Public interest has begun to center in the hop situation which is growing more interesting each day and there sems still to be a divergence of opinion as to the ultimate outcome. The growers, however, although the dealers rated as "bears" continue to cast discouraging allusions upon the situation, are growing more optimistic every day and their outstanding position is becoming stronger with each report received as to conditions of the market

Reports indicate a much stronger demand and considerable more inquiry, bordering upon the anxious, for Pacifics, and especialty Oregon's and the price seems to show a gradual upward absolutely nothing doing as between the plan is to appoint a place of meet-grower and dealer. Just how long this ing for the purpose of arriving at an condition will continue to exist is only a matter of conjecture, since the bears maintain that the prices will go much lower and will never again reach the mark attained last fall, while the growers feel perfectly satisfied with conditions as they are and assert that they will hold their hops for three months yet in order to realize their price which is fixed at not less than 30 cents.

There is still some talk or pool but the matter does not seem to materialize very rapidly, although the growers are beginning to show more interest. So far, however, they have been holding out strongly without organization and there is no sign of weakness in any part of the chain as yet. M. H. Durs's of Alameda, California, is still showing much interest in the project and continues to believe that it is the only salvation for the growers under the present circumstances. The growers seem to think that his plan, as suggested, is the only one by which a pool could be made effectual and bring forth the results sought, yet there is none to take hold and push the proposition let the contract for furnishing the through.
