Farm and City Property,

THE OREGON LAND COMPANY

Keeps an efficient agent in Portland, who devotes his entire time to seemring purchasers A full description of each piece of property is furnished him, and much of the property on their list has been personally inspected by him, so that he is able to fully describe it to purchasers. This agent, by daily visiting the depots, steamer landings and hotels, comes in contact with hundreds of land seekers; he is supplied with the Oregon Land Company's pamphlet and property lists and has an arrangement by which he can secure reduced fare from Portland to Salem. In this way many persons have been sent to Salem during the past month, and the managers of the Oregon Land Company have been kept busy in showing them the property they have for sale. Some of these visitors came to Oregon to remain, and being pleased with Salem and the surrounding country have bought property; others are only on a tour of inspection, and if pleased with the country will sell out in the east and come to Oregon to remain; still others are only traveling for pleasure, but all have been shown around the city and country and given an opportunity to form an opinion by actual observation. The Oregon Land Company will not only continue to thus bring to Salem large numbers of inimigrants and tourists, but they have now employed (col. J. M. Wright, a railrond man of extensive experience from Illinois, to act as their agent in the cast in getting up excursions to Some direct to from Illinois, to act as their agent in the order of ground winds the Oregon Land[Com-balen. This undertaking will be facilitated by the fact that the Oregon Land[Com-pany have now on file in their office many hundreds of letters which they have re-ceived from eastern people in response to advertising done by them in eastern papers. Postal eards are new being sent to ever six hundred of these persons containing the

SUNDAY AT SEA.

DIVINE WORSHIP ON BOARD ONE OF HER MAJESTY'S SHIPS.

The "SR Down" Church for Clear Sky and smooth Sea-The "Stand Up" Church for Rough Weather-Description of Both Methods of Worship.

We had two separate and distinct kinds of We had two separate and distinct kinds of divine worship on board, especially adapted to the exigencies of the weather. One was know among us as "Sit Down" church; the other as "Stand Up" church. When the wind was fair and the sea smooth, when the sky was clear and the sun bright, when the sur-face of the comparements from mean face of the ocean was reflecting from myrids of dimpling wavelets the brilliant hus acts of dimpling wavelets the brinnant mag-anel glancing beams of the firmament above, then Sunday at sen showed no very striking contrast to the day of rest ashore. The serv-ices of the church were prefaced by the serv-ice of the state known to us as "divisions," where a survey of a survey in the server interval. when a careful and searching inspection of ship and crew was carried on in grave and decorous silence by captain, commander and senior lieutenant. "Divisions" over, the crew would disperse for a short time while the order to "rig church" was carried out. In a large frigate this was always done upon the main deck, the principal gun carrying deck, that is, of the ship, thoroughly protected from wind and rain by the upper deck above it. Here accommodation was provided for the men-some 500 in number, by placing capstan bars and planks across inverted "washdeck tubs," affording thus a kind of rough and ready form on which to sit. These were placed "athwartshipa," across the breadth of the deck, while chairs were arranged further aft for the senior and junior officers, who generthis was always done upon the main deck, for the senior and junior officers, who generally sat on opposite sides of the deck. The chaplain, who on board ship is known by a thousand more or less irreverent nam padre, sky pilot, etc.--is supplied with a bounded apparatus as nearly akin to the reading desk of the shore as the wit of a ship's curpenter can devise. This is also rigged" in a commanding position between the officiers and men.

All being reported ready to the commander, the order is given to "toll the bell," and forthwith the sentry begins to thump slowly and monotonously upon the ship's bell, the chapper of which is held in the hand and used as a hammer, instead of the bell itself being The men are marched off to their swinng. places, the officers take their seats, the cap-tain comes out of his cabin, the chaptain enters his desk, and the familiar and solemn words of the service full upon the enr, accom-panied in this case by the muffled groaning of the ship as she sways before the pressure of the breeze. The responses are, as a rule, not loadly or distinctly made, but merely minitored; whereas, were all that comprogration of men fully im-based with the spirit of prayer, a great and emphatic stream of supplication should ascend from that compact parish to the throas of firm who rules the raging of the sea. But when the time arrives for Praise, then, provided that the tune is well known and popular, the blue jackets break into a burst of song, often most harmonious, always admissible from the power and rich-ness of the volume of sound, and in which many may be noted taking, with well trained accuracy, the tenor and even the alto parts, This is scoretimes led by a small harmonium sometimes, should the ship's band. Then fol-lows, as on shore, the sermon: but when at last the blossing has been given, and ere the more seriously inclined have risen from their knoes, the loud imperative order comes from the hps of the communier, "Boatswain's mate, pipe down?" the shrill trill of that perty officer's whistle is instantly raised, in cleared of its Sunday paraphernalia.

This, however, was fine weather worship, when we all could meet in prayer without hindrance. But there came Sandays when the conditions were far otherwise-when the wind was shricking and whistling with fiendish uproar through spairs and righ to be the the waves were rearing and hissing, striking gave expression to her indignation at such unfair treatment. She would writhe and wallow, would plunge and roll, would tremble and stop, and then make a still more furious rush forward, until all thought of divins worship in the usual form was out of the question These were the days of "Stand Up" church. and now the elaborate arrangements of the fine weather function were conspicuously absent. The main deck ports weps closed to deep out the hissing and angry seas, and the only light came from the hatchways above many of them closed by gratings. All stood, officers and men alike; and those who had experience of such things kept their eyes on a handy ringbolt or friendly breeching of a gun-anything, in fact, to which they might cling should the motion of the ship become too violent even for well trained sea legs. Then the chaplain, no longer trusting himself within the compass of his reading desk, but elinging with all the strength of one arm to an iron stanchion supporting the deck above, lifted up his feeble voice in opposition to those of the strident elements, chich seemed to unite in the effort to smother his solenn tones with their demoniac uproar, lest they should wing their way upward and attain their goal. No sermon now, no hymns, no litany, just the simple morning prayers, and the men are dismissed to find what comfort they can on the close, musty, dark, wet docks.

GREAT REDUCTION -AND-AN AMAZING DISCOUNT! Weekly Capital Journal! The Cheapest Newspaper in Oregon! NEWSPAPER FAMILY BEST THE IN MARION COUNTY.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Do you want a paper that you can with confidence take to your firs-side as an intimate friend; a clean, fresh and vigorous exponent of the truth; a foe to any system that builds up colossal fortunes for the few at the expense of the many, or that reduces the farmer and laborer to ser-dom? A paper that will not descend to accrimonious personalities, to vituperation or abuse; but which depends on fair statement and reason for its weapons. A paper that dares treat its political foes with candor and courtesy. Devoted to the material growth and prosperity of Salen, of Marion county, and of the fertile and wide extended Willamette valley. Using every legitimate means to convince the prospective settler and bas-ness man of the advantages which, as residents, we all know full well exist; and, finally, a paper which recognizes the fact that the reduction in the price of weekly newspapers on this coast, has not kept pace with the reduction in the price of the great staples of commerce, and has boldly struck out forever from the stereotyped "terms" at the head of its col-umns, the lowest price ever charged for such a paper in Oregon, and ma-substituted therefor as low a price as was ever charged for such a paper in the world. in the world.
