

THE CITY ROUND-UP.

Paragraphs Picked Up or Parloined.

During Robbery—Grave Accident—Evaded Justice—Locals, Etc.

PERSONALS.

Moses Folsom and wife of St. Paul are at the Monroe House.

R. J. Hendricks and wife enjoyed Sunday with friends in Aurora.

S. H. Ingersoll and wife, of Elmira, N. Y., are at the Chemekete.

W. E. McPherson is at present in St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, where he is lying quite ill.

Mrs. Will Bilger of Portland spent the week with relatives near this city, and attended the fair.

Prof. Childers left for Gervais yesterday afternoon, where he will teach school this winter. The term commenced this morning.

D. D. Prettyman leaves this evening for Eastern Washington Territory, in the interest of the North Pacific. He expects to be absent a month.

Elder J. W. Webb took his departure to-day, for Portland, and will at once become thoroughly identified with the prohibition state campaign.

Prof. E. B. McElroy, State School Superintendent, left this morning for Coos, and perhaps Curry county, where he will attend teachers' institutes.

Miss Mary Hicks, of Portland, and formerly of Salem, who has been spending a few days in this city with friends, returned to her home to-day.

Henry Stutsman, of East Portland was in Salem a few days last week, examining the water works pumps, with a view to the purchase of similar ones for his city.

C. C. Doughty, of the Monmouth Observer, is in the city to-day. He reports the beautiful little interior city as in a flourishing condition, and says the schools have opened auspiciously.

Messrs. Albert and Alfred Hoskins, who have been in Salem during the state fair, go to Portland to-morrow, where they take up their quarters, both being substantial and practical barbers.

J. P. Tirrill, of St. Louis, attended the fair last week, and spoke in high terms of Oregon's exhibits, saying they compared favorably in all and many respects excelled those of the middle states.

An Exciting Accident.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. Minto and her daughter were returning from a pleasant drive from the Polk county side of the river they met with an accident that might have been more serious than it was. It appears that there is, or was, a hole in the bridge sufficiently large for the horse to get its foot in, and in passing over the place Mrs. Minto's horse got its fore foot in the hole. The momentum carried the horse forward and, being unable to withdraw its foot, was thrown on its side and the shafts of the buggy, completely demolishing them. The buggy ran upon the horse and for a while the scene was quite exciting. Help arriving the horse was loosened and the buggy drawn away, but an ax had to be got and the foot chopped loose before the horse could get up. Bruised limbs of the occupants of the buggy and repairs of the vehicle appear to be the only serious results.

Hop Picking at Dallas.

The total output of the three hop fields at Dallas, it is learned by conversation with the managers, will amount to 60,000 pounds. Nearly a hundred men women and children are engaged in the harvest of this extraordinary crop. Should favorable weather prevail, at least another week will be required to finish the picking.

Annually about $3,000 is distributed among those who care to enter the hop fields and assist in the harvest. It is truly a healthful as well as remunerative pastime.

Vanished the Ranch.

John Osborn, not content with notoriety of divorce proceedings, divers attempts to kidnap the children given to the care of his wife, now turns up missing. Pending examination before the United States grand jury he skipped suddenly for Portland and rumor would have it that his whereabouts are unknown. Aside from the loss of his bondsmen, his departure is hailed with pleasure.

He Should Come Here.

A friend writing from the east where the winters are cold—the summers hot—the rains furious—the winds horrible—drouths terrible—cyclones raging—and life altogether rather an unknown quantity and enjoyed but two months in the year at best—says:

"I am determined never to pass another winter here—I would rather be dead than subjected to a change of 50° in as many hours, as was the case last winter. And I have about decided that this is my last summer in a climate where the thermometer registers 109° in the shade, with a temperature but a few degrees lower during the whole night. I want to come west, having heard so much of it, and think your great Willamette valley would suit me."

By all means we would advise the gentleman to come. Here, he will find a veritable paradise. Come and feast your eyes, rest yourself and become a webfoot. Our climate and advantages cannot be excelled.

Another Robbery.

As Charlie Ferrel was going to his home in North Salem, after the opera Saturday night, and as he reached a turn in the sidewalk a few steps this side of Costello's saloon, he was assailed by two men, one jumping from behind a tree and striking him over the head with a sand-bag. Their villainous effort proved a success, as they robbed him of $41. It seems that the people of North Salem have had enough experiences of this kind, and it is time that steps be taken to reduce the advantages the night marauders have over the public in that part of the city. It is quite necessary that street lights should be established there to save annoyances.

Fairs and Fares.

The sixth annual session of the Lane county agricultural society commences a four days' session at Eugene City Wednesday. Large and commodious halls have been secured for the exhibits, and the stock will have ample quarters on the society's grounds at the city's outskirts. A pleasant gathering is anticipated. By the way, these county fairs—where the county fairs and their beaux meet and exchange glances, where all is fair except the fare, and where railways condescend below the regular fare—are a wonderfully pleasant feature and greatly assist in the up building of a country.

McMinnville's Misfortune.

McMINNVILLE, Ogn., Sept. 23.—During the past week no new cases have developed, and the three afflicted ones are progressing nicely, except perhaps Andy Eunis, who will surely die. The scare is abating and the fear of a general spread of the malady has died out. The many rumors of our affliction were greatly magnified.

A Good Band.

The Salem Second Regimental band expect in a few days to send east for a celebrated cornetist and instructor. This band, since its re-organization, is one of the institutions of the city and deserves the hearty encouragement and support of our citizens. A fine band is a credit to any city and does much advertising for it.

Taken to the County Jail.

The scene in the recorder's court this morning was one long to be remembered, and leaves an indelible mark. Arraigned before His Honor and sentenced in a few well chosen and fatherly words were two drunks to five days in the work house and one four days; and five vagrants to fifteen days in the county jail.

Bury in the Hop Fields.

Hon. J. B. McClane, U. S. Indian agent at the Grand Ronde Indian reservation, arrived in this city to-day. He will remain a few days, visiting friends before he returns. His Indians are all in the hop fields helping to save the abundant crop.

Admitted to Citizenship.

Rev. Father F. X. Blanchet of St. Paul was this morning admitted to full citizenship of these glorious United States. He was pleased with the honors and will wear them gracefully.

Wanted.

A boy of 16 desires a place where he can work mornings and evenings for his board while attending school. Address Chas. Lowrie, Salem, or this office. d3t.

Found.

On the fair grounds, a lady's purse, containing a small amount of money and valuables, which owner may obtain at this office by proving property and paying for this notice.

Painless dental operations at Dr. T. C. Smith's, 92 State street.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY.

Items of News and Progress—Announcements and Matters of General Interest.

Misses Lottie Dimick and Carrie Gleason entered school last week.

Ed. T. Powell of Seattle, son of Prof. Powell, at the head of the University, visited the school Friday.

W. E. Parry took advantage of the vacation for the fair, and went to the Junction to visit friends and relatives.

The Philadelfian Society voted, at a recent meeting, to hold an open meeting on Friday evening, October 5th.

Geo. H. Bounce an ex-student was visiting among the boys Saturday. He will begin teaching at Wheatland in a few days.

The University has contracted with Mr. Leach, the nurseryman to set out and cultivate for three years a number of trees on the eastern part of the campus of not less than 40 trees to the acre.

Miss Belle Stuart read a choice selection in chapel on Monday, which was well received by the school, and showed her to be master of her profession. She has organized a large class in elocution.

The faculty have passed a resolution prohibiting students from reading any study out of school and being admitted to the examination class without first obtaining permission to read such study.

The University is in receipt of several boxes of books from the library of the late Dr. Roberts of Astoria. There are many choice books among them which will add greatly to the worth of the library.

The teachers, evidently remembering the days of their youth, granted a vacation on Wednesday permitting the students to attend the state fair. This opportunity of seeing the sights was improved by many.

PICKUPS FROM THE FAIR.

The ladies of the Presbyterian lunch room cleared about $320 during the fair. Their patrons were well pleased with their treatment.

The voting for president became very exciting towards the close. Mr. Smith took the stand and cried for votes in the afternoon. Democrats and republicans crowded the bazaar and of course each was anxious for the success of his favorite. There were 1,211 votes cast. Cleveland received 759 and Harrison 452. This gave Cleveland a majority of 307.

"San Jose Bill" took the train at Brooks Saturday bound for parts unknown. If Bill and his ilk were behind the bars for a long period society would be much better off. It is a shame that respectable ladies are to be insulted by such scoundrels as this, and it is high time some means were taken to drive such characters out of Salem and keep them away.

Several scrapping matches occurred on the grounds Saturday. It seems fermentation of whisky reached the climax on that day and manifested itself in chin-music and abusive language. In his excitement and anxiety to get to the combatants one of the marshals started to ride into the crowd and actually rode one man down. While a man who loses his presence of mind in times of danger is to be pitied, he should never be appointed to a responsible position where there is liable to be trouble; and a man who is so excitable as to start on horseback into the middle of a crowd of a thousand men, to quell a disturbance is liable to kill a man or two.

Pomona Grange Meeting.

Marion county Pomona Grange will hold a regular meeting in Salem Grange hall on Thursday, Oct. 11th, at 10 o'clock a. m. A full attendance of the members is desired, as business of importance will be presented. W. M. HILLEARY, Secretary.

Turner Grange, P. of H., will hold its regular meeting at the hall in Aumsville, on Saturday, Oct. 16th at 2 o'clock p. m. Full attendance requested. W. M. HILLEARY, Secretary.

Could Praise be Higher?

"I have heard Beecher, Phillips, Gough, and other great orators both living and dead, but without exception I say that this lecture of Mr. Nourse's on 'Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde' is the greatest thing I ever saw on the platform, and it is the first time I ever saw or heard of the finest dramatic talent being consecrated to the highest moral purpose."—Rev. J. A. Hamilton, D. D., Mich.

LOCAL SUMMARY.

The grand old State House begins to show the deft touches of the painters' brushes.

Eugene Shydecker was brought from Portland Saturday and placed in the insane asylum at this place.

Southern Oregon fruit growers will have a meeting at Ish's grove, between Jacksonville and Medford on the 29th.

St. Paul school opened this morning with good attendance and prospects of an unusually profitable term.

The races at the fair grounds attracted quite a large crowd yesterday afternoon, and the betting continued to hold the usual interest.

Rev. Robt. Nourse, the eminent Washington divine who was to preach at the M. E. church in this city last night, failed to make his appearance.

Three handsome, new Pullman sleepers will be placed on the Portland-Frisco run in a few days. They are beautiful cars, having cost over $16,000 each.

The South Salem Flouring Mills will start to grinding again as soon as the air tube for the power wheel arrives from Portland. It is expected Wednesday.

The Sheriff gave his boarders an appetizer this morning which may or may not have been welcome. The men were given a trial of their muscle at the wood pile.

Although the work at the South Salem Flouring Mills is white and clean, it seems to have a darkening tendency on the eyes of some of the boys. Probably night work is the cause of it.

The car voted to President Cleveland at the Catholic bazaar will be sent to him as soon as the engraving can be completed. It netted the ladies of the fair $120.

Mr. Kennedy, who has charge of the "Stillwater" traction engine, has a very fine engine, and one that can be recommended on its merits. Its exhibitions were highly enjoyed by an appreciative audience.

The past was a gala week for the Chemekete hotel. During the seven days, beginning Sunday, there were 734 persons registered at that popular house. Wednesday was the best day, there being 140 there then.

The air ship which sailed from Portland yesterday afternoon bound for Salem failed to drop down and see us. These ships may some day ply between these ports, but in the present undeveloped state it is impossible to Salem with any degree of success.

It is with a considerable degree of interest we read the early history of Oregon and learn that "between Willaukie and Portland, in 1850, there was much rivalry, each striving to outdo the other." To-day the former has a population of 200 and the latter 60,000.

The W. C. T. U. at Albany has a membership of 72, Ashland has 21, Corvallis 30, Dallas 23, Eugene 30, Salem 47, McMinnville 18, and Portland 50. According to the reports at hand, there is a total membership in the state of nearly one thousand.

Saturday the Independence stage put out a slate stating that it would not leave until four o'clock, but departed at the usual hour—one o'clock. A little regulation would not be a bad thing. The result was that a stranger in our midst, seeing the notice and wishing to go to Independence, waited until four o'clock—and then paid a liveryman $5 for taking him over.

In sending in his subscription to the ever popular WEEKLY JOURNAL, F. Grover, Jr., of Booth Bay, Maine, says quite a number of his friends, as well as himself, are very much interested in this section and desire all the information to be obtained in regard to Salem and vicinity. A party from that point expect to visit this section within a few months with a view to locating. Welcome, all.

Found.

A lady's cloak, which the owner may obtain at this office by proving property and paying for notice.

DIED.

FLISTER.—At her residence on Front, between Hill and Ferry streets, Sept. 23d 1888, Mrs. Sophia M. Flister, wife of David Flister, aged 67 years. After an illness of three weeks she died Saturday evening at 8 p. m. and was interred in the L. O. O. F. cemetery Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. She leaves a husband and five children who have the full sympathy of the public.
