THE Ohio petroleum field is now yielding 40,000 barrels per day, nearly all of which is piped to Chicago and used as fuel. This is what shuts down the coal mines.

MR. BLAINE, it is said, proposes to become an editor. It is evidence that when a man gets ink on his finger once, he always wants to have the digit in the ink horn. Mr. Blaine did newspaper work in early life, and the passion for it lingers with him yet.

P. T. BARNUM has finally retired from the show business with a fortune of $10,000,000. He has been the most successful showman in the world. The only one that at all rivaled him was Wombwell, the Barnum's tion was a belief that the public loves humbug, and he humbugged

THE petrified remains of a huge animal have been discovered lying beneath the earth's surface on the bank of the Des Moins River, near Percy, Iowa. The length of the monster, without the head, which was detached from the body, measures over forty feet. The remains were in a bed of dark blue stone, surrounded by petrified insects and remains of other animals. It is supposed that the animal belonged to the carboniferousage.

WHY ... OREGON.

Is there any wonder that Oregon should be crowded with home seekers? Almost every day the telegraph reports from the east contain items like this:

DENVER, Mass., Nov. 26th.—The present storm is the worst ever experienced here at this time of year. The wind blew a hurricance, and snow drifted to a height of three and four for the worst bandon. four feet. Horse cars were abandon-oned and religious services were suspended last night. Telephone, tele-graph and electric light wires are down. The drains are all full and will be spent. Returning to Rosethe streets are flooded.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 26th.—River travel is cutirely suspended. The steamer City of Hudson was driven into Catskill Creek and is there frozen fast. Down river passengers and freight boats between New York and this city are laid in for shelter from the storm. Several ferryboats and transfer barges are reported sunk.

This storm appears to have includel all the territory east of the Mississippi river, and north of the Editor Gulf of Mexico, and raged with the CLARE B. IRVINE - - Local Editor utmost fury in some localities for several days.
