

THE CITY

(From Saturday's Daily.)

Is Improving—Miss Clara Holmstrom, who has been very ill for the past three weeks, is still improving, though very slowly. It is not probable that she will be able to continue her work in the university this year.

Bond Accepted—The bond of W. H. Queener as administrator of the estate of Mary Hoag, deceased, was filed and approved yesterday. Henry Keene and C. Roy were appointed by the court to appraise the property of said estate.

Talks to Hibernians—Governor Chamberlain went to Astoria yesterday morning to deliver an address before the Ancient Order of Hibernians of that city last night. Before he returns he will go to La Grande where he will try an old case before the circuit court on Monday.

Appraisers Report—F. W. Waters, P. A. Turner and C. M. Inman, who were appointed to appraise the estate of Virgil Parker, a miner, yesterday filed their report. This shows the value of the estate to be $49,95, of which $14,95 is cash and the remainder is the value of property in this city.

"Wallah" Coming—A large part of the copy for the 1905 "Wallah" is now in the hands of the printer, and Manager Ford says that the big annual will be out by May 15. The editor and her board of assistants have been working hard on the publication, and it will no doubt be an honor to the university.

Bad Tidings—W. P. Babcock of the Salem Flouring Mills Co., yesterday received a telegram from Boston, Mass., announcing the death of his aunt, Mrs. Amelia Babcock-Hastings. This lady visited Salem several years ago, during the life time of her brother, the late F. J. Babcock, and also her sister, the late Mrs. Jno. Gray, and has many friends here who will be grieved to hear of her death.

Afternoon Wedding—A very quiet wedding took place at the home of G. A. Beck on North Front street yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Ida G. McAllister of Marion county, was joined in wedlock to John P. McManus of Pilot Rock. There were only a few friends present during the ceremony, which was celebrated by the Rev. W. C. Kautner, pastor of the First Congregational church. After the ceremony the guests were received by the wedding couple. A wedding breakfast was served later. Mr. McManus is the editor and proprietor of The Record, published at Pilot Rock.

Annual Conference—The annual Oregon conference of the United Evangelical church will meet in Salem April 6 and continue for four days. On the evening preceding the opening of the conference Bishop W. P. Heil of Highland Park, a suburb of Chicago, Ill., will preach the annual sermon before that society. He is also to preach on Sunday, April 9, at the church on Cottage street, at both morning and evening services. The day conferences will be given up wholly to business routine, while in the evening religious services will be held throughout the conference. At the conference the usual yearly appointment of pastors will be made. Bishop Heil will preside over the conference. Rev. C. T. Hunt will be the host for the association.

Attend Good Roads Meeting—Judge J. H. Scott leaves tonight for Grants Pass to attend the Southern Oregon district convention to be held by the Oregon Good Roads Association on Tuesday and Wednesday. The convention will be under the auspices of the Grants Pass Miners' Association.

Sees on Promissory Note—E. Butterfield vs. John Christie is the title of a suit filed in department No. 1 of the circuit court yesterday. This is a suit to collect payment on a promissory note for $994.50, given on December 5, 1904. The plaintiff prays for the amount of note with interest to date and asks for $250 for attorney fees.

No Immediate Danger—Miss Sophia Townsend, daughter of Chas. Townsend of Rosedale, is very sick with pneumonia at Fossil, Wheeler county, where she is teaching in the public school. Word was received yesterday from Fossil that Miss Townsend's mother had reached that point. Dr. Mary Howerman of Condon had been called into consultation, and the relatives here were informed that there was no immediate danger.

Coming Home—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Aschenbrenner, who have been teaching at Pototan, on the island of Panay, Philippine islands, start for home on the 2d of next month. Mr. and Mrs. Aschenbrenner are both well known in this city, where they both attended the Willamette university, of which institution Mr. Aschenbrenner is a graduate. They were among the first to respond to the call for teachers issued by the government, and he has been principal of the schools in his province ever since he has been there.

Calendars Out—The house and senate calendars of the twenty-third legislative session are now printed, bound and ready for distribution. The house calendar contains 117 pages of printed matter and the senate calendar 107. They show the status of all bills and resolutions at the close of the session and also the final disposition of all bills passed. They also contain a list of the standing committees of both houses. The state printer is now at work upon the session laws and when that is finished he will print the house and senate journals. It will be about three weeks before the work is all completed.

Will Be on Exhibition—The beautiful monument that has been made by Drew E. Ebner, employed by Wm. Staiger, will be on exhibition for a few days at the Salem marble works on Liberty street. The work on this monument, in memory of Miss M. N. Alice Benjamin, deceased, of the Gervais neighborhood, has taken six or eight weeks to complete, and it was described in the Statesman of February 23. But no description could do it justice. It is a work of art, and something most unusual. There is probably no another artist in all Oregon who could have turned out such a piece of work. The monument will within a few days be set up in the cemetery at Gervais.

Highway Robbery—An immigration party of three families arrived in Salem on Thursday and unloaded their household goods and stock. The car containing the goods was consigned to F. A. Anderson, and part of the goods belonged to his son-in-law, Mr. Ackley. As Mr. Ackley passed through Spokane, Wash., the car of household goods and stock was guarded by a man claiming to be a stock inspector. He made Mr. Ackley believe it was necessary to have an inspection of his hogs on the car before proceeding further. This was submitted, and the "inspector" charged $2.50 for his services, which was paid. Of course, the Spokane man was a bunco operator. He had no right to demand the $2.50. Such a proceeding is highway robbery, and the Spokane officials should take the "inspector" in out of the wet, before he has a chance to victimize any more immigrants.

A Sight to Behold—In about another week, the hills south of Salem, in the Liberty and Rosedale districts, will be a sight worth crossing the channel to see. The thousands of acres of prune trees out there are beginning to bloom, and by the end of the week the country for miles will appear robed in pure white blossoms, spotless harbingers of the harvest that will yield fruit enough to fill the nation "full of prunes." The prospect now is for the most abundant crop. It is too late to fear any damage from the frost, and the only thing to be dreaded by the grower, is a period of cold and constant rains for two or three weeks, preventing the blossoms from pollinating. Off to the east Table Rock was yesterday seen to be white with a new covering of snow, which accounted for the greater coolness of the atmosphere. But this does not scare the prune growers, for a short breath of the warm south wind will almost immediately dissipate the mountain whiteness, and render the danger from frost a nullity.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)
Chilling Rain—Several farmers of the surrounding country were in town yesterday, taking advantage of the respite from their labors the rain afforded them to make necessary purchases. One and all expressed the fear that a continuance of this storm at its present temperature might work much damage to fruit prospects.

Buried in Lewisburg—The funeral of Mrs. A. M. Gobalt, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sophia Weber, who lives on the river road about a mile north of Salem Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, was held at 7:30 o'clock this morning. The obsequies were conducted at Mrs. Weber's home, Rev. J. L. Greene officiating. Interment was in Lewisburg. Deceased was about 65 years of age and her death was due to a complication of diseases. She was a resident of Silver Creek Falls, where she had lived for the past twenty years.

Returned from Extended Visit—The Misses Lena and Mary Payne have returned from an extended visit to friends and relatives. They have been absent from the city for about one month, during which time they visited at the home of Sylvester Patterson at Ashland, and friends and relatives in Eugene and Albany. They report the season as well advanced in southern Oregon as in the valley and that some species of fruit are in bloom. The orchardists in the vicinity of Ashland are making preparations for spraying of apple and pear trees to battle against codling moth, scale, etc.

Returned from Indiana—W. D. Wheeler returned on Saturday evening from a trip to Indianapolis, Ind. He was in that region for several weeks and encountered a good deal of cold weather. When he passed through Chicago on his way home last week there was snow on the ground eight inches deep, and the streets were full of sleighs, the sleigh bells tinkling with their sound. Mr. Wheeler did not see anything green until the train arrived this side of the Rocky mountains. He is glad to get back home, where he can see the ground and the green grass and flowers all the year through.

Aged Woman Dies—Mrs. Anna M. Zahn, an old pioneer of Marion county, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Schmitt, of Whittaker, Friday night and was buried Sunday at Sublimity. Mrs. Zahn was a native of Germany, born in Bavaria, August 24, 1814, and lived 91 years of age. After her husband's death in the old country, she, with her children emigrated to this country and settled in Ohio. In 1878 she moved to this county. Mrs. Zahn leaves a daughter and two sons in Ohio. She has one brother aged 88 living in Ohio and another brother aged 82 living in Canby, this state. Mrs. A. McCormick of this city, Mrs. Fay Wright and Mrs. E. Scott of Sublimity, are granddaughters of Mrs. Zahn.

Reached Amicable Agreement—Attorney General Crawford returned from his trip to The Dalles yesterday afternoon. He reports that an amicable and satisfactory agreement was reached between himself, on the part of the state and the board of canal commissioners, and I. H. Taffe, by which the latter deeded the state a right-of-way over his land for the government canal for a consideration of $17,500, as per the terms of the compromise. Mr. Crawford says the matter was all settled up, money paid over and deed signed to the state, and all that now remains to perfect title to the canal right-of-way is for the state to make a complete abstract of title and turn it over to the government.

STILL HOLDING

PINGUS & SON OF TACOMA, URGE HOP GROWERS TO FIGHT TO THE LAST.

Issue Circular Letter Calling Attention to Conditions as They See Them and Condemn Actions of Eastern Dealers Local Market Dull Without Feature.

Under date of March 16, Isaac Pinus & Son of Tacoma, dealers in hops, have issued a circular letter which they are mailing to all of the growers who still have hops on hand, in Washington and Oregon and California. This firm, it is said, holds the bulk of the hops in the state of Washington and has taken a firm stand on the "bull" side of the market, believing that the shortage which exists will force the price much higher and is urging the growers to "stand pat" and reap the benefit which is justly theirs and which, it is urged, is bound to materialize. The text of the circular letter follows: "It is reported that some of the largest houses in the East are selling out and this is being used as an argument to induce growers to sell. Now it is a peculiar thing that these houses would hold hops for three months on a declining market and sell just when the change is here. Their answer would probably be that they now see their mistake. We would like to ask them this, if they made a mistake last summer in selling 1904 hops at 20 cents delivered for the months of October, November and December, and then if they made a mistake in November in buying at 30 cents and 31 cents more than they needed, expecting hops to go higher, and make a third mistake in holding the 30-cent and 31-cent hops until the market dropped to 25 cents, does not demonstrate that they are not infallible and may be making a mistake again in selling out now (if they are selling out)? The fact of the matter is that a large percentage of the sales being made between dealers now, both in Oregon and New York, are "wash" sales, that is, fake sales, simply made to influence the market. Wires are being sent out from New York City that Pacific coast hops are being offered there freely at any price. The truth is that there are not 750 bales of Pacific coast hops in New York. A month ago the bears were crying that there could be no recovery in our market because English growers were going to pieces and selling their hops. Now when English growers have pooled they say the dangerous feature is the reproduced from the latest issue of the Kenilworth Observer.

The adjourned meeting of the Hop Planters' Syndicate was held at the Bridge House Hotel, London, on Monday, and the proceedings were of a very enthusiastic character. Mr. Frederick Neame of Macknade, Faversham, presided and the attendance numbered nearly a hundred growers. The principal factors in the borough were also present. The speakers were Lieutenant Colonel Honeyball, Mr. Henry White, Mr. W. LeMay, Mr. Bertram Noakes, Mr. Richard West, Mr. Herbert Neame and others. The scheme received the warm support of the growers present, and it was unanimously decided to form the organization and commence operations immediately. A general committee was appointed, with Mr. F. Neame as chairman, and included four factors.

The growers forming the syndicate will deliver into the hands of the managing committee all their unsold hops grown in 1904, the committee to arrange for the valuing of the hops according to quality and fixing of minimum prices which shall be conclusive and binding on all members. It is not intended to change the present method of doing business through factors, but the latter are to pay to the syndicate the proceeds of the sale of all pooled hops instead of as heretofore settling with their individual growers. This is an entirely new departure by British agricultural interests, and its outcome will be watched with interest by others than those directly interested in the growing and using of hops. The promoters of the syndicate are well satisfied with the result of Monday's meeting, believing that it foretells full attainment of their object. The stocks of English hops of the 1904 crop still in the hands of growers are estimated at from 40,000 to 45,000 pockets, and of these 20,000 pockets were at once turned into the pool, with indications that within a short period the bulk, if not the whole of the balance, would follow suit. In any case, the formation of the syndicate means the present removal of about 50 per cent of the unsold stock of English hops from the market at prevailing prices.

We are informed that already the market has assumed a healthier tone as the result of the formation of the syndicate. There are more inquiries for hops and rather more business is being done, the tendency of prices being upward. The new departure on the part of the hop growers has been well received by the trade generally, though not, of course, by the merchants.

Wiggs—Deacon Buncumb is fond of doing good deeds on the sly.

Wiggs—Yes; but he's terribly cut up if other people don't find out about it.

$70,000 SHORT

MARION COUNTY TAXES FOR 1905 THAT AMOUNT SHY OF 1904.

Law of Special Legislative Session of 1903 Regulates Assessment of Property This Year—Present Levy Will Leave Comfortable Surplus.

(From Saturday's Daily.)
As a result of a law passed by the special session of the legislature in 1903, approximately $70,000 which was paid in Marion county taxes for 1904, will be lacking this year by exemptions.

Last year there was no exemption law in force whatever, and an entirely different one is in force this year from any that has been in force before.

The old law stated in general terms that personal property to the amount of $300 should be exempt. The new law states that this amount of personal property shall be exempt, but it also increases the total amount to $1,000,000. This increase is made necessary by the many improvements which have been made in the county, and also by the appropriations for the Lewis and Clark fair, etc.

In an interview yesterday, however, Assessor Rice stated that he thought the present levy would bring in more than the required amount and thus leave a neat balance in the treasury. This balance, together with the fact that there will be no call for so many special appropriations next year, leads Mr. Rice to believe that the taxes in 1905 will be much over than in 1904.
