can get hold of, either city or country. Call and see them if you are interested, or write to them.

Things Looking Good—
Mr. L. D. Kelly, who has the sawmill on North Howell Prairie, was in the city yesterday on business. He reports a little more improvement than he was expecting, especially a good deal of report improvement being under way. He reports a good deal of clearing being done also. "Crop prospects are excellent," said he. "I never saw a better outlook. Fruit is well ahead, and peach trees are just about in bloom. The recent cold weather did no damage to speak of in our neighborhood, and I really believe the future is very flattering."

Indian War Veteran—
The funeral of Noah Fowler Herren, whose death occurred Saturday, was held from his late home Monday morning at 11 o'clock. Interment was in City View cemetery. Noah Fowler Herren was born September 7, 1833, near Greensburg, Decatur county, Ind., and moved when a small boy to Platte county, Missouri, where his father's family lived until they started across the plains to Oregon in 1845, settling near the old mission in the north part of Marion county. His father's old donation land claim of 640 acres lay east of Salem, the house standing on what is now known as the old R. L. Swarts farm. He lived beyond his 70th wedding anniversary, having been united in marriage February 22, 1855, with Adaline Hall Vaughn, daughter of James E. and Cynthia A. Hall. He was well known in Salem, having lived near here all his life with the exception of seven years spent at Dayton, Wash. Although Mr. Herren had been troubled with rheumatism for years, he had not been an invalid until the past four years, his death being the result of a complication of diseases. His had been a very busy life, but he bore his affliction with patience. He was a loving husband and father and a kind friend, whose greatest fault was his generosity. The large concourse of friends who followed his remains to their last resting place was a fitting expression of the esteem in which he was held by all who knew him. Besides his widow he is survived by five of his nine children: Horace E., Levi M., Frank A., and Mrs. Elva R. Estes, of Salem, and James H., of Monmouth, all of whom were with him during his last sickness. Of his father's family of 13 children there remain one brother, Levi M. Horren, of Turner, and three sisters, Mrs. Susannah Wallace, of Southern Oregon, Mrs. Jane Keiser, of Salem, and Mrs. Ruth Leonard, of Dayton, Wash. Deceased was a veteran of the Yakima and Rogue river Indian wars.

Baumgartner Objects to Wiprut—
Ex-City Recorder N. J. Judah having refused to accept the appointment as receiver of the J. A. Simpson & Co. livery barn business, Carson & Cannon, Simpson's attorneys, asked the court to appoint M. Wiprut, the cigar man, instead. To this request Joseph Baumgartner, the defendant in the suit for the dissolution of the partnership existing between himself and Simpson, recently filed by the latter, yesterday filed his objections, setting forth that M. Wiprut was not at all acquainted with the livery barn business and therefore not a suitable person to act as receiver.

Two Pioneer Patients Dead—
The death of W. Bloom, a Polish Jew, and Lee Nim, a Chinaman, which occurred on Tuesday evening, marked the passing away of two of the earliest pioneer patients at the insane asylum. Death in both cases was due to old age and took place at about the same hour. Wolf Bloom was committed to the asylum from Multnomah county, on October 1, 1850, and Lee Nim, a Chinaman, and Dr. J. S. Giltner, the examining physician. He was born in Poland and had been in Oregon but four years when his mental faculties failed. He was employed as a clerk in a Jewish mercantile establishment in Portland. Lee Nim, the Chinaman, was born in Canton, China, and was committed to the asylum from Multnomah county also, during the year 1872, when but 34 years of age.

The time limit for allowing rebate expires on Wednesday of next week, and a general rush is expected during the last few days. At the closing hour last evening Sheriff Culver had issued a total number of 3466 receipts, representing a collection of $120,000, considerable over one-third of the entire amount of the 1904 roll, which is $301,775.

MUST CLEAN UP

PROPERTY OWNERS WILL BE REQUIRED TO IMPROVE SANITARY CONDITIONS.

Council Instructs Health Officer to Give Notice to This Effect Without Delay—Bridge Matter Made Special Order for Friday Evening.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The alleys must be cleaned up and kept in a sanitary condition. So says the city council. At the meeting held last evening the committee on health and police reported that the alleys, especially in the business district of Salem, are in a deplorable condition and recommended that the health officer be instructed to notify the property owners to make a general clean-up without delay. The committee's recommendation was adopted by a unanimous vote, and Health Officer J. W. Lewis will carry out the instructions of the council this morning. Upon motion of Al. Deenan Stearns the health officer was also instructed to investigate the unsanitary condition of the north mill race, from which the running water is said to have been shut off for the past two months.

The action taken by the council will meet with the hearty approval of the general public. Many of the alleys in this city are strewn with tin cans and rubbish, and in some places covered to a depth of six inches or more with all kinds of filth and disease-breeding matter. This is a most suitable time to start the movement for better sanitary conditions, and the good work should be extended throughout the entire city.

The matter of the construction of a new bridge across South Mill creek on Commercial street was not taken up at last evening's council meeting but was made a special order for an adjourned meeting to be held on Friday evening of this week. At that time the special committee will file its report covering the investigations made in regard to the matter according to the instructions received from the council.

The bill for an ordinance to increase the salaries of the city marshal and recorder from $1000 to $1200 per annum was placed upon its final passage and defeated by a vote of 7 to 6. The vote was as follows:
Ayes—Acheson, Baker, Crossan, Frazier, Downing, Wallace; nays—Bayne.

LIFE IN BALANCE

APPEAL CASE OF STATE VS. NORMAN WILLIAMS IS SET FOR HEARING NEXT WEEK.

Convicted of the Murder of Alma Nesbitt and Mother in Circuit Court and Appeal Taken on Ground of Corpus Delicti—Circumstantial Evidence of Heinous Crime.

The case of the State vs. Norman Williams has been set for hearing before the Supreme Court for 12 o'clock on Wednesday, March 15. This is the case in which the defendant has been convicted in the State Circuit Court for Wasco county of the murder of Miss Alma Nesbitt and mother in Wasco county several years ago. It is alleged that Williams killed the two women in order to gain possession of a homestead which was taken up by them, after which he is charged with having forged their names to relinquishment blanks and secured possession of the property. He took them out from Hood River for the purpose of visiting the claim, and that is said to have been the last that was ever seen of them in life. Circumstances, it is said, point to their murder by Williams, who is charged with having killed them and buried their bodies beneath an old building.

Subsequently, while some parties were digging around the premises, they unearthed an old gunny sack which contained bones, cloth and matted hair said to have been human remains, and the hair was later identified as that of the murdered women. Williams was placed under arrest, charged with the crime, and was finally convicted of murder in the first degree. An appeal was taken from the decision of the trial court, the defendant's counsel, Henry McGinn, raising the point of corpus delicti; that is, that no evidence had been produced to show that a murder had been committed or that the hair and other material evidence was that of a human being. Williams has been sentenced to hang, but was granted a stay of execution upon a writ of probable cause.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.—F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.
