THE SILVERTON TROUBLE.

There is a very noisy tempest in a teapot raging in Silverton over the nomination of D. W. Yoder for school superintendent on the republican ticket. This gentleman's friends maintain his competency for the position he aspires to, and cite his successful school experience, and the handsome endorsements he has received from several school officers. While others, (and these are prohibitionists mainly,) deny his fitness for the charge of our public schools, because he is not an abstainer from strong drinks himself. One correspondent, who sustains Mr. Yoder's candidacy, does so on the ground "that the office of school superintendent has nothing whatever to do with Mr. Yoder's views on current public questions." Which, being interpreted means Mr. Yoder's personal habits, so long as they are not scandalous, in no way conflict with the efficient performance of his duties as a school officer. While another correspondent writing from Jefferson, declares that "our text-book writers, our school superintendents, our teachers, each and all, are righteously endeavoring to build up the character of our youth in a way that the saloon interest would be materially affected thereby." That is, the text books on physiology used in our schools, and the oral instruction of the teachers on hygiene, are specially designed to show the deleterious effects of alcoholic drinks on the vital organs, and thus warn the coming generation, while their minds are forming, of the danger that lurks in the flowing bowl.

To this local controversy lies the principle that divides the republican from the prohibition party. Both parties desire emancipation from the liquor traffic, but take different ways of arriving at that end. The republicans believe that the ground must be prepared before it will yield a harvest; in other words, that the popular mind must be schooled in and familiarized with restriction before it can approve total abstinence. To this end it begins with the young in our schools, showing them the sad effects of alcohol on the system and thus forwarding them in time. There is a saying that example teaches better than precept, and therefore it would be well if our public school teachers and officers could aid the effect of our text books by their own example.

But we have to quarrel with Mr. Yoder. All admit that he is a moral, temperate, progressive citizen, experienced in the duties he seeks to perform, and thoroughly equipped for school work. Yet one thing he lacks, according to the testimony that comes from his town. Personal conformity with the teachings he is to enforce. Let him reform his habits; every one counts one. Not leave the republican party; not go off on a reformatory craze; but quietly sign the temperance pledge and rigidly abstain from the use of intoxicants. This will hush the tongue of scandal, it will remove the only disqualification that can be urged against him, and it will insure his election. The CAPITAL JOURNAL is doing its level best to promote the success of our county ticket, and it is solicitous to remove every impediment that stands in the way of that consummation.

THE substantial encouragement given to the fund now being raised to attract immigration to this city and valley, is evidence that our citizens appreciate the importance of the movement, and are willing to go down in their jeans to help it through. In other less favored regions there are plenty willing to come here; they only require to be invited and our hospitality will be accepted. The amount so far subscribed by our citizens foots up to $2728.

Is the desirable spread of good, cheap literature, it may be mentioned that Macmillan & Co. will issue, in the early spring, fifty-cent paper editions of "Mr. Isaacs" and "Marzio's Crucifix," two of Mr. F. Marion Crawford's most popular and, in some respects, most interesting stories.

PORTLAND NEWS.—Sec'y Bayard, as father-in-law of President Cleveland will make a sort of family matter of the administration. The President appears to be safe from sons-in-law.

THE New York Star objects to the government taking control of the postal telegraph system, because, it says, the country must buy the existing telegraph lines, and this would be a profitable business for Jay Gould. There is no need for the country to be bled by any telegraph monopoly. It would be well to pay a fair price for such lines and material as are needed, but if an extortionate price is demanded for the country to put up a new plant.

Last week, over in Lundy, Mono county, Cal., there was a case in the Justice's court in which Jim Townsend (our Jim) was a witness. A lawyer named Burnham made fun of Townsend's deafness, and badged him in every way. Jim stood it with a good deal of patience for about an hour, when finally he said: "May it please the Court, I ask an adjournment." "What for?" asked the Court. "Your Honor, I would like the court adjourned for five minutes while I go out and lick this infernal lawyer."

"I was just gone out do it myself, pard," replied the Court, "but if you won't be over five minutes I'll adjourn."—Carson Appeal.

Miss Waldo (of Boston)—You have read Haggard's stories, of course, Mr. Wabash?

Mr. Wabash (Western)—Er—Haggard?

Miss Waldo—Yes; the great African writer.

Mr. Wabash—No, I have not; but certainly shall. It is wonderful, Miss Waldo, the gigantic strides that the colored race has made since the terrible yoke of slavery was removed.—New York Sun.
