COURT GRINDS

JUDGE BURNETT SENTENCES WIFE-BEATER TO SERVE THREE MONTHS.

District Attorney accuses E. C. Knipper of Selling Liquor Without License—Two Criminal Cases Dismissed—Jury Finds for Plaintiff in Civil Suit.

The regular October term of department No. 1 of the state circuit court for Marion county was convened yesterday morning and a large grist of business was disposed of during the first day's session. One case was tried by jury during the day, the action for money in which Charles Scott as executor was plaintiff and M. and H. Christenson were defendants. The plaintiff sued to recover upon a promissory note and was given a verdict for the full amount asked for, $131.75, and was also allowed $20 for attorneys fees. The attorneys in the case were C. W. Corby and H. J. Bigger for the plaintiff and Frank Holmes for the defendants.

Harry Milner, who beat his wife at their home in East Salem about two months ago, and who has since occupied a cell in the county jail awaiting the action of the circuit court, pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery when taken before Judge Burnett yesterday. Milner waived time and sentenced to serve three months in jail.

E. C. Knipper of Edger, was arraigned upon an information filed against him by District Attorney J. H. McVary in which he is charged with selling malt liquor in less quantities than one gallon without a license. The accused man will enter his plea today.

The cases against George M. Hoyser, who was accused of setting fire to slashing without a license, and Sylvester Mangold who was charged with the crime of assault with a dangerous weapon, were dismissed upon motion of the district attorney.

Other docket entries made by Judge Burnett yesterday were as follows: Sarah Hassan vs. E. L. Bentley; action for money; settled.

C. A. Whaley vs. Joseph Zollner; action for money; settled.

F. A. Morris vs. John Neal; action for money; settled.

L. L. Robertson vs. Fred Miller; action for money; default and judgment with order to sell attached property.

W. D. Mahoney vs. Isaac L. Steiner; action for money; motion to strike out parts of complaint sustained.

State of Oregon vs. A. T. Kelliher and H. H. Turner; uttering forged instrument; demurrer to indictment sustained.

State of Oregon vs. A. T. Kelliher and H. H. Turner; forgery; demurrer to indictment sustained.

The following cases have been set for trial this week:

State of Oregon vs. John Hoffman; Wednesday, 9 a. m.

In the matter of the estate of John Ashmead, deceased, Benj. Haymond, claimant vs. W. T. Riches, administrator; Wednesday, 1 p. m.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY.

A. E. McBride Accused of Stealing Watch From E. B. Duncan of Polk County.

Through the efforts of City Marshal Cornelius, A. E. McBride, who is charged with the crime of larceny, was apprehended in Oregon City and was brought to Salem yesterday and locked up in the city jail. McBride is accused by Robert B. Duncan of Polk county of stealing a watch, and the prisoner will be taken before Justice of the Peace J. R. Shepard, near Zena, today for arraignment.

Marshal Cornelius was notified of the theft a few days ago and upon inquiry found that a man tried to sell a watch, which answered the description of the stolen timepiece, to Henry Smith, who conducts a second-hand store on North Commercial street in this city. Suspicion pointed to McBride and upon instructions sent by Marshal Cornelius he was apprehended by Chief of Police Burns of Oregon City on Thursday night. Marshal Cornelius went to the city by the falls yesterday morning and returned to Salem with his man on the 11 a. m. train.

Mr. Smith, the second-hand dealer, visited McBride at the city jail yesterday afternoon and identified him as the man who tried to sell a watch at his place a few days ago.

WILLAMETTE FOOTBALL SQUAD COMPLIMENTED BY COACH BISHOP FOR FINE WORK.

Boys Return Home in Fine Spirits Over Excellent Showing They Made—All in Good Condition—Keep Up Hard Practice for Future Games.

The Willamette football squad returned to this city yesterday morning on the early overland in good order and in the best of health. Not a man was injured seriously in either of the California games.

The local team has no doubt made an everlasting name for itself as the result of the two splendid contests played in California, and in the future there will no doubt be a chance for a game at any of the colleges in the South.

"The boys played excellent ball with Berkeley and Stanford," declared Coach Bishop, and had it not been for the extreme warm weather we would have done a little better, but as it was, the weather at both Berkeley and Stanford was much to warm for our boys. For this reason we practiced two hours every day before the game to become accustomed to the climate. The grounds were in no way to be compared with our home gridiron, as the fine sand which covered the grounds was very wearisome to the players, and this together with the warm weather made it difficult for the boys to become accustomed to the conditions.

No doubt had it not been for our daily practice of two hours in the warmest part of the day, we would not have fared so well as we did."

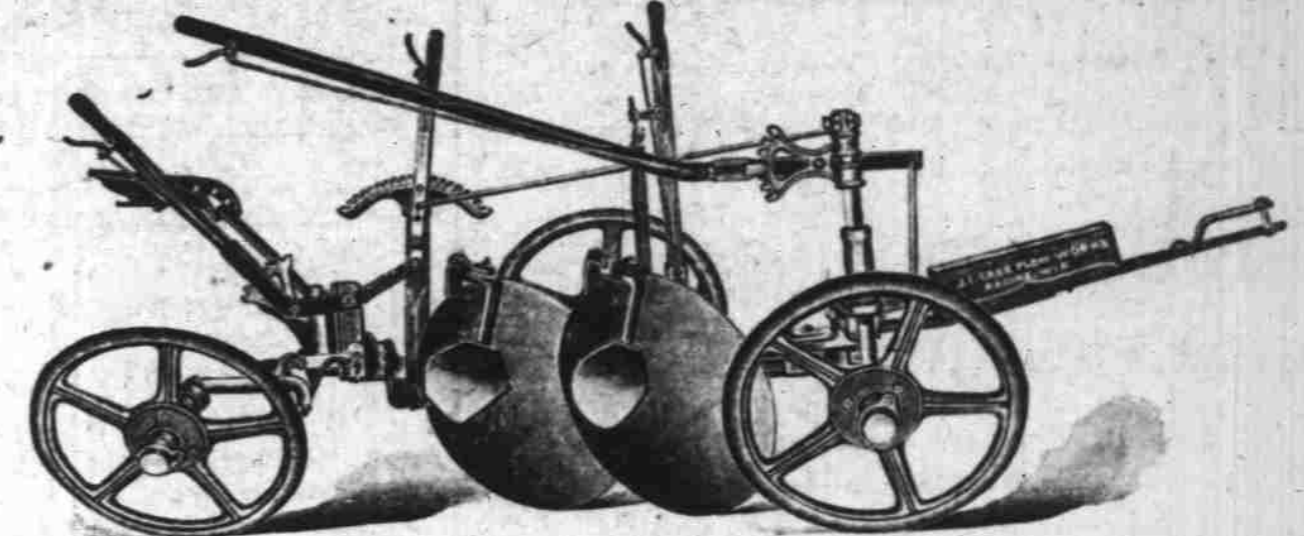

The next game to be played by the local team will be with the Pullman, Wash., team at this city, one week from Wednesday. This game is looked forward to with great interest by the local football enthusiasts, as it will no doubt be a fast and interesting contest, owing to both teams being heavy and speedy.

The local squad was out last evening for practice, although being light, and will continue the same individual work during the remainder of the week, consisting of speedy plays and light offenses with the second team, to "ginger up" and keep in good wind and condition generally.

J. I. Case Plows

With or Without Full Chilled Scrapers

The J. I. Case Co. were not pioneers in bringing out Disc Plows, preferring to wait and ascertain whether the practical and discriminating farmer was satisfied with the results obtained from seed sown on fields turned by discs. They did not wish to place the name J. I. CASE on any tool until it could be branded as the best of its class.

Becoming convinced that there are sections where the Disc Plow has become a standard implement and other sections where it will be used largely in seasons when conditions are favorable, experts were set to work to bring about a Disc Gang that would be enough better than those now in use, to make the brand J. I. CASE a standard also in this branch of plow making.

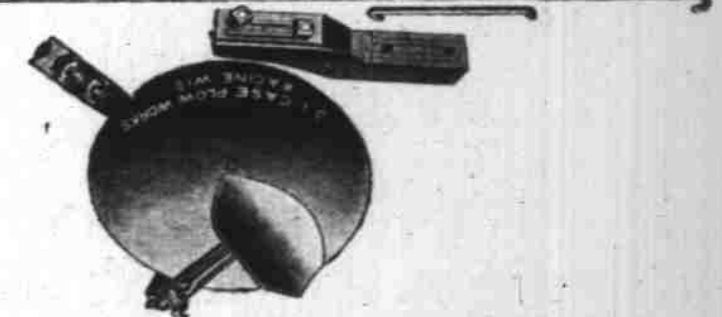

The illustration above shows the Gang as it is made for this season's trade and from the flattering reports received of it, from those who have used it, we are convinced it is much superior to others.

THE FRAME, which is the foundation of this Gang, is made of heavy ribbed steel, and is extremely strong and rigid.

THE BEARINGS on which the Discs revolve are made of Chilled Iron, so hard and so long and large that they are very durable. They can be easily lubricated.

THE LEVERS are so located that the operator in the seat can reach them easily and control the plow quickly in all the movements. The land lever enables the operator to guide the Plow by changing the direction of the front wheel so that he can instantly adapt it to the work in hand.

THIRD DISC ATTACHMENT. To the right we show the parts furnished to convert this implement, as shown above, to a Three-Disc Gang. When connected the plow becomes as perfect a three disc rig as though made without reference to changing from two to three-disc. The change can be made quickly by any one, all that is required is intelligence enough to securely tighten the nuts on the bolts.

QUOTATIONS UNCHANGED.

Local Hay and Grain Dealers Enjoy Healthy Business Though the Market is Quiet.

There is practically no change in the local market quotations and the market is extremely quiet. However, the feed stores are all enjoying a good local trade with bright prospects for a marked increase as the season advances. Rolled barley and seed grain are in demand and moving lively. On account of the high price for oats, rolled barley is generally used for horse feed which creates a strong demand for the product. The dealers say that at least 90 per cent of the grain fed at the present time is barley and that they are compelled to import a large amount of the grain to supply the demand.

All local feed stores quote the same prices on wheat and oats, 65 cents for wheat and 35 cents for oats. On some of the other products usually handled by feedmen the prices vary slightly. The Salem Flouring Mill quotes wheat at from 58 to 61 cents.

The quotations furnished the Statesman by the different local dealers on hay, grain and mill stuffs are as follows:

Savage & Fletcher.—Wheat, 65c; oats, 35c; cheat, vetch and clover hay, $7 to $7.50.

Selling prices.—Rolled barley, $25 per ton; rolled oats, $1.40 per hundred pounds; bran, 70c per sack, $22.40 per ton.

D. A. White & Sons.—Wheat 65c; oats 35c; cheat, vetch and clover hay, $7.50 to $8 per ton; timothy hay, $8.50 to $10.

Selling prices.—Rolled barley, $25; $26 per ton; Daisy chop, $20 to $22; bran, $22; shorts, $23; flour, $1 per sack.

Tillson & Co.—Wheat, 65c; oats 35c; hay, best quality, $10 per ton.

Selling prices.—Rolled barley, $25 per ton; shorts, $24; bran, $22.50.

Salem Flouring Mills Co.—Wheat, 58 to 61c; flour, $1 per sack, wholesale price, $3.55 per barrel.
