Sowing Seeds For Immigration.

The Oregon Land Co. are just now engaged in preparing their ads for a number of eastern papers of large circulation. They are desirous of spreading the good tidings that Oregon is the land of Big Red Apples. These happy words will be conveyed to the prospective immigrant through the medium of a hundred of the leading newspapers of the United States. The next few months, they think, will find many home-seekers visiting our country and the indications are that there will be many changes in reality. This year their advertising will be done for the most part in metropolitan papers, for the reason that they reach more people, and of a "more likely" class, than by the country press generally. They also have in preparation a new pamphlet, descriptive of Salem and the valley, which will be ready for distribution in a few days.

Salem's March of Progress.

Early spring will see the construction of two fine brick blocks in Salem commenced. One is that on the west side of Commercial street, between Chemekete and Court, as mentioned in yesterday's JOURNAL. This is to be a block 150 feet deep extending from the Williams & England block to Chemekete street. The other block is to be erected by A. Bush, at the corner of Commercial and Court streets, on the west side. It is learned that the brick have already been ordered and that work will be commenced with the opening of spring. Mr. Bush contemplates having his new building three stories high. It is not improbable that this entire block will be covered by creditable buildings at an early day, as efforts are now being made to secure co-operation of the property owners.

Glad to Get Back.

Wm. L. Krebs returned last evening from Arkansas City, Kansas, where he had gone to settle up his affairs of business before taking up his permanent abode in Salem. He is glad to get back to the land of promise, and reports an unhappy state of affairs as existing generally throughout the grasshopper state. Mr. Krebs is confident he could have brought 2000 heads of families to Oregon with him could they dispose of their interests there for sufficient money to enable them to get away with their families. Many people, he thinks, will find their way to Oregon from Kansas within the next few months. They are unable to raise crops with any certainty and the poorer classes are nigh onto suffering, all caused by the repeated visits of the blighting drouths and bleaching frosts.

New Bank Officials.

At the regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank the following officers, together with the old board of directors, were chosen: W. N. Ladue, president; Dr. John Reynolds, vice-president; John Moir, cashier. A semi-annual dividend of six per cent. was declared. Business was reported to be in a good condition.

The stockholders of the Capital National Bank also conducted their regular annual meeting Tuesday afternoon. A semi-annual dividend of five per cent. was declared and the old board of directors and officers elected throughout. Business was reported to be in a most flattering condition and increasing satisfactorily.

Another Enterprise.

There is not a little talk among Salem's citizens of the organization of a building and loan association. These organizations, wherever established, seem to be the source of much benefit to both the members and the city. Some gentlemen were here yesterday talking the matter up and endeavoring to learn the feeling of our people on the subject. It is not improbable that Salem will soon be able to boast of a promising and active building and loan association.

One More Sale.

Another transfer of real property was made yesterday in Salem—the southeast quarter of block 1, Waldo's addition, which is at the corner of State and 12th streets, and is considered one of the valuable locations in that quarter. Terms of sale private. G. W. Gray is the reported purchaser.

SALEM, TILLAMOOK & ASTORIA R. R.

The Incorporation Completed—From Salem to the Sea by Rail.

Yesterday afternoon a number of the business men of Salem assembled at the Capital bank for the purpose of discussing the proposition of constructing a railroad from Salem to Tillamook and Astoria. As announced in the CAPITAL JOURNAL yesterday, the citizens of Tillamook county are ready and willing to cooperate with Salem in construction of the line. Hon. J. W. Maxwell, representative of Tillamook county, was present at the meeting yesterday and confirmed the statement that the people of Tillamook and along the projected route were anxious to cooperate. He said they desired an outlet to the Willamette valley as earnestly as we did to the sea, and would do all in their power to forward the movement.

The sense of the conference was that a company be incorporated forthwith, for the purpose of building the line from Salem to Tillamook. This can be done at little outlay, as there will be neither heavy grades, long bridges nor deep cuts. The country for the greater part is level, while the mountains will be crossed easily by following the natural passes, which ex-Assessor Lang of Tillamook county says may be found.

The articles of incorporation as filed this morning with the county clerk and secretary of state are as follows:

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION

We, the undersigned, for the purpose of creating a corporation under the laws of the State of Oregon, make, subscribe and execute the following articles of incorporation, to wit:

I.

II.

The enterprise and business which this corporation proposes to engage in is that of constructing, equipping, maintaining and operating a railroad with all necessary rolling stock, depots, stations and appurtenances necessary for operating a railroad from Salem, Marion county Oregon, by way of Tillamook, in Tillamook county, Oregon, to Astoria, Clatsop county, Oregon, or to a junction at some point between Salem and Astoria with the "Astoria & South Coast Railway Company's" line; to construct telegraph and telephone lines, or either with all the necessary appliances for operating the same along the route of said proposed road; to transfer and carry for tolls and fares persons, goods, wares, merchandise and stock on the said road and transmit messages and communications on the said telegraph and telephone lines and charge and collect tolls therefor; also to purchase, hold, sell and lease real estate and personal property of whatsoever kind; to receive, sell, mortgage and dispose of such land and other property as may be granted to it from whatever source; to erect, construct, maintain and operate all necessary and needful bridges, ferry boats and other water craft and to collect tolls and fares therefor; to manufacture lumber, quarry rock, mine coal, and sell and dispose of the same, and to issue and sell bonds, borrow money and hypothecate its property, real and personal, and do all the things necessary to carry out the objects of the incorporation.

III.

The principal office and place of business of this corporation shall be at Salem, Marion county, Oregon.

IV.

The capital stock of the corporation shall be $100,000, divided into one thousand shares at $100 each. In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and seals this 10th day of January, A. D., 1889, in duplicate at Salem, Oregon.

Quarantine to be Raised.

From Marion county smallpox has almost entirely disappeared and what a few weeks ago promised to result in a general epidemic, has been averted. At St. Louis the La Chappels are about all convalescent, the old gentleman being up and around and the children strong again. Squire Poujade is the quarantine officer at that point and he thinks all danger will be over by next week, when he expects to raise the quarantine. Marion county has been fortunate in escaping with no more than two deaths.

OCCIDENTAL JOTTINGS.

News And Notes of a General Interest to the Westerner.

Eugene's street cars will not be running before the first of October next.

Marion county has the honor of being the first to pay taxes into the state treasury.

There are three cases of smallpox at Forest Grove, a Mr. Kennedy, wife and child, lately from Kansas being the afflicted ones.

The warehouses of Z. F. Moody at The Dalles and Arlington, since the 13th of April last, received and shipped 4,257,477 pounds of wool.

William Kelly, agent of the Oregon Development company at Yaquina and bar pilot, who had charge of the steamship Yaquina Bay when she was wrecked inside the harbor, has been discharged from the services of the company.

The legislature may create some new counties. There is talk of dividing Grant north of the center and making a new county of the Harney valley country. The effort made at the last session to divide Umatilla county and form the new county of Lee may come up at this session.

A few days ago Mr. R. A. Jones was walking on a divide between Coyotte and Wolf creeks, Josephine county. Happening to pick up a moss-covered piece of quartz, he rubbed the moss off, and to his surprise found the piece studded with gold. Since then pieces of quartz as large as one's head have been found that seemed to be one-fourth gold. This mineral imbedded in quartz, is found in pieces varying in value from 25 cents to $1. The extent of this pocket is not yet known, but the ledge, running north and south, has been claimed for mines.

Some More Resolutions.

The Lane county Pomona Grange do not believe that the agriculturists receive the attention and recognition and attention their importance demands, being engaged in the most important industry in the United States, and upon which the prosperity and happiness of all other classes depend, and have therefore resolved as follows:

First, That we respectfully ask the Oregon legislature at its coming session to memorialize congress to create a Department of Agriculture, the commissioner to be a member of the president's cabinet.

Second, To so amend the constitution of the United States, that United States senators shall be elected by a direct vote of the people.

Third, That until such an amendment can be made that we urge the legislature to elect some reliable and practical agriculturist to represent Oregon in the United States senate.

Be Running Monday.

All along the line of the Salem Street railway large forces of workmen are completing the laying of the rails and the adjustment of the ballast. By Monday, the contractors inform us, the line will be in operation along State street. It will require a few days more to place the switches and complete the work along Commercial street.

The construction of this street railway makes a great stride forward for the capital city. This is to be followed by an immediate extension of the road and one extension will follow another so rapidly, it is hoped, that soon the whole city will be a network of street railways.

Three New Incorporations.

To-day articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state for the Shumagin Packing Co., at Portland. F. M. Warren, W. D. Smith and T. N. Shortz are the incorporators, with a capital stock of $30,000. Also the Golden Fleece Mining Co. and the Crown Point Mining Co. S. Coulter, W. T. Hume and J. F. Watson are the incorporators in the latter companies, the capital stock is $1,000,000 in each divided in share of $1.

They Are Coming In.

Hons. J. T. Bowditch and W. K. Price of Jackson county arrived on the overland this morning, ready to enter the fifteenth biennial. Mr. Bowditch is accompanied by his mother.

By the latter part of the week it is expected almost the entire coterie of both houses will be in the city. Already affairs political begin to revive.

A Fine Piece of Work.

The West Shore for January is to be one of the finest issues that successful journal has known. This edition is to be devoted to Salem and many superior illustrations have been prepared for it. This magazine is the only one on the coast that is prepared for the execution of such artistic work. Even from the east, Mr. Samuels receives many orders for illustrations. This New Year number of the West Shore will be a treat to your friends over the mountains. You should get a few copies and work a little as an immigration agent.

New Dental Parlors.

Dr. J. Jennings has engaged a suite of rooms in the new Bank Block, where he will open elegant Dental Parlors, about the first of February. Until then he may be found in the opera house, front rooms, over the Capitol Adventure Co's store, where he has opened a temporary dental office. He would be pleased to see all his old patrons, and many new ones.

While East he visited the leading dental colleges, societies and offices of New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and other eastern cities. Thereby having every facility for posting himself in the very latest improvements and inventions of the dental profession.
