THEY WERE BOLD

HIGHWAYMEN ATTEMPT HOLDUP ALMOST IN HEART OF NEW YORK CITY.

Intended Victim all But Killed Within Sight of Detectives Who Witness the Encounter—One of Robbers Beaten into Insensibility.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Highway robbery was attempted at a street corner in the heart of the city today, and, as a result, one man is dying and another is badly injured. Samuel L. Johnson was set upon by two men at the corner of Tenth avenue and Twenty-sixth street. Only a block away were two detectives who saw a revolver leveled at Johnson's head while one of his assailants went through the victim's pockets.

Before the officers could get to Johnson's assistance he had been beaten to the sidewalk with a fractured skull and men, were set upon by the crowd of by-internal injuries which will probably cause his death. The detectives while attempting to arrest the two highway-standers, who apparently were confederates.

Police reinforcements were necessary before any arrests were made. Charles Montgomery, one of the men arrested, who is said to have held up Johnson, was beaten unconscious by the police.

CHRISTIAN CHURCHES CONVENE

MAYSVILLE, Ky., Sept. 25.—The largest annual convention of the Christian churches of the state of Kentucky began here today. Over 500 delegates attended the opening meeting, making this the largest in the history of church conventions in this state. The most prominent ministers of the state are present and will speak at the sessions which last until Thursday. The opening meeting was occupied by annual reports of the association, showing favorable progress for the year, and by the submission of some plans for general improvement during the coming year.

IT IS MARVELOUS

ATTENDANCE AT LEWIS AND CLARK FAIR EXCEEDS ALL EXPECTATIONS.

Has Already Passed the Two Million Mark and Bids Fair to Reach More Than Half Million Yet—All Possible Expenses Paid and Some Profit.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—It is said that with the receipts of the Lewis and Clark exposition up to Friday night the exposition paid all its past and possible expenses. What money may be taken in by the fair during the next twenty-three days will be devoted to payment to the stockholders of a part of their capital invested. In this particular the Lewis and Clark fair will be unique in the history of all such expositions. The attendance has passed the two million mark, and it is safe to prophesy that the attendance for the rest of the fair will reach 350,000, making the total attendance over two million and a quarter.

As an artistic success, an exhibitive success, the Lewis and Clark fair will have a place in history ahead of any ever yet attempted, excepting, perhaps, the fairs at St. Louis, Chicago and Paris.

It is safe to predict that nearly every man, woman and child in western Oregon will have seen this fair before its final close, and the attendance from the east has been something marvelous. The transcontinental railways have been taxed to their utmost, and this is still their condition. Passenger agents declare that their every effort to supply Pullman and tourist sleepers for the accommodation of the people yet preparing to journey from the east to the fair is futile. They simply cannot meet the demand. Heavier trains were never hauled over the transcontinental roads for so long a period at a time before in their history.

The Southern Pacific is preparing for its heaviest traffic yet all during the following sixteen days. It is just now circulating in California one of the handsomest folders yet published regarding the fair, and this folder should certainly aid in increasing the attendance from that state, for it is very attractive and shows the fair to be worth seeing.

The stock show is said to be the finest in point of quality ever yet seen in the United States. Of course, in point of numbers, it is said there have been others to excel, but in character of the stock shown there has been none.

Senator C. W. Fulton left Portland on Friday night for Washington. Senator Fulton expects to return to Oregon on October 10, and after the Republican "rally" at Portland will make a tour of the state. Senator Fulton expects a great deal from the coming conference of Republicans at Portland and believes it will lead to a good end. Senator Fulton appreciates the necessity of a harmonious organization of the party, and suggests that precinct clubs be formed. The idea meets with much approval. A prominent Republican, in speaking about the coming meeting of Republicans at Portland on October 12, Discovery of America day, by the way, suggests that the meeting be turned into a grand rally, Republican parade, etc., and that the exposition make it "Republican day," and that the meeting be held in the auditorium.

Southern Pacific officials are looking forward to great things in Oregon during the next few years. They are reported as saying that all that the Harriman people propose doing for and in Oregon has not yet been published or advertised to the world. People in the Willamette valley may expect to hear something drop before long.

Portland is becoming a city of fakirs. On every street corner one finds the street vendor hawking his wares. Late at night the "Persian rug" seller walks the streets with his wares on his shoulder. On nearly every corner in the business part of town at 11 and 12 o'clock at night comes the cry, "Tamales; a-lick a-tamales." The patent medicine man and the souvenir vendor try to outclass each other with the attractiveness of their voices. Here the cheap photo man; there the peanut stand. They are everywhere, ubiquitous.

Portland really is taking a boom. There are those who say it is just beginning. The proposed construction of wholesale houses with car tracks through the center has caused a great deal of comment and has surprised a great many of Portland's most optimistic, even.

Various officers of the German man-of-war Falke were entertained at luncheon at the Commercial club today. Governor Chamberlain was among the guests. —I. A. M.

THE LIVESTOCK SHOW

It Will Close on September 29 and the Poultry Display Will Be Next on the Program.

PORTLAND, Sept. 25.—The livestock show at the Lewis and Clark exposition will close next Friday afternoon, after which preparations will be made for the poultry exhibition, which will begin on October 5 and continue for seven days. On account of much of the poultry being out of condition this early in the fall the display of feathered beauties will not be so large as desired, but the quality will be in the entire main and lovers of poultry may prepare to see a display of grand fowls from nearly all the breeds. Indications are that there will be about eight or nine hundred poultry shown, Washington heading the list in number of entries made, with Oregon a very close second, California a bad third, and some scattering specimens from elsewhere.

Mr. Plowman: Does that look good to you?

That's the bottom of a Syracuse Steel Plow. It's made of soft center steel, the surface as hard as glass, the next layer being soft steel, and the back hard. "It will scour most anywhere and takes a polish like a mirror. Notice the renewable shin piece, saves buying a mouthboard some time. Notice the renewable shoe, saves buying a handlike some time. Notice the construction of the share, all in one piece. Steel or wooden beam. All sizes. Syracuse chilled plows are wonderfully satisfactory. They hang well, run steadily and scour wherever any chilled plow will scour. Ask to be shown.

HERE'S THE MONITOR DOUBLE DISC DRILL

There are a good many things to consider in purchasing a disc drill. It's better to buy a drill that is time-tried than one with which you are experimenting. Examine the bearings of the discs. They should fit closely and be dustproof. Monitors are. How about others? Monitors will not clog. The grain always "delivers." Call and examine.

The Merit

Of our SCHOOL SHOES is unquestioned. We have been exceedingly careful in the selection of this very important part of our stock. We realize that it is no use for us to sell a shoe to boys or girls going to school that will not wear. It would be folly to do this. We are not here for a day, but expect to sell for a long time to come, the kind of school shoes that will insure continued custom.
