

PEOPLE OF RUSSIA HILARIOUSLY HAPPY

CARRIED AWAY WITH JOY OVER IMPERIAL MANIFESTO

ST. PETERSBURG, (Tuesday), Oct. 31.—The celebration of the issuance of the imperial manifesto still continues at 3 o'clock this morning in many streets of the city, where crowds are singing the national hymn, cheering the emperor and shouting themselves hoarse. The Cossacks are utterly delighted and confounded and wholly at a loss to understand the meaning of the demonstration, or why the crowds are singing "God Save the Emperor," Russia's national anthem, instead of the "Marseillaise."

ministry of finance, become minister of ways and communications. Late tonight after the news got abroad, crowds began marching up and down Nevsky Prospect singing the national hymn and hurrahing for liberty. It is significant the great searchlight up Nevsky Prospect from the admiralty tower for three nights has been turned off. At all fashionable restaurants wine was drunk to "Liberty and Constitution."

An Appeal for Peace.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 30.—The imperial manifesto issued today, after stating the necessity for self-effacement by the czar in order to secure unity and co-ordination of the central government, grants foundation for civil liberty based on real inviolability of the person, freedom of conscience, speech, union and association. Without suspending the already ordered elections to the state duma as far as the limited time will permit, those classes now deprived of electoral rights are invited to participate in the duma, the duma itself to later fix the right of franchise. The manifesto clothes the duma with the power to approve all laws before being enforced and the supervision of the legality of the acts of the authorities. The document closes exhorting the people of Russia to terminate the present troubles and to co-operate in restoring calm and peace.

Americans Can Appreciate.

St. Petersburg, (Midnight), Oct. 30.—"I am sure the American people, who understand what freedom is, and the American press which voices the wishes of the people, will rejoice with Russia at this moment when the Russian people received from his imperial majesty promises and guarantees of freedom, and join in the hope that the Russian people will wisely aid the realization of those liberties by co-operating with the government for their peaceful introduction of freedom conferred on the people." Count Witte, Russia's first premier, tonight sent the above message to the American people through the Associated Press.

He had just arrived from Peterhoff, where the emperor, two hours before, had given final approval of the manifesto which forever ended the rule of absolutism exercised by him and his ancestors for 300 years. The simple perusal of the manifesto shows how complete is the emperor's abdication of his autocratic power. The style of the document is clear and direct. It not only betrays the real authorship, but shows the emperor at last irrevocably bowed to the inevitable. He did not even conceal the fact that the discontent and agitation of his subjects has driven him to take the step, and practically yields everything.

Revolutionists Keep Up Fight.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 30.—The news spread like wildfire throughout the city. The revolutionists and active agitators generally declared loudly the government's promises would no longer suffice and the strike must be continued. In fact, an hour after the news became known the revolutionists took occasion to throw the first bomb in St. Petersburg since the strike began. The incident occurred near the Polytechnic institute, but with no fatality.

Practically all classes except the extreme radicals and socialists read the document with delight and amazement and have declared it could not fail to suppress the moderates to the support of Witte. By the irony of fate while the strikers are clamoring for a constitution, it has been impossible to persuade the striking printers to resume work, and, therefore, not a single newspaper except the Official Messenger, will print the momentous document tomorrow. Arrangements have been made to telegraph the manifesto to every place which has telegraphic communication. The effect throughout Russia is expected to be instantaneous. While the revolutionists threaten an attempt to keep up the present struggle, the best of opinion is that the backbone of the strike has been broken, but in the final analysis of the effect will depend upon how far Witte will be able to execute the task he has assumed.

"Liberty and Constitution."

St. Petersburg, Oct. 30.—Some persons high in the government believe it will be necessary to use ball cartridges to suppress the present movement, but Witte appears confident. He has become the bridge upon which the people may cross to constitutionalism. The count has already selected, tentatively, members of his cabinet. All the present ministers, except those of war, navy and foreign affairs, will be retained. Prince Obolensky, one of the emperor's former assistants in the ministry of finance, will become minister of the interior. Another former assistant to the minister, M. Romanoff, will take the finance portfolio. M. Koni, Russia's ablest jurist, will be minister of justice; M. Krosovsky, president of the St. Petersburg municipal council, will take the ministry of education and M. Zeigler Von Schauffhausen, chief of the railroads' department,

Will Retire Gracefully.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 30.—A meeting of the strike committee was held tonight after the promulgation of the emperor's manifesto. The question of calling the strike off was postponed until tomorrow. The committeemen boldly talk of their ability to keep the men out, but, as predicted by the Associated Press, Saturday, tomorrow or Wednesday the committee will put a good face on its defeat, and issue a proclamation calling the strike off till January.

Mutiny Story "All Out."

St. Petersburg, Oct. 30.—Apparently there is no foundation for the rumor of a mutiny on the vessels of the Black Sea fleet in circulation in Odessa. The Associated Press' Odessa correspondent states today that the troops succeeded in dispersing the crowd, after being forced to fire several volleys, and quiet prevailed. The number of killed and injured in yesterday's engagement is not yet determined but it is not large.

Still Strike Goes On.

Helsingfors, Oct. 30.—At a meeting of the Finnish workmen it was agreed to extend the Russian railroad strike to Finland tomorrow. A general strike will also be declared.

Zlatoust, Oct. 30.—The workmen of the government iron mills have joined the strike.

Vologda, Oct. 30.—The town council today turned a resolution that the only agents to the terrible situation is the convoking of a constituent assembly.

Warsaw, Oct. 30.—The news that the Emperor has signed the constitution has spread like wildfire and created a tremendous sensation.

Vitebsk, Oct. 30.—The population of this city has joined in the strike. Feeling is high, trade at a standstill and workmen's meetings are crowded to the doors.

Tiflis, Oct. 30.—The feeling has not yet calmed. Firing is heard at all times in the streets. The shops and schools are all closed.

Have Not Heard News.

Riga, Oct. 30.—Cossacks dispersed several meetings tonight. People fired from windows upon cabmen who refused to join the strike.

Rostof-on-Don, Oct. 30.—A mob attacked the synagogue, killing two Jews and Cossacks dispersed them.

GRANDDAUGHTER OF JAY COOKE
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 30.—Society turned out in force today for the wedding of Miss Carlotta Doris Barney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Barney of this city, and granddaughter of the late Jay Cooke, to Mr. Archibald Blair Hubbard of Virginia. St. Paul's church, Ashbourne, which was founded by Jay Cooke, was the scene of the ceremony, and the officiating clergymen were the rector, Rev. J. Thompson Cole, and the bride's uncle, Rev. Henry Cooke of Warren, Ohio.

SAD ACCIDENT ON SANTE FE

LOOSE RAIL DITCHES CALIFORNIA EXPRESS AT KANSAS CITY.

THIRTEEN KILLED OUTRIGHT

And Thirty Are Injured in the Wreck Which Occurred in Rock Cut.

Engine Skipped the Defect but Express Car Fell in and Piled Balance of the Train Between Walls of Canyon— Cold Rain Was Falling.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 30.—Thirteen were killed outright and thirty more injured in a wreck today of the Atencion, Topeka & Santa Fe passenger train known as the California Express, which running at the rate of 35 miles an hour, struck a loose rail, ditching five cars near the eastern limits of the city. The train was running at an unusually high speed because it was about fifteen minutes behind time. The wreck occurred in Rock Cut, where the jagged rock walls form a bank fifteen feet high.

The engine got so rapidly, passed over the loose rail. The mail car left the track and struck the bluff to the right of the cut, and the cars following passed through it and struck against the left wall. The sides of the coaches were torn off rubbing against the rough rocks, and the passengers and trainmen were ground against the walls, being either killed or badly injured. None of the passengers in the Pullman nor in three of the four tourist sleepers were hurt.

Pending the arrival of physicians from this city, the able-bodied trainmen and passengers did all that was possible to alleviate the suffering. The efforts were considerably handicapped by the cold rain which was falling at the time. In many instances it was necessary to dig under the debris to rescue the victims. One man in the smoker had been pinned against the stove and suffered untold agonies while his foot was slowly burned by the live coals.

The injured were brought to this city and it is thought that all will recover.

BLASTED HOPES

CROPS OF WESTERN PERSIA AL- MOST DESTROYED BY WEATH- ER AND INSECTS.

Income of a Month for a Load of Wheat.—Question of Ability to Pur- chase Necessaries of Life.—Starva- tion and Want.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The condition of the people of Western Persia is reported to be most serious by the Rev. R. M. Labaree, a Presbyterian minister at Urumia, who has been commissioned by his mission station to appeal to Americans for aid. His statement of the situation has just been received at the office of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, and is, in part, as follows:

"During the fall of 1904 unseasonable rains almost destroyed the raising crop, which is a chief source of income for the people. The same rains ruined much of the wheat upon the threshing floors, so that before the winter was over its price had increased to exorbitant rates, the people being all the less able to pay because of their other losses. At the same time, largely owing to the Russo-Japanese war, other necessities of life advanced greatly. In consequence the spring found this part of Persia in an impoverished condition. Many formerly well-to-do being heavily in debt, while the poorer classes had sold most of their belongings to support life until the next harvest. All kept up hope because the rains of the spring time gave promise of abundant harvests.

"But, alas for the hopes! An insect unknown before here has been at work, and wheat fields that looked most fair to the eye have yielded almost nothing, and at the season when grain reaches its lowest price of the year, the price was higher than the usual winter rates. Each month sees an advance of price, and I need not describe what this means to a poor, impoverished people. Consider that bread is the chief staple of food in this country, and that already men are paying the income of a month for one load of wheat, and that the average family needs at least ten loads annually. How will men clothe their families and buy other necessities? The steady increase of prices means starvation to many, it will mean misery to countless others, and it is with heavy hearts that we look forward to the suffering that already meets us at every turn.

It was announced at the Presbyterian foreign board, when the above statement was received, that the board will receive and transmit funds for the relief of the famine in Persia, that may be sent to its treasurer, Mr. Charles W. Hand, 156 Fifth avenue, New York.

OHIO TEACHERS' CONVENTION.
HAMILTON, O., Oct. 30.—The Southwestern Ohio Teachers' Association celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary here today with a largely attended convention. Papers and addresses were presented by a number of prominent educators of this and neighboring states.

NORWAY'S FUTURE QUEEN.

Princess Maud of Wales Future Queen of Norway, a Charming Little Lady.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Some of the papers have been printing a great deal of nonsense about Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark since the announcement of the selection of Prince Charles for Norway's king. The selection has been described as an excellent thing for Prince Charles from a pecuniary standpoint. But the truth is that the Prince is far from being one of the penniless princelets of whom so much is heard. His parents are among the richest royal personages of Europe and upon his marriage to Princess Maud of Wales a settlement of at least half a million sterling was made upon Prince Charles.

Without having any one specially pronounced talents, Princess Charles has a number of accomplishments that should recommend her in the eyes of her future subjects. A lake of considerable size in the Sandringham grounds gave her an opportunity early in life of becoming an expert oar in the summer time and skater in winter, while the young Princess is also very fond of hockey and other winter sports. One denure little accomplishment claims notice, and it is one that is esteemed highly by the fair daughters of Norway. Princess Charles is an excellent dairymaid and can make good butter. She has often amused herself in this way in the exquisite little dairy which her mother had built for herself at Sandringham.

CHARITY WORK DISCUSSED.

Indiana Conference of Charities and Correction Being Held in Vincennes.

VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 30.—The annual meeting of the Indiana Conference of Charities and Correction got down to work in earnest this morning. Both state and city charities were exhaustively discussed. Among the papers presented were the following: "The Value of Manual Training in the Care of Feeble-Minded Women," A. E. Carroll, superintendent of the School for Feeble-Minded Youth at Fort Wayne; "Associated Charities and Business Men," James V. Rush, Evansville; "The Hospital for the Insane as a Factor in Educational Work," Dr. George F. Elenharter, superintendent of the Central Hospital for the Insane, Indianapolis.

TEXAS STATE FAIR.

Opened With Unusually Large Crowd at Dallas.

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 30.—The Texas state fair opened yesterday with an unusually large crowd for the first day. The exhibits in the floral and horticultural halls are of the finest, the agricultural display is large and varied and in the stock department the pens are crowded with animals of the highest class. A vast amount of money has been expended in the erection of new buildings, and the grounds have been placed in the finished condition. The racing program, which will begin Monday, far exceeds anything ever before seen in the southwest. The exhibition will continue open for sixteen days and judging from the present indications the attendance will establish a new high record mark.

NOT AMENABLE

MEDICAL MISSIONARY IN CHINA BELIEVES CHINESE IMMUNE FROM SOME DISEASES.

Assigns Cause to the Fact that They Have Been in Contact With Filth Through Hundreds of Years—Drink Boiled Water.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Dr. C. K. Roys, a medical missionary at Wei Hsien, China, believes that the Chinese, through ages of contact with filth, have secured a wonderful immunity from diseases that would ordinarily result. In Wei Hsien, a city of 100,000, the entire sewerage of the place is collected in the streets, to be sold for fertilizer in the spring. "Only the universal habit of drinking boiled water," writes Dr. Roys to the Presbyterian foreign board, "prevents a catastrophe. Many Chinese believe that cold water, external or internal, causes the severest pains and cramps, and this superstition has kept them healthy—and filthy—for ages."

Dr. Roys says that General Li, commanding the troops at Wei Hsien, asked him to give medical treatment to the soldiers. "The old general," he says, "is a great admirer of things foreign. He invited us all to a feast of thirteen courses, but I had to insist that without knowledge of the language I could not take proper care of the men. Instinctively, I learned that the general is expected to pay for the medical care of the men out of his own salary, so that free treatment by me would put him so much to the good."

NEED COADJUTOR BISHOPS.

Five Dioceses of the Protestant Episcop- al Church Will Select Bishop-Coadjutors.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 30.—Five dioceses of the Protestant Episcopal church will elect bishop-coadjutors almost at once, and a sixth, that of Oregon, will elect as soon as its governing body meets again, four will choose their administrator a next month. These are Michigan, Southern Virginia, New Hampshire and Milwaukee, and Western Michigan will elect as soon as the stipend can be provided. It is said to be likely that Rev. Dr. Arthur S. Lloyd will be chosen to Southern Virginia, and Rev. Dr. Charles B. Williams to Michigan. Rev. Dr. Lloyd is general secretary of the Episcopal Board of Missions, and has already declined elections to Mississippi and Kentucky. The favorite for Michigan, Dr. Williams, is dean of the Cathedral at Cleveland. Milwaukee elected recently Rev. Paul Matthews of Cincinnati, a son of the late Stanley Matthews, who was associate justice of the supreme court, but he declines to accept the position.

Billy Gardner in the Ring Again.
ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 30.—Billy Gardner, who has been out of the ring for some time, is going to try his hand again tonight when he will face Dan Littlejohn of this place in a fifteen-round bout. Gardner has been training faithfully and appears to be in good shape.

Wheat May Bring Higher Prices.

From reports from all parts of the world there is reason to believe that wheat will bring a higher price in the near future than it commands at the present time, but Dr. B. E. Wright's dental charges will remain the same, as cheap as is possible for the highest class dentistry known in the world. It makes no difference how much you can afford or are willing to pay, you cannot buy higher class work than is performed by Dr. Wright.

Don't fail to call at his office in the Strusloff building and have your teeth examined and repaired before it is too late to save them. You cannot be healthy with bad teeth.
