WINNERS of money bet on the election may thank their lucky stars that they dont live in Berks county, Pa. The directors of the county poor there have proceeded under a law of the state which requires that in all cases where they have knowledge that a money wager has been laid on the result of any election they shall forthwith bring suit against the winner of such money, which shall be turned over to the poor fund. Stakeholders are made equally liable for the payment of the money in case other processes fall. This indicates a pleasant outlook for the poor of Berks county this cold Winter.

This calls to our mind Dr. and you will please accept this with Watt's reply to the woman who our best wishes for the continual spoke disparagingly of him on prosperity and happiness of youraccount of his lilliputian dimen- self and family wherever your lot sions. -Plaindealer. "Hold on, Benjamin!" THE CAPITAL JOURNAL does think, and Bro. Benjamin certainly knows that a stentorian voice is an essential qualification of an ideal presiding officer of the house. THE CAPITAL JOURNAL wishes to add that if its candidate be measured by soul, by mind or education, he, the Hon. T. T. Geer is the peer of any member fo the house.

HOW TO PROSPER.

The Roseburg Plaindealer says: Grant's Pass, as illustrations. Roseburg has been the county town for more than a quarter of a century, with a better farming country than either of the above, and yet by our neglect of manufactures, which those towns have built up, Ashland has out-stripped us and Grant's Pass of only about four years existence, has a population of half that of our m. to-morrow, the remains being city, all owing to its manufacturing Interred in the Odd Fellows' Cementerprises."

Salem needs make some comparison. It possesses all the natural advantages of a manufacturing center, and all nature's assistance to furnish power, transportation and raw material, and yet many towns of the state have exhibited more undertaking that has a tendency to loins for the may."

Reasoning from a Sound Text.

Say the doctors—and who shall say them nay?—a special predisposition seems revuisit to the development of rheumalism. Where there is this tendency, most of us know from observation what a deep hold disease takes when once incurred and neglected for a short time. Is not this a sound text, then from which to advocate the early use of Hosteter's Stomach Bitters in a uniady so hard to dislodge as rheumalism? Another thing, it is well ascertained that a failing off in vigor, resulting from ind castion and mal-hufrition increases liability to recumatism. What then is more likely to act as preventative than this potent recrifier of the gastric troubles that increase the rheumatic tendency. Malaria, constigation, dispeppila, billionismes, debility and kidney troubles succumb to this genial preventative and remedy. Reasoning from a Sound Text.
