Taylor, all of whom received two years for the crimes of which they were respectively committed. They are: George Clifford and Carl Manning, larceny in a dwelling, and Wesley Dodson, living with and accepting earnings of a prostitute.

Broken Shaft—Work at the Spaulding Mills has been suspended during the past two days on account of a broken shafting. The shaft is a four-inch piece of steel about twelve feet in length and is used to operate the two large double saws on the upper floor of the mill. The shaft was taken to the Salem Iron Foundry for repairs and is being worked upon day and night in order that work may be resumed as soon as possible.

A Fine Product—Wm. Hoppe, who lives six miles above Salem, on the Marion county side of the Willamette river, left at the Statesman office yesterday, for display in the window, some of the finest potatoes that have been grown this year, or that can be raised in any country. They are the early peerless variety. They were planted the middle of March. They are white, and appear to be fully matured. The soil where they grew is a sandy loam.

Appointments Made—The Oregon National Guard of this city held a meeting last Thursday evening in which they appointed a number of officers to serve during the encampment which is to be held this month at Gearhart park. The appointments for sergeants are: F. T. Kress, L. Rostine, Robert Duncan, Ralph White and Roy Byrd. Those appointed corporals are J. Coburn, J. Longcore, U. S. Rider, Alfred Aufrance, B. Nutter and A. Lennon. The above appointments are only temporary and at the end of the encampment the officers will again resume their old positions.

Court Is Auditing Bills—The Marion county commissioners' court is still grinding away on bills and it will be several days before the claim docket is entirely disposed of. The docket is unusually large on account of the many claims filed under the road and highway account. During yesterday's session the court made an order instructing the county board of road viewers to meet on July 27 to view and survey the proposed location for a county road petitioned for by H. Wipper and others. The road is to be located in the Turner neighborhood. Upon the petition of Harrison Jones and others, Mrs. Mary Ann Chaves of Gervais was admitted to the Salem hospital at the expense of the county. Mrs. Chaves, who is 60 years of age, is ill and without money and in need of medical attention.

Progress of Civilization—A lot of the Indians from the Grande Ronde reservation in Tillamook county visited the Lewis and Clark fair last week and while there combined business with pleasure by disposing of a large number of their baskets which they manufacture.

Flowers Should Be Carried—County Judge J. H. Scott informed

a Statesman reporter yesterday that he was misquoted in an interview published in Saturday morning's issue of the Statesman, with reference to the manner in which flowers should be sent to Superintendent Savage to be used for decoration in connection with the Marion county exhibit at the Lewis and Clark exposition. Judge Scott says flowers should be carried to the superintendent by those visiting the fair and not sent through the mail or by express, as none that were shipped have so far reached their destination in good condition.

He Alleges Desertion—Another suit for divorce made its appearance upon the circuit court docket of Marion county yesterday in which Roy Coffey appears as plaintiff and Addie Coffey as made defendant. The parties were married in Benton county on July 27, 1902, and lived together as husband and wife until July 6, 1904, when according to the husband's allegations, his wife deserted him without cause or provocation and has ever since refused to live with him. The plaintiff desires an absolute divorce and asks that he be allowed to recover his costs and disbursements in the action from the defendant. H. H. Turner and J. A. Finch have been retained as attorneys by the plaintiff.

Is Mentally Deranged—Francis Wattier of near Gervais was arrested last evening upon a charge of insanity and is occupying a cell in the Marion county jail. The complaint was sworn out before the county clerk late yesterday afternoon and Sheriff Culver and his deputy, William Esch, drove down to the Wattier farm, east of Gervais, last evening and took the demented man into custody, returning to this city with their charge at a late hour last night. Francis Wattier has been affected in mind for some time and unfortunately his condition has been growing worse and is such at the present time that it is deemed unsafe to longer permit him to remain at large. He will be examined before County Judge Scott tomorrow.

Judge Acquits Defendants—Justice of the Peace H. H. Turner rendered a decision yesterday morning acquitting Mrs. Bertha Klender, Mrs. Martin Kohl and her daughter Lizzie, on the charge of threatening to do any bodily harm to Mrs. Louise H. Aufrance. The three defendants were arrested on complaint of Mrs. Aufrance, who alleged that they stopped her in the road near their home in Hampden Park addition to Salem on the evening of July 3 and threatened to do violence and that she was compelled to flee for safety. The case was heard in the justice court Friday afternoon and taken under advisement by Judge Turner until yesterday morning when the result as stated above.

He Was Answered—Lewis Hahn, who lives on R. F. D. route No. 8, writes The Statesman that through his prayers to God the apais that have attacked the wheat in this field has disappeared. It was while he, with a friend were walking through the wheat field that he observed the pests and that evening he made prayer to God and the next day the pest had disappeared. Here's his letter as received by this office: "God answers prayers of those that obey him on the third of July when Lewis Hahn on route 8 near Brooks, was called by a gentleman to show him his property as saved farm for sale and when both gentlemen passed by the wheat field they noticed on the heads of the grain a devorous insect to do much harm to the grain and in the evening the result were made known before God in Heaven, and a patation was sent up unto his throne to rebuke the devourer and to remove that plague and the prayer was answered emedietly and the next day the insect began to die and now the wheat is clear and looks bright Hallelujah All the Glory be to God."

praises filed in the Marion county court yesterday the estate of the late Thomas L. Golden located in Marion county, is valued at $53,854. The estate consists of both real and personal property and was appraised by George A. Nye, J. H. Penland and H. S. Belle.

Bicycle Stolen—The "1905 Columbia" bicycle of Clarence Hamilton was stolen from his front porch Sunday night. He had purchased the wheel about two months ago and had ridden it but very little. Mr. Hamilton says he would not have purchased a Columbia if he had understood that they were the only kind worth stealing.

Receives Additional Property—Upon petition of T. A. Bateliff, the guardian, H. S. Radcliff, J. C. Johnson and G. M. Vories were yesterday appointed by the Marion county court to appraise the property belonging to the estate of Joseph S. Maxwell, a person of unsound mind. The property to be appraised has come into the possession of the guardian since the first appraisal of the estate was made.

Important Mission—Mrs. S. V. Culp accompanied by Mrs. Bateman, both of San Francisco, arrived in this city yesterday and are visiting Mrs. T. T. Geer. Mrs. Culp is a former classmate of Mrs. Geer. With Governor Geer as cicero, Mrs. Geer and her guests will drive over to Silver Creek falls today. Tomorrow Mrs. Culp will leave for Portland where she will install the Xiramic art exhibit in the California building.

Admitted to the Bar—Upon a certificate from the supreme court of Indiana, and the recommendation of Judge Willis C. McMahon of Indianapolis, Ind., and James McCain and W. T. Vinson, of McMinnville, C. R. Eberhard was admitted to practice before the court of Oregon for nine months. Mr. Eberhard has many friends in this city, having been a former employe at the insane asylum, where he was quite popular.

Another Mismatched Couple—J. R. Parvin yesterday commenced an action for divorce against his wife, Julia A. Parvin, in department No. 2 of the state circuit court for Marion county. The grounds upon which the suit was brought could not be ascertained as the plaintiff's attorney, J. N. Brown, of Portland, removed the papers from the county clerk's office immediately after they had been entered for record. The plaintiff in the case is a son of Prof. Z. M. Parvin of this city.

Wattier Adjudged Insane—Francis Wattier, of Parkersville, was yesterday adjudged insane and committed to the asylum. The man was examined by Dr. F. E. Smith upon whose affidavit the order of the commitment was made by County Judge Scott. Wattier was born in Wisconsin but has been a resident of Marion county for several years. He is forty years of age and a farmer by occupation, and the duration of his attack of insanity has extended over a period of one month. The afflicted man imagines people are trying to kill him with kodaks and has at different times expressed his determination to take desperate steps to defend himself. The cause of Wattier's condition is not known.

Home for Visit—Walker H. Jones, an old resident of the Waldo Hills, arrived in the city Sunday evening from the great Klondike mining district of Alaska, where he had been prospecting and mining for the past seven years, and will spend a month visiting relatives in the city and his father, T. A. Jones, in the Waldo Hills. Mr. Jones was very successful as a miner, and recently made a big strike in the Colefoot country, about one thousand miles north of Cape Nome the details of which were chronicled in the columns of the Statesman at the time. He expects to return there in about one month, as he has become accustomed to the bitter cold of that country, and hardly appreciated Oregon's mild climate as exemplified last Saturday.

Severely Injured—Ray Stiffler was thrown from his buggy yesterday afternoon in Yew Park, landing on his head, and was severely injured. He is now resting comfortably at his home. The horse, a fractious one, that he was driving along Twelfth toward Mission, for some unknown reason took fright and started on a wild dash down the street. So sudden was this spurt that Stiffler was taken completely by surprise and lost control of the animal, which dashed straight into a hydrant at the corner of Twelfth and Mission, throwing Stiffler out and breaking out of the front wheels. This collision seemed only to add to the fright of the horse, which cut through a couple of hedge fences on the Morrow place and cleared a picket fence in a bound. The buggy didn't take the flight as well as the horse with the result that it was badly demolished and reduced almost to complete ruin by its impact upon the fence. This failed to stop the horse in its mad career, for he kept going and it was some time afterward that he was captured on Twelfth street. The driver was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to his home, where he lay in that state for almost two hours. At last accounts he was resting comfortably, although suffering from several bruises about the head and body.

Work at Ogle Mountain—Tom Fairclough, just returned from Ogle Mountain, has brought with him some gold ore of exceptional richness. The ore is of porphyry and quartz formation and the deposit is both extensive and general. The owners of this property are now building a road into the mine which is located near the headwaters of the Molalla. Five miles have been constructed and there remain but two more miles to be built and this will be completed during July. The purpose of the road is to enable hauling of machinery to the mine, the masonry resting comfortably on a mill in operation early this fall. Until a test has been made of the ore, it is not known what kind of machinery will be purchased but the 1000 feet of tunneling which has been made gives great promise. The proceeds of two season's tunneling awaits the installation of the machinery.—Oregon City Enterprise.

Money in Cherries—A Royal Ann cherry tree twenty-six years old and sixty feet high, at the farm home of B. Rasmussen, two and a half miles northeast of town, produced this year 820 pounds of cherries. Mr. Rasmussen sold most of the fruit at four cents a pound, realizing the sum of $32.95 for what he sold. He used the balance, which, at the price quoted would have brought the value of the crop from this tree up to $32.80. And it wasn't a good year for cherries either.—McMinnville Reporter.

Shot Through the Stomach—Alfred Pleuard, a logger by occupation, lies almost at the point of death at his home near Lowell, twenty miles east of Eugene, as a result of being accidentally shot in the stomach with a 22-calibre revolver yesterday afternoon. Pleuard, who is aged about 35 years and lives with his mother and brothers and sisters, had been having trouble with squirrels destroying his garden. He had been shooting at the rodents with his old revolver and left it lying on the ground in the garden. His sister picked it up and was in the act of handing it to him, when in some manner it was discharged, the bullet passing through his stomach and also the lower lobe of the left lung, lodging near the spine.—Eugene Guard.

Object to the Fertilizer—It is estimated that between 300 and 500 car loads of manure and refuse of the streets of Portland are shipped to Beaverton each year and there used on beaverdam land. Some of the residents of the latter place are objecting to the unloading of this refuse matter within the limits of Beaverton and are asking the county board of health to interfere. The matter is being considered by the health officer and steps will be taken to ascertain whether there is anything detrimental to the public health in this traffic in fertilizer from Portland.—Hillsboro Independent.

Music in the Air—The Monmouth band gives weekly concerts in that town, the citizens there having engaged them to dispense the sweet music.

Busy Phones—Another switchboard, just like the one now in use, arrived Wednesday from Kansas City for the Independent Telephone Company. The purchase of another switchboard was made necessary because of the large increase in the business of the company, and the many

At Orono.

"Condon is destined to be one of the best towns in eastern Oregon," said F. W. Wilson, deputy district attorney, who, with Andrew Keller, returned home from that place yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wilson delivered the oration there and says they had a great time for three days. It was a novelty to ride over the new road and coaches and freight cars were overflowing. He says there were fully 2,500 people there and at the baseball game on the Fourth they took in $375. Times are good up there and so optimistic are the people over the opening of the road that they could hardly celebrate enough in three days.—Dallas Chronicle.

The West Salem school district having been divided there has been an antebellum division of the money and a new school will be erected somewhere near Highland church.—Dallas Itemizer.

The Dallas Postoffice.

So greatly has the business of our postoffice increased, entailing so much extra work, that Postmaster Hosteler found it impossible for the present force to accomplish it. He therefore made application to the department about a month ago for an additional clerk, which has been granted, and Mr. Hosteler has appointed Alvin M. Anderson, son of M. J. Anderson, and a graduate in this year's class at the high school, to the position temporarily pending the civil service examination. Among other proofs of the increase of business is the fact that when the last report was made it showed 2300 registered letters against 1600 in the term previous. Also 560 money orders as against 3700 two years ago.—Dallas Chronicle.
