One Carload Here—

On Saturday the first carload of fixtures being brought from the Lewis and Clark fair to be used at the state fair arrived. There will be about four carloads all told. The delay in their arrival is caused by the general car shortage.

New Record Books—

Two new records have been made necessary in the executive department by recent legislative enactment. One is a record of indeterminate sentences to be kept in the governor's office and the other a record of executions, with concise history of the person executed, to be kept at the state prison. Blank books for the purpose have been just procured.

Rodgers, Louis Farrar, E. G. Deckbach and Louis Laehmann, board of directors.

Business Improving—

Owing to the darkness coming on so early during the winter months, the O. C. T. company has installed electric lights in their office and also in their warehouse in the city, and will be prepared in the future to furnish the stambout men with the necessary light when unloading freight at this point. River traffic is showing up much better at the present time as a result of the two-foot rise in the river, and the steamers are now able to make good time between this city and Portland.

No Poultry Display—

The executive committee of the Salem poultry association met Saturday afternoon and decided to indefinitely postpone their second annual show which had been scheduled for December 12-15 next. The reason for such action was that the committee was unable to obtain a room or hall suitable for such an affair, their being no vacant store buildings in Salem at present. This is a regretted as the Capital City should be among the first cities to encourage the poultry industry. Under the existing conditions the local chicken fanciers are offered an opportunity to aid in making the coming shows at Corvallis and Albany the successful exhibitions they should be.

Sues to Foreclose Mortgage—

A foreclosure suit was commenced in department No. 2 of the circuit court yesterday, C. H. Trask being the plaintiff and William J. Jackson the defendant. The suit was brought for the purpose of foreclosing a mortgage covering 11.17 acres of land near Woodburn executed by the defendant in favor of the plaintiff on March 7, 1900, to secure the payment of a note for $371. H. Overton of Woodburn appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

The Cook estate consists of personal property valued at about $2800, which, by the terms of the will, is bequeathed to the children and grandchildren of the deceased. Mrs. Martha A. Longworth, a daughter of the deceased, is named in the will as executrix and is to serve without bonds. Judge Scott appointed Oscar Oliver, C. M. Smith and F. M. Reed appraisers to appraise the property belonging to the estate.

Gratuitous Service—

The ebullient man McGordon, who was received at the state prison a few weeks ago from Malheur county, under sentence of death for the killing of his wife, was the recipient of joyous news yesterday. Friday next, November 24, was set by the court as the time of his execution and the time was drawing near to make him nervous and fearful, but yesterday Superintendent James received a telegram from Will R. King, McGordon's attorney, that he had perfected the papers for an appeal of the case, which will cause a stay of execution pending the decision on appeal.

New Divorce Case Filed—

Late on Saturday afternoon there was filed in department No. 2 of the circuit court a complaint by Blanche B. Whalen against her husband, Charles G. Whalen, asking for a divorce on the usual grounds of cruelty and personal indignities. The parties were married about twenty years ago and have two children, the older of whom is almost a man grown, and the plaintiff asks for the present custody of the younger child, Glenn Whalen, aged about 9 years. No property rights are involved and no alimony is asked by the plaintiff who appears by Attorneys Bonnam & Martin.

The financial report provided by law was not filed.

Deal Is Closed—

Fred G. Haas, the well known druggist of this city, has purchased the stock of drugs formerly owned by the late J. W. Karsten of Gervais. Dr. Karsten conducted a drug store at Gervais for many years, but upon his death, which recently occurred at the Salem hospital, the stock of goods through an order obtained from the Marion county probate court was offered for sale by the administrator, and Mr. Haas, with his usual business foresight, promptly investigated the matter and took advantage of the bargain offered. Mr. Haas will remove the stock to this city and offer it for sale at his place of business on State street.

For Farmers' Institutes—

State Superintendent Ackerman goes to Portland today to meet with a committee of the board of regents of the Oregon Agricultural college, to formulate plans for holding Farmers' Institutes throughout the state in accordance with the act passed by the last legislature, which appropriated $2500 to be used annually for that purpose. The work is to be done under the direction of the board of regents and the expressed intent of the law is that "the course of instruction at such institutes shall be so arranged as to present to those in attendance results of the most recent investigations in theoretical and practical agriculture." The committee to meet today consists of State Superintendent Ackerman, W. E. Yates of Corvallis and B. G. Leedy, master of the State Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry.

Honor Mr. and Mrs. Looney—

Mr. and Mrs. Marion D. Looney of Jefferson were the guests of honor last Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Douglas. Mr. Looney has just recently returned from Iowa where he went to be married to Miss Winnifred Beals on September 16. Mrs. Looney is a charming young lady and has made many friends in Salem.

What was the game of the evening and Mrs. Carleton Smith and Mr. Paul Wallace were fortunate in securing the prizes. The rooms were decorated with red hearts and autumn leaves added still more color to the brightly lighted rooms. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Marion D. Looney, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Steiner, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gilbert, Dr. and Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Wilson McNary, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Evans, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hooker, Mr. and Mrs. W. Walter Looney, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Ray D. Dugger is accused of getting away with two horses worth $200, belonging to the Moro Implement Company.

Surrey Sale Continued—

Owing to the bad weather of last Saturday, many interested persons did not get in to attend the special surrey sale, between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Several sales were made, however, and there were a great many inquiries. In order to accommodate all who became interested, the special sale will continue every day this week. There are ten styles to select from, and the prices (regular) run all the way from $10 to $235. There will be a big reduction during the sale. This week is your opportunity to get a surrey, if you are going to need one. Don't wait till next week. Cash or time. Mitchell, Lewis & Staver Co., Salem branch, Salem, Or.

Peanuts—

At the new school house, two miles west of Salem, an entertainment and basket social was given last Saturday night for the purpose of raising money to buy a school bell. During the evening a voting contest was held for the selection of a name for the school house at the rate of 5 cents per vote. It seemed to be the desire of the pupils and their parents to name it Mountain View, but that was not easily done. A number of young men from the surrounding neighborhood thought "Peanuts" to be the better name, being on the road from Salem to Popcorn, about three miles further up the road. A hot contest ensued and considerable money was spent by both sides, but the polls were closed with Peanuts still in the lead. About $50 was raised, and every one had a good time.

Exhibit Had Good Effect—

County Superintendent E. T. Moores has returned from another week's visit among the public schools of Marion county. His trip included the territory south of Salem and on the north between the Willamette river and the Southern Pacific railway and all schools visited were found to be in equally as flourishing a condition as those covered by the educational exhibit prepared for the Lewis and Clark fair had a good effect in the schools throughout the county. He says more attention is devoted to neatness and little details and that a general improvement in the school work can be noticed all along the line. The superintendent is well pleased with the conditions of the schools as he found them and reports splendid progress in all departments.

Heroic Unselfishness—

A most interesting case in many ways is reported from the Salem hospital. It will be generally remembered that a man named Le Bonte, aged about 50 years, was severely burned about a year ago through the malicious foolishness of some fellow who set fire to the man's coat after a bottle of alcohol had been broken in his pocket. Le Bonte was so badly burned that all the skin peeled off his back and since that time he has been a sufferer at the hospital, the efforts of the physicians to grow new skin through grafting from his own person being entirely unsuccessful. The man's emaciated condition and the unhealthy state of the body on account of suppuration left the "take hold" without the application of healthy skin it was impossible to accomplish permanent results for him. But the heroism and sympathy of the female heart may save him and give him a new hide. With their own free will, Dr. Frank E. Smith removed about one hundred pieces or grafts of skin from the persons of the five senior nurses at the hospital and the house surgeon, and has grafted them on the back of the suffering but grateful Le Bonte, with a fair show of the operation proving successful. All honor to the generous ladies and the house doctor also.

Game on Friday—

The line-up of the team to represent Company M in the coming indoor baseball contest with the Y. M. C. A. team was chosen last evening, and two hours' hard practice was spent in the armory getting the men in shape. Next Friday night was chosen as the date of the game, to be played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, and the general public is to be invited to attend and witness the struggle for supremacy on the diamond. This will be the first game for several years for the soldiers, but there is plenty of good material in Company M, and the boys are taking the same lively interest in the game as they do in their regular company work. The team will be captained by Corporal William Kantner, since Lieutenant Holman will be unable to be present that evening. The Y. M. C. A. team has been in practice for some weeks, and has already played several games this season, so they will give the soldiers a run for their money, and think the fun will be all on their side. The soldiers will line up as follows: C. Near; p. White, Byrd; 1st b. Pearmine; 2d b. Hatch; 3d b. Rumbaugh; s.s. Kantner, Aufranc; f. Holman, Kress. The boys will meet at the armory on Wednesday evening for a final practice, and Captain Kantner requests all members of the company, as well as the players, to be present so that two teams may be in the field.

THE BIG GAME STATE FOUNDRY

BETWEEN WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY AND CORVALLIS AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

One Fare Rate Obtained for Round Trip, but Those Wishing to Go Must Register Before Wednesday Evening—You Must Not Miss That Game.

The big game of football, to which thousands are looking forward with anxious interest, will take place at Corvallis on Friday of this week between the Willamette eleven and those representing the Agricultural college. In the early part of the season the Corvallis team was reckoned the best of any from the colleges of Oregon, but the sentiment has changed. After the Willamettes showed such superiority of general play over the state university—although defeated in the county—and since the state university defeated the Corvallis team with such apparent ease; and still further, since Willamette put it all over the Multnomahs there has been no question as to where the best team in Oregon is located, and the expectation is that with no misfortunes or accidents the Salem team will win without a hitch. But of course the game is not won until it is played out, and there will be genuine excitement until the last whistle blows for notice that time is up.

In order to accommodate the many people to take advantage of it, the great contest, Manager Savage has been in correspondence with the railroad people to obtain rates, and he is now able to announce that the Southern Pacific has granted a rate of one fare ($1.25) for the round trip to Corvallis on Friday next, leaving by the 11 a. m. train and returning the same evening by special train. In order to get this rate, however, there must be 200 people to take advantage of it. Lists will be open for signatures of those who wish to go at Meyer's and Ryan's barber shops, Waters' and Wiprut's cigar stores and Patton's and Burghardt's book stores. Manager Savage of the Willamette team says this is going to be the greatest game of the year and a big crowd from Salem is likely to accompany the boys. It will be necessary to know the names of those who wish to attend by Wednesday evening, and all are requested to register before that time. The probability is that there will be between 200 and 300 who will wish to attend.

NEW CONTRACT WITH LOEWENBERG-GOING COMPANY IN OPERATION.

New Roofs on Buildings, New Flumes Built, New Floors Laid, Many Desirable Changes Made and Everything in First-Class Condition.

The Loewenberg-Going Company started its foundry at the penitentiary yesterday with almost a full force of hands and with buildings and equipments in first-class condition following the wholesale improvements which have been made by the state and which have given the company a set of shops much better adapted to the extensive industry carried on there.

A new contract was signed last Saturday between the state and the Loewenberg-Going Company for the employment of at least 150 men at 3 1/2 cents per hour, the contract to continue for two years with the right on the part of the state to cancel it any time upon giving six months' notice. The rental of the shops has been raised from $2000 to $2400 per year and the bond of the company has been raised from $5000 to $10,000. In accordance with this contract, the prison authorities counted into the shops 129 men yesterday morning and enough to fill up the quota were being selected during the day, so that by night the full-plant squad had been reduced to a very few men. It is probable that every available man will be used the greater part of the time.

A Statesman reporter yesterday went over the ground under the guidance of Deputy Warden J. S. Smith, and viewed the extensive improvements which have been about completed and noted the great change for the better which has been wrought.

There are six large buildings standing side by side which are used for foundry purposes and throughout five of them new plank floors have been laid, raised from the ground so as to insure circulation of air and prevent dry rot. They are supported by concrete piers along the flume and brick piers around the balance of the space. The four southern buildings have been supplied with new tin roof, new chimneys and new skylights, and the roofs of the other two have been repaired and made good as new. The molding room has an earthen floor.

Both flumes inside the main wall have been rebuilt with heavy timbers and outside of the wall the flume will be made of earthen embankment of a permanent nature. A new wheelhouse has been built and a suitable drain has been laid to carry off the water which has heretofore flooded the tinshop. New water closets are being placed in the tinshop and will be connected with the main sewer. In the past all accommodations of this character could be reached only through the molding room, which occasioned a great deal of moving about, loss of time and bother. These improvements are made possible by the acquisition from the Lewis and Clark fair commission of considerable material, pipes, closets, hose, etc., for the use of the state.

The patterns have been moved from the tinshop to a large, double-deck room off the molding room, and the old pattern room has been rebuilt solidly and made a stock room. There is also a new paint shop and finishing room.

From the sheeting of the old roofs new shelving has been built up in the various departments, so that everywhere there is an air of neatness, order and compactness, which was entirely lacking in the old arrangements and the whole scene is vastly more cheerful looking and business-like. The old shelving was put in by the Loewenberg-Going Company and belonged to it, while all the new improvements are the property of the state.

The proportion of men used in the molding room is not so large as formerly, while in other departments the proportion is increased, this being the result of steel supplanting cast iron in the manufacture of cooking stoves. The health of the institution is very good, there being only two or three in the hospital, and there has not been a well developed case of fever this year.
