PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Walter Besant has gone to Italy.

Mayor Duplex, of Wheatland, Cal., is colored.

Bancroft, the California historian, has a library worth $200,000.

Robert Louis Stevenson will cruise on the south seas this summer.

Robert Garrett will spend June in Paris, and will return to America in October.

Gen. Boulanger is steadily protesting against the warlike notions attributed to him.

Andrew Carnegie says that the coaching trip which he and Mr. Dineen will take will last at least until July 1.

Senator Walcott is six feet tall, erect, symmetrical, with a fine head of dark hair that falls in curls about his neck.

Mr. Rider Haggard is taking a vacation in Iceland. He is a keen lover of sport, and is a capital gunner, fisherman and horseman.

Sixty-two years ago ex-Governor Berry, of New Hampshire, now in his 91st year, organized the first temperance society in that state.

The hereditary prince of Monaco will shortly publish an illustrated account of the scientific results of his recent cruise in the Atlantic ocean.

Browning, the English poet, who is a warm admirer of Walt Whitman, has one of the largest collections in Europe of works by American verse writers.

King Charles of Romania is one of the most expert trout fishermen in Europe, and seldom fails to pass a few weeks each summer in the region of well stocked brooks.

The present Sam Ward, of the Washington lobby, is described as a tall, fine looking gentleman of courtly manners, a Virginian by birth, and during the war a Confederate surgeon.

The grand vizier of Turkey led to pawn some of the silver and goldware in the nation to raise the Sultan's contribution toward the expenses of the annual pilgrimage of pious Mussulmans to Mecca.

Gen. Boulanger goes to the harbor once a week, pays the artist ten francs and gives five francs to the assistant. He never speaks, and the harbor, knowing his preference, does not presume to open a conversation.

Mr. S. W. Burnham, of Chicago, who is going to California to take charge of the great telescope at the Lick observatory, has phenomenal eyes, which are said to have naturally as great a light grasping power as ordinary eyes get through a six inch telescope.

Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania, has been very quiet since he entered the senate chamber, but in a sub. room may be seen a completed triumph of staminate. He has obtained the photographs and autographs of his seventy-five senatorial colleagues. It took a good deal of it, journey to go this, as certain senators never let their pictures to any one. How Mr. Quay obtained some of the photographs is a mystery.

CURIOUS THINGS OF LIFE.

Near Wabash, Ind., lightning melted the hairpins of a young woman's head, but did her no further damage.

Alexander Roskoff, a laboring man in Bridgeport, Conn., speaks Russian, German, Hungarian, Hebrew, Latin, English and Italian.

"Knock-around-and-do-nothing-all-day" was the name a Kentucky father gave his son, while the last legislature consented to change for him.

Change is coming over a couple of baby girls that beat the record for immobility. They are Miss Flo Eileen, weight one pound and three-quarters, and Miss Danica, weight just one pound.

A poor man in New Jersey, being in very destitute circumstances, recently applied to the town in which he lived for help. He asked for some honey and a pair of patent leather slippers.

James Caldwell, of Montgomery, Ala., has just cured himself of chronic lung trouble by coughing up a pin more than an inch long which he remembers having swallowed as a Scottish small boy, more than forty years ago.

The length to which some men will go to avoid labor is almost beyond comprehension. Thomas Cosgrove, a prisoner in Santa Clara, Cal., rather than work, has lived on bread and water and in solitary confinement for two weeks. "No sweat-of-the-brow racket."
