BEFORE IT IS BORN.

Some Startling Statements of General Interest.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, on being asked when the training of a child should begin, replied, "A hundred years before it is born."

Are you to infer from this that this generation is responsible for the condition of the race a hundred years from now?

Is this wonderful generation the natural result of the proper diet and medicines of a hundred years ago?

It is conceded in other lands that most of the wonderful discoveries of the world in this century have come from this country. Our ancestors were reared in log cabins, and suffered hardships and trials.

But they lived and enjoyed health to a ripe old age.

The women of those days would endure hardships without apparent fatigue that would startle those of the present age.

Why was it?

One of the proprietors of the popular remedy known as Warner's safe cure, has been faithfully investigating the cause, and has called to his aid scientists as well as medical men, impressing upon them the fact that there cannot be an effect without a cause. This investigation disclosed the fact that in the olden times simple remedies were administered—compounded of herbs and roots, which were gathered and stored in the lots of the log cabins, and when sickness came on, these remedies from nature's laboratory were used with the best effects.

What were these remedies? What were they used for? After untiring and diligent search they have obtained the formulas so generally used for various disorders.

Now the question is, how will the olden time preparations affect the people of this age, who have been treated, under modern medical schools and codes, with poisonous and injurious drugs. This test has been carefully pursued, until they are convinced that the preparations they now call Warner's Log Cabin remedies are what our much abused systems required.

Among them is what is known as Warner's Log Cabin sarsaparilla, and they frankly announce that they do not consider the sarsaparilla of so much value in itself as it is in the combination of the various ingredients which together work marvelously upon the system. They also have preparations for other diseases, such as "Warner's Log Cabin cough and consumption remedy," "Log Cabin hops and buchu remedy," "Warner's Log Cabin hair tonic." They have great confidence that they have a cure for the common disease of catarrh, which they give the name of "Log Cabin rose cream." Also a "Log Cabin plaster," which they are confident will supplant all others, and a liver pill, to be used separately or in connection with the other remedies.

We hope that the public will not be disappointed in these remedies, but will reap a benefit from the investigations, and that the proprietors will not be embarrassed in their introduction by dealers trying to substitute remedies that have been so familiar to the shelves of our druggists. This line of remedies will be used instead of others. Insist upon your druggist getting them for you if he hasn't them yet in stock, and we feel confident that these new remedies will receive approbation at our reader's hands, as the founders have used every care in their preparation.

Proposals for Wood.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE Oregon State Insane Asylum hereby invite sealed proposals for wood as follows: Four hundred (400) cords dry pole oak. Two hundred (200) cords dry body oak. Fourteen hundred (1400) cords dry body fir out of large trees.

The pole oak must not be less than three inches in diameter. Three hundred to five hundred cords of fir, and two hundred to three hundred cords of oak are to be delivered by June 4, 1889, and the remainder by October 1, 1889. Bids will be received in amounts from fifty cords up. The wood must be four feet in length and of the best quality, subject to the approval of the medical superintendent of the asylum, and to be delivered at any point on the asylum grounds designated by him. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Bids will be opened at 2 o'clock Tuesday, Nov. 6, 1888.

Signing the Farm Away.

Fine old farm, for a hundred years kept in the family name. Cornfields rich with golden ears. On as the harvest comes. Crowded barn and crowded bin. And still the loads kept coming in—Rolling in for a hundred years. And the fourth in the family line appears.

Orchard covered the slopes of the hill; Older—forty barrels, they say—Sure in season to come from the mill; To be tasted round Thanksgiving Day! And they drank as they worked, and they drank as they ate, Under the weight of her sorrows dumb, And they signed the farm away, Counting it as a great mishap To be found "without a barrel on tap."

But, while the seasons creep along, And passions into habits grew, Their appetites became as strong As ever a drunkard knew. And they labored less and they squandered more, Cede for rum at the village store, Tilly called by the sheriff, one bitter day, To sign the homestead farm away.

The father, shattered and seamed with rum The mother, sick and pale and thin, Under the weight of her sorrows dumb, In debt for the beer she was dying in; Oh, I saw the wrecked household around her stand— And the justice lifted her trembling hand, Helping her, as in her pain she lay, To sign the homestead farm away.

Ah, how she wept! And the flood of tears Swept down her temples bare! And the father, already bowed with years, Bowed lower with despair! Drink! Drink! It had ripened into woe For them and all they loved below, And forced them, poor and old and gray, To sign the homestead farm away.

Oh, many scenes have I met in life, And many a call to pray; But the saddest of all was the drunkard's Signing the farm away!

Home, once richest in all the town, Home, in that fatal cup poured down, Wore a than fire or flood's dismay— Drunkard signing the farm away!

More Western Wooling.

A short time ago Henry Ashburton, the son of a wealthy manufacturer of Leeds, England, went to Standing Rock, Dak., to hunt buffaloes and Indians, learn to sling the lariat, and disport himself generally after the manner of the cowboy. At the peaceful village of Standing Rock (so called in quaint allusion to the old custom of each new-comer standing rock and eye for the whole township), Mr. Ashburton found among the aboriginal residents a very comely daughter of a leading chief.

Naturally anxious to move in the higher circles of any society in which he might be thrown, the Englishman smiled upon the young Sioux damsel, and she reciprocated with all the artless warmth of her untutored soul. In fact, she fell upon him and kissed him repeatedly at the dinner table of the hotel.

This mark of budding attachment was received with approval by all the other guests, and, as Mr. Ashburton remarked when he paid the bar bill of his prospective father-in-law, the primeval simplicity of these gentle savages is only equaled by their straightforward methods alike with the tomahawk, the bottle and in affairs of court.

Since the marriage law of mutual consent among the Sioux bears a striking resemblance to the marriage law in this enlightened State, it soon became very apparent to Mr. Ashburton that the gentle Minnehaha was Mrs. Ashburton very hard and indubitably fast. As this condition confronted him, his theory of a casual flirtation faded rapidly away, and like the cosmopolitan and gallant man that he is, he accepted the situation and the girl together, and then no doubt,

Upon her lover's arm she lent, And round her waist she left it fold, And so across the field they went In that new world that is the old.

Across the hills and far away Beyond the twilight's purple rim, And deep into the dying day.

The happy snawlet followed him. Some cold-hearted persons profess to believe that Mr. Ashburton will soon tire of his aboriginal bride and slip for the East. Perish the thought! True hearts still "are more than everets and simple faith than Norman blood."

This union of America and England which binds the two countries in fellowship. The proud spectacle that was seen a year or two ago when Red Shirt was presented to the Queen of England, and now her as our sovereign meets another, by the glorious picture of an Englishman formerly in trade, but now ennobled by association with American cowboys, presented at court with his dusky bride, a living testimony to the survival of the fittest and to the supreme power of love which sets all things right, and makes a lover an autocrat and the peer of kings.

Wonderful Cures.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., wholesale and retail druggists of Rome, Ga., say: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for four years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced consumption have been entirely cured by use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by H. W. Cox.

Whalers Saved--War in Manitoba--Indiana and New York Safe--Dispatches.

A BIG FIGHT IMMINENT.

The Canadian Pacific and the Manitoba Government Ready For War.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 2.—The government stole a march on the Canadian Pacific Railroad Company yesterday by making a detour in track laying and running its line over the turnpike near the blockaded points. When the Canadian Pacific forces had their attention directed elsewhere the government forces put down a couple of rails hurriedly and ran an engine over the track, thus reaching the provincial line on the other side.

The intention now is to forward rails and trams over the track by hand. With the engine on the other side they can then be hurried to the front. The process is somewhat slow and expensive, but the government is bound to resist. At present the Canadian Pacific has four large forces guarding the different points at an enormous cost. Fully 600 men are encamped at a point where the portage extension crosses the Canadian Pacific. All are armed. A Canadian Pacific train with 100 infantry arrived this morning, while a second train with 400 men from the Canadian Pacific Railroad shops came in shortly afterwards.

The feeling between the two forces is gradually getting more bitter. Should the Manitoba government force a crossing the dominion infantry will interfere, as such are their orders. Judge Clark, who has arrived, says that the company will stand to their guns at all orders, as the law is on their side.

How New York Will Go.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—W. E. Curtis the well-known journalist, writes as follows: "There is a feeling among newspaper correspondents of all shades of political opinions who have canvassed New York, that the state will go republican. Chester Lord, managing editor of the Sun, says that Harrison will get 7500 or 10,000 majority. A Democratic correspondent of the World who has just returned from a tour of the state, privately predicts 15,000 majority for Harrison, and the correspondent of the Herald who visited nearly every county, says the republicans will come to King's Bridge with over 80,000 majority, which, if the result in New York City and Brooklyn is the same as it was two years ago, will leave Harrison's majority about 20,000.

How New York Will Go.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—Chas. E. Litchman, ex-secretary of the Knights of Labor, who has been stumping Indiana in the interest of the republican party said: "Indiana will go republican beyond a doubt. I have the best evidence for the statement, for I have spoken in thirty-six cities and towns of that state, and have gauged the sentiment outside the whirl, which usually surrounds campaign speakers. Everywhere I went I made careful and diligent investigations on which I base my assertions."

Indiana Is All Right.

PORTLAND, Nov. 1.—By order of the directors, the public school was closed to-day. This is in consequence of the sickness, which has taken down all the Vradenburg family. One physician claims that the trouble is smallpox, but two local physicians say it is not. In the meantime the Louie is strictly quarantined just the same as in cases of smallpox. Undoubtedly the disease will be confined to its present limits.

The Jury Still Out.

PORTLAND, Nov. 2.—The jury in the case of King, charged with stealing the $10,000 package, is still out, with no likelihood of agreement. It is thought that King will have another trial if the jury should disagree finally.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Between 600 and 700 Anarchists and ten times as many Socialists will commemorate the hanging of the Chicago Anarchists on November 11th at St. Louis.

A resolution was adopted yesterday by the county democracy congratulating President Cleveland and the United States upon the disposition made of Lord Sackville.

George H. Vanderbilt has purchased 1000 acres of land in North Carolina and is negotiating for more, for the purpose of founding a great industrial school, where poor white children may be taught how to make a living.

Bloodshed was imminent last night at the disputed Winnipeg railroad crossing. The running up and down the road of an engine by the Canadian Pacific people exasperated the government forces, and, arranging a train, they watched their chance and backed it up against the Canadian Pacific engine.

A letter was received at the democratic national headquarters from Rockland, Mass., saying that the author of the Murchison letter is Charles E. Sumner, of Pomona, and suggests that detectives watch Sumner. The writer says that he is directed to make the charge at the instance of A. R. Alger, secretary of the Massachusetts state committee.

How England Retaliates.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—It is the opinion of quite a number of those connected with the foreign legation that the British government will soon promote Lord Sackville to the rank of ambassador and assign him to duty at St. Petersburg. If this is done, it will be about as emphatic an act of retaliation as the British government could adopt. Lord Sackville still declines to say anything for publication.

Smallpox Abating.

BLAINE, W. T., Nov. 1.—Reports from the smallpox sufferers are all encouraging. The sick are all recovering, and their clothing are being burned as fast as they are through with it. Mrs. Van Laven, who so nobly nursed the sufferers through the worst, was taken sick about a week ago and for a time was very bad, but it is understood is now out of danger, as are all the rest.

Saved by Welcome Winds.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The steam whaler Thrasher came into port from the Arctic late this afternoon with the joyful tidings that all of the thirteen ice-bound whalers, which were caught on September 23d, were saved. Nine days after the ice closed in on the bark, the long-delayed gale that was to be their salvation sprang up from the northwest.

Personal.

N. H. Frohlichstein, of Mobile, Ala., writes: I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. King's new discovery for consumption, having used it for a severe attack of bronchitis and catarrh. It gave me instant relief and entirely cured me and I have not been afflicted since. I also beg to state that I had tried other remedies with no good result. Have also used Electric Bitters and Dr. King's New Life Pills, both of which I can recommend. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, is sold on a positive guarantee. Trial bottles free at H. W. Cox's drug store.

A Would-be Robber.

LEBANON, Or., Nov. 2.—Yesterday morning J. M. Balston, the banker, discovered that an attempt had been made to rob his bank.

Trenches had been dug in different directions under the building and a safe large enough for a man to stand upright in. The bottom of the safe was removed and a trap door put in and cemented over which could not be easily detected.
